Subchapter B—Director General for Operations

PART 971—ETHYL ALCOHOL AND RELATED COMPOUNDS

[Amendment 3 to General Preference Order M-30, as Amended Aug. 8, 1942]

Section 971.1 General Preference Order M-30,[1] as amended August 8, 1942 is hereby amended in the following respects:

1. Paragraph (c) (2) is amended to read:

(2) No person shall during any calendar quarter commencing January 1, 1943, accept delivery of ethyl alcohol for a purpose set forth below in excess of 50% of the quantity of alcohol which was used (distributed in the case of a distributor) for such purpose during the corresponding calendar quarter in the 12-months period ended June 30, 1941; and no person shall during the month of December, 1942 accept delivery of ethyl alcohol for a purpose set forth below in excess of 50% of the quantity of ethyl alcohol which he used (distributed in the case of a distributor) for such purpose during December, 1940; Provided further, however, That the quantity of ethyl alcohol used (or distributed) by such person for such purpose in the fourth quarter of 1942 shall not exceed 70% of the quantity used by him for such purpose in the corresponding quarter of 1940:

Candy glazes.
Shoe polish.
Deodorant sprays (non-body)
All toiletries and cosmetics including but not limited to:
  Hair and scalp preparations.
  Bay rum.
  Shampoos.
  Face and hand creams and lotions.
  Body deodorants.
  Toilet waters.
  Perfume and perfume materials, tinctures and fixatives.
  Toilet soaps (including shaving cream).
  Mouth washes.
  Tooth cleaning preparations.
  Witch hazel.

For the purposes of this paragraph (c) (2) all toiletry and cosmetic uses of ethyl alcohol shall be considered as a whole, and the use during the base period of ethyl alcohol in a particular toiletry or cosmetic product may be used to support the future use of ethyl alcohol (in the indicated percentage) in a different toiletry or cosmetic product. For example, ethyl alcohol used in toilet waters during the base period would support the future manufacture of after shave lotions containing ethyl alcohol.

2. Paragraph (c) (6) is amended to read:

(6) No producer or distributor shall deliver any ethyl alcohol to any person during any calendar quarter unless, prior to such delivery, the deliveree shall have submitted to the deliveror a certificate, properly filled out and manually signed by a duly authorized official, in substantially the following form:

The delivery, during the calendar quarter of -------- gallons of alcohol, which the undersigned requires for a purpose set forth, either specifically or otherwise, in paragraph (c) ( ) of General Preference Order No. M-30, as amended, and in connection with which this certificate is submitted, will not be, taking into consideration -------- alcohol received and to be received during this calendar quarter from all sources, in excess of -------- percent of the quantity of -------- alcohol which the undersigned used for the same purpose during the corresponding calendar quarter in the twelve months' period ended June 30, 1941, and will not be in excess of the quantity of -------- alcohol to which the undersigned is entitled pursuant to said order, with the terms of which the undersigned is familiar.

Dated

(Name of Deliveree)

By ------------------------------
(Duly Authorized Official)

If a delivery is for one of the purposes specified in subparagraph (c) (4) hereof, it will be sufficient to certify to that fact alone. If a delivery is for use in cutting shellac, delivery shall not be made by a producer or distributor unless the certificate of the deliveree shall set forth (in addition to the foregoing): "The quantity of ethyl alcohol received and to be received during the month for which delivery is hereby ordered will not exceed the quantity thereof required to cut and thin the quantity of shellac allocated to the undersigned for such month under Conservation Order No. M-106."

Chapter XI—Office of Price Administration

[Rev. MPR 109]

AIRCRAFT LUMBER

The title, preamble, and section numbers of Maximum Price Regulation 109—Aircraft Spruce,[1] are amended and renumbered to read as set forth herein.

In the judgment of the Price Administrator it is necessary and proper to establish maximum prices for sales of aircraft lumber which differ, in certain respects, from those heretofore established by applicable maximum price regulations. The several species of this type of lumber have been incorporated into this single maximum price regulation.

The Price Administrator has ascertained and given due consideration to the prices of aircraft lumber prevailing between October 1 and 15, 1941, and has made adjustments for such relevant factors as he has determined and deemed to be of general applicability. So far as practicable, the Price Administrator has advised and consulted with representative members of the industries which will be affected by this regulation.

In the judgment of the Price Administrator the maximum prices established by this regulation are and will be generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this regulation has been prepared, issued simultaneously herewith, and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.* Therefore, under the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9250, and in accordance with Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1,[2] issued by the Office of Price Administration, Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 109 is hereby issued.

AUTHORITY: §§ 1312.351 to 1312.361, inclusive, issued under Pub. Laws 421 and 729, 77th Cong.; E. O. 9250, 7 F. R. 7871.

§ 1312.351 Sales of aircraft lumber at higher than maximum prices prohibited. (a) On and after December 7, 1942, regardless of any contract or other obligation, no person shall sell or deliver, and no person shall buy or receive in the course of trade or business, any aircraft lumber at prices higher than the maximum prices fixed by this Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 109, and no person shall agree, offer or attempt to do any of these things.

(b) Prices lower than the maximum prices may, of course, be charged and paid.

§ 1312.352 To what transactions, products, and persons this ceiling applies—(a) What transactions are covered. This regulation, unlike most other lumber regulations, is not limited to direct-mill sales. It covers all sales of aircraft lumber, whether sold out of a mill, remanufacturing plant, or distribution yard.

(b) What products are covered. This Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 109 covers all aircraft lumber, whether the grades, sizes, and specifications are specifically named in the price tables in Appendix A or not.

Aircraft lumber means any lumber suitable for use in building aircraft, in grades equal to, or better than, the lowest grade priced in Appendix A of the following species: Sitka spruce (Picea sitchensis), Red spruce (Picea rubens), White spruce (Picea canadensis), Noble fir (Abies nobilis), Western hemlock (Tsuga heterophylla), Yellow poplar (Liriodendron tulipifera). Douglas fir (Pseudotsuga taxifolia).

The term "aircraft lumber" is not intended to include any lumber machined or remanufactured to the exact tolerance required for incorporation into the aircraft.

(c) What persons are covered. Any person who makes the kind of sale covered by this regulation is subject to it. The term "person" includes: an individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group; their legal successors or representatives; the United States, or any government or any of its political subdivisions; or any agency of any of the foregoing.

§ 1312.353 Petitions for adjustment and amendment—(a) Government contracts. (1) The term "government contracts" is here used to include any contract with the United States or any of its agencies, or with the Government or any governmental agency of any country whose defense the President deems vital to the defense of the United States under the terms of the Act of March 11, 1941, entitled "An Act to Promote the Defense of the United States". It also includes any subcontract under this kind of contract.

(2) Any person who has made or intends to make a "government contract" and who thinks that a maximum price in this Revised Maximum Price Regulation 109 is impeding or threatens to impede production of lumber which is essential to the war program and which is or will be the subject of the contract, may file an application for adjustment in accordance with Procedural Regulation No. 6.[3] A copy can be had at any office of the Office of Price Administration.

(3) As soon as the application is filed, deliveries may be made at the requested price, subject to refund if the requested price is disapproved or lowered. The seller must tell the buyer that the delivery is made subject to this refund.

(b) Petitions for amendment. A person seeking any modification of this Regulation or any adjustment or exception not provided for in paragraph (a) of this section, may file a petition for amendment in accordance with Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1, a copy of which can be had at any office of the Office of Price Administration.

§ 1312.354 Prohibited practices—(a) General. Any practice which is a device to get the effect of a higher-than-ceiling price without actually raising the dollars and cents price is as much a violation of this Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 109 as an outright over-ceiling price. This applies to devices making use of commissions, services, transportation arrangements, premiums, special privileges, tying-agreements, trade understandings and the like.

(b) Specific practices. The following are among the specific practices prohibited:

(1) Getting the effect of a higher price by changing credit practices or cash discounts from what they were in August 1941.

(2) Refusing to sell on an f. o. b. mill basis, and insisting on selling on a delivered basis.

(3) Unnecessarily routing lumber through a distribution yard.

(4) Quoting a gross price above the maximum price, even if accompanied by a discount, the effect of which is to bring the net price below the maximum.

(c) Purchasing commissions. No purchasing commission may be paid or received which is based on the amount or value of lumber purchased, if the purchase price plus the commission totals more than the price permitted by this regulation.

(d) Adjustable pricing. A price may not be made adjustable to a maximum price which will be in effect at some time after delivery of the lumber has been completed, but the price may be adjustable to the maximum price in effect at the time of delivery.

*Copies may be obtained from the Office of Price Administration.

[3] 7 F.R. 5087, 5664.

§ 1312.355 Records and reports—(a) Records. All sellers of aircraft lumber must keep records which will show a complete description of the item of lumber sold, the name and address of the buyer, points of origin and destination, and the date of the sale and the price. Buyers must keep similar records, including the name and address of the seller. These records must be kept for any month in which the seller or buyer sold or bought 5,000 feet or more of aircraft lumber. They must be kept for two years for inspection by the Office of Price Administration. Any records which the Office of Price Administration later requires must also be kept.

(b) Reports. Any reports that the Office of Price Administration requires must be submitted.

§ 1312.356 Enforcement and licensing. (a) Persons violating any provision of this Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 109 are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, suits for treble damages, and proceedings for revocation of licenses provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9250.

(b) Persons who have evidence of any violation of this Regulation or of any other regulation or order issued by the Office of Price Administration are urged to communicate with the nearest field, state, or regional office of the Office of Price Administration or its principal office in Washington, D. C.

(c) War procurement agencies and their contracting or paying finance officers are not subject to any liability, civil or criminal, imposed by this regulation. "War procurement agencies" include the War Department, the Department of the Navy, the United States Maritime Commission and the Lend-Lease Section in the Procurement Division of the Treasury Department, or any of their agencies.

(d) All sellers of aircraft lumber under this regulation, except mills, have been licensed by Supplementary Order 18. This order, in brief, provides that a license is necessary, except for mills, to make sales under this Regulation. A license is automatically granted to all sellers making these sales. It is not necessary to apply specially for the license, but a registration may later be required. The Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Supplementary Order 18 tell the circumstances under which licenses may be suspended. The license cannot, of course, be transferred.

§ 1312.357 Relation to other regulations—(a) General Maximum Price Regulation. Any sale or delivery covered by Maximum Price Regulation 109 is not subject to the General Maximum Price Regulation.[4]

(b) Maximum Export Price Regulation. The maximum price for export sales of aircraft lumber is governed by the Revised Maximum Export Regulation.[5]

§ 1312.358 Delivered prices—(a) General. If the seller delivers the aircraft lumber to the purchaser, he may add to the maximum prices listed in Appendix A the cost of rail transportation from the original shipping point to the purchaser. No addition may be made for transportation costs incurred in trucking the lumber to the railhead. Any trucking costs other than such a truck haul may be added.

The invoice must in all cases show (1) the origin of the shipment, (2) the destination, and (3) the applicable freight rate, or in the case of a truck haul, the amount added for transportation and the distance hauled.

(b) How to figure transportation costs. (1) In determining the original shipping point, the shipment shall be considered as originating at the mill from which it was originally processed from the log, even though it may be further processed or remanufactured at another mill in transit.

(2) In determining the applicable freight rate, the rate from the originating mill direct to the purchaser shall apply.

(3) For a truck haul the seller shall charge the actual cost of such transportation. If the truck is his own, the actual cost is the average actual expense of operating the truck. If the truck is hired, the cost is, of course, the amount charged and paid for the truck haul.

(4) For a rail haul, the seller may figure the cost by multiplying the applicable freight rate by either actual weights or by the following estimated weights (even if the actual weight is less):

	Pounds per thousand feet
Sitka, red, or white spruce, and noble fir:
Rough, green, (all sizes)	3,500
Rough, dry, 1''	2,600
Rough, dry, 1¼, 1½, 1¾ and 2''	2,800
Rough, dry, 2½'' and up	2,900
Western hemlock and yellow poplar:
Rough, green, (all sizes)	4,000
Rough, dry, (all sizes)	3,000
Douglas Fir:
Rough, green, (all sizes)	3,500
Rough, dry, 1''	2,700
Rough, dry, 1¼, 1½, 1¾ and 2''	2,900
Rough, dry, 2½'' and up	3,000

(5) If the seller should be required to unload or otherwise handle the lumber after it has left the mill, he may include in the cost of transportation the labor expense involved, if he shows this charge separately on the invoice and states on the invoice what was done and why it was necessary.

§ 1312.359 Prices for special grades, specifications, services, and other extras not specifically priced in Appendix A. (a) The maximum prices for special grades, specifications, or other extras, of aircraft lumber for which dollars and cents maximum prices are not established by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 109 shall be the prices authorized by the Office of Price Administration. Authorization may be by either a letter or a telegram.

No special grades of aircraft lumber may be sold or delivered until the prospective seller has applied to the Office of Price Administration for authorization of a price. After the application has been made the seller may sell and deliver at the requested price, and may receive payment; but should the Office of Price Administration authorize a price lower than the requested price, the seller must refund the amount, if any, by which the amount paid exceeds the maximum price which is authorized.

In his application the seller shall certify the following facts to the Lumber Branch of the Office of Price Administration in Washington, D. C.:

(1) A complete description in detail of the special grade, specification, or other extra.

(2) The comparison of the special grade or specification with the grade or specification priced in the regulation which is most nearly comparable.

(3) The requested price.

(4) The price received for such special grade, specification, or other extra, on sales, if any, made prior to the effective date of this regulation.

(5 Any other facts which the seller wishes to give or which are requested by the Office of Price Administration to enable the Lumber Branch of the Office of Price Administration to determine a price on the special grade, specification, or other extra, which is in proper relation to the general level of prices established by the regulation.

(b) Any lumber yard which is located away from the producing area and near the consuming area which regularly stocks aircraft lumber in order to make quick deliveries of small quantities or which performs any other special services, and which can demonstrate that it cannot continue to perform these services at the maximum prices permitted by the regulation, and which can also demonstrate that these services are vital and necessary to aircraft production, may apply to the Lumber Branch of the Office of Price Administration in Washington, D. C., for permission to make an addition for these special services. The Lumber Branch may authorize or deny an addition by letter or telegram.

§ 1312.360 Effective date. (a) This Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 109 (§§ 1381.351 to 1381.361, inclusive) shall become effective December 7, 1942.

(b) If aircraft lumber has been received before December 7, 1942, by a carrier, other than one owned or controlled by this seller, for shipment to a buyer, that shipment is not subject to this regulation. It remains subject to the terms of any regulation, whether the General Maximum Price Regulation or earlier version of this regulation, which covered it at the time the lumber was turned over to the carrier.

Widths:

3. In the case of specified widths narrower than 7 inches the price for any width shall be the same as the random width price.

Miscellaneous:

4. Douglas Fir (AN-F-7),[1] 55% of the price of corresponding item of Sitka Spruce.
5. For kiln dried the following additions to rough green prices may be made: 2″ and thinner, add $30.00 per 1,000 ft. B. M.; for thicker than 2″ add $30.00 per 1,000 ft. B. M. plus 10% of rough green price.

PART 1315—RUBBER AND PRODUCTS AND MATERIALS OF WHICH RUBBER IS A COMPONENT

[MPR 149,[1] Amendment 3]

MECHANICAL RUBBER GOODS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

In § 1315.21 paragraph (c) is amended and two new paragraphs (f) and (g) are added; in § 1315.27 paragraphs (b) (1) and (c) are amended; in § 1315.28 paragraphs (a), (b) and (c) are amended; in § 1315.31 (a) subparagraphs (2) and (3) are amended and two new subparagraphs (7) and (8) are added; §§ 1315.23 and 1315.34 are amended; and two new sections, §§ 1315.35 and 1315.36, are added, all as set forth below:

§ 1315.21 Maximum manufacturers' prices for mechanical rubber goods. * * *

(c) The maximum price for all mechanical rubber goods of the types and kinds listed in Appendix B, incorporated herein as § 1315.35, shall be determined in the same manner as that stated in paragraph (b) of this § 1315.21, except that the date January 5, 1942, shall in every case be substituted for the date October 1, 1941.

* * * * *

(f) The maximum price for any mechanical rubber goods which cannot be priced under paragraphs (b) or (c) of this section shall be a price determined by the seller after specific authorization from the Office of Price Administration. A seller who seeks an authorization to determine a maximum price under the provisions of this paragraph shall file with the Office of Price Administration in Washington, D. C., an application setting forth (1) a description in detail of the mechanical rubber good for which a maximum price is sought (including the manufacturing process); (2) a statement of the facts which make it impossible for him to use the methods for determining a maximum price set forth in paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section; (3) his proposed pricing method; and (4) a statement of the reasons why he believes that the use of this method will result in prices which are in line with the level of maximum prices established by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 149. Such authorization will be given in the form of an order prescribing a method of determining the maximum price for some or all of the mechanical rubber goods manufactured by the applicant which cannot be priced under paragraphs (b) or (c) of this section.

(g) Once the manufacturer has determined his maximum price for the sale of a particular mechanical rubber good to a particular class of purchasers (as defined in paragraph (a) (4) of § 1315.31) that price is his maximum for all future sales of that mechanical rubber good to that class of purchasers. However, if the manufacturer sells that mechanical rubber good to a purchaser of a different class, he must determine his maximum price for that sale in accordance with the applicable provisions of this section. For example, if the manufacturer has determined the maximum price for 100 gaskets and he later receives an order for 10,000 gaskets, and if on October 1, 1941, it was his practice to sell 10,000 gaskets at a lower price per unit than 100 gaskets, the manufacturer must determine his maximum price for the sale of the 10,000 gaskets in accordance with the applicable provisions of this section.

§ 1315.23 Export sales. The maximum price at which a person may export any mechanical rubber goods shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation issued by the Office of Price Administration.

§ 1315.27 Records. * * *

(b) * * *

(1) Published and confidential price lists and discount sheets in effect on October 1, 1941, and all prices which the manufacturer regularly quoted in any other manner on that date.

* * * * *

(c) For all mechanical rubber goods listed in Appendix B, the same records as those required by paragraph (b) of this § 1315.27, except that the date January 5, 1942, shall in every case be substituted for the date October 1, 1941.

§ 1315.28 Reports. (a) Every manufacturer subject to the provisions of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 149, who has not already done so, shall file with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., on or before December 18, 1942:

(1) For all mechanical rubber goods listed in Appendix A:

(i) Published and confidential price lists and discount sheets in effect on October 1, 1941, and all other regularly quoted prices and discounts and all other deductions therefrom in effect on that date.

(ii) Price determining methods and rates used in the determination of the gross margin in effect on October 1, 1941, for those articles, the maximum prices of which are not established by this regulation by reference to a schedule or price list or some other regularly quoted price. If after December 7, 1942, the manufacturer produces any mechanical rubber goods, the gross margin for which is determined by methods and rates other than those he has already filed with the Office of Price Administration, he must file such methods and rates with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., prior to first offering such article for sale. If as of December 8, 1942 the maximum prices of all of the mechanical rubber goods produced by the manufacturer are established by this regulation by reference to a schedule or price list or by some other regularly quoted prices, the manufacturer shall report that fact to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., on or before December 18, 1942.

(2) For all mechanical rubber goods listed in Appendix B, the same reports as those required by paragraph (a) (1) of this section, except that the date January 5, 1942, shall in every case be substituted for the date October 1, 1941.

(b) (1) If, with respect to the types and kinds of mechanical rubber goods listed in Appendix A, the schedule or price list of the manufacturer in effect on October 1, 1941, did not state a price and he did not in any other way regularly quote a price for mechanical rubber goods of the same class, kind, type, condition and grade on that date, the manufacturer shall, within ten days after the purchaser has agreed to buy such goods, file, if he has not already done so for a purchaser of that class, a report with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., stating the maximum price determined under this regulation and his net selling price, except that:

(i) The reports required under this paragraph shall not be made on orders of less than $25.00, but the number of such orders shall be reported weekly;

(ii) If any such mechanical rubber good be listed as a new standard list good, the manufacturer shall report to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., that the article is being so listed and, prior to offering such mechanical rubber good for sale, shall report a detailed description thereof (including the size), the maximum price of each such article, the calculations used in the determining of the maximum price, the proposed selling price, and the terms of sale to each class of purchaser. The manufacturer may not accept payment for the commodity until fifteen days have elapsed after the mailing of the report. Within this fifteen day period the price so reported shall be subject to adjustment by the Office of Price Administration. Subsequent to this fifteen day period, such price shall be subject to adjustment (not to apply retroactively) at any time upon the written order of the Office of Price Administration.

(2) If the manufacturer of such mechanical rubber goods requires the use of materials, labor or equipment, the October 1, 1941, prices of which are not ascertainable, the manufacturer shall file at the same time: a description of such goods, the reasons why the October 1, 1941, prices of materials, labor or equipment, as the case may be, are not ascertainable, the first ascertainable price thereof after October 1, 1941, and the method by which such price was determined.

(c) If, with respect to the types and kinds of mechanical rubber goods listed in Appendix B, the schedule or price list of the manufacturer in effect on January 5, 1942, or the price he regularly quoted in any other manner on that date, did not state a price for mechanical rubber goods of the same class, kind, type, condition and grade, the manufacturer shall, within ten days after the purchaser has agreed to buy such goods, file the same report as that required under similar circumstances by paragraph (b) of this § 1315.28, except that in every case the date January 5, 1942, shall be substituted for the date October 1, 1941.

(3) "Mechanical rubber goods" means all the articles listed in Appendices A and B, incorporated herein as §§ 1315.34 and 1315.35, but does not include the articles listed in Appendix C, incorporated herein as § 1315.36.

(2) Each seller shall ascertain the rail shipping point which is nearest to his ranch or place of business, the delivery point named in this section which is nearest to his ranch or place of business and the location of the purchaser's plant. The maximum price of the seller shall include delivery to the purchaser at whichever one of those three points is nearest to the ranch or place of business of the seller.

(3) In the event that the seller and purchaser desire to have shipment made to a point other than the nearest of the three points mentioned above, the transportation charges may be adjusted or allowance for transportation made as follows:

(i) If the delivery is made by a vehicle owned or controlled by the seller, the seller may charge the purchaser for the number of miles by which the distance to the point where delivery is made exceeds the distance from the seller's ranch or place of business to the nearest of the three points mentioned above, at the rate established by this section.

(ii) If the delivery is made by a vehicle owned or controlled by the purchaser, the purchaser shall deduct from the price to be paid to the grower the charge for the number of miles from the seller's ranch or place of business to the nearest of the three points mentioned above at the rate established by this section.

DISTRICT BOARD 11

ORDER GRANTING TEMPORARY RELIEF

In the matter of the petition of District Board No. 11 for temporary establishment of railroad locomotive fuel minimum prices for coals of Honey Creek Mine, of the Pyramid Coal Corporation.

An original petition, pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937 was filed with the Division by the above-named party, requesting the establishment for ninety (90) days of temporary minimum prices for lump and double-screened railroad locomotive fuel coal for sale to the Pennsylvania Railroad from the Honey Creek Mine, a truck mine of the Pyramid Coal Corporation, Mine Index No. 746.

In support of the requested relief petitioner alleges the Honey Creek Mine has a storage pile of approximately 8,000 tons of mine run coal, which, together with such coal as will be currently produced during the ninety (90) day period referred to herein, is to be prepared over a 1½″ bar screen at the tipple of the New Victory Mine of the Pyramid Coal Corporation, which will result in a preparation of 1½″ lump and 1½″ resultant screenings, and which is to be sold to the Pennsylvania Railroad; that the Honey Creek Mine has neither commercial nor railroad locomotive fuel prices for its coals for rail shipment and requests such temporary relief pending the completion of the loading facilities at the New Victory Mine, and does not want to designate the coal in the storage pile, or the coal to be currently produced from the Honey Creek Mine, as a product of the New Victory Mine.

It appearing that a reasonable showing of necessity has been made for the granting of temporary relief in the manner hereinafter set forth, that no petitions of intervention have been filed with the Division in the above-entitled matter, and that District Boards Nos. 1-4, 6, 7, 8, and 10 have advised the Division that they have no objection to the granting of the requested temporary relief; and the following action being deemed necessary in order to effectuate the purposes of the Act;

It is ordered, That temporary relief is granted herein as follows: Commencing forthwith, the Schedule of Effective Minimum Prices for District No. 11 for All Shipments Except Truck is supplemented to include the price classification set forth in "Schedule R,"[1] annexed hereto and made a part hereof.

It is further ordered, That pleadings in opposition to the original petition in the above-entitled matter and applications to stay, terminate or modify the temporary relief herein granted may be filed with the Division within forty-five (45) days from the date of this order, pursuant to the Rules and Regulations Governing Practice and Procedure before the Bituminous Coal Division in Proceedings Instituted Pursuant to Section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937.

It is further ordered, That the temporary relief herein granted shall continue for a period of ninety (90) days from the date of this order, unless it shall otherwise be ordered.

Dated: December 1, 1942.

JOSEPHINE SCOZARRO

ORDER RESTRICTING TRANSACTIONS

Josephine Scozarro, doing business as Sinclair Gasoline Station, Mifflin & Chambers Streets, Trenton, New Jersey, hereinafter called respondent, was duly served with a notice of charges of violations of Ration Order No. 5A, Gasoline Rationing Regulations, issued by the Office of Price Administration. Pursuant to the notice, a hearing upon such charges was held in Trenton, New Jersey, on September 24, 1942. There appeared a representative of the Office of Price Administration and respondent. The evidence pertaining to such charges was presented before an authorized presiding officer. Such evidence having been considered by the Deputy Administrator in Charge of Rationing, it is hereby determined that:

(a) Respondent is a dealer in gasoline and operates a filling station at Mifflin & Chambers Streets, Trenton, New Jersey.

(b) Respondent has violated § 1394.1502 of Ration Order No. 5A, Gasoline Rationing Regulations, in that on various occasions between July 22 and September 9, 1942, respondent transferred gasoline to consumers in exchange for 10 gasoline ration coupons Class A, No. 2.

Because of the great scarcity and critical importance of gasoline in New Jersey, respondent's violations of Ration Order No. 5A, Gasoline Rationing Regulations, have resulted in the diversion of gasoline from military and essential civilian uses into non-essential uses, in a manner contrary to the public interest and detrimental to the national war effort. It appears to the Deputy Administrator in Charge of Rationing that further violations by respondent are likely unless appropriate administrative action is taken: It is therefore ordered:

(c) That during the period in which this Suspension Order No. 175 shall be in effect,

(1) Respondent shall not sell, transfer or deliver any gasoline to any person.

(2) Respondent shall not accept any deliveries or transfers of, or in any manner directly or indirectly receive from any source, any gasoline for resale.

(3) No person, firm or corporation shall deliver, or in any manner directly or indirectly transfer any gasoline to respondent for resale.

(d) Any terms used in this Suspension Order No. 175 that are defined in Ration Order No. 5A Gasoline Rationing Regulations, shall have the meaning therein given them.

(e) This Suspension Order No. 175 shall become effective 12:01 A. M. December 9, 1942, and unless sooner terminated, shall expire 12:01 A. M. December 24, 1942.

(Pub. Law 421, 76th Cong.; sec. 2 (a) of Pub. Law 671, 76th Cong., as amended by Pub. Laws 89, and 507, 77th Cong.; E.O. No. 9125 (7 F.R. 2719); W.P.B. Directive No. 1 (7 F.R. 562); Supplementary Directive No. 1H (7 F.R. 3478, 3877, 5216))

J.*) et al., nor as limiting, qualifying, or impairing in any way the right of the United States to seek and to obtain any relief from any court that may be necessary to carry out the terms of the consent decree; (2) that the limitation in the agreement of any license thereunder to operations conducted in the United States is not intended and will not be regarded as involving any limitation whatsoever on any license immunity or right in connection with any United States patent, nor as involving any agreement to limit the use, manufacture, or sale of processes or products outside of the United States; and (3) that all licensees will receive in addition to such rights as are expressly granted to them by the licenses provided for in this agreement, such further rights as they may be entitled to by law.

WHEREAS the decoration of the Purple Heart is awarded, as prescribed by Army Regulations of September 4, 1942,[1] to persons serving with the Army of the United States; and

WHEREAS it is appropriate that the award of the Purple Heart be authorized to persons serving with the Navy, Marine Corps or Coast Guard of the United States:

NOW, THEREFORE, by virtue of the authority vested in me as President of the United States, and as Commander in Chief of the Army and Navy of the United States, it is hereby ordered as follows:

1. The Secretary of the Navy is authorized and directed to award the Purple Heart in the name of the President of the United States to persons who, while heretofore or hereafter serving in any capacity with the Navy, Marine Corps or Coast Guard of the United States, are wounded in action against an enemy of the United States, or as a result of an act of such enemy, provided such wound necessitates treatment by a medical officer.

2. Except as authorized in paragraph three hereof, no more than one Purple Heart shall be awarded to any one person, but for each subsequent justification for such an award a Gold Star, or other suitable device shall be awarded, to be worn with the Purple Heart as prescribed by appropriate regulations.

3. The Secretary of the Navy is further authorized and directed to award the Purple Heart posthumously, in the name of the President of the United States, to any persons who, while serving in any capacity with the Navy, Marine Corps or Coast Guard of the United States, since December 6, 1941, are killed in action or who die as a direct result of wounds received in action with an enemy of the United States, or as a result of an act of such enemy. The Purple Heart will be forwarded to the nearest of kin of any person entitled to the posthumous award regardless of whether a previous award has been made to such person.

4. If so authorized by the Secretary of the Navy the award of the Purple Heart may be made by the Commander in Chief of a fleet, or by such other appropriate officers as the Secretary of the Navy may designate.

5. The Secretary of the Navy is authorized to promulgate such regulations as he may deem appropriate to effectuate the purposes hereof. The regulations of the Secretary of the Navy hereunder, and the regulations of the Secretary of War with respect to the award of the Purple Heart to persons serving in any capacity with the Army of the United States, shall, so far as practicable, be of uniform application.

PART 85—VETERINARY STATION SERVICE

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

Sections 85.2, 85.3 and 85.4 are rescinded and the following substituted therefor:

§ 85.2 Inspection of establishments—(a) Award of contracts. (1) The award of contracts for meat and meat-food products is limited to bidders whose plants operate directly under the supervision of the Bureau of Animal Industry, United States Department of Agriculture, or to bidders handling in establishments approved by the Army Veterinary Corps, meat and meat-food products originating in plants under the supervision of the United States Bureau of Animal Industry. The award of contracts for milk, cream, or other fluid milk products (other than canned), and ice cream, will be limited to establishments which have passed an Army sanitary inspection within the calendar month preceding the opening date of the bid or which are certified to by Army Medical Department authorities as approved sources of supply.

(2) Establishments other than those mentioned in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph which supply or propose to supply foods of animal origin will be inspected by a veterinary officer as circumstances and conditions warrant.

(b) Inspection procedure. The inspection of establishments will be conducted by an officer of the Veterinary Corps whenever such officer is available. The inspection will be conducted so as to ascertain that the plant and the methods in use conform to recognized principles of sanitation and to such technical instructions and informative guides as may be issued by The Surgeon General. (R.S. 161; 5 U.S.C. 22) [Pars. 6 and 7, AR 40-2150, Oct. 9, 1942]

§ 85.3 Correction of defects in establishments. When an establishment is not properly operated or does not maintain a satisfactory standard of sanitation, and correction of these defects cannot be obtained after the matter has been brought to the attention of the proprietor or manager, written recommendation should be made by the responsible veterinary officer, through the surgeon, to the commanding officer that the establishment not be approved as a source of supply for the command. (R.S. 161; 5 U.S.C. 22) [Par. 9, AR 40-2150, Oct. 9, 1942]

§ 85.4 Milk plant and dairy farm inspection—(a) Object. (1) The object of milk plant and dairy farm inspection is to prevent the transmission of disease through the use of an unsafe milk product and to obtain the quality of product specified in the contract. Due to the highly perishable nature of milk and milk products and the fact that they are very favorable media for bacterial growth, it is essential that particular atttention and close supervision be given to the production, processing, and handling of these products.

(2) It is not intended that veterinary officers will routinely inspect all dairy farms supplying milk to milk plants having Army contracts. Ordinarily, veterinary officers will determine the character and quality of the raw milk through frequent laboratory examinations of representative samples taken at milk plants and through close contact with local health or other civilian agencies exercising supervision over the raw milk supply. However, in exceptional circumstances where it would be in the interest of the Army to do so, and in cases where milk is procured by an Army post from an individual or firm operating a dairy farm in conjunction with a milk plant, the veterinary officer will take the necessary inspection of the farm.

(b) Scope. A sanitary inspection of a milk plant or a dairy farm will include a complete physical examination by a veterinarian of all dairy cows in each herd from which the milk is procured; the sanitary condition and suitability of all buildings, equipment, and utensils; the methods of operation; the apparent health of employees; an investigation of the water supply and of the various ingredients used; and an examination of the various products manufactured or produced in each establishment.

(c) Action. Deviation from accepted practices or incorrect procedures of such a nature as to have real bearing on the actual sanitary condition or on the quality of the product must be promptly rectified or the product should be excluded from use by the Army. Since it is impracticable to state exactly at what stage an improper practice or incorrect procedure may render a milk product dangerous to the consuming troops, the decision as to the acceptability or use of these products is left to the responsible Medical Department authority. Any product of such character, or which is handled under such conditions as probably to adversely affect the health of the command will not be used. (R.S. 161; 5 U.S.C. 22) [Pars. 10, 11 and 12, AR 40-2150, Oct. 9, 1942]

Major General,

PAR. 4. The last paragraph of § 101.1 is amended by adding at the end thereof the following sentence: "The amendments made by section 622 of the Revenue Act of 1942 became effective November 1, 1942."

PAR. 5. Immediately preceding § 101.13 there is inserted the following:

SEC. 622. CABARET TAX. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title VI.)

Section 1700 (e) (1) (relating to rate of cabaret tax) is amended to read as follows:

(1) Rate.—A tax equivalent to 5 per centum of all amounts paid for admission, refreshment, service, or merchandise, at any roof garden, cabaret, or other similar place furnishing a public performance for profit, by or for any patron or guest who is entitled to be pesent during any portion of such performance. The term "roof garden, cabaret, or other similar place" shall include any room in any hotel, restaurant, hall, or other public place where music and dancing privileges or any other entertainment, except instrumental or mechanical music alone, are afforded the patrons in connection with the serving or selling of food, refreshment, or merchandise. A performance shall be regarded as being furnished for profit for purposes of this section even though the charge made for admission, refreshment, service, or merchandise is not increased by reason of the furnishing of such performance. No tax shall be applicable under subsection (a) (1) on account of an amount paid with respect to which tax is imposed under this subsection.

PAR. 6. The first two paragraphs of § 101.13 are amended to read as follows:

The tax imposed by section 1700 (e), as amended by section 542 of the Revenue Act of 1941 and section 622 of the Revenue Act of 1942, applies to all amounts paid for admission, refreshment, service, and merchandise, at any roof garden, cabaret, or other similar place furnishing a public performance for profit, by or for any patron or guest who is entitled to be present during any portion of such performance. The tax is at the rate of 5 per cent of the total amounts so paid.

Charges collected prior to commencement of a performance are not taxable with respect to such performance, if the patron does not remain for any part of the performance.

PAR. 7. The first two paragraphs of § 101.14 are amended to read as follows:

§ 101.14 Scope of tax. The term "roof garden, cabaret, or other similar place" includes any room in any hotel, restaurant, hall, or other public place where music and dancing privileges or any other entertainment, except instrumental or mechanical music alone, are afforded the patrons in connection with the serving or selling of food, refreshment, or merchandise. A public performance furnished at a roof garden, cabaret or other similar place shall be regarded as being furnished for profit for purposes of this section even though the charge made for admission, refreshment, service, or merchandise is not increased by reason of the furnishing of such performance.

Where music, whether by an orchestra, a mechanical device, or otherwise, and a space in which the patrons may dance is furnished in the dining room of a hotel, or in a restaurant, bar, etc., the entertainment constitutes a public performance for profit at a roof garden, cabaret, or similar place, and the payments made for admission, refreshment, service, and merchandise are subject to the tax.

Amounts paid for refreshment, service, or merchandise in a room which is entirely separate from the room in which entertainment is furnished are not subject to tax, provided that the patrons in such separate room may not witness the entertainment and any door in the wall or partition separating the two rooms remains closed during the period of the entertainment except when persons pass from one room to the other.

(Sec. 622 of the Revenue Act of 1942 (Pub. Law 753, 77th Congress, second session), and section 3791 of the Internal Revenue Code (53 Stat. 467; 26 U.S.C., 1940 ed., 3791))

PART 320—RETAILERS'[1] EXCISE TAXES

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

In order to conform Regulations 51 [Part 320, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, 1941 Sup.], relating to the retailers' excise taxes on sales of jewelry, furs, and toilet preparations under the Internal Revenue Code, to sections 511, 601, 613, 618 (a), and 623 of the Revenue Act of 1942 (Public Law 753—77th Congress, 2d Session), such regulations are further amended as follows:

PARAGRAPH 1. Immediately preceding the quotation of section 2404 of the Internal Revenue Code, which appears immediately before § 320.1, there is inserted the following:

SEC. 511. DEFINITION OF MILITARY OR NAVAL FORCES OF THE UNITED STATES. (Revenue Act 1942, Title V.)

Section 3797 (a) (15) is amended to read as follows:

(15) Military or naval forces of the United States.—The term "military or naval forces of the United States" includes the Marine Corps, the Coast Guard, the Army Nurse Corps, Female, the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps, the Navy Nurse Corps, Female, and the Women's Reserve branch of the Naval Reserve.

PAR. 2. Section 320.1 is amended by adding the following new paragraph:

(j) The term "armed forces of the United States" means the "military or naval forces of the United States" as defined by section 3797 (a) (15) of the Code, as amended by section 511 of the Revenue Act of 1942.

PAR. 3. There is inserted immediately preceding § 320.2 the following:

SEC. 601. EFFECTIVE DATE OF THIS TITLE. (Revenue Act of 1942, approved October 21, 1942; Title VI.)

This title shall take effect on the first day of the first month which begins more than 10 days after the date of the enactment of this Act.

[1] 6 F.R. 4965.

PAR. 4. Section 320.2 is amended by adding the following sentence at the end thereof:

The amendment by section 613 of the Revenue Act of 1942 of section 2400, relating to the tax on jewelry, etc.; the amendment by section 623 of the Revenue Act of 1942 of section 2402 (b), relating to the sale and use of toilet preparations by beauty parlors, etc., and the amendment by section 618 of the Revenue Act of 1942 of section 2405, relating to leases, conditional sales, etc., became effective in each case on November 1, 1942.

PAR. 5. There is inserted immediately preceding § 320.10 the following:

SEC. 618. SALE UNDER CHATTEL MORTGAGE. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title VI.)

(a) Retail sales taxes.—Section 2405 (relating to tax where article sold under installment or conditional sale contract) is amended by striking out "or (c) a conditional sale" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "(c) a conditional sale, or (d) a chattel mortgage arrangement wherein it is provided that the sales price shall be paid in installments."

* * * * *

PAR. 6. Section 320.10 is amended to read as follows:

§ 320.10 Basis of tax on leases, installment sales, conditional sales, and sales under chattel mortgage arrangements. Special provision is made in the law for computing taxes due in the case of leases of articles, installment sales, so-called conditional sales and sales made on and after November 1, 1942 (see § 320.2) under chattel mortgage arrangements. The term "lease" means a continuous right to the possession or use of a particular article for a period of time. It does not include the use of an article merely as occasion demands, but the contract must give the lessee the right to possess or use the article, without interruption, for a period of time.

Where an article is (1) leased by the retailer, (2) sold under an installment-payment contract with title reserved, (3) sold under a conditional-sale contract with payments to be made in installments, or (4) sold on or after November 1, 1942 under a chattel mortgage arrangement, with payments to be made in installments, a proportionate part of the total tax shall be paid upon each payment made with respect to the article. The tax is to be returned and paid to the collector during the month following that in which the payment is made.

In the case of an article taxable under sections 2400 (relating to jewelry, etc.) and 2401 (relating to furs), the tax does not apply when (1) the lease, or installment sale, or conditional sale contract, (2) delivery of the article under the contract, and (3) payment of a part of the consideration, were made prior to October 1, 1941. In the case of an article sold prior to November 1, 1942 under a chattel mortgage arrangement, the tax is payable upon the full sales price at the time the sale was made, regardless of whether provision is made for the payment of the sales price in installments.

PAR. 7. There is inserted immediately preceding § 320.30 the following:

SEC. 613. EXEMPTION OF INSIGNIA, ETC., USED IN CONNECTION WITH UNIFORMS OF THE ARMED FORCES FROM JEWELRY TAX. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title VI.)

The second sentence of section 2400 (relating to exemption from jewelry tax) is amended to read as follows: "The tax imposed by this section shall not apply to any article used for religious purposes, to surgical instruments, to watches designed especially for use by the blind, to frames or mountings for spectacles or eye-glasses, to a fountain pen or smokers' pipe if the only parts of the pen or the pipe which consist of precious metals are essential parts not used for ornamental purposes, or to buttons, insignia, cap devices, chin straps, and other devices prescribed for use in connection with the uniforms of the armed forces of the United States."

PAR. 8. The last paragraph of § 320.33 is amended to read as follows:

Examples of other articles which become subject to the tax when ornamented, mounted or fitted with, precious metals or imitations thereof are umbrellas, walking sticks, cigarette lighters, shoe buckles, etc. If, in the case of a fountain pen sold on and after October 1, 1941, or of a smoker's pipe sold on or after November 1, 1942 (see § 320.2), the only parts which consist of precious metals are essential parts not used for ornamental purposes, such fountain pen or smoker's pipe is not subject to the tax. However, if a fountain pen or smoker's pipe is otherwise ornamented, mounted or fitted with, precious metals or imitations thereof, it will be subject to tax when sold by the retailer.

PAR. 9. The second sentence of § 320.34 is amended to read as follows:

The term "watches and clocks" includes all time-measuring devices whether actuated by weights, springs, or electrical energy, except watches sold on and after November 1, 1942 which are designed especially for use by the blind. (See § 320.2.)

PAR. 10. The first paragraph of § 320.37 is amended to read as follows:

§ 320.37 Exemption. Under the specific provisions of the Code the tax does not attach to the sale on and after October 1, 1941 of surgical instruments, frames or mountings for spectacles or eye-glasses, or articles used for religious purposes; nor does the tax attach to the sale on and after November 1, 1942 of buttons, insignia, cap devices, chin straps, and other devices prescribed for use in connection with the uniforms of the armed forces of the United States. (See § 320.2.) For definition of "armed forces of the United States," see § 320.1 (j). For exemptions in the case of certain kinds of fountain pens, smokers' pipes, and watches, see §§ 320.33 and 320.34.

PAR. 11. There is inserted immediately preceding § 320.52 the following:

SEC. 623. SALE AND USE OF TOILET PREPARATIONS BY BEAUTY PARLORS, ETC. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title VI.)

Section 2402 (b) is amended to read as follows:

(b) Beauty parlors, etc.—For the purposes of subsection (a), the sale of any article described in such subsection to any person operating a barber shop, beauty parlor, or similar establishment for use in the operation thereof and not for resale, shall be considered a sale at retail. The use in such operation of any article described in subsection (a) purchased by such person on or after the effective date of section 622 of the Revenue Act of 1942 for resale, shall be considered a sale at retail by such person at the time the article is first set apart for such use and at a price equivalent to the amount paid by him for the article.

PAR. 12. Section 320.52 is amended to read as follows:

§ 320.52 Sales to beauty parlors, etc.—(a) Sales made during the period October 1, 1941 through October 31, 1942, both dates inclusive. Any person who, during the period October 1, 1941 through October 31, 1942, both dates inclusive, sells toilet preparations taxable under Section 2402 (a) to another person operating a barber shop, beauty parlor, or similar establishment, whether for use in the operation thereof or for resale purposes, shall be deemed to have sold such articles at retail and must make a return and pay tax on all such sales as provided in §§ 320.60 and 320.61 Where the operator of a barber shop, beauty parlor, or similar establishment resells such articles at retail, he is liable on the resale for the tax imposed by section 2402 (a). However, in determining the tax to be paid by the operator on such resales before November 1, 1942, a credit may be taken in the amount of the tax paid by the operator's vendor under section 2402 (a). (See § 320.65.)

(b) Sales made on and after November 1, 1942. Any person who, on and after November 1, 1942 (see § 320.2, sells toilet preparations taxable under section 2402 (a) to another person operating a barber shop, beauty parlor, or similar establishment for use in the operation thereof and not for resale, shall be deemed to have sold such articles at retail and must make a return and pay tax on all such sales as provided in § 320.60. No tax attaches to the sale of such articles on and after November 1, 1942, to any person operating a barber shop, beauty parlor, or similar establishment for the express purpose of resale.

The sale of any article described in section 2402 (a) to any person operating a barber shop, beauty parlor, or similar establishment shall be presumed to be made for use in the operation thereof, unless (1) at the time of sale, the vendor is furnished by the vendee with a "certificate of purchase for resale" substantially in the form as outlined herein, or (2) (if such certificate is not furnished at that time) the vendor has written evidence at the time of sale showing that the sale is made for resale and the vendor is subsequently furnished with a "certificate of purchase for resale". Where the "certificate of purchase for resale" is not furnished at the time of sale, the evidence required to be had by the vendor is not restricted to any particular form of document, so long as such evidence is in writing and shows that the sale is made for resale and not for use in the operation of the barber shop, beauty parlor, or similar establishment.

Where a sale is made for resale purposes and the "certificate of purchase for resale" is obtained prior to the time the retailer makes his return for the month in which the sale is made, no tax on such sale should be included in his return. If the "certificate of purchase for resale" is not so obtained, the retailer must include the tax on such sale in his return for the month in which the sale is made. However, if the "certificate of purchase for resale" is later obtained, a claim for refund of the tax paid may be filed on Form 843, or a credit taken upon a subsequent return, but such action must be taken within the four-year period of limitation prescribed by section 3313 of the Internal Revenue Code.

The articles covered by the "certificate of purchase for resale" must be fully identified as to nature, quantity and date of sale.

CERTIFICATE OF PURCHASE FOR RESALE

(For use by operators of barber shops, beauty parlors, or similar establishments in purchasing for resale purposes articles described in section 2402 (a) of the Internal Revenue Code).

The undersigned understands that if the articles are used by him in the operation of his barber shop, beauty parlor, or similar establishment, or resold by him at retail, he will be liable for tax on such use or resale. It is understood that the fraudulent use of this certificate to secure exemption will subject the undersigned and all guilty parties to a fine of not more than $10,000 or to imprisonment for not more than five years or both, together with costs of prosecution. The undersigned also understands that he must be prepared to establish by competent evidence that the article was actually purchased for the purpose for which stated in this certificate.

(Address)

If it is impracticable to furnish a separate certificate for each order or contract, a certificate covering all orders between given dates (such period not to exceed a month) will be acceptable. Such certificate and proper records of invoices, orders, etc., relative to tax-free sales must be retained as provided in § 320.62. Where, upon inspection, it is discovered that the records of a retailer with respect to any sale claimed to be tax-free do not contain a proper certificate, as outlined above, with supporting invoices and such other evidence as may be necessary to establish the exempt character of the sale, the tax shall be payable by the retailer on such sale.

In any case where the operator of a barber shop, beauty parlor, or similar establishment uses in the operation of his business any article which was purchased by him on or after November 1, 1942, for resale purposes, such use shall be considered a sale at retail by such operator at the time the article is first set apart for such use. The tax shall be computed at a price-equivalent to the amount paid by such person for the article. Where the operator of a barber shop, beauty parlor or similar establishment resells at retail on or after November 1, 1942, any article previously purchased by him, such operator will be liable for the tax imposed under section 2402 (a) on such resale irrespective of the purpose for which such article was purchased. In determining the amount of tax to be paid by the operator on such resale on or after November 1, 1942, no credit or refund will be allowable for any amount which might previously have been paid as tax to the United States with respect to any prior sale of such article.

PAR. 13. There is inserted immediately preceding § 320.64 the following:

SEC. 623. SALE AND USE OF TOILET PREPARATIONS BY BEAUTY PARLORS, ETC. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title VI.)

Section 2402 (b) is amended to read as follows:

(b) Beauty parlors, etc. For the purposes of subsection (a), the sale of any article described in such subsection to any person operating a barber shop, beauty parlor, or similar establishment for use in the operation thereof and not for resale, shall be considered a sale at retail. The use in such operation of any article described in subsection (a) purchased by such person on or after the effective date of section 622 of the Revenue Act of 1942 for resale, shall be considered a sale at retail by such person at the time the article is first set apart for such use and at a price equivalent to the amount paid by him for the article.

PAR. 14. Section 320.65 is amended to read as follows:

§ 320.65 Sales by beauty parlors, etc. Whenever any person operating a barber shop, beauty parlor, or similar establishment becomes liable for tax under section 2402 (a) by reason of his resale prior to November 1, 1942, of toilet preparations purchased by him tax-paid under such section at any time during the period October 1, 1941 through October 31, 1942, both dates inclusive, a credit against the tax due on the resale may be allowed in the amount of the tax paid by the operator's vendor under section 2402 (a), except that in no case shall the amount of the credit exceed the amount of tax payable by the operator. (For procedure in the case of articles purchased on and after November 1, 1942, see § 320.52 (b).) If an article is purchased tax-paid prior to November 1, 1942, and resold by the operator on or after that date, tax attaches to the full selling price and no credit may be taken for the tax paid on the sale to such operator.

(Secs. 511, 601, 613, 618 (a), and 623 of the Revenue Act of 1942 (Pub. Law 753, 77th Congress, 2d Session), and section 3791 of the Internal Revenue Code (53 Stat., 467; 26 U.S.C., 1940 ed., 3791))

PART 1010—SUSPENSION ORDERS

RUDOLPH KHOL

Rudolph Khol, a building contractor, 13614 Southview Avenue, Cleveland, Ohio, has been engaged in the business of building houses in the City of Cleveland and vicinity. After April 9, 1942, without the authorization of the War Production Board, he began construction of a residential house at 423 Judson Drive, Cleveland, Ohio, estimated to cost $5,600.00. Such construction was begun in disregard of the provisions of Conservation Order No. L–41, with which Rudolph Khol was familiar, and constituted wilful violation of that order. The house has now been completed and is ready for occupancy.

This violation of Conservation Order No. L–41 has hampered and impeded the war effort of the United States by diverting scarce materials to uses prohibited by the War Production Board. In view of the foregoing: It is hereby ordered, That:

§ 1010.171 Suspension Order S–171. (a) No application for authorization to begin construction of any house, building, structure or project filed by Rudolph Khol, his successors and assigns, shall be granted by the War Production Board.

(b) Deliveries of material to Rudolph Khol, his successors and assigns, shall not be accorded priority over deliveries under any other contract or order and no preference rating shall be assigned or applied to such deliveries by means of preference rating certificates, preference rating orders, general preference orders or any other orders or regulations of the Director of Industry Operations or the Director General for Operations, except as specifically authorized by the Director General for Operations.

(c) No allocation shall be made to Rudolph Khol, his successors and assigns, of any material the supply or distribution of which is governed by any order of the Director of Industry Operations or the Director General for Operations, except as specifically authorized by the Director General for Operations.

(d) No defense housing project or other construction with which Rudolph Khol is directly or indirectly connected or upon which he is employed shall be accorded priorities assistance by the issuance of any preference rating certificate, preference rating order, general preference order or any other order of the Director of Industry Operations or the Director General for Operations.

(e) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve Rudolph Khol, his successors and assigns, from any restriction, prohibition or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the Director of Industry Operations or the Director General for Operations, except in so far as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(f) This order shall take effect December 5, 1942, and shall expire on February 6, 1943, at which time the restrictions contained in this order shall be of no further effect.

PART 1010—SUSPENSION ORDERS

GILBERT S. SINCLAIR

Gilbert S. Sinclair owns and operates cocktail lounges and cafes in Buena Park, California, Wilmington, California, and Long Beach, California.

Subsequent to September 7, 1942, without the authorization of the Director General for Operations of the War Production Board, Gilbert S. Sinclair began construction (as defined in Conservation Order L–41) of a cocktail lounge and cafe located at 404–412 West Pacific Coast Highway, Long Beach, California, at an estimated cost in excess of $200.00. Such construction was begun in disregard of the provisions of Conservation Order L–41, as amended September 2, 1942, with which Gilbert S. Sinclair was familiar, and constituted a wilful violation of that order.

This violation of Conservation Order L–41 has hampered and impeded the war effort of the United States by diverting scarce materials to uses prohibited by the War Production Board. In view of the foregoing facts: It is hereby ordered, That:

§ 1010.174 Suspension Order S–174. (a) Neither Gilbert S. Sinclair nor any other person shall order, purchase, accept delivery of, withdraw from inventory, or in any other manner secure or use material or construction plant in order to continue or complete construction of the cocktail lounge and cafe located at 404–412 West Pacific Coast Highway, Long Beach, California, except as specifically authorized by the Director General for Operations.

(b) For a period of six months from the effective date of this order no application filed by Gilbert S. Sinclair or any other person for authorization to complete the cocktail lounge and cafe located at 404–412 West Pacific Coast Highway, Long Beach, California, shall be granted.

(c) For a period of six months from the effective date of this order, deliveries of material to Gilbert S. (d) For a period of six months from the effective date of this order, no allocation shall be made to Gilbert S. Sinclair, his successors and assigns, or any material the supply or distribution of which is governed by any order of the Director of Industry Operations or the Director General for Operations, except as specifically authorized by the Director General for Operations.

(e) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve Gilbert S. Sinclair from any restriction, prohibition, or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the Director of Industry Operations or the Director General for Operations, except in so far as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(f) This order shall take effect on December 7, 1942.

[Conservation Order M–271]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of milk and milk products for defense, for private account and for export, and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3134.2 Conservation Order M–271—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Producer" means any person engaged in the commercial manufacture of frozen milk desserts or mix.

(2) "Frozen milk dessert" means ice cream, frozen custard, ice milk, milk sherbet and any other frozen or partially frozen combination of milk or milk products with other food products, flavors, color, or stabilizer. This includes any such dessert produced from mix.

(3) "Mix" means the liquid or dried unfrozen combination of the ingredients of a frozen milk dessert.

(b) Restrictions on manufacture. During each of the months of December 1942, and January 1943,

(1) No producer shall, in the manufacture of frozen milk desserts or mix, use:

(i) More than 60% of the total milk fat and 60% of the total milk solids not fat so used by him during October 1942; or

(ii) Formulas not used by him during October 1942. A change in flavors or colors shall not be considered a change in formulas.

(2) Notwithstanding the restriction of paragraph (b) (1), any producer may manufacture a combined total of 60 gallons of frozen milk desserts or mix per month.

(c) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds for the appeal.

(d) Reports. Any person affected by this order shall file such reports and questionnaires as the War Production Board may request from time to time.

(e) Records. Every person to whom this order applies shall keep and preserve for not less than two years accurate and complete records concerning inventories, production and sales.

(f) Audit and inspection. All records required to be kept by this order shall, upon request, be submitted to audit and inspection by duly authorized representatives of the War Production Board.

(g) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or accepting further deliveries of or from processing or using material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(h) Communications to War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder and all communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Food Division, Washington, D. C. Ref.: M–271.

(i) Applicability of priorities regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the priorities regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

PART 1038—GRAPHITE

[Conservation Order M-61 as Amended Dec. 4, 1942]

Part 1038—Madagascar Flake Graphite is hereby amended to read:

Part 1038—Graphite.

Section 1038.1 Conservation Order M–61 is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

§ 1038.1 Conservation Order M–61—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Put into process" means the first change by a person in the form of material from that form in which it is received by him.

(2) "Strategic graphite" means crystalline graphite (in flake, lump or chip form) that will stand on a No. 50 mesh screen, U. S. Sieve Series.

(3) "Jobber" means a person in the United States who does not manufacture but regularly stocks crucibles for distribution to others.

(b) Restrictions on use of strategic graphite. No person shall put into process for any purpose any strategic graphite, except pursuant to the specific authorization of the Director General for Operations.

(c) Restrictions on delivery of crucibles and other articles containing strategic graphite. No person shall, without the specific authorization of the Director General for Operations, deliver any crucible containing strategic graphite to any person other than a jobber, and no person other than a jobber shall, without the specific authorization of the Director General for Operations, accept delivery of any such crucible; nor shall any person deliver or accept delivery of any article containing strategic graphite other than a crucible, except pursuant to the specific authorization of the Director General for Operations, unless such strategic graphite was put into process prior to February 17, 1942. On and after December 4, 1942, no preference rating shall have any force or effect with respect to deliveries of crucibles containing strategic graphite.

(d) Restrictions on delivery of strategic graphite. No person shall deliver and no person other than Metals Reserve Company shall accept delivery of any strategic graphite, except pursuant to the specific authorization of the Director General for Operations.

(e) General exception. Where and to the extent the use of any less scarce material is impracticable, the prohibitions, limitations and restrictions contained in paragraph (b) hereof shall not apply to the putting into process of strategic graphite when such graphite is to be physically incorporated into any item which is being produced for delivery under a contract or subcontract for the Army or Navy of the United States, the United States Maritime Commission or the War Shipping Administration, if in any such case the use of strategic graphite to the extent employed is required by the specifications of the prime contract; and the prohibitions and restrictions contained in paragraph (c) hereof shall not apply to the delivery or acceptance of delivery, pursuant to such a contract or subcontract, of any item if its manufacture was exempted under the provisions of this paragraph.

(f) Applications for specific authorization. (1) Any person other than a jobber seeking specific authorization from the Director General for Operations to accept delivery of any crucibles containing strategic graphite, shall apply periodically on Form PD–575 to the Director General for Operations for authority to do so and also for authority for his supplier to deliver such crucibles. This form must be filed with the War Production Board by the 20th day of the month prior to the first month in which any delivery of such crucibles is sought, except that in an emergency this form may be filed at any time.

(2) Any person seeking specific authorization from the Director General for Operations to accept delivery of any strategic graphite to be used for the purpose of making crucibles or seeking specific authorization to put any strategic graphite into process for the purpose of manufacturing crucibles, shall apply monthly on Form PD–303B to the Director General for Operations for authority to do so and also for authority for a supplier to make any deliveries of such graphite which the applicant is authorized to receive.

(3) Any person seeking specific authorization from the Director General for Operations to accept delivery of any article containing strategic graphite other than a crucible, shall apply for such authority by letter and by the same letter he shall apply for authority for the proposed manufacturer of the article to put into process such strategic graphite and, if need be, for authority for such manufacturer to acquire strategic graphite for the purpose indicated. Such letter shall state the name of the applicant, the name of the proposed manufacturer of the article, the name of the person from whom the manufacturer is to acquire strategic graphite, if any, and the use to which the article is to be put.

(g) Reports. All persons having in their possesion or processing strategic graphite, or crucibles or other articles manufactured with strategic graphite, shall file reports with the War Production Board at such times and in such manner and form as it may prescribe, showing inventory, purchases, sales and consumption of such graphite or articles manufactured therewith and such other information as the War Production Board may from time to time require.

(h) Miscellaneous provisions—(1) Appeals. Any person affected by this order who considers that compliance therewith would disrupt or impair war work may appeal to the War Production Board, Washington, D. C., Ref.: M–61, setting forth the pertinent facts and the reason he considers he is entitled to relief.

(2) Applicability of priorities regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the priorities regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(3) Applicability of order. The prohibitions and restrictions contained in this order shall apply to the putting into process of material in all articles manufactured and to deliveries of articles or material made irrespective of whether such articles are manufactured or such deliveries are made pursuant to a contract made prior or subsequent to February 17, 1942. Insofar as any other order of the Director General for Operations, Director of Industry Operations or of the Director of Priorities may have the effect of limiting or curtailing to a greater extent than herein provided the delivery or putting into process of strategic graphite or the delivery of any products made therewith, the limitations of such other order shall be observed.

(4) Communications to War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder and all communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Mica-Graphite Division, Washington, D. C., Ref.: M–61.

(5) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

PART 3080—CHEMICAL FERTILIZERS

[Conservation Order M–231 as Amended December 4, 1942]

CHEMICAL NITROGEN

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of chemical nitrogen for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3080.1 Conservation Order M–231—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Chemical fertilizer" means any material used as a plant food containing one or more of the following: nitrogen, phosphorus or potassium, excluding, however, animal manures and animal, fish and plant residues, unless mixed with a chemical fertilizer.

(2) "Grade" means the minimum guaranteed plant food content of any fertilizer expressed in percentages of its principal plant food components; namely, nitrogen, available phosphoric acid and water-soluble potash. In expressing grades the percentage of nitrogen content is stated first, the percentage of available phosphoric acid is stated second, and the percentage of water-soluble potash is stated third. For example, 2–12–6 means a fertilizer containing 2 percent nitrogen, 12 percent phosphoric acid and 6 percent potash; 0–14–7 means a fertilizer containing no nitrogen, 14 percent phosphoric acid and 7 percent potash.

(3) "Superphosphate" means any plant food product which is obtained by mixing rock phosphate with either or both sulfuric acid and phosphoric acid.

(4) "Potash" means any compound of potassium containing, or capable of releasing in the soil, any water-soluble compound of potassium including, but not limited to, muriate of potash, sulfate of potash or manure salts.

(5) "Organic nitrogen" means nitrogen derived from any plant or animal organism containing nitrogen, including, but not limited to, animal, fish and other tankages, castor pumace, tobacco stems, cotton seed meal, peanut meal, soy bean meal, sewage sludge, cocoa shell meal, peat and humus.

(6) "Chemical nitrogen" means any nitrogen, other than organic nitrogen, including, but not limited to, ammonium sulfate, sodium nitrate, calcium cyanamid, urea and nitrogen-bearing solutions.

(7) "Fertilizer manufacturer" means any person who manufactures or mixes chemical fertilizer.

(8) "Dealer" means any person, other than a fertilizer manufacturer, who purchases or has purchased chemical fertilizer for resale.

(9) "Agent" means any person, other than a fertilizer manufacturer, who receives or has received chemical fertilizer on a consignment basis for resale.

(b) Restrictions on use and delivery of fertilizer. (1) On and after December 4, 1942, no fertilizer manufacturer, dealer or agent, shall, subject to the exemptions provided for in paragraph (c) hereof, deliver, and no person, including fertilizer manufacturers, dealers and agents, shall use on crops, in any of the states listed in Schedule A attached hereto, any grade of chemical fertilizer other than the grades designated on such schedule as applicable to the respective states listed thereon, and where a particular grade is designated on such schedule as available only for a particular crop, such grade shall be sold or used only for the production of such crop.

(2) In addition to the restrictions provided for in paragraph (b) (1) hereof, but subject to the exemptions provided for in paragraph (c) hereof, on and after December 4, 1942:

(i) No fertilizer manufacturer, dealer or agent shall deliver any chemical fertilizer containing chemical nitrogen for use in 1942 on grain sown in the fall of 1942 to be harvested for grain, and no person, including fertilizer manufacturers, dealers and agents, shall use any chemical fertilizer containing chemical nitrogen for such purpose.

(ii) No fertilizer manufacturer, dealer or agent shall deliver any chemical fertilizer containing chemical nitrogen for use on lawns, golf courses, parks, cemeteries, roadsides or noncommercial plantings of trees, shrubs or flowers, and no person, including fertilizer manufacturers, dealers and agents, shall use any chemical fertilizer containing chemical nitrogen for any of such purposes. The restriction provided for in this paragraph (b) (2) (ii) shall apply to the use by any landscape gardener or nurseryman of any chemical fertilizer containing chemical nitrogen, on trees, shrubs or flowers planted on the premises of his customers.

(iii) No fertilizer manufacturer, dealer or agent shall deliver any chemical fertilizer containing chemical nitrogen in packages of less than one hundred (100) pounds: Provided, however, That any fertilizer manufacturer, dealer or agent holding stocks of chemical fertilizer containing chemical nitrogen in bags of not less than eighty (80) pounds on September 12, 1942, or having stocks of fertilizer bags of not less than eighty (80) pounds capacity on September 12, 1942, shall have the right to deliver chemical fertilizer containing chemical nitrogen in packages of not less than eighty (80) pounds until such time as his existing stock of chemical fertilizer in bags of not less than eighty (80) pounds, and of fertilizer bags of not less than eighty (80) pounds capacity, is exhausted.

(iv) No fertilizer manufacturer, dealer or agent shall, prior to December 1, 1942, deliver any chemical fertilizer containing chemical nitrogen except for use during 1942.

(v) No fertilizer manufacturer shall deliver to any consumer any superphosphate which carries less than 18% available phosphoric acid except as specifically designated on Schedule A hereof.

(3) No person shall accept delivery of any chemical fertilizer which he knows or has reason to believe is made in violation of this order.

(c) Exemptions. (1) The restrictions provided for in paragraph (b) (1) hereof, shall not apply to:

(i) Deliveries by dealers or agents of stocks of unapproved grades of chemical fertilizer in their hands on September 12, 1942, or to the use by any person of any chemical fertilizer delivered pursuant to this paragraph (c) (1) (i) or to the use by any person of any chemical fertilizer on hand on September 12, 1942.

(ii) Deliveries by any person of any chemical fertilizer to a fertilizer manufacturer for use in the manufacture of chemical fertilizer.

(iii) Deliveries of any chemical fertilizer containing nitrogen where the entire nitrogen content thereof consists of organic nitrogen, or to the use by any person of any chemical fertilizer delivered pursuant to this paragraph (c) (1) (iii).

(iv) Deliveries by any fertilizer manufacturer of stocks of unapproved grades of chemical fertilizer held on September 12, 1942, in any warehouse located fifty miles or more from his nearest fertilizer plant, or to the use by any person of any chemical fertilizer delivered pursuant to this paragraph (c) (1) (iv): Provided, however, That each fertilizer manufacturer desiring to make any delivery under this paragraph (c) (1) (iv) shall file with the War Production Board prior to making any such delivery, and in any event on or before December 31, 1942, a certificate in substantially the following form:

> The undersigned hereby certifies to the War Production Board that he had the following amounts of each of the grades of chemical fertilizer listed below in the warehouses indicated and that the distance between each such warehouse and the undersigned's nearest plant is fifty miles or more:
> Grade Quantity Warehouse (Indicate location)
> ------------------------
> Manufacturer
> By ------------------------
> Authorized officer
> Date ------ Title ------------------------

(2) The restrictions provided for in paragraphs (b) (1) and (b) (2) hereof, shall not apply to:

(i) Deliveries of chemical fertilizer for experimental purposes to educational institutions or publicly owned agricultural institutions, or to the use of chemical fertilizer by such institutions for such purposes.

(ii) Deliveries by fertilizer manufacturers, dealers or agents of any chemical fertilizer in their hands, and packaged in packages containing less than eighty (80) pounds, on September 12, 1942, or to the use by any person of any chemical fertilizer delivered pursuant to this paragraph (c) (2) (ii).

(iii) Deliveries by fertilizer manufacturers, dealers or agents of any chemical fertilizer in pressed tablet form in their hands, or manufactured from raw materials in their hands, on September 12, 1942, or to the use by any person of any chemical fertilizer delivered pursuant to this paragraph (c) (2) (iii).

(iv) Deliveries by fertilizer manufacturers, dealers or agents of any chemical fertilizer prepared exclusively for use in hydroponics, either in the form of a completely soluble powder or in the form of a liquid, in their hands, or manufactured from raw materials in their hands on September 12, 1942, or to the use by any person of any chemical fertilizer delivered pursuant to this paragraph (c) (2) (iv).

(v) Deliveries by fertilizer manufacturers, dealers or agents of any chemical fertilizer, including chemical fertilizer containing chemical nitrogen, for use on new plantings of grass on airports or air fields of the United States Army, Navy or Coast Guard or to the use by any person of any chemical fertilizer, including chemical fertilizer containing chemical nitrogen, delivered pursuant to this paragraph (c) (2) (v).

(d) Directions. (1) Each fertilizer manufacturer shall comply with such directions as may be issued from time to time by the Director General for Operations with respect to the manufacture or mixing of chemical fertilizer and with respect to the use or delivery of nitrogen bearing materials.

(2) Each fertilizer manufacturer, dealer and agent shall comply with such directions as may be issued from time to time by the Director General for Operations with respect to the delivery and use of chemical fertilizers.

(e) Substitution of grades. (1) Set forth on Schedule B attached hereto is a list of the grades (stated on a nitrogen content basis or on a crop basis) of chemical fertilizer used in each of the states designated on such schedule during the 1940–1941 season (July 1, 1940–June 30, 1941) and a list of the approved grades for each of such states for the 1942–1943 season (July 1, 1942–June 30, 1943). The 1940–1941 grades and the 1942–1943 grades are listed in groups—each group being identified by a group number. The grades listed in a particular 1942–1943 group are the grades approved for substitution during 1942–1943 for the grades of the 1940–1941 group bearing the corresponding group number. Where a grade in one of the 1940–1941 groups was used on a particular crop during the 1940–1941 season, no grade other than a grade appearing in the corresponding 1942–1943 group shall be used on such crop during the 1942–1943 season. For example, where a person used a grade carrying 2% nitrogen on a particular crop in Connecticut during the 1940–1941 season, he shall not use any grade other than a 0–14–14, 0–20–20 or a 0–9–27 grade on such crop during the 1942–1943 season.

(2) Each fertilizer manufacturer shall, during the 1942–1943 season, manufacture or mix and make available for distribution during the 1942–1943 season in each state supplied by him during the 1940–1941 season, tonnages of each group of the 1942–1943 approved grades containing chemical nitrogen in the same ratio which the tonnages of each group of the 1940–1941 grades containing chemical nitrogen delivered during the 1940–1941 season in the state involved bore to each other. For example, if the amount of chemical fertilizer with a nitrogen content of 5% supplied by a manufacturer for distribution in the State of Tennessee during the 1940–1941 season represented 25% of the total amount of chemical fertilizer containing chemical nitrogen supplied by him in Tennessee during that season, then such fertilizer manufacturer shall manufacture or mix and make available for distribution in Tennessee during the 1942–1943 season such amounts of grades 4–8–8, 4–10–4 and 4–12–4 as shall equal 25% of the amount of all chemical fertilizer containing chemical nitrogen produced by him for distribution in Tennessee during the 1942–1943 season.

(f) Additional restrictions. On and after December 4, 1942:

(1) No fertilizer manufacturer, dealer or agent shall deliver any mixed chemical fertilizer containing chemical nitrogen for field use, as distinguished from plant bed use, on flue-cured tobacco (designated by the U. S. Department of Agriculture as types 11, 12, 13 and 14) unless 55% of the nitrogen content of such fertilizer is in water-insoluble form, and no person, including fertilizer manufacturers, dealers and agents, shall use any mixed chemical fertilizer containing chemical nitrogen for such purpose unless 55% of the nitrogen content of such fertilizer is in water-insoluble form.

(2) No fertilizer manufacturer, dealer or agent shall deliver any chemical fertilizer containing chemical nitrogen for use on melon or cucumber crops, and no person, including fertilizer manufacturers, dealers and agents, shall use any chemical fertilizer containing chemical nitrogen for such purpose.

(3) No fertilizer manufacturer, dealer or agent shall deliver any mixed chemical fertilizer containing chemical nitrogen for use prior to July 1, 1943, on small grains to be harvested for grains, and no person, including fertilizer manufacturers, dealers and agents, shall use any mixed chemical fertilizer containing chemical nitrogen for such purpose.

(4) No fertilizer manufacturer, dealer or agent shall deliver any chemical fertilizer containing chemical nitrogen for use on victory gardens other than the grade of 3–8–7, the nitrogen content of which grade shall consist of 2½ units of organic nitrogen and ½ unit of chemical nitrogen. Such 3–8–7 grade shall be labeled "Victory Garden Fertilizer—For Food Production Only", and no person, including fertilizer manufacturers, dealers and agents, shall use any chemical fertilizer containing chemical nitrogen other than a grade so labeled, for such purpose. Notwithstanding any provision in this order to the contrary, victory garden fertilizer may be packaged in packages of 5, 10, 25, 50 and 100 pounds net weight and may be used on victory gardens regardless of the crops raised thereon. The term "victory garden" for the purposes of this paragraph (f) (4) means any garden planted primarily for the non-commercial production of vegetables and small fruits.

NOTE: Paragraphs (g), (h), (i), (j) and (k) were formerly designated (d), (e), (f), (g) and (h).

(g) Restriction on the use of organic nitrogen. On and after December 4, 1942, no person shall deliver any mixed fertilizer, the nitrogen content of which consists entirely of organic nitrogen, unless the nitrogen content thereof is at least three percent (3%) and the total nitrogen, available phosphoric acid and water-soluble potash content thereof, is at least fourteen percent (14%): Provided, however, That the restriction provided for in this paragraph (g) shall not apply to deliveries by any person of any mixed fertilizer on hand on September 12, 1942.

(h) Exemption from intra-company delivery restriction of Priorities Regulation No. 1. The restrictions on intra-company deliveries provided for in Priorities Regulation No. 1 (§ 944.12) shall not apply to intra-company deliveries of any material entering into and forming a part of any chemical fertilizer.

(i) State regulations. Nothing contained in this order shall be construed as permitting the delivery or use of any grade of chemical fertilizer in any state where the use or delivery of such grade in such state is specifically prohibited by such state.

(j) Notification of customers. Manufacturers, dealers and agents shall, as soon as practicable, notify each of their regular customers of the requirements of this order, but failure to give such notice shall not excuse any such person from complying with the terms hereof.

(k) Miscellaneous provisions—(1) Applicability of priorities regulations. This order and all transactions affected hereby are subject to all applicable provisions of War Production Board priorities regulations, as amended from time to time.

(2) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(3) Communications to War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder, and all communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Chemicals Division, Washington, D. C. Ref.: M–231.

(4) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(b) Limitation of sales. The Director General for Operations may from time to time issue schedules prescribing the preference ratings pursuant to which sales or deliveries of portable tools, chucking equipment, mechanics' hand service tools, files, hack and band saws, vises and machine tool accessories may be made. No person shall sell or deliver, nor shall any person buy or accept delivery of, any portable tools, chucking equipment, mechanics' hand service tools, files, hack and band saws, vises, machine tool accessories with respect to which any such schedule prescribes such preference rating or ratings otherwise than pursuant to such preference rating or ratings, or pursuant to specific permission of the Director General for Operations.

Chapter XI—Office of Price Administration

Part 1303—Zinc

[MPR 124,[1] Amendment 1]

ROLLED ZINC PRODUCTS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Section 1303.260, paragraph (b), is amended to read as set forth below, and a new § 1303.259a, is added as follows:

§ 1303.260 Appendix A: Maximum prices for rolled zinc products. * * *

(b) (1) The prices established above for sheet zinc, ribbon and strip zinc, zinc plates, zinc engravers' plates and zinc lithographers' plates, are the maximum base prices for those products. Extra charges for special gauge, special length, special width, special shapes, particular types of packing, and other items for which extras are customarily charged, and extra charges in connection with rolled zinc products in special grades or finishes or produced from alloys containing 95% or more zinc, shall not exceed those in effect by the respective producer on October 1, 1941. Extra charges for quantities of less than five hundred pounds shall not exceed those in effect by the producer on October 1, 1941; except, that for boiler and hull plates, the maximum prices established by this Regulation for sales and deliveries of five hundred pounds or less shall apply.

Within thirty days of the effective date of this Amendment No. 1 to Maximum Price Regulation No. 124, every producer of rolled zinc products shall file a statement with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., showing:

(i) The types of rolled zinc products he produced during the period October 1, 1940, to November 1, 1942;

(ii) The extra charges which he had in effect on October 1, 1941, for each type of rolled zinc product produced; and

(iii) Cash and trade discounts in effect for each class of purchaser on October 1, 1941.

(2) In the case of any rolled zinc product first offered for sale and delivery by a producer after October 1, 1941, extra charges in connection with such sales and deliveries shall be submitted for the approval of the Office of Price Administration. Pending such approval by the Price Administrator, any producer may sell and deliver, or offer to sell and deliver, and any person may buy, offer to buy, or receive any such product at the maximum price established by Maximum Price Regulation No. 124, plus the extra charges submitted for the approval of this Office. If, however, the Price Administrator disapproves the extra charges submitted, the selling price shall be revised downward to the maximum price which the Price Administrator may approve, and any payment made in excess of the price so approved shall be refunded to the buyer. Sixty days after such extra charges are submitted, in the absence of a notification to the contrary from the Office of Price Administration, the extra charges shall stand approval and shall be the maximum charges applicable.

(3) Cash and trade discounts in effect for each class of purchaser on October 1, 1941, shall not be lowered and shall be calculated as deductions from the maximum prices established by this Regulation.

(c) The minimum quantity making up a carload lot shall be the lowest minimum weight, as set forth in the established tariffs of railroad carriers, upon which a railroad carload lot rate from the point of shipment to the point of destination is based.

§ 1303.259a Effective dates of amendments. (a) Amendment No. 1 (§§ 1303.260 and 1303.259a) to Maximum Price Regulation No. 124 shall become effective December 9, 1942.

Part 1315—Rubber and Products and Materials of Which Rubber Is a Component

[MPR 149,[1] Amendment 4]

MECHANICAL RUBBER GOODS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Section 1315.21 is redesignated § 1315.21a and in that section a sentence is inserted after the title, paragraph (a) is revoked and paragraphs (b), (c), (d), (e), (f) and (g) are redesignated paragraphs (a), (b), (c), (d), (e) and (f); § 1315.21a is redesignated § 1315.21b; and two new §§ 1315.21 and 1315.37 are added, as set forth below:

§ 1315.21 Maximum prices for mechanical rubber goods. (a) On and after May 27, 1942, regardless of any contract, agreement, lease or other obligation, no manufacturer shall sell or deliver mechanical rubber goods and no person shall buy or receive mechanical rubber goods from a manufacturer in the course of trade or business at prices higher than the maximum price set forth in § 1315.21a, except as provided in Appendix D, incorporated herein as § 1315.37; and no person shall agree, offer, solicit or attempt to do any of the foregoing. The provisions of this paragraph shall not be applicable to sales or deliveries of mechanical rubber goods to a purchaser if prior to May 27, 1942, such mechanical rubber goods had been received by a carrier, other than a carrier owned or controlled by the manufacturer, for shipment to such purchaser.

(b) On and after December 8, 1942, regardless of any contract, agreement, lease or other obligation, no person shall sell or deliver mechanical rubber goods of the types and kinds listed in Appendix D (§ 1315.37) at prices higher than the prices set forth therein; and no person shall agree, offer, solicit or attempt to do any of the foregoing.

§ 1315.21a Maximum manufacturers' prices for mechanical rubber goods. This section establishes maximum manufacturers' prices for all mechanical rubber goods, except those for which provision is made in Appendix D (§ 1315.37).

§ 1315.37 Appendix D: Maximum prices for certain mechanical rubber goods made in whole or in part of synthetic rubber—(a) Hose made in whole or in part of neoprene. The maximum price of hose made in whole or in part of neoprene shall be determined as follows:

(1) Maximum manufacturers' prices—(i) For types, constructions and sizes listed in Table I-D. The manufacturer shall first find the price listed in Table I-D under the heading "List price" for the type, construction and size of hose he is pricing. From this figure he shall deduct all discounts, allowances and other price differentials which he had in effect for a purchaser of the same class on October 1, 1941. He will then find his maximum price by adding to the resultant figure the sum listed under "Differential" in Table I-D for the type, construction and size of hose he is pricing.

[1] With the exception of oil suction and discharge hose (smooth bore), these list prices are based on list prices in effect on October 1, 1941, for hose with a natural rubber tube and cover. The list prices for oil suction and discharge hose (smooth bore) are based on the list prices in effect on October 1, 1941, for hose with a synthetic tube and natural rubber cover.

If all the list prices a manufacturer had in effect on October 1, 1941, for corresponding types of hose differ from the list prices contained in Table I-D, such manufacturer, in determining his maximum price for neoprene hose, shall substitute his list prices in effect on October 1, 1941, for the list prices contained in the table.

[2] If the manufacturer's list prices on October 1, 1941, were different from those contained in Table I-D for creamery hose, he shall use his own list prices in effect on October 1, 1941, and the differential shown in Table I-D.

[3] The differential for creamery hose is for a neoprene cover only.

(ii) For constructions and sizes not listed in Table I-D. If the construction and size of hose being priced is not listed in Table I-D and the type of hose being priced is listed in Table I-D, the manufacturer shall determine the maximum price for that construction and size of hose as follows:

(a) The manufacturer shall first select that hose listed in Table I-D which is of the most comparable construction to the hose being priced, and he shall then select hose of that construction which is of the nearest size to the hose being priced.

(b) The manufacturer shall then divide the list price he had in effect on October 1, 1941, for natural rubber hose of the same type, construction and size as the hose being priced by the list price stated in Table I-D for the most comparable hose (selected in the manner set forth in the preceding inferior subdivision (a)). The resultant figure should then be multiplied by the differential stated in Table I-D for such most comparable hose in order to obtain the differential for the hose being priced.

(c) The manufacturer shall then determine his maximum price by adding the differential for the hose being priced to the net price he had in effect on October 1, 1941, for hose of the same type, construction and size as the hose being priced. This net price shall be determined by deducting from the list price the manufacturer had in effect on October 1, 1941, all discounts and allowances and other price differentials he had in effect for a purchaser of the same class on that date.

(2) Notification by the manufacturer. Every manufacturer of hose made in whole or in part of neoprene shall notify each person to whom he sells that commodity of (i) the provisions of this section by sending him a copy of this paragraph (a); (ii) the particular natural rubber hose to the maximum price of which a differential shall be added to determine the seller's maximum price of the hose containing neoprene; and (iii) the differential which subparagraph (3) of this paragraph (a) permits the seller to add to the maximum price of that natural rubber hose to determine the maximum price of hose containing neoprene.

(3) Maximum prices for sales by persons other than manufacturers. If the type, construction and size of hose being priced is listed in Table I-D, the seller shall determine his maximum price by adding the differential stated in Table I-D for the neoprene construction to the seller's maximum price for natural rubber hose of the same type, construction and size. If the construction and size of hose being priced is not listed in Table I-D and the type of hose being priced is listed in Table I-D, the seller shall determine his maximum price by adding to his maximum price for natural rubber hose of the same type, construction and size the same differential that the manufacturer is permitted to add. The manufacturer will furnish the seller with information as to both the natural rubber hose whose maximum price must be used in this determination and the differential the seller may add to that maximum price, in accordance with subparagraph (2) of paragraph (a).

§ 1315.33a Effective dates of amendments. * * *

(d) Amendment No. 4 (§§ 1315.21; 1315.21a; 1315.37) to Maximum Price Regulation No. 149 shall become effective December 8, 1942.

MAXIMUM PRICES FOR SPECIFIC FOOD PRODUCTS

Preamble. In the judgment of the Price Administrator it is necessary and proper in order to effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9250 issued by the President on October 3, 1942 to maintain as the maximum prices for certain essential food products heretofore covered under Temporary Maximum Price Regulation No. 22 the prices prevailing with respect thereto during the period September 28, 1942 to October 2, 1942, inclusive. The maximum prices established by this regulation are, in the judgment of the Price Administrator, generally fair and equitable and will aid in stabilizing the cost of living. The maximum prices established herein are not below prices which will reflect to the producers of the covered agricultural commodities prices for their products equal to the highest of the prices required by the provisions of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9250. A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this regulation has been issued and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

§ 1351.801 Purpose of this regulation. It is the purpose of this regulation to establish maximum prices for sales of the following specific food products:

(a) Milk products. Fluid milk and fluid cream sold at wholesale in containers other than bottles and paper containers, butter, cheese, condensed and evaporated milk, powdered milk, casein, malted milk powder and any other food commodity which is processed or manufactured from cow's milk and composed of milk ingredients constituting more than fifty percent by weight or volume, excluding ice cream (which is covered under the General Maximum Price Regulation[1]).

(b) Eggs. All shell, dried, frozen and tanner eggs.

(c) Poultry. All chickens, fowl, roosters, capons, ducks, geese, pigeons, squabs, and game birds including live, dressed, drawn, split, disjointed, and all other forms of the foregoing when sold for human consumption.

(d) Canned citrus fruits and juices and other citrus products. All canned fruits and juices made from citrus fruits (such as oranges, grapefruit, lemons and limes) and combinations or blends thereof; citrus concentrates; and all other citrus products.

(e) Fresh citrus fruits. All fresh citrus fruits sold at retail as provided in § 1351.806 herein including but not limited to oranges, grapefruit, lemons and limes.

(f) Flour. All flour produced from wheat, including bleached, bromated, enriched, phosphated and self-rising flours.

(g) Cake mixes and flour mixes, in bulk and "packaged" in quantities greater than three pounds. All combinations of flour with any other ingredients.

(h) Dried peas and lentils. All threshed and dried field or garden peas and lentils used for human consumption.

(i) Corn meal, hominy and hominy grits, in bulk and "packaged" in quantities greater than three pounds. All corn "ground" for human consumption with or without the removal of all or part of the bran or germ.

The food products listed above are referred to in this regulation as "listed food products."

§ 1351.802 Prohibition against buying and selling above maximum prices. (a) On and after December 3, 1942, regardless of any contract, agreement or other obligation, no person shall sell or deliver a listed food product, and no person in the course of trade or business shall buy or receive a listed food product at a price higher than the maximum price permitted by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 280; and no person shall agree, offer, solicit or attempt to do any of the foregoing.

(b) However, prices lower than maximum prices may be charged, demanded, paid or offered.

§ 1351.803 Maximum prices. (a) The seller's maximum price for any listed food product shall be the highest price charged by the seller during the period September 28, 1942, to October 2, 1942, inclusive, for the same listed food product; or if no charge was made for the same listed food product, for the similar listed food product most nearly like it. If the seller did not sell the same or similar listed food product during the period September 28, 1942, to October 2, 1942, inclusive, his maximum price for such listed food product shall be the highest price charged during that period by his most closely competitive seller of the same class for the same listed food product; or, if no charge was made for the same listed food product, for the similar food product most nearly like it.

(b) If the seller cannot determine his maximum price for a listed food product under the foregoing, because neither he nor his most closely competitive seller of the same class delivered or offered for delivery such listed food product to a purchaser of the same class during the base period of September 28, 1942, to October 2, 1942, inclusive, he may determine his maximum price by the following procedure applied in the following order:

(1) By taking the maximum price of the same or similar listed food product most nearly like it which he charged a different class of purchaser during such base period and adjusting the price to reflect the customary differential between the two classes of purchasers.

(2) By taking the maximum price of the same or similar listed food product most nearly like it charged by his most closely competitive seller of the same class to a different class of purchaser during such base period, and adjusting that maximum price to reflect the customary differential between the price charged that different class of purchaser by such competitor, and the price for that class of purchaser for whom a maximum price is sought by the seller.

(c) If the seller cannot determine his maximum price for a listed food product under the foregoing, because neither he nor his most closely competitive seller of the same class delivered or offered for delivery the same or a similar listed food product during such base period, he may determine his maximum price by the following procedure applied in the following order:

(1) By taking the maximum price for the most nearly similar listed food product that he has delivered or offered for delivery during such base period, and adjusting the price to reflect the customary differential between the two commodities.

(2) By taking the maximum price for the most nearly similar listed food product delivered or offered for delivery by his most closely competitive seller of the same class, during such base period, and adjusting that maximum price to reflect the customary differential between the price charged by such competitive seller for such nearly similar listed food product, and the price for that listed food product for which a maximum price is sought by the seller.

§ 1351.804 Relationship between minimum prices established by Federal marketing agreements, orders or licenses and maximum prices established herein. If the maximum price established for any seller by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 280 is below the minimum price established for him by any marketing agreement, order or license heretofore or hereafter to be issued by the Secretary of Agriculture, pursuant to the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended, such minimum price shall become the seller's maximum price.

§ 1351.806 Maximum prices for fresh citrus fruits at retail. (a) The seller's maximum price at retail for fresh citrus fruits shall be established as provided in this section. Any provision of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 280 which is contrary to or inconsistent with the provisions of this section, shall not apply to sales of fresh citrus fruits at retail, but each and every provision or definition of this Maximum Price Regulation No.

§ 1351.816 Definitions. (a) When used in this Maximum Price Regulation No. 280, the term:

(1) "Person" means individual, corporation, partnership, association or other organized group of persons, or legal successor or representative of any of the foregoing, and includes the United States or any agency thereof, any other government, or any of its political subdivisions, and any agencies of any of the foregoing;

(2) "Highest price charged during the base period" means the highest price which the seller (except a seller of wheat flour or a seller of corn meal, hominy or hominy grits) charged for a listed food product delivered by him during the period from September 28, 1942, to October 2, 1942, inclusive, to a purchaser of the same class, or, if the seller made no such delivery during such period, his highest offering price for delivery during that period to a purchaser of the same class. In the case of a seller of wheat flour or a seller of corn meal, hominy or hominy grits in bulk and packaged in quantities greater than three pounds, "highest price charged during the base period" means the highest price at which the seller during the period from September 28, 1942, to October 2, 1942, inclusive, contracted to sell for immediate or future delivery to a purchaser of the same class, or if the seller made no such contract during such period, his highest offering price during that period to a purchaser of the same class. No seller shall change his customary allowances, discounts or other price differentials unless such change results in a lower price. No seller shall require any purchaser, and no purchaser shall be permitted, to pay a larger proportion of transportation costs incurred in the delivery or supply of any listed food product than the seller required purchasers of the same class to pay during such period on deliveries of a listed food product.

(3) "Purchaser of the same class" refers to the practice followed by the seller in the ninety-day period preceding October 2, 1942, in setting different prices for sales to different purchasers or kinds of purchasers (for example, but not limited to, manufacturer, wholesaler, jobber, retailer, government agency, public institutions, individual consumer or any ordinarily recognized subgroup or combination of the foregoing) or for purchasers located in different areas or for different quantities or under different conditions of sale.

(b) Unless the context otherwise requires, the definitions set forth in section 302 of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and in the General Maximum Price Regulation, issued by the Office of Price Administration, shall apply to other terms used herein.

§ 1351.817 Relation to other maximum price regulations. (a) The provisions of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 280 shall not apply to any sale or delivery of a listed food product for which a maximum price is in effect on December 3, 1942, under the provisions of any other price regulation, including the General Maximum Price Regulation, issued by the Office of Price Administration.

(b) The following sections of the General Maximum Price Regulation, as well as the Amendments to them, shall be applicable to every person selling a listed food product:

(2) Transfers of business or stock in trade (§ 1499.5).

(4) Sales slips and receipts (§ 1499.14).

(5) Registration (§ 1499.15).

(6) Licensing (§ 1499.16).

(b) A named transferee having an invalid voucher shall return it to the depositor from whom it was received, retaining a record of the amount and the account and serial numbers of the voucher. No bank shall accept for deposit an invalid voucher. A named transferee who has lost a voucher shall immediately notify the depositor from whom it was received in writing of the loss.

(c) A depositor receiving a returned invalid voucher or advised pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section of the loss of a voucher shall replace such voucher within five (5) days if the named transferee is a listed board or a depositor who has already delivered gasoline against such voucher. If he fails to do so, the named transferee shall immediately notify the Albany Ration Banking Office.

(d) A depositor who is notified of the loss of a voucher shall immediately file with the bank from which he obtained the voucher form a Missing Voucher Statement (Form OPA RB-12). A drawee bank which receives for debit a voucher as to which it has on file a missing voucher statement shall immediately notify the Albany Ration Banking Office.

(e) A depositor shall insert the account number, mark "cancelled", and return all invalid vouchers and all vouchers made out but not issued to the bank carrying the account with respect to which the voucher forms were obtained.

(f) If a drawee bank receives for debit to the account of a depositor a voucher bearing a serial number not immediately succeeding the highest serial number of any voucher drawn on such account and theretofore received by the bank, and if the voucher or vouchers bearing the intervening serial numbers, or missing voucher statements for each intervening voucher, are not received by the drawee bank within fifteen (15) days thereafter, the drawee bank shall notify the depositor of such fact. If the depositor fails properly to account for such vouchers within five (5) days after such notification, the bank shall notify the Albany Ration Banking Office.

(g) A drawee bank receiving for debit a voucher which appears to be invalid for any reason other than that it is an overdraft or is drawn on a non-existent account shall immediately notify the depositor on whose account the voucher is drawn. The depositor shall notify the bank in writing within two (2) days whether or not the voucher is valid. If he verifies the voucher, it shall be debited to his account. If he fails to verify it, the bank shall immediately send the voucher and a report of the circumstances to the Albany Ration Banking Office.

§ 1394.8336 Vouchers issued by licensed distributors to the Office of Price Administration. Each licensed distributor who is a depositor shall attach to his monthly State motor fuel tax report to the New York State motor fuel tax administration a voucher drawn on his account, payable to the Office of Price Administration, and confirmed by his bank, in an amount equal to the gallonage value of evidences which he has deposits pursuant to § 1394.8331 and which he would otherwise be required by § 1394.8218 to attach to such report in the form of an exchange certificate. Such confirmation by the bank shall constitute a certification that the balance in depositor's account is sufficient to meet the voucher. The bank shall debit the depositor's account in the amount of the voucher immediately upon making the confirmation.

PART 1304—IRON AND STEEL SCRAP

[RPS 4,[1] Amendment 9]

IRON AND STEEL SCRAP

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Subdivision (i) of § 1304.13 (c) (3), subparagraphs (1), (3) and (4) of § 1304.13 (d), paragraph (a) of § 1304.14, the last undesignated paragraph of § 1304.14 (b) (2); subparagraph (3) of § 1304.15 (b) are amended, and a new Exception 8 is added to § 1304.13 (d) (4); all to read as set forth below:

§ 1304.13 Appendix A: Maximum prices for iron and steel scrap other than railroad scrap. * * *

(c) Maximum shipping point prices. * * *

(3) Established charges. (i) The transportation charges or switching charges used in computing maximum shipping point prices need not reflect any rise in rates which became effective after March 14, 1942; nor need such charges reflect the amount of any tax imposed upon such charges.

* * * * *

[1] 7 F. R. 1207, 2132, 2155, 2507, 3087, 3550, 3889, 4488, 6217, 8190, 8948.

(d) Maximum prices delivered to the plant of a consumer. * * *

(1) Where transportation from shipping point to point of delivery is wholly or partially by rail, by vessel, or combination of rail and vessel, the maximum delivered price shall be the shipping point price as determined in paragraph (c) of this section, plus the established charge for transporting the scrap from the shipping point to the point of delivery by the mode of transportation employed.

Where transportation from shipping point to point of delivery includes a rail-truck movement to a consumer lacking adequate facilities for receiving the scrap by rail, and the truck portion of such rail-truck movement occurs in a motor vehicle other than a public carrier, no established charges or costs incurred in unloading the scrap from the railroad car and hauling the scrap to point of delivery may be included in the delivered price. In lieu thereof, $1.00 per gross ton may be included in the delivered price. If the consumer has adequate facilities for receiving the scrap by rail, no charge may be made for the truck portion of such rail-truck movement.

Where transportation from shipping point to point of delivery includes water movement, if no established rate exists for such water movement, then the actual charge or cost incurred in such movement may be used in computing the maximum delivered price.

If transportation from shipping point to point of delivery includes water movement other than by deck scow or railroad lighter, and tariffs establishing charges at the dock are published, charges incurred at the dock, but not to exceed the published tariffs may be included in the delivered price. If no such tariffs are published, or if the scrap is shipped over a dock owned or controlled by the shipper, the actual charges incurred at the dock but not to exceed 75¢ per gross ton may be included in the delivered price: Provided, however, That this maximum allowance shall be 50¢ per gross ton at Memphis, Tennessee, $1.00 per gross ton at Great Lakes ports, and $1.25 per gross ton at New England ports. In the case of water movement by deck scow or railroad lighter, no established charges at the dock or any charge or cost customarily incurred at the dock may be included in the delivered price. In lieu thereof, 50¢ per gross ton may be included in the delivered price.

(3) In computing maximum delivered prices under this paragraph, any tax imposed upon the transportation charges from shipping point to point of delivery, and any increase in the transportation charges from shipping point to point of delivery resulting from a rise in rates which became effective after March 14, 1942 may be included only if such tax and such increase are shown as separate items on the invoice.

(4) In no case, however, shall the delivered price exceed the price listed in paragraph (a) for the basing point nearest, in terms of established transportation charges, to the consumer's plant, by more than $1.00 plus the amount of any tax imposed on the transportation charges from shipping point to point of delivery, plus any increase in the transportation charges from shipping point to point of delivery resulting from a rise in rates which became effective after March 14, 1942, with the following exceptions:

Exception 8. If the maximum shipping point price at any shipping point is computed by using a vessel rate, and due to seasonal factors the water movement to which the vessel rate applied is unavailable, a consumer who could ordinarily receive scrap by water movement from such shipping point to the point of delivery at a delivered price not in excess of $1.00 etc. above the price at the basing point nearest the consumer's plant, may, so long as the water movement is unavailable, absorb the all-rail transportation charges incurred in the movement from such shipping point to the point of delivery.

* * * * *

§ 1304.14 Appendix B: Maximum prices for iron and steel scrap originating from railroads—(a) Scrap originating from railroads operating in a basing point named below. (All prices given below are per gross ton.) The scrap is at its point of delivery to the consumer when it has arrived for unloading at the plant of the consumer. Where used in this Appendix, the term "transportation charges" means the established charges for transporting the scrap to the point of delivery by the mode of transportation employed. TITLE 42—PUBLIC HEALTH

Chapter I—Public Health Service, Federal Security Agency

PART 12—INTERSTATE QUARANTINE WATER SUPPLIES

STANDARDS FOR COMMON CARRIERS IN INTERSTATE COMMERCE

Pursuant to the provisions of the Act of Congress approved Feb. 15, 1893 (ch. 114, 27 Stat. L. 450; 42 U.S.C. 92), §§ 12.43, 12.44, and 12.45, promulgated June 20, 1925, are hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 12.43 Definition of terms. For the purpose of these Standards the terms designated herein below shall be defined as follows:

(a) "Adequate protection by natural agencies" implies various relative degrees of protection against the effects of pollution in surface waters; dilution, storage, sedimentation, the effects of sunlight and aeration, and the associated physical and biological processes which tend to produce natural purification; and, in the case of ground waters, storage in and percolation through the water bearing material.

(b) "Artificial treatment" includes the various processes commonly used in water treatment, both separately and in combination, such as storage, aeration, sedimentation, coagulation, rapid or slow sand filtration, chlorination, and other accepted forms of disinfection. Rapid sand filtration treatment is commonly understood to include those auxiliary measures, notably coagulation and sedimentation, which are essential to its proper operation.

(c) "Adequate protection by artificial treatment" implies that the method and degree of elaboration of treatment are appropriate to the source of supply; that the works are of adequate capacity to support maximum demands, are well located, designed, and constructed, are carefully and skillfully operated and supervised by properly trained and qualified personnel, and are adequately protected against floods and other sources of pollution. The evidence that the protection thus afforded is adequate must be furnished by frequent bacteriological examinations and other appropriate analyses showing that the purified water is of good and reasonably uniform quality, a recognized principle being that irregularity in quality is an indication of potential danger. A minimum specification of good quality would be conformance to the bacteriological and chemical requirements of these Standards, as indicated in § 12.45.

(d) "Sanitary defect" means any faulty structural condition, whether of location, design or construction of water collection, treatment or distribution works, which may regularly or occasionally cause the water supply to be contaminated from an extraneous source, including dual supplies, by-passes, cross-connections, or inter-connections (back-flow connections) or fail to be satisfactorily purified.

(e) "Health hazard" means any faulty operating condition including any device or water treatment practice, which when introduced into the water supply system, creates or may create a danger to the well being of the consumer.

(f) "Water supply system" includes the works and auxiliaries for collection, treatment and distribution of the water from the source of supply to the free-flowing outlet of the ultimate consumer.

(g) The coliform group of bacteria is defined, for the purpose of this standard, as including all organisms considered in the coli aerogenes group as set forth in the Standard Methods for the Examination of Water and Sewage, Eighth Edition, (1936), prepared, approved and published jointly by the American Public Health Association and the American Water Works Association, New York City. The procedures[1] for the demonstration of bacteria of this group shall be those specified herein, for:

(1) The completed test, or

(2) The confirmed test when the liquid confirmatory medium brilliant green bile lactose broth, 2 percent is used, providing the formation of gas in any amount in this medium during 48 hours of incubation at 37° C. is considered to constitute a positive confirmed test, or

(3) The confirmed test when one of the following liquid confirmatory media are used: Crystal violet lactose broth, fuchsin lactose broth, or formate ricinoleate broth. For the purpose of this test, all are equivalent, but it is recommended that the laboratory worker base his selection of any one of these confirmatory media upon correlation of the confirmed results thus obtained with a series of completed tests, and that he select for use the liquid confirmatory medium yielding results most nearly agreeing with the results of the completed test. The incubation period for the selected liquid confirmatory medium shall be 48 hours at 37° C. and the formation of gas in any amount during this time shall be considered to constitute a positive confirmed test.

(h) The standard portion of water for the application of the bacteriological test may by either

(1) Ten milliliters (10 ml.) or

(2) One hundred milliliters (100 ml.)

(i) The standard sample for the bacteriological test shall consist of five (5) standard portions of either

(1) Ten milliliters (10 ml.) or

(2) One hundred milliliters (100 ml.) each.

In any disinfected supply the sample must be freed of any disinfecting agent within twenty (20) minutes of the time of its collection.[1]

(j) The certifying authority is the Surgeon General of the U. S. Public Health Service or his duly authorized and designated representatives and the Reporting Agency shall be understood to mean the respective State departments of health or their designated representatives. (Sec. 1, Drinking Water Standards).

NOTE: The report of the advisory committee on revision of official water standards containing Part I—Standards, and Part II, Manual of Recommended Water Sanitation Practice published by the U. S. Public Health Service in Public Health Reports, Vol. 58, No. 3, Jan. 15, 1943.

§ 12.44 As to source and protection. (a) The water supply shall be:

(1) Obtained from a source free from pollution; or

(2) Obtained from a source adequately purified by natural agencies; or

(3) Adequately protected by artificial treatment.

(b) The water supply system in all its parts shall be free from sanitary defects and health hazards and shall be maintained at all times in a proper sanitary condition. (Sec. 2, Drinking Water Standards.)

§ 12.45 As to bacteriological, chemical, and physical characteristics—(a) Sampling. The bacteriological examination of water considered under this section shall be of samples collected at representative points throughout the distribution system.

The frequency of sampling and the location of sampling points on the distribution system should be such as to determine properly the bacteriological quality of the water supply. The frequency of sampling and the distribution of sampling points shall be regulated by the certifying authority after investigation of the source, method of treatment, and protection of the water concerned.

The minimum number of samples to be collected from the distribution system and examined by the reporting agency or its designated representative each month should be in accordance with the number as determined from the graph presented in Fig. 1 (See Public Health Reports for Jan. 15, 1943, Vol. 58, No. 3) of these Standards[2] which is based upon the following population served—minimum number of samples per month—relationships:

Population served:	Minimum No. of samples per month
2,500 and under	1
1,000,000	300
5,000,000	500

The laboratories in which these examinations are made and the methods used in making them, shall be subject to inspection at any time by the designated representative of the certifying authority. Compliance with the specified procedures, or failure to comply therewith, and the results obtained shall be used as a basis for certification, or refusal of certification, by the certifying authority in accordance with the application given below.

(b) Application. Applications (1) and (2) given below shall govern when ten milliliter (10 ml.) portions are used and applications (3) and (4) shall govern when one hundred milliliter (100 ml.) portions are used.[3]

(1) Of all the standard ten milliliter (10 ml.) portions examined per month in accordance with the specified procedure, not more than ten (10) percent shall show the presence of organisms of the coliform group.

(2) Occasionally three (3) or more of the five (5) equal ten milliliter (10 ml.) portions constituting a single standard sample may show the presence of organisms of the coliform group, provided that this shall not be allowable if it occurs in consecutive samples or in more than

(i) Five (5) percent of the standard samples when twenty (20) or more samples have been examined per month.

(ii) One (1) standard sample when less than twenty (20) samples have been examined per month: Provided further, That when three or more of the five equal ten milliliter (10 ml.) portions constituting a single standard sample show the presence of organisms of the coliform group, daily samples from the same sampling point shall be collected promptly and examined until the results obtained from at least two consecutive samples show the water to be of satisfactory quality.[4]

(3) Of all the standard one hundred milliliter (100 ml.) portions examined per month in accordance with the specified procedure, not more than sixty (60) percent shall show the presence of organisms of the coliform group.

(4) Occasionally all of the five (5) equal one hundred milliliter (100 ml.) portions constituting a single standard sample may show the presence of organisms of the coliform group, provided that this shall not be allowable if it occurs in consecutive samples or in more than

(i) Twenty (20) percent of the standard samples when five (5) or more samples have been examined per month.

(ii) One (1) standard sample when less than five (5) samples have been examined per month. Provided further, That when all five of the standard one hundred milliliter (100 ml.) portions constituting a single standard sample show the presence of organisms of the coliform group, daily samples from the same sampling point shall be collected promptly and examined until the results obtained from at least two consecutive samples show the water to be of satisfactory quality.[5]

(5) The procedure given, using a standard sample composed of five standard portions, provides for an estimation of the most probable number of coliform bacteria present in the sample as set forth in the following tabulation:

Number of portions		Most probable number of coliform bacteria per 100 ml.
Negative	Positive	When 5-10 ml. portions are examined
5	0	Less than 2.2
4	1	2.2
3	2	5.1
2	3	9.2
0	5	More than 16.0

Number of portions		Most probable number of coliform bacteria per 100 ml.
Negative	Positive	When 5-100 ml. portions are examined
5	0	Less than 0.22
4	1	0.22
3	2	0.51
2	3	0.92
1	4	1.60
0	5	More than 1.60

(c) Physical characteristics. The turbidity of the water shall not exceed 10 p. p. m. (silica scale), nor shall the color exceed 20 (standard cobalt scale). The water shall have no objectionable taste or odor.

(d) Chemical characteristics. The water shall not contain an excessive amount of soluble mineral substance, nor excessive amounts of any chemicals employed in treatment. Under ordinary circumstances, the analytical evidence that the water satisfies the physical and chemical standards given in paragraph (c) of this section and in subparagraph (1) below, and simple evidence that it is acceptable for taste and odor will be sufficient for certification with respect to physical and chemical characteristics.

(1) The presence of lead (Pb) in excess of 0.1 p. p. m., of Fluoride in excess of 1.0 p. p. m., of Arsenic in excess of 0.05 p. p. m., of Selenium in excess of 0.05 p. p. m., shall constitute ground for rejection of the supply. These limits are given in parts per million by weight and a reference to the method of analysis recommended for each determination is given in paragraph (e), subparagraph (1) of this section. Salts of barium, hexavalent chromium, heavy metal glucosides, or other substances with deleterious physiological effects shall not be allowed in the water supply system.

Ordinarily analysis for these substances need be made only semiannually. If, however, there is some presumption of unfitness because of these elements periodic determination for the element in question should be made more frequently.

(2) The following chemical substances which may be present in natural or treated waters should preferably not occur in excess of the following concentrations where other more suitable supplies are available in the judgment of the certifying authority. Recommended methods of analysis are given in paragraph (e), subparagraph (2) of this section.

Copper (Cu) should not exceed 3.0 p. p. m.

Iron (Fe) and Manganese (Mn) together should not exceed 0.3 p. p. m.

Magnesium (Mg) should not exceed 125 p. p. m.

Zinc (Zn) should not exceed 15 p. p. m.

Chloride (Cl) should not exceed 250 p. p. m.

[1] NOTE: This reference shall apply to all details of technique in the bacteriological examination, including the selection and preparation of apparatus and media, the collection and handling of samples, and the intervals and conditions of storage allowable between collection and examination of the water sample.

[1] In freeing samples of chlorine or chloramines, the procedure given on page 286 in the Standard Methods for the Examination of Water and Sewage, 8th Edition (1936), paragraph A-1—Option 1, or paragraph A-2, shall be followed.

[2] For the purposes of uniformity and simplicity in application, the numbers of samples to be examined each month for any given population served shall be determined from the graph in accordance with the following:

For populations of 25,000 and under to the nearest 1.

For populations of 25,001 to 100,000 to the nearest 5.

For populations of 100,001 to 2,000,000 to the nearest 10.

For populations of over 2,000,000 to the nearest 25.

[3] It is to be understood that in the examination of any water supply the series of samples for any one month must conform to both of the above requirements, either (1) and (2), or (3) and (4), respectively.

[4] When this occurs, and when waters of unknown quality are being examined, simultaneous tests should be made on multiple portions of a geometric series ranging from 10 ml. to 0.1 ml. or less.

[5] When this occurs, and when waters of unknown quality are being examined, simultaneous tests should be made on multiple portions of a geometric series ranging from 100 ml. to 1.0 ml. or less.

Sulphate (SO_4) should not exceed 250 p. p. m.

Phenolic compounds should not exceed 0.001 p. p. m. in terms of phenol.

Total solids should not exceed 500 p. p. m. for a water of good chemical quality. However, if such water is not available, a total solids content of 1,000 p. p. m. may be permitted. For waters softened by the lime soda process the total alkalinity produced should not exceed the hardness by more than 35 p. p. m. (Calculated as $CaCO_3$).

For chemically treated waters the phenolphthalein alkalinity (calculated as $CaCO_3$) should not be greater than 15 p. p. m. plus 0.4 times the total alkalinity. This requirement limits the permissible pH to about 10.6 at 25° C.

For chemically treated waters the normal carbonate alkalinity should not exceed 120 p. p. m. Since the normal alkalinity is a function of the hydrogen ion concentration and the total alkalinity, this requirement may be met by keeping the total alkalinity within the limits suggested when the pH of the water is within the range given. These values apply to water at 25° C.

pH Range:	Limit for total alkalinity (p.p.m. as $CaCO_3$)
8.0 to 9.6	400
9.8	300
9.9	260
10.0	230
10.1	210
10.5 to 10.6	160

DEPARTMENT OF INTERIOR.

Office of the Secretary.

[Order No. 1763.]

INVENTIONS BY EMPLOYEES OF THE DEPARTMENT

1. Purpose. This order is issued under the authority of section 161 of the Revised Statutes (5 U.S.C. sec. 22) in order to (a) secure for the people of the United States the full benefits of Government research and investigation in the Department of the Interior, (b) make definite the rights and obligations of employees with respect to any inventions made by them during employment in the Interior Department, (c) establish a uniform procedure by which these rights and obligations may be equitably determined in each case, and (d) encourage and recognize individual and cooperative achievement in research and investigation.

2. Relative rights of Government and employee. (a) The Government, as the employer and as the representative of the people of the United States, should have the ownership and control of any invention developed in the course of its governmental activities. Each employee of this Department is, therefore, required to assign to the United States, represented for this purpose by the Secretary of the Interior, all rights to any invention made by the employee within the general scope of his governmental duties. An invention will be considered within the general scope of the governmental duties of an employee (1) whenever his duties include research or investigation, or the supervision of research or investigation, and the invention arose in the course of such research or investigation and is relevant to the general field of an inquiry to which the employee was assigned, or (2) whenever the invention was in substantial degree made or developed: through the use of Government facilities or financing, or on Government time, or through the aid of Government information not available to the public.

(b) The employee will be considered entitled to all rights resulting from any invention which was not made by him within the general scope of his governmental duties as defined above, and also, unless the Secretary should determine that private ownership of such rights would be contrary to public policy, to the foreign rights resulting from any invention made within the general scope of his governmental duties.

(c) If the Secretary finds that any invention of an employee of the Department, which was not made within the general scope of his governmental duties, is used or liable to be used in the public interest, the employee may if he chooses obtain under the act of March 3, 1883, as amended (35 U.S.C. sec. 45), a United States patent for such an invention without the payment of any fee, with the reservation that the invention may be manufactured and used by or for the Government for governmental purposes without the payment of any royalty thereon.

(d) The requirement of subdivision (a) as to the assignment of all rights to the United States may be waived by the Secretary of the Interior in the case of any invention as to which the Secretary finds, upon grounds to be specified by him, that the interests of the United States do not require full assignment of the patent rights involved. Whether in such instances the employee may or shall be required to proceed pursuant to the provisions of subdivision (c) will be determined by the Secretary.

3. Report of inventions. (a) Every invention made by an employee of the Department, and considered by him to be patentable, must be reported by such employee to the head of his bureau. The report shall describe the nature and operation of the invention, shall set forth the circumstances relevant to section 2 of this Order under which the invention was made, and shall state the opinion of the employee as to the relative rights of the Government and the employee under section 2 of this Order. If section 2 (c) of this Order may be applicable, the employee shall state whether he wishes to take advantage of the act of 1883, as amended.

(b) The head of the bureau shall examine the nature and circumstances of the invention as set forth in the employee's report and, after securing any supplemental information which he may consider necessary, shall forward the report to the Secretary of the Interior, together with his comments thereon and his conclusion as to the relative rights of the Government and the employee under section 2 of this Order. All such reports will be referred to the Solicitor for an opinion as to the relative rights of the Government and the employee under section 2 of this Order.

(c) Upon decision by the Secretary as to such rights, the Solicitor shall promptly take such steps as may be necessary to assure the submission of appropriate patent applications to the Patent Office, and the execution of any appropriate assignment or license, in any case where the invention falls within section 2 (a) or is to be filed under section 2 (c) of this Order.

4. Policy as to inventions. The Department undertakes to do all within its power under existing restrictions appropriately to reward its employees who through their inventive achievements advance the technological and scientific knowledge of the Nation, and will propose such legislation to the Congress as may be necessary more readily to permit this reward. The Department also will give energetic consideration to the establishment of machinery through which to further the use by industry and the public of the inventions conceived in this Department and assigned to the Government as here provided.

[6] For the chemical determinations referred to in this report ,when given, the methods of analysis recommended by the Association of Official Agricultural Chemists are satisfactory and may be substituted for those recommended by the American Public Health Association, which are specifically cited. (Sec. 3 and 4, Drinking Water Standards.)

5. Application of order. This Order shall be a condition of employment of all employees of the Department of the Interior and shall be effective as to all inventions made during the period of such employment after this date. It shall also be effective without regard to any existing or future contract to the contrary entered into by any employee of this Department with any party other than the Government. It shall also operate as an assignment of all rights to any invention made by any employee of this Department within the general scope of his governmental duties, as defined in section 2 (a) of this Order, which has not been reported to the Department, as required by section 3 (a) of this Order, but which may later be the subject of a patent application by the employee or any assignee.

PUBLIC HEALTH SERVICE DRINKING WATER STANDARDS

STANDARDS FOR COMMON CARRIERS IN INTERSTATE COMMERCE

In accordance with the provisions of the Interstate Quarantine Regulations, the Public Health Service must approve sources of water supplies used on common carriers engaged in interstate traffic.

The Drinking Water Standards adopted by the Treasury Department on June 20, 1925 (superseding the Standard adopted October 21, 1914) have been used to judge the acceptability of such water sources by the Public Health Service.

In order that the 1925 Standards might conform more closely with current requirements for water supplies of attainable safety and potability a special advisory committee and a technical subcommittee were appointed on February 27, 1941, to consider desirable revisions.

The Public Health Service on Septempurity for drinking water recommended by the Advisory Committee on Revision of the 1925 Drinking Water Standards,[1] appointed by the Surgeon General in February 1941.*

These Standards are adopted for use in the administration of the Interstate Quarantine Regulations as they relate to the drinking and culinary water supplied by common carriers in interstate commerce. The manual of recommended water sanitation practice, Part II of the Standards, is intended to serve as a guide to the reporting agency and not as a part of the official Standard, which must be complied with to obtain certification of the water supply.

In the future common carriers will be required to furnish drinking and culinary water for passengers and crews in interstate traffic which will conform to these standards.

Copies of these revised drinking water standards may be obtained from the U. S. Public Health Service, Washington, D. C.

I

Notice is hereby given that a declaration or application (or both) pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 and the Rules promulgated thereunder, has been filed by Republic Service Corporation (hereinafter referred to as Republic), a registered holding company, and its subsidiaries, Abington Electric Company, Brockway Light, Heat & Power Company, Fulton Electric Light, Heat & Power Company, Greencastle Light, Heat, Fuel & Power Company, The Mauch Chunk Heat, Power & Electric Light Company, Mercersburg, Lehmasters & Markes Electric Company, Renovo Edison Light, Heat & Power Company, Holston River Power Company, Madison Power Company, Massanutten Power Corporation, Page Power Company, Renovo Heating Company, Lehigh Ice Company, Susquehanna Ice Company (all hereinafter designated by self- and Republic Service Management Company (all hereinafter designated by self-evident abbreviations). All interested persons are referred to said document, which is on file in the office of this Commission, for a complete statement of the transactions therein proposed, which are summarized as follows:

Republic and its subsidiaries propose to consummate a plan of reorganization filed pursuant to section 11 (e) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 for the purpose of enabling the said companies to comply with the provisions of sections 11 (b) (1) and (2) of the Act. The main elements of the proposed plan are as follows:

1. Page, Madison, Massanutten Power, and Holston, all operating companies situated in Virginia, will be consolidated into a new operating company, designated as New Virginia Operating Company, which will also own the outstanding capital stock of Massanutten Water. New Virginia Operating Company will have a capital structure consisting of $1,400,000 of 25-year, 4% First Mortgage Bonds and 171,062 shares of $6.00 par value common stock.

2. Mercersburg, Greencastle, and Fulton, all operating companies situated in Pennsylvania, will be consolidated into a new operating company, designated as New Cumberland Valley Company, the capital structure of which will consist of $275,000 of 25-year 4% First Mortgage Bonds and 10,000 shares of $10 par value common stock.

3. The $590,000 note of Abington held by Republic will be funded by the issuance of $590,000 of 25-year, 4% First Mortgage Bonds of Abington.

4. A new holding company will be incorporated in Pennsylvania, designated as New Pennsylvania Holding Company, which will own the capital stocks of New Cumberland Valley Company and the remaining Pennsylvania subsidiaries of Republic (namely, Abington, Brockway, Mauch Chunk, Renovo Edison, Renovo Heating, Lehigh Ice, and Susquehanna Ice) and will have a capital structure consisting of 171,062 shares of $6.00 par value common stock. The plan contemplates that New Pennsylvania Holding Company will be subject to exemption from the Act as provided in section 3 (a) (1) of the Act.

5. The new securities referred to in steps 1 through 4 above will be distributed by Republic to its security holders on the following basis:

(a) Holders of Collateral Trust Bonds will receive in exchange for each $1,000 face amount thereof: (1) $500 either in cash or in equal face amount of the above mentioned 25-year, 4% First Mortgage Bonds in the following percentages: New Virginia Operating Company (61.71%), Abington (26.05%), and New Cumberland Valley Company (12.14%); and (2) 30 shares each of common stock of New Virginia Operating Company and New Pennsylvania Holding Company.

(b) Holders of preferred stock will receive in exchange for each share 2 shares each of common stock of New Virginia Operating Company and New Pennsylvania Holding Company.

(c) The plan states that there is no equity for the common stock and no provision is therefore made for its participation.

6. Upon the completion of the prior steps, Republic will be dissolved.

7. Within such time as may be prescribed by the Commission, not exceeding six months after the date fixed for distribution of the common stock of New Virginia Operating Company and New Pennsylvania Holding Company, meetings of the holders of the common stock of the two corporations will be called for the purpose of electing directors. Pending the aforesaid elections, the present directors of the Virginia subsidiaries of Republic shall be the directors of New Virginia Operating Company, and the present directors of Republic shall be the directors of New Pennsylvania Holding Company.

8. The plan states that it is subject to the approval of the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission or State Corporation Commission of Virginia with respect to certain transactions. It is intended that the plan, when duly approved, will be binding upon Republic and its security holders and will prevent and bar the enforcement of any rights against Republic by any of its security holders in any manner except as provided in the plan. It is further intended that Republic, if necessary, will request the Commission to apply to a court pursuant to section 11 (e) to enforce and carry out the terms and provisions of the plan.

II

By orders dated May 8, 1942 and June 17, 1942, this Commission instituted proceedings against Republic Service Corporation and its subsidiaries pursuant to sections 11 (b) (1) and (2) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935. The officer so designated to preside at such hearings is hereby authorized to exercise all powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of said Act and to a trial examiner under the Commission's Rules of Practice.

It is further ordered, That without limiting the scope of the issues presented in the consolidated proceedings, the following matters and questions will be considered in addition to those to be considered in the proceedings under sections 11 (b) (1) and (2):

7. Whether the fees and expenses and other considerations to be paid or received, directly or indirectly, in connection with the proposed plan and transactions incidental thereto are necessary, are reasonable in amount, and are properly allocated between Republic and its subsidiaries.

8. What terms and conditions, if any, may be necessary or appropriate in the public interest or the interest of investors or consumers.

EXECUTIVE ORDER 9280

DELEGATING AUTHORITY WITH RESPECT TO THE NATION'S FOOD PROGRAM

By virtue of the authority vested in me by the Constitution and the statutes of the United States, as President of the United States and Commander in Chief of the Army and Navy, and in order to assure an adequate supply and efficient distribution of food to meet war and essential civilian needs, it is hereby ordered as follows:

1. The Secretary of Agriculture (hereinafter referred to as the "Secretary") is authorized and directed to assume full responsibility for and control over the Nation's food program. In exercising such authority, he shall:

a. Ascertain and determine the direct and indirect military, other governmental, civilian, and foreign requirements for food, both for human and animal consumption and for industrial uses.

b. Formulate and carry out a program designed to furnish a supply of food adequate to meet such requirements, including the allocation of the agricultural productive resources of the Nation for this purpose.

c. Assign food priorities and make allocations of food for human and animal consumption to governmental agencies and for private account, for direct and indirect military, other governmental, civilian, and foreign needs.

d. Take all appropriate steps to insure the efficient and proper distribution of the available supply of food.

e. Purchase and procure food for such Federal agencies, and to such extent, as he shall determine necessary or desirable, and promulgate policies to govern the purchase and procurement of food by all other Federal agencies: Provided, That nothing in this subsection shall limit the authority of the armed forces to purchase or procure food outside the United States or in any theater of war as such purchase and procurement shall be required by military or naval operations, or the authority of any other authorized agency to purchase or procure food outside the United States for rehabilitation or relief purposes abroad. Existing methods for the purchase and procurement of food by other Federal agencies shall continue until otherwise determined by the Secretary pursuant to this Executive Order.

2. The Secretary shall recommend to the Chairman of the War Production Board the amounts and types of non-food materials, supplies, and equipment necessary for carrying out the food program. Following consideration of these recommendations, the Chairman of the War Production Board shall allocate stated amounts of non-food materials, supplies, and equipment to the Secretary for carrying out the food program; and the War Production Board, through its priorities and allocation powers, shall direct the use of such materials, supplies, and equipment for such specific purposes as the Secretary may determine.

3. Whenever the available supply of any food is insufficient to meet both food and industrial needs, the Chairman of the War Production Board and the Secretary shall jointly determine the division to be made of the available supply of such food. In the event of any difference of view between the Chairman of the War Production Board and the Secretary, such difference shall be submitted for final determination to the President or to such agent or agency as the President may designate.

4. The Secretary, after determining the need and the amount of food available for civilian rationing, shall, through the Office of Price Administration, exercise the priorities and allocation powers conferred upon him by this Executive Order for civilian rationing, with respect to (a) the sale, transfer, or other disposition of food by any person who sells at retail to any person, and (b) the sale, transfer, or other disposition of food by any person to an ultimate consumer, as is currently provided for in War Production Board Directive No. 1, dated January 24, 1942,[1] and existing supplements thereto; and with respect to (c) the sale, transfer, or other disposition of food by any person at such other levels of distribution as he may determine; and in the administration or enforcement of any such priorities or allocation authority for civilian rationing, the Office of Price Administration, subject to the provisions of this Executive Order, is hereby authorized to exercise all the functions, duties, powers, authority, or discretion conferred upon the Price Administrator by Section 3 of Executive Order 9125 of April 7, 1942.[2] The Secretary, before determining the time, extent, and other conditions of civilian rationing, shall consult with the Price Administrator.

5. In discharging his responsibility under this Executive Order with respect to the exportation of food, the Secretary shall collaborate with the other agencies concerned with the foreign aspects of the food program in the determination of plans, policies and procedures for the feeding of the peoples in foreign countries and the production and stockpiling of food for use abroad. With respect to the issuance of the directives for the importation of food heretofore issued to the Board of Economic Warfare by the Chairman of the War Production Board under Executive Order No. 9128 of April 13, 1942,[3] the Secretary shall issue those directives which relate to the importation of food for human and animal consumption, and the Chairman of the War Production Board and the Secretary shall jointly issue those directives which relate to the importation of food for industrial uses. The Chairman of the War Production Board shall continue to issue all other directives which relate to the importation of materials, supplies, and equipment required for the war production program and the civilian economy. Schedules of priorities heretofore prepared and issued by the Chairman of the War Production Board under Executive Order 9054 of February 7, 1942[4] for the importation by overseas transportation of food for human or animal consumption and for industrial uses shall be similarly issued, and transmitted to the Administrator of War Shipping Administration for his guidance.

6. In discharging his responsibility under this Executive Order, the Secretary shall, in the event of a shortage of domestic transportation service, and after consultation with the War Production Board for the purpose of adjusting the relative demands for the movement of food for human or animal consumption and the movement of commodities for other purposes, prepare schedules of priorities for the domestic movement of food, which the Office of Defense Transportation shall take into consideration in determining traffic movements.

7. (a) To advise and consult with him in carrying out the provisions of this Executive Order, the Secretary shall appoint a committee composed of representatives of the State, War, and Navy Departments, the Office of Lend-Lease Administration, the Board of Economic Warfare, the War Production Board, and such other agencies as the Secretary may determine to be concerned with the food program. The Food Requirements Committee of the War Production Board established by the Chairman of the War Production Board by memorandum dated June 4, 1942 is abolished effective as of the date of appointment of said advisory committee. The Secretary shall receive from the members of such advisory committee estimates of food requirements, and consult with such committee prior to the making of food allocations under Section 1 (c) of this Executive Order. Such committee shall perform such other functions in connection with the food program as the Secretary may determine. The Secretary may, in his discretion, appoint such other advisory committees composed of representatives of governmental or private groups interested in the food program as he deems appropriate.

Eligibility of a cotton producer for such a loan shall be governed by the provisions of the 1942 Cotton Loan Instructions, except that eligible cotton shall be cotton produced in 1942 by or for a producer: Provided, That the cotton meets the following requirements:

(a) Such cotton must be of a grade and staple specified in § 232.3 of these instructions.

(b) Such cotton must be covered by a 1942 Cotton Chattel Mortgage (1942 C.C.C. Cotton Form F) which will give the payee of the 1942 Cotton Producer's Note (1942 C.C.C. Cotton Form E) secured by such mortgage a first lien on such cotton.

(c) Such cotton must not be compressed to high density.

(d) Such cotton must be free and clear of all liens and encumbrances.

(e) Such cotton must be tendered for a loan by a person who has the legal right to mortgage it as security for a loan.

(f) The beneficial interest in the cotton must be, and must always have been, in the person tendering such cotton for a loan, or in such person and any share tenant or sharecropper having an interest in the cotton or its proceeds in case such person is a landlord, cash tenant, or standing-rent tenant and is placing under loan cotton in which both he and a share tenant or sharecropper have an interest.

(g) Such cotton must not have been received in payment of standing or fixed rent.

(h) All persons having an interest in the cotton must be entitled to loans on the cotton at the full loan rate.

Loans may be obtained either directly from Commodity Credit Corporation or through a lending agency. The procedure to be followed in obtaining loans may be found in the Instructions and Procedure for State and County Committees Pertaining to the 1942 Farm-Stored Cotton Loan Program issued by the Agricultural Adjustment Agency.

Members of county agricultural conservation committees, by approving 1942 cotton producers' notes by signing in the space provided on such notes for the approval of the note by the county agricultural conservation committee, certify on behalf of such committees:

(a) That the producer is a "cooperator" as defined in the 1942 Cotton Loan Instructions and is entitled to a loan at the rates applicable to "cooperators".

(b) That the mortgaged cotton is stored under seal in a storage facility located upon the premises described in section 2 of the chattel mortgage executed by the producer and is in good condition and free from any damage.

(c) That the storage facility in which the mortgaged cotton is stored was inspected, approved, and sealed by a representative of this committee.

(d) That the grades and staple lengths shown in the Schedule of Farm-Stored Cotton in the chattel mortgage are the same as those recorded by the Board of Cotton Examiners of the United States Department of Agriculture for such bales.

(e) That the original chattel mortgage, or a copy thereof, has been properly filed for record, in accordance with the State laws governing execution and recording of chattel mortgages and the requirements of Commodity Credit Corporation.

(f) That the original chattel mortgage or a copy thereof, bearing the fully executed receipt of the county recording official, is held by the committee.

(g) That, in the event the chattel mortgage has been signed by any person in a representative or fiduciary capacity, the committee has determined that such representative or fiduciary has proper authority to so act; and that, if the committee did not have personal knowledge of the authority of the representative or fiduciary, it has required such person to show the committee documentary evidence of his authority.

(h) That the chattel mortgage was prepared under the supervision and with the assistance of the committee, and that the fee charged the producer for all services rendered by the committee in inspecting the storage facility and the mortgaged cotton and in assisting the producer to prepare the chattel mortgage did not exceed the amount authorized to be charged for such services by Commodity Credit Corporation.

(i) That satisfactory evidence of the genuineness of the producer's signature and of the authority of all parties executing the note and chattel mortgage, lien waivers, and consents for storage, has been received, and that any documentary evidence of such authority will be held by the committee.

(j) That, to the best of the committee's knowledge and belief, all data entered on the chattel mortgage and all representations made by the producer are true and correct, and that the mortgaged cotton is "eligible cotton", as defined in this instrument.

(k) That a careful search has been made of lien records and, to the best knowledge and belief of the committee, priority of existing liens on the mortgaged cotton has been duly waived.

(l) That consents for storage, where necessary, have been executed.

Dated: October 7, 1942.

§ 31.305 Making and approval of awards of contracts, supplemental agreements and change orders—(a) Authority of supply services to make awards. The following awards may be made by the supply service concerned without approval of higher authority:

(1) Awards of contracts (other than Architect-Engineer, Management or similar contracts) involving a price of less than $5,000,000 and awards of supplemental agreements and change orders which have the effect of increasing the price of contracts (other than Architect-Engineer, Management or similar contracts) by less than $5,000,000.

(2) Awards of Architect-Engineer, Management or similar contracts when the construction contracts to which they relate involve a price of less than $5,000,000, and awards of supplemental agreements and change orders affecting Architect-Engineer, Management or similar contracts when the changes being concurrently made in the construction contracts to which they relate have the effect of increasing the price of the construction contracts by less than $5,000,000.

(b) Awards requiring the approval of Director, Purchases Division. The award of all contracts, supplemental agreements and change orders other than those specified in subparagraph (1) and (2) of paragraph (a) of this section, must be submitted for approval to the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Services of Supply.

(c) Submission of contract, supplemental agreement or change order in lieu of award. In lieu of submitting an award for approval under paragraph (b) of this section, the contract, supplemental agreement or change order may itself be submitted for approval and manual execution by the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Services of Supply.

§ 81.306 Making and approval of contracts, supplemental agreements and change orders—(a) Authority of supply services to make contracts. A contract may be made by the supply service concerned without approval of higher authority (provided that approval of the Award has been obtained, if such approval is required under § 81.305 (b) and the contract substantially embodies the award as approved), if:

(1) The contract is written on a standard form of contract; or

(2) The contract (i) complies with the requirements of §§ 81.322–81.360, and (ii) does not contain any provision or involve any matter of policy which, in the opinion of the supply service, should be considered and passed upon by authority higher than the supply service.

(b) In determining whether a contract provision or matter of policy should be considered and passed upon by higher authority, consideration shall be given by the supply service to the following factors among others:

(1) Whether there is involved a conflict with a policy theretofore approved by higher authority;

(2) Whether there is involved a decision on an important question of policy which has not theretofore been passed upon by higher authority;

(3) Whether there is involved a decision on any matter in which uniformity among the several supply services appears to be desirable;

(4) Whether there is involved a decision of an important or doubtful question of law.

(c) Authority of supply services to make supplemental agreements and change orders. Except as provided in §§ 81.308–81.308 b, a supplemental agreement or change order modifying a contract (other than an Architect-Engineer, Management or similar contract) may be made or issued by the supply services concerned without approval of higher authority (provided that approval of the award has been obtained if such approval is required under the provisions of § 81.315 (b) and the supplemental agreement, or change order substantially embodies the award as approved), if:

(1) The supply service had authority to make the original contract pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section, or the supply service did not have such authority but obtained approval pursuant to paragraph (d) of this section; and

(2) The provisions and features of the supplemental agreement or change order are themselves such that the supply service would have authority to include them in an original contract pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section.

Changes in Architect-Engineer, Management or similar contracts may also be made by the supply service concerned, Provided, That the requirements of subparagraphs (1) and (2) above are satisfied And provided, That the change being currently made in the construction contract to which the Architect-Engineer, Management or similar contract relates does not necessitate approval.

(d) Contracts, supplemental agreements and change orders requiring approval of Purchases Division. The approval of the Purchases Division, Headquarters, Services of Supply shall be obtained, as herein provided, in connection with all contracts other than those specified in paragraph (a) of this section, and all supplemental agreements and change orders other than those specified in paragraph (c) of this section. Where approval is necessary solely because one or more provisions of the contract, supplemental agreement or change order fail to comply with the requirements of §§ 81.322–81.360 or present a matter or matters of policy which should be considered by authority higher than the supply service, the necessary approval may be obtained, prior to execution of the instrument on behalf of the supply service, on submission of the contract or the material provisions thereof to the Chief, Legal Branch, Purchases Division, whose approval will be signified by indorsement, memorandum, letter or telegram in response to the request for approval; or on submission of the contract, supplemental agreement or change order, after execution on behalf of the supply service, for approval and manual execution by the Director, Purchases Division. In every other instance the contract, supplemental agreement or change order must be submitted, after execution on behalf of the supply service, for approval and manual execution by the Director, Purchases Division.

§ 81.307 Authority of supply service to reallocate awards and contracts. It is recognized that, in order to promote the more efficient utilization of combined manufacturing facilities or to prevent interruption of work, it may become advisable to reallocate an award, contract, or modification thereof. Accordingly, when an award, contract, or modification thereof has been made with required approvals, and the supply service concerned thereafte determines that it is advisable to obtain the materials or services involved wholly or in part from another contractor or from two or more contractors, it is authorized without further approval to reallocate the award, contract or modification thereof in whole or in part to another contractor or to two or more contractors, and for this purpose to make appropriate awards and appropriate contracts: Provided, That the aggregate quantities, aggregate prices, and the terms of the awards and contracts resulting from the reallocation are substantially the same as those contained in the award, contract or modification thereof which was the subject of the reallocation.

§ 81.308 Supplemental agreements and change orders not involving receipt of consideration. Approval and manual execution by the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Services of Supply, will be required for each supplemental agreement or change order which does not involve the receipt by the Government of adequate legal consideration, or which modifies or releases an accrued obligation owing directly or indirectly to the Government including accrued liquidated damages or liability under any surety or other bonds. In any case in which such modification or release is deemed desirable by the chief of the supply service, the instruments involved accompanied by a recommendation for the approval thereof and a full statement of the circumstances and necessity, should be transmitted by the supply service concerned to said Director.

§ 81.308a Correction of mistakes. Effecting amendment of contracts with the least possible delay to correct misunderstandings, mistakes, errors and ambiguities will facilitate the prosecution of the war by expediting the procurement program and by giving contractors proper assurance that mistakes, unavoidable in war program as large and extensive as that now in progress, will be corrected expeditiously and fairly. Accordingly, supplemental agreements to correct misunderstandings, mistakes, errors, and ambiguities in contracts submitted for the approval of the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Services of Supply, in accordance with the provisions of § 81.308 will be accompanied by a full statement of the circumstances in connection therewith including copies of all relevant papers. The evidence submitted shall show that an error or mistake was made or that a misunderstanding or ambiguity exists, in what it consists and how it occurred, and where relevant the true intent of the parties. Approval of the Director, Purchases Division, will not be required in the case of any such supplemental agreement under which the Government receives adequate new legal consideration.

§ 81.308b Contracts or supplemental agreements providing for advance payments. The subject of advance payments is treated in §§ 81.319–81.321 (n). If a contract contains a clause authorizing the making of advance payments, the determination of whether the approval of the Purchases Division must be obtained under § 81.306 (d) should be based upon the provisions of the contract other than the clause providing for advance payments. If the making of advance payments is authorized under a supplemental agreement, the provisions of this section shall be inapplicable, and only §§ 81.319–81.321 (n) shall be considered in determining whether approval of such supplemental agreement by any authority higher than the supply service is necessary.

FORMALITIES IN CONNECTION WITH EXECUTION OF CONTRACTS AND MODIFICATIONS THEREOF

§ 81.309 Numbering contracts—(a) When required. Every contract involving the receipt or expenditure of public moneys will be numbered when:

(1) The actual or estimated amount involved is $5,000 or more, or Should additional series become necessary, they will be distinguished by the capital letters "B", "C", "D", etc., as may be required.

Commanding officers of service commands will assign each number required.

§ 81.310 Fiscal procedures—(a) Allotments of funds not to be exceeded. The authority to make contracts is subject to the proviso that the allotments made for the supplies will not be exceeded, and officers who are charged with making purchases will be held strictly responsible that obligations incurred by them do not exceed the amounts authorized and that such obligations include no other purpose than that indicated in the allotment.

(b) Statements as to availability of funds. See AR 35–840[1] for the statements which will be made on contracts and on purchase orders placed under existing contracts as to the funds chargeable and the sufficiency thereof.

§ 81.311 Execution of contracts.—(a) Contracts with individuals. A contract with an individual will be signed by the individual in his own name.

(b) Contracts with an individual trading as a firm. Such a contract will be signed by the individual, without further reference to the trade name.

(c) Contracts with partnerships. (1) The contract may be signed in the name of the partnership by one or more of the partners. Each partner who signs will sign as one of the firm.

(2) A contract with a partnership doing business through a local representative or agent may be executed in the name of the firm by such local representative or agent, in which case the contracting officer will:

(i) File with the contract a properly certified copy of the power of attorney showing the authority of such representative or agent, or

(ii) Certify on the contract that he has satisfied himself of the signer's authority to bind the firm and has waived the requirements as to furnishing evidence of such authority.

(d) Contracts with corporations. (1) A contract with a corporation will have the name of the corporation written in the blank space provided therefor at the end of the contract form, followed by the word "By", after which the officer or person who has been authorized to contract on behalf of the corporation will sign his name, with the designation of his official capacity.

(2) The contracting officer will, in all cases, satisfy himself that the signer has authority to bind the corporation, and will either require from him satisfactory evidence thereof and file this evidence with the contract, or will procure or make one of the alternate certificates indicated on the contract form.

(3) Evidence filed with a contract will consist of extracts from the records of the corporation showing:

(i) The election of the officers executing the contract and bond on behalf of the corporation.

(ii) The grant of authority to the officers who execute the contract and bond.

The above-mentioned copies will be certified by the custodian of such records, under the corporate seal (if there be one), to be true copies of the records of the corporation.

(e) Contracting officer's signature. The contracting officer will sign on behalf of the United States in the space provided for his signature, and his official title will be added.

(f) Approval articles. If approval and manual execution of a contract, supplemental agreement or change order by any War Department officer or official other than the contracting officer are required pursuant to these procurement regulations or the regulations of the supply service concerned, (1) an appropriate approval article will be included in the instrument, (2) all changes and deletions shall have been made before the instrument is forwarded for such approval, and (3) the instrument shall not be valid until such approval and manual execution have been obtained.

§ 81.312 Statement and Certificate of Award (Standard Form No. 1036). (a) When contracts are negotiated in accordance with the authority referred to in § 81.203, Standard Form No. 1036 need not be executed. (General Regulations of Comptroller General No. 51, Supp. No. 8, June 1, 1942.) However, when Standard Form No. 1036 is not executed, either:

(i) The notation "Negotiated Contract," signed by the officer negotiating the contract, should appear under or in close proximity to the contract symbol and number on the cover sheet of the contract or

(ii) The contract should show in the wording thereof that it was negotiated under the authority referred to in § 81.203 (Decision of Comptroller General dated July 11, 1942 (A–51607), rendered in response to letter of Acting Judge Advocate General of Navy dated June 27, 1942).

(b) If in exceptional cases contracts are awarded pursuant to formal advertising, Standard Form No. 1036, properly executed in accordance with instructions contained on the form, will be attached to the copy of the agreement which is furnished the General Accounting Office.

§ 81.313 Form of supplemental agreements and change orders—(a) Supplemental agreements. Supplemental agreements will be reduced to writing and signed by the contracting parties. Supplemental agreements will bear the same identification as the contract which is thereby modified or amended, and will be lettered or numbered, whichever method is authorized by the chief of the supply service concerned, in the order in which the modifications or amendments to the contract are issued. One continuous series of lettering or numbering as the case may be, will be used for each contract, even though it is modified or amended, both by supplemental agreements and by change orders. Signed numbers and copies of supplemental agreements will be distributed in the same manner as is prescribed for the contracts to which they pertain, and the contracting officer will note on his retained copy of the supplemental agreement the date on which the contractor's number was delivered or mailed to him.

(b) Change orders. Change orders will be in the form of letters addressed to the contractor, and will specify the number of the contract concerned, the changes to be made, the increase or decrease in price and time for performance, and such other terms as may be necessary. Change orders will bear the same identification as the contract which is thereby modified or amended and will be lettered or numbered whichever method is authorized by the chief of the supply service concerned, in the order in which the modifications or amendments to the contract are issued. One continuous series of lettering or numbering as the case may be will be used for each contract, even though it is modified or amended both by supplemental agreements and by change orders. Signed numbers and copies of change orders will be distributed in the same manner as is prescribed for the contracts to which they pertain, and the contracting officer will note on his retained copy of the change order the date on which the contractor's number was delivered or mailed to him.

§ 81.314 Consent of sureties to modifications—(a) Supplemental agreements. Subject to the provisions of paragraph (c) of this section, if payment or performance bonds have been executed in connection with a contract or if an advance payment bond has been given in connection with an advance payment made under a contract, the consent of the surety should be obtained to any supplemental agreement modifying or amending the contract.

(b) Change orders. Likewise, subject to the provisions of paragraph (c) of this section, the consent of such a surety should be obtained to any change order which has the effect of increasing the contract price by more than $25,000. Such consent is not necessary when the change order effects an increase in the contract price of $25,000 or less.

(c) Exception to requirement of consent of surety. The provisions of paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section are subject to the qualification that the consent of a surety under a bond executed prior to the execution of a supplemental agreement, or change order is not necessary if (i) an additional bond is furnished in support of the supplemental agreement or change order and (ii) such surety is also surety on the additional bond.

(d) Examination of consents of sureties. Each consent of surety required by paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section will be forwarded, together with a signed number of the supplemental agreement or change order to which it relates, to the Judge Advocate General for examination as to form, execution and legal sufficiency.

(e) Form of consent of surety. The following form of consent of surety is approved for use subject to such deviations as may be appropriate in any given case:

Consent of surety is hereby given to the foregoing supplemental agreement, and the surety agrees that its bond or bonds shall apply to and cover the due performance of the contract as modified and extended thereby.

The words "supplemental agreement" will be changed to "change order" in appropriate cases.

MISCELLANEOUS

§ 81.318a Assignments—(a) Basic statutes. There are two statutes creating restrictions on assignments of contracts with and claims against the United States. In 1940 both of these statutes were amended by the addition thereto of a paragraph making the restrictions inapplicable in certain situations. (See § 81.320 (b))

Prior to the amendment in 1940, Revised Statutes 3737 provided as follows:

> No contract or order, or any interest therein, shall be transferred by the party to whom such contract or order is given to any other party, and any such transfer shall cause the annulment of the contract or order transferred, so far as the United States are concerned. All rights of action, however, for any breach of such contract by the contracting parties are reserved to the United States. (41 U.S.C. 15)

Prior to said amendment in 1940, Revised Statutes 3477 provided as follows:

> All transfers and assignments made of any claim upon the United States, or of any part or share thereof, or interest therein, whether absolute or conditional, and whatever may be the consideration therefor, and all powers of attorney, orders, or other authorities for receiving payment of any such claim, or of any part or share, thereof, * * *, shall be absolutely null and void, unless they are freely made and executed in the presence of at least two attesting witnesses, after the allowance of such a claim, the ascertainment of the amount due, and the issuing of a warrant for the payment thereof. Such transfers, assignments, and powers of attorney, must recite the warrant for payment, and must be acknowledged by the person making them, before an officer having authority to take acknowledgments of deeds, and shall be certified by the officer; and it must appear by the certificate that the officer, at the time of the acknowledgment, read and fully explained the transfer, assignment, or warrant of attorney to the person acknowledging the same. The provisions of this section shall not apply to payments for rent of post-office quarters made by post-masters to duly authorized agents of the lessors. (31 U.S.C. 203)

(b) Assignment of Claims Act of 1940. In 1940 by the enactment of the Assignment of Claims Act (Public No. 811, 76th Congress) the restrictions created by sections 3477 and 3737 of the Revised Statutes referred to in § 81.320 (a) were, subject to certain conditions therein specified, made inapplicable to any case in which monies due or to become due under a contract providing for payments aggregating $1,000 or more, are assigned to a bank, trust company, or other financing institution including any Federal lending agency.

(c) Assignments by operation of law. It has been held that the provisions of sections 3477 and 3737 of the Revised Statutes, do not apply where a contract or claim is transferred by order of a court in receivership or bankruptcy proceedings, such an assignment, being by operation of law. (See 3 Comp. Gen. 623; 5 id. 492.)

(d) Transfer of entire business. It has been held that where an individual or corporation having a contract with or claim against the Government sells an entire business to another individual or corporation, the transferee will be recognized by the United States as the lawful successor in interest of the contractor or claimant notwithstanding the provisions of sections 3477 and 3737 of the Revised Statutes, referred to above. (9 Comp. Gen. 72, 74)

(e) Corporate mergers. It has likewise been held that the provisions of section 3477 of the Revised Statutes are inapplicable to the transfer of a claim against the United States resulting from the merger of one corporation into another. (Seaboard Airline Railway v. U. S., 256 U. S. 655)

(f) Recognition of assignments prohibited by Revised Statutes. Assignments or transfers of contracts and claims prohibited by sections 3477 and 3737 of the Revised Statutes are merely voidable and may be validated by the Government. Authority to validate such assignments or transfers is vested in the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Services of Supply. (Op. J. A. G., March 9, 1942)

(g) In connection with the assignment of claims, contracting officers will, upon request of the contractor, furnish proposed assignees information regarding the status of the contract at the time of the assignment. In so doing, the contracting officer will advise the assignee that the information is so furnished only for confidential use in connection with the assignment.

§ 81.318b Telegraph charges in cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts—(a) General. Under date of May 5, 1941, (Docket 6257) the Federal Communications Commission affirmed the position of the War Department that cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contractors are entitled to send official telegrams at Government rates. This order has been clarified by the Commission so as to require the telegraph companies to render separate bills covering service since May 1, 1942, for each contract and at Government rates. Government rates on telegrams are fixed annually by order of the Federal Communications Commission. The Commission Order No. 98, dated May 26, 1942, covers the fiscal year July 1, 1942 to June 30, 1943.

(b) Cost-plus-a-fixed-fee subcontracts executed under cost-plus-a-fixed-fee prime contracts. The principle of the ruling of the Federal Communications Commission referred to in paragraph (a) of this section is regarded as extending to cost-plus-a-fixed-fee subcontracts executed under cost-plus-a-fixed-fee prime contracts.

(c) Procedure. The following procedure for the handling of such messages at Government rates is prescribed for the guidance of Procurement Agencies administering cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts and cost-plus-a-fixed-fee subcontracts executed under cost-plus-a-fixed-fee prime contracts:

All telegrams sent by contractors and subcontractors or their representatives which are necessary in connection with such cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts or subcontracts will bear a certificate signed by an authorized officer, employee or agent of the United States as follows:

> I certify that this message is on official business, is necessary in the public service, and will be paid by check on the Treasury of the United States from United States Funds.

Monthly invoices for telegrams must be certified and verified by the contractor or subcontractor, as the case may be. The contracting officer or his representative will certify and verify the invoices as being proper charges under the particular contract. If in proper order and rendered in accordance with provisions of paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section, such telegrams will be paid by check on the Treasurer of the United States directly by a disbursing officer of the War Department. Such bills should not be sent to the Signal Corps for audit or payment. Invoices covering Government messages not submitted by the contractor or subcontractor at Government rates or not otherwise in proper form will be returned to the contractor or subcontractor for correction.

The Comptroller General has ruled that where direct payment is made by the Government to the telegraph companies for telegrams sent in connection with cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts, certified copies of such telegrams may be submitted in support of the invoices in lieu of submitting the original messages, as required by §§ 35.1–35.4 and AR 35–6100,[1] and the vendor's certificate provided for by §§ 35.17–35.21 and AR 35–1040[2] will not be required, provided that the invoices are certified and verified both by the contractor and the contracting officer or his representative as being proper charges against the contract work.

In the absence of the originals of outgoing messages in connection with such contracts, all services are directed to exercise due caution to avoid duplication of payments for such messages.

§ 81.318c Cable and radio messages in cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts. Cable and radio messages sent by cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contractors, or their representatives, pertaining to cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts will also be paid for directly by the Government, and the procedure outlined in § 81.318 (c) will be followed in handling and in paying for such messages when transmitted by telegraph companies.

CONTRACT APPEALS

§ 81.318d War Department Board—(a) General. By memorandum of the Secretary of War, dated August 8, 1942, there was constituted in the Office of the Under Secretary of War a board to be known as "War Department Board of Contract Appeals". The board is hereinafter referred to as "the Board". The Board consists of three members, one of whom is designated as President of the Board. There is also a recorder. The President of the Board and the recorder are required to be persons trained in the law. The Under Secretary of War recommends appointees for membership on the Board and for the position of recorder, and nominates the President of the Board. Appointments are made by the Secretary of War. If the Under Secretary of War at any time determines that additional members of the Board are necessary in order to process appeals with reasonable despatch, he may from time to time recommend for appointment such additional members of the Board as he deems necessary, and may make recommendations for the filling of any vacancies on the Board and in the office of the recorder. Upon request of the Under Secretary of War, The Judge Advocate General is authorized to assign to the Board one or more judge advocates as trial attorneys or examiners; and if and when deemed necessary by the Under Secretary of War and upon his request, The Judge Advocate General may also assign a judge advocate as general counsel.

(b) Types of contracts, appeals from which may be taken. In general, contracts contain two types of "disputes" clauses under which appeals may be taken. Some specifically authorize the Secretary of War to appoint as his authorized representative either individuals or "a board". (See § 81.326.) Others do not specifically authorize the appointment of "a board". Contracts containing clauses specifically authorizing the designation of "a board" are referred to in the succeeding paragraphs as "contracts containing the standard clause". Contracts containing clauses not specifically authorizing the designation of "a board" are hereinafter referred to as "contracts containing the nonstandard clause".

(c) Appeals under contracts containing standard clause. In the case of contracts containing the standard clause, appeals from decisions of contracting officers or other authorities (including the chiefs of the supply services) will be heard, considered and decided by the Board acting as the duly authorized representative of the Secretary of War, as fully and finally as the Secretary of War might do.

(d) Appeals under contracts containing the nonstandard clause. In the case of contracts containing the nonstandard clause, appeals from decisions of contracting officers or other authorities (including the chiefs of the supply services) will be heard and considered by the Board which will report its views on such appeals to the President of the Board. The President, as the authorized representative of the Secretary of War, will then make the decision, as fully and finally as the Secretary of War might do, unless he shall not be in accord with the decision of the Board, in which case he will promptly submit the case for final determination upon the record to the Under Secretary of War. The latter will then make the decision as the duly authorized representative of the Secretary of War for that purpose.

(e) Functioning of Board. The President of the Board from time to time may divide the Board into divisions of one or more members and assign members to such divisions. A majority of the members of the Board or of a division thereof shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of the business of the Board or of a division respectively, and the decision of a majority of the members of the Board or of a division shall be deemed to be the decision of the Board or of the division as the case may be. If a majority of the members of the division is unable to agree on a decision, or if within thirty days after a decision by a division the Board or the President thereof directs that the decision of the division be reviewed by the Board, the decision will be so reviewed; otherwise the decision of a majority of the members of the division shall become the decision of the Board. If a majority of the members of the Board is unable to agree upon a decision, the President of the Board will promptly submit the appeal to the Under Secretary of War for his decision upon the record. The Under Secretary of War is designated as the authorized representative of the Secretary of War for that purpose. A vacancy in the Board or in any division thereof shall not impair the powers nor affect the duties of the Board or division nor of the remaining members of the Board or division, respectively. The authority and procedure specified in this paragraph shall apply whether the Board be acting as the duly authorized representative of the Secretary of War under paragraph (c) of this section or in an advisory capacity under paragraph (d).

(f) Taking testimony. Any member of the Board or any examiner designated by the President of the Board for that purpose may hold hearings, examine witnesses, receive evidence, and report the evidence to the Board or, if the case is pending before a division, to the appropriate division.

(g) Powers of Board. The Board has all powers necessary and incident to the proper performance of its duties and has the power with the approval of the Under Secretary of War to adopt its own methods of procedure and rules and regulations for its conduct and for the preparation and presentation of appeals. These rules and regulations are set forth in § 81.318e (a) to (1).

(h) Place for holding hearings. The office of the Board is in the office of the Under Secretary of War but hearings also may be held in such other places as the Board determines to be expedient or necessary for the proper performance of its duties.

(i) Procedure. The Board fixes the times when and places where hearings will be held, and serves notice thereof. The parties or their representatives are entitled to be heard and introduce evidence; provided that if a transcript of the evidence taken at a hearing in the office of the chief of a supply service accompanies the record, the Board may limit the testimony before it to matters not disclosed by the transcript.

(j) Correspondence. All correspondence pertaining to appeals to the Secretary of War is to be referred to and conducted by the Board.

§ 81.318e Rules and regulations of Board. The rules and regulations promulgated by the Board, and approved by the Under Secretary of War, under date of September 25, 1942, are set forth in paragraphs (a) to (1) of this section. A form of notice of appeal is set forth in paragraph (m). As said rules and regulations of such form are amended by the Board from time to time, these paragraphs will be amended to conform.

However, the Board may, in such case, require additional evidence.

5. Limiting testimony. Where there is a transcript of testimony taken in the office of the chief of any supply service, the Board may, in its discretion, limit the testimony before it to testimony relative to matters not disclosed by the transcript. In all cases the Board may limit the amount of testimony, where merely cumulative.

6. Submission on the record to the Under Secretary of War. Where a majority of the members of the Board are unable to agree upon a decision, and the matter is submitted on the record to the Under Secretary of War for final determination, ordinarily, no further testimony will be introduced. 7. Absence of parties or counsel. The unexcused absence of a party or his counsel at the time and place set for the hearing of any proceeding will not be the occasion for delay, but the hearing will proceed and the case will be regarded as submitted on the part of the absent party or parties.

8. Limitation of argument. Oral argument before the Board or any division thereof may be limited by the Board or by the division, respectively.

9. Briefs. The parties may file briefs in lieu of personal appearances or in connection therewith. All briefs will be filed within 20 days after conclusion of the hearing unless otherwise directed by the Board or by the division before which the appeal is pending.

C.

2. Notice to take, or stipulation for taking. When either party desires to take a deposition, unless the parties shall stipulate as to the time when and place where the deposition is to be taken and the name of the officer before whom it is to be taken and the name and address of the witness, such party shall give to the opposite party at least 10 days notice of the time when and the place where such deposition will be taken and the name and address and official title of the officer before whom it is proposed to take the deposition, as well as the name of the witness. A deposition may be taken either upon written interrogatories or upon oral examination, as may be specified in the notice. If the deposition is to be taken upon written interrogatories, copies thereof shall accompany the notice to take depositions. If the opposite party desires to submit cross interrogatories, same must be served upon the party giving the notice within 5 days from the receipt of the notice to take the deposition, or within such further time as may be allowed by the Board. In order to avoid the taking of depositions or to avoid a continuance for the purpose of taking the testimony of any witness, the parties may stipulate what the testimony of the witness would be if present, and such stipulation shall be received in evidence by the Board.

3. Reason for taking. A duly authenticated deposition may be read in evidence before the Board, if such deposition be taken when the witness resides, is found, or is about to go beyond the state, territory, or district in which the Board or a division thereof is to hold a hearing, or beyond the distance of 100 miles from the place of hearing or when it appears to the satisfaction of the Board or a division thereof, that the witness by reason of age, sickness, bodily infirmity, imprisonment, or other reasonable cause is unable to appear and testify in person at the place of hearing.

4. Deposition not considered until offered. a. Testimony taken by deposition will not be considered until offered and received in evidence.

b. Introduction of deposition by opposite party. A deposition taken by one party may be introduced by the opposite party, but the whole deposition must be offered unless otherwise stipulated by the parties, or directed by the Board or by the division hearing the appeal.

(f) RULE VI. Decisions and findings. 1. Copies to be served on parties. Decisions and findings of the Board, including decisions of any division thereof which have become decisions of the Board, including findings on questions of fact, shall be certified under the seal of the Board and served upon the parties or their attorneys in the manner herein provided for the service of papers.

2. Divisional opinions. A copy of each opinion of a division shall be promptly furnished by the division to each member of the Board, and if a majority of the members of the Board, including the president, shall at any time within 30 days after the date of the decision by the division file with the recorder a statement in writing to the effect that they do not desire a review of the decision by the Board, the recorder will make an entry in the records of the Board to that effect as of the date on which a majority of the members of the Board shall have filed such statements. Thereupon the decision of the division shall become the decision of the Board, and the recorder will promptly furnish copies of the decision to the parties concerned.

(g) RULE VII. Representation. a. Qualifications of attorneys. Any appellant may be represented before the Board by an attorney at law who has been admitted to practice and who is in good standing, before the Supreme Court of the United States, or before the highest court of any State, Territory, possession or the District of Columbia. The Board may, in its discretion, require any person appearing as an attorney at law, to present to the Board evidence that he or she possesses the above qualifications. The statement of the attorney may be accepted as satisfying the requirement of this rule.

b. Representation in lieu of counsel. Any individual appellant may appear for himself. Any partnership appellant may be represented by one or more partners. Any corporate appellant may be represented by a bonafide officer of the corporation.

(h) RULE VIII. Transcript of proceedings. 1. Record of hearings. A full and complete record shall be kept of all hearings before the Board or any division thereof.

2. Testimony to be taken stenographically. The testimony shall be stenographically reported, and transcripts thereof shall be made, if in the opinion of the Board or of the division holding the hearing, a permanent record of the testimony is deemed necessary. Transcripts shall be supplied to the parties and to the public by the official reporter at such rates as may be fixed by contract between the Board and the reporter.

(i) RULE IX. Rehearings. a. Applications for rehearings, etc. Either party may apply to the Board for a rehearing, or reconsideration as to any matter determined by the Board, and to a division of the Board as to any matter determined by that division. Rehearing, further hearing or reconsideration of a decision, may be had, if in the judgment of the Board or of the members of the division in which the decision was rendered, as the case may be, sufficient reason therefor be made to appear.

b. Motions for. All motions for rehearing, or reconsideration shall set forth specifically the ground or grounds relied upon to sustain the motion, and must be filed within 10 days from the date of the service of a copy of the decision of the Board or of a division, respectively, upon the party filing the motion. All such motions will be determined upon the record and briefs submitted and without oral argument or additional evidence.

(j) RULE X. Computation of time. Sundays and legal holidays to be counted. Whenever these rules or any order of the Board prescribe a time within which any act may be performed, Sundays and legal holidays in the District of Columbia shall count the same as other days, except that then the time prescribed for the performance of an act expires on a Sunday or a legal holiday in the District of Columbia, such time shall extend to and include the next succeeding day that is not a Sunday or such a legal holiday: Provided, That when the time for performing any act is prescribed by statute, nothing in these rules shall be deemed to be a limitation or extension of the statutory time period.

(k) RULE XI. Coordination with price adjustment board. 1. Notice to Price Adjustment Board. Upon the filing of an appeal with the Board, the recorder thereof will promptly advise the War Department Price Adjustment Board of the pendency of the appeal, giving the name of the contractor, the contract number, the name of the contracting officer or other authority from whose decision the appeal has been taken, together with a copy of the appeal or a brief statement of the issues involved.

2. Information regarding renegotiation. Prior to any hearing, the Board will ascertain from the War Department Price Adjustment Board, whether any renegotiation agreement has been accomplished relating to the contract under which the appeal is pending or whether renegotiation proceedings relative to the contract are pending. If a renegotiation agreement has been entered into such agreement will be taken into consideration by the War Department Board of Contract Appeals in reaching its decision. If renegotiation proceedings are pending the Board may, in its discretion, suspend further proceedings on the appeal until the renegotiation proceedings have been concluded. A copy of each decision rendered by the Board will be furnished the War Department Price Adjustment Board.

(1) RULE XII. Effective date. These rules shall become effective from the date of their approval by the Under Secretary of War, and from time to time may be amended by the Board with such approval.

(m) Form of notice of appeal.

§ 81.318f Appeals boards within the supply services—(a) General. There should exist in each supply service, a board to act as an advisor to the chiefs of the supply services with respect to appeals under contracts which authorize the chiefs of the supply services to pass upon appeals either finally or subject to further appeals by the contractor to the Secretary of War.

(b) Organization of Boards. Each Board should consist of at least three members. One member of the Board, preferably with legal training, should be designated as executive secretary, to maintain a calendar of such cases as may be appealed to the chief of the service; to make a preliminary analysis of each case, and if necessary, return the file for further evidence, papers or exhibits; to maintain a record of the progress of each case; and in general, to act as executive representative of the Board and of chief of the supply service with respect to such matters. The Under Secretary of War will be informed of the name and address of every such executive secretary. Unless the chief of any supply service considers the volume of such work to be sufficient to require the full-time services of such executive secretary or other board members, they should be directed to perform such services in addition to other duties.

(c) Procedure. In order that a uniform and orderly procedure may be followed, the following steps are prescribed in each case. The Board should:

(1) Investigate and determine the facts in each case. During each such investigation, an opportunity should be afforded to the contractor, if he desires it, to present evidence in support of his contentions.

(2) Arrive at a finding of all essential facts and prepare a statement thereof for the information of the chief of the supply service concerned, and of the Under Secretary of War in cases forwarded to him for disposition. In the latter cases the report of the Board, together with the recommendation of the chief of the supply service concerned and the complete files in the case, will be forwarded to the Under Secretary of War.

(3) Based upon these findings of fact, prepare any necessary correspondence, supplemental agreements, or other documents for the action of the persons concerned.

(d) In the determination of disputes, it will be the policy of all concerned to do complete and fair justice to the legitimate claims and contentions of every contractor, subject, however, to the limitation that in the absence of specific statutory authority no officer or official of the United States is vested with any power to surrender without consideration to the United States, any asset or right of the United States; every such officer and official must be controlled by the express terms of the contract in question and the applicable statutes and regulations.

(e) The recommendations of the boards in question will be advisory only; the chief of the supply service concerned will not be bound by any such recommendation.

GUARANTEES, LOANS AND COMMITMENTS, AND ADVANCE PAYMENTS

§ 81.319 General—(a) War Department policy. It is the policy of the War Department that, in general, guarantees of loans, not in excess of 90 per cent of the principal amount of the loan, are to be employed rather than direct loans or participations in loans; and that likewise, guarantees of loans are, in general, to be employed in preference to advance payments. It is not intended entirely to supplant advance payments, especially where the supply service concerned concludes that the negotiation or performance of a particular contract will be facilitated by the use of advance payments.

(b) Policy in connection with prime contractors. Guaranteed loans to a prime contractor are particularly preferable to advance payments to such a contractor in the following situations:

(1) Where a number of supply services are involved,

(2) Where the prime contractor is at the same time a subcontractor under other prime contracts,

(3) Where the prime contractor has contracts with several branches of the government,

(4) Where the prime contractor has a large number of contracts and purchase orders.

In the above situations, guaranteed loans avoid the difficulties of segregation, accounting and supervision which are inherent in advance payments.

(c) Policy in connection with subcontractors. Guaranteed loans to subcontractors are preferable to subadvances even though the guarantee may exceed 90 per cent of the principal amount of the loan.

(d) Cooperation with liaison officers. The closest cooperation should exist between contracting officers, liaison officers (see § 81.320 (d)), and the Federal Reserve Banks, from the time negotiations for an award of a prime contract commence. Only in this way can there be devised the most practical method of financing from the standpoint of maximum war production by the contractor. In a given case, the most practical method of financing may be (1) private financing, (2) a guaranteed loan, (3) advanced payments, or (4) a direct Government loan; if a guaranteed loan or a direct loan, it may or may not be policed as to expenditures by the supply service most interested. That method of financing which is most conducive to maximum production should be adopted by mutual agreement between the contracting officer and the liaison officer, and it shall be the function of the liaison officer to endeavor to insure cooperation among the several supply services and with other branches of the Government to this end.

(e) Determination of method of financing at time of award. In the case of prime contractors, especially those having contracts with a single supply service, the method of working capital financing most conducive to maximum production should be determined prior to the making of an award. The question of the amount of facilities necessary for such production and the method of financing such facilities should also be determined at that time. To these ends, the fiscal and production branches of procurement officer should closely cooperate both internally and, where appropriate, with the liaison officers and the Federal Reserve Banks.

§ 81.320 Guarantees, loans and commitments under Executive Order No. 9112—(a) Executive Order No. 9112. Under date of March 26, 1942, Executive Order 9112 (7 F.R. 2367) was issued. It reads in part as follows:

> (1) The War Department, Navy Department and the Maritime Commission are hereby respectively authorized, without regard to the provisions of law relating to the making, performance, amendment or modification of contracts, (a) to enter into contracts with any Federal Reserve Bank, the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, or with any other financing institution guaranteeing such Reserve Bank, Reconstruction Finance Corporation or other financing institution against loss of principal or interest on loans, discounts or advances, or on commitments in connection therewith, which may be made by such Reserve Bank, Reconstruction Finance Corporation, or other financing institution for the purpose of financing any contractor, subcontractor or others engaged in any business or operation which is deemed by the War Department, Navy Department or Maritime Commission to be necessary, appropriate or convenient for the prosecution of the war, and to pay out funds in accordance with the terms of any such contract so entered into; and (a) to enter into contracts to make or to participate with any Federal Reserve Bank, the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, or other financing institution in making loans, discounts or advances, or commitments in connection therewith, for the purpose of financing any contractor, subcontractor or others engaged in any business or operation which is deemed by the War Department, Navy Department or Maritime Commission to be necessary, appropriate or convenient for the prosecution of the war, and to pay out funds in accordance with the terms of any such contract so entered into.
> (5) The War Department, the Navy Department and the Maritime Commission shall make reports of all contracts entered into by them respectively pursuant to the terms of this executive order, in accordance with the provisions of paragraph 1 of the regulations prescribed in Title II of Executive Order No. 9001 dated December 27, 1941.

(b) Administration. The administration of the powers conferred upon the War Department by Executive Order 9112 are vested in the Advance Payment and Loan Branch, Fiscal Division, Headquarters, Services of Supply. The general policies and procedures established by that branch as well as the general contractual arrangements established by the Branch are subject to review by the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Services of Supply.

(c) Financial contracting officers. Financial contracting officers are officers or civilian officials attached to the Fiscal Division, Headquarters, Services of Supply who have been granted authority by the director of said division to execute or approve guarantees (either in the form of guarantees to save financial institutions harmless or in the form of commitments to purchase), to make direct Government loans, to enter into other financial arrangements, and to enter into commitments therefor all pursuant to the authority conferred by Executive Order 9112; to participate in negotiations for financing; and to coordinate with the Federal Reserve Banks which act as agents of the War Department in arranging financing for businesses whose operations are necessary, appropriate or convenient for the prosecution of the war.

(d) Liaison officers. Liaison officers are officers or civilian officials attached to the Advance Payment and Loan Branch, Fiscal Division, Headquarters, Services of Supply, who have been detailed for duty in every city in which a Federal Reserve Bank is situated as well as in Los Angeles and Detroit. Their functions and duties are those specified in paragraphs (e) and (i) of this section, as well as in various other paragraphs of this section.

(e) Procedure for obtaining guaranteed loans. Contractors may make applications for guaranteed loans:

(1) Through a local bank which in turn will transmit the applications to the Federal Reserve Bank in the district where the bank is located,

(2) Directly to the Federal Reserve Bank, or

(3) To a liaison officer.

It will be the duty of the liaison officer to obtain information from the procurement officers of the supply service or services concerned and from other appropriate sources as to whether the applicant's operations (existing or prospective) are necessary, appropriate, or convenient for the prosecution of the war and as to applicant's ability to perform its contracts. When liaison officers are not actually detailed to a given Federal Reserve district, the Federal Reserve Bank will perform this duty. Upon the basis of the information so obtained, the liaison officer will issue a Statement of Necessity. If the liaison officer is not satisfied that the terms and conditions of the loan will expedite production and protect the Government's interest to the fullest extent possible, the Statement of Necessity may be withheld pending the working out of satisfactory terms and conditions.

(f) Loans and guarantees not requiring submission to the Advance Payment and Loan Branch, Fiscal Division. Upon the issuance of a Statement of Necessity, a direct Government loan or a guarantee on behalf of the War Department may be completed by a Federal Reserve Bank, acting as fiscal agent of the United States on such terms and conditions as to it may seem advisable, provided that such loan or guarantee must be submitted for approval to the Advance Payment and Loan Branch, Fiscal Division, if it comes within any of the categories set forth in paragraph (g) of this section.

(g) Loans and guarantees requiring submission to the Advance Payment and Loan Branch. Direct Government loans and guarantees coming within any of the following categories must be submitted for approval to the Advance Payment and Loan Branch, Fiscal Division, Headquarters, Services of Supply:

(1) All direct Government loans and also all guarantees when the amount thereof plus the amount of all loans and guarantees made pursuant to Executive Order No. 9112 (including Navy Department and Maritime Commission loans and guarantees), which the contractor has then outstanding, exceed $100,000.

(2) All guarantees when the liaison officer and the Federal Reserve Bank disagree as to the terms and conditions thereof.

(3) All guarantees, regardless of the principal amount of the loan, when the guarantee is for an amount in excess of 90 percent of the principal amount of the loan.

(4) All guarantees when the Federal Reserve Bank is itself participating in the loan.

(h) Execution of loan or guarantee. If the Federal Reserve Bank does not participate in the loan, the guarantee normally will be executed by the Federal Reserve Bank as fiscal agent of the United States. If the Federal Reserve Bank does participate in the loan, the guarantee will be executed by the financial contracting officer. Direct Government loans will be executed by a financial contracting officer.

(i) Cooperation of procurement officers. When it has been determined pursuant to § 81.319 (a) and (d) that a guaranteed loan is the method of financing most conducive to maximum war production, it is essential that the Federal Reserve Bank, the Advance Payment and Loan Branch, the liaison officers, and the financial contracting officers receive the fullest and speediest cooperation from the procurement officers of the various supply services. Procurement officers of the supply services will furnish such information relating to contracts awarded or executed by them, and as to subcontracts and orders under such contracts, as may be called for by the Federal Reserve Bank, the Advance Payment and Loan Branch, liaison officers or financial contracting officers. In order to expedite this cooperation, special units may be established in the district offices of the supply services, or existing Advance Payment Sections may be utilized for this purpose. Information normally required to be furnished will include:

(1) The need for the borrower's production, and

(2) The ability of the borrower to perform from the viewpoint of technical production.

Obtaining information as to the borrower's financial condition is primarily the responsibility of the liaison officer and the Federal Reserve Banks. However, procurement officers of a supply service may supply such information and may make recommendations with respect thereto which will be given due weight provided that the information as to the necessity for the production and the technical ability of the borrower to perform is not delayed.

§ 81.321 Advance payments—(a) General policy. Subject to provisions of § 81.319 (a) and (c), advance payments will be made to contractors upon their request in all cases where such action will facilitate the prosecution of the war provided that after careful scrutiny it is determined that the national interest will be promoted thereby and provided that the Government will be adequately protected.

(b) Types of contracts. Subject to the provisions of paragraph (a) of this section, advance payments may be made in connection with agreements of all kinds (whether contracts, letter contracts, letter purchase orders or other types of agreements).

(c) Advance payments under contracts executed prior to December 27, 1941. No advance payment in excess of 30 percent of the amount of the contract will be authorized upon a contract entered into prior to December 27, 1941, except under a supplemental agreement containing provisions for such an advance payment executed on or after December 27, 1941.

(d) Security. Advance payments shall be authorized only upon the furnishing of adequate security by the contractor. The security to be furnished will be that required under the provisions of the standard clauses or standard forms of supplemental agreements referred to in paragraph (k) of this section. A guarantee by, or bond of, a parent corporation is desirable if the subsidiary corporation has limited financial responsibility, especially in the case of a newly formed subsidiary corporation. Whether guarantees, subordination agreements or other security devices should be required, in connection with advance payments, is within the discretion of the person having authority to approve the authorization of advance payments. Advance payment bonds will be required only in the most exceptional circumstances. (See § 81.414 (a))

(e) Definitions. As used in paragraphs (f), (g), and (n) of this section, the following terms shall have the following meaning:

(1) The amount of the contract. In the case of a lump sum contract the contract price; in the case of a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contract, the estimated cost exclusive of the fixed-fee.

(2) Standard contract clause. A contract clause following without substantial deviation the wording of one of the contract clauses referred to in paragraph (k) of this section.

(3) Standard supplemental agreement. A supplemental agreement following without substantial deviation the wording of one of the forms of supplemental agreement referred to in paragraph (k) of this section.

The determination of whether there is a substantial deviation from contract clause or from a form of supplemental agreement is within the discretion of the chiefs of the supply services. In general, the determining factor is whether the modification changes established policies with respect to advance payments.

(f) Initial advance payments not requiring approval of Advance Payment and Loan Branch. Chiefs of supply services are authorized without obtaining the approval of the Advance Payment and Loan Branch, Fiscal Division, Headquarters, Services of Supply, to approve the authorization and making of initial advance payments on contracts pertaining to their respective services, when:

(1) The amount of the contract is less than $5,000,000 and the amount of the advance payment is not in excess of 50 per cent of the amount of the contract, and

(2) The advance payment is authorized under a standard contract clause or a standard supplemental agreement.

(g) Subsequent advance payments not requiring approval of Advance Payment and Loan Branch. The chiefs of the supply services are authorized, without obtaining the approval of the Advance Payment and Loan Branch, Fiscal Division, Headquarters, Services of Supply, to approve the authorization and making of advance payments in addition to advance payments previously authorized in connection with a given contract, when:

(1) The amount of the contract on which the subsequent advance payment is based is less than $5,000,000 and the proposed advance payment does not exceed 50 per cent of such amount, and

(2) The proposed advance payment is authorized under an approved contract clause or an approved supplemental agreement. As used in this paragraph the term "amount of the contract on which the subsequent advance payment is based" means the amount by which the amount of the contract has been increased since the date of the last authorization of an advance payment.

(h) Advance payments requiring approval of Advance Payment and Loan Branch. Unless an advance payment comes within the provisions of paragraph (f) or (g) of this section, the authorization of such advance payment must be submitted for approval to the Advance Payment and Loan Branch, Fiscal Division, Headquarters, Services of Supply. The submission to said Branch will consist of a recommendation of the chief of the supply service concerned, together with the following information:

(1) The amount proposed to be advanced.

(2) The amount of contract involved and the subject matter whereof.

(3) Whether the contract was awarded on a fixed price or on a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee basis.

(4) The terms of the proposed advance (including method and time of repayment or liquidation including, if possible, a schedule of deliveries).

(5) The national interest in making the advance.

(6) The security proposed to protect the Government against loss with the definite recommendation of the chief of the supply service as to the adequacy thereof.

(7) The financial position and the general character and responsibility of the contractor as well as the technical ability of the contractor to perform the contract.

(8) A copy of the contractor's letter of request and any financial and budget data submitted relating to the necessity for the advance.

(9) Copy of contracting officer's report, if any, on the advance payment request.

(10) Any other information pertinent to a proper decision in the case.

(11) The date and identifying symbol of the approval of the award together with the appropriation available.

Requests for the approval of the authorization of an advance payment may be presented either during the negotiation of a contract or at any time thereafter. If the contract is available a copy thereof together with applicable letters of intent and intermediate supplemental agreements, if any, should be forwarded together with the recommendation. If a copy of the contract is not available at the time the recommendation is forwarded, such a copy should be submitted for review and filing promptly after execution.

(i) Special provision with respect to advance payments under open-end provisions in connection with cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts. If in connection with a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contract, it is proposed to authorize the making of an advance payment in an amount equivalent to a percentage of the estimated cost as the same may be amended from time to time, approval of the Advance Payment and Loan Branch, Fiscal Division, Headquarters, Services of Supply, need not be obtained unless the estimated cost of the contract exclusive of the fixed-fee at the time of the granting of such authorization is $5,000,000 or more (provided, of course, that the authorization is made under a standard contract clause or a standard supplemental agreement). If, however, it subsequently becomes apparent that the cost will be $5,000,000 or more, no further advances will be made under such authorization until such approval has first been obtained. If such approval has once been obtained, the making of advance payments, in addition to those made prior to or at the time of such approval, may be made without further approval of the Advance Payment and Loan Branch, regardless of the amount of such additional advance payments.

(j) Advance payments in connection with letter contracts or letter purchase orders. Advance payments in connection with letter contracts or letter purchase orders will be provided for by a standard supplemental agreement. There should be included in such agreement a clause relieving a subsequent performance surety of the fidelity risk involved in making advance payments in any case where it is contemplated that a performance bond will be required in connection with the more formal contract and where no advance payment bond has been required.

(k) Forms of supplemental agreement and contract clauses. The following is a list of contract clauses and forms of supplemental agreements for use in connection with the authorization of advance payments:

(1) The contract clause contained in § 81.347 will be used in providing for advance payments with interest on fixed-price contracts.

(2) War Department Contract Form No. 20 will be used in executing a supplemental agreement for advance payments with interest on fixed-price contracts. (See § 81.1320.)

(3) War Department Contract Form No. 21 will be used in executing a supplemental agreement for advance payments with interest on cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts. (See § 81.1321.)

(4) War Department Contract Form No. 22 will be used in executing a supplemental agreement for advance payments with interest on a letter purchase order. (See § 81.1322.)

(5) The contract clause contained in § 81.348, will be used in providing for advance payments without interest on fixed-price contracts.

(6) War Department Contract Form No. 23 will be used for executing a supplemental agreement for advance payments without interest on fixed-price contracts. (See § 81.1323.)

(7) War Department Contract Form No. 24 will be used for executing a supplemental agreement for advance payments without interest on cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts. (See § 81.1324.)

(8) War Department Contract Form No. 25 will be used for executing a supplemental agreement for advance payments without interest on letter purchase orders. (See § 81.1325.)

(l) Interest. Except as set forth in paragraph (m) of this section, whenever an advance payment is made to a contractor by the War Department, a charge should be made for the use of the Government money so furnished. The charge should be in the nature of an interest charge computed, at convenient accounting periods, at the rate of two and one-half per cent per annum on the unliquidated balance of advance payments outstanding from time to time. In the case of a fixed-price contract, the amount of the charge should be deducted from payments under the contract. In the case of a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee otherwise payable to the contractor, and should not be an item of reimbursable cost under the contract.

(m) Exceptions to interest requirements. The requirement that interest be charged on advance payments shall not be applicable to advance payments:

(1) Authorized in connection with contracts which provide that the work thereunder shall be performed at cost without profit or fee to the contractor.

(2) Authorized in connection with cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts on which the fee is disproportionately small compared to the amount of interest that would accrue on the advance payment;

(3) Authorized in connection with contracts entered into, or contracts the terms of which had been agreed upon, prior to June 8, 1942, to the extent that such application would be inconsistent with the terms upon which such contracts were negotiated; or those

(4) Authorized to be made without interest by specific action of the Director, Fiscal Division, Headquarters, Services of Supply.

(n) Reports. In connection with advance payments, the supply services will make the following reports:

(1) Daily reports. Each day on which an advance payment is authorized by a supply service there will be submitted by such supply service to the Advance Payment and Loan Branch, Fiscal Division, Headquarters, Services of Supply, a summary record of all advance payments authorized on that day, except those authorized with the approval of said Branch. This will insure a closer control of the financing of contractors, subcontractors and others (whether by guaranteed loans or by advance payments) and will make it possible to maintain at all times a complete record. The report should show the name of the contractor, the number of the contract, the amount of the contract and the amount of the advance authorized.

(2) Individual advance payment report. A complete report of each advance payment, except those approved by the Advance Payment and Loan Branch, Fiscal Division, Headquarters, Service of Supply, pursuant to paragraph (h) or (i) of this section, will be submitted to said branch, for consideration, review and file. There will be submitted with the report a copy of the contract under which the advance payment was authorized or, if the advance payment was authorized under a supplemental agreement, a copy of the contract and of such supplemental agreement. The report will contain a statement of the amount of the contract, the amount of the advance payment authorized, the national interest in making the advance payment, the proposed security and a statement as to whether prior approval of withdrawal is to be required as well as a statement of the financial responsibility of the contractor and of its ability to perform the contract. The contractor's most recent balance sheet or a Federal Reserve Bank report should also be filed.

(3) Quarterly report. In each year, there shall be rendered to the Advance Payment and Loan Branch, Headquarters, Services of Supply reports for the periods ending March 31, June 30, September 30, and December 31. Each such report will be rendered fifteen days after the close of the period. There will be set forth in such reports the status of all contracts on which advance payments have been authorized. The following data should be included in the report:

(i) Contract number; (ii) Name of contractor; (iii) Description of contract; (iv) Type of contract; (v) Amount of contract as it may be changed from time to time; (vi) Amount of advance payments authorized; (vii) Amount of advance payments made; (viii) Advance payments recovered; (ix) Advance payments outstanding; (x) Appropriation symbol; (xi) Project number.

A special statement should be included in the report as to any contract with respect to which the completion of the contract and liquidation of the advance payments appear to be doubtful together with a statement as to the steps being taken to protect the advance payments. A report should include data previously furnished and not merely cover the period from the last report. However the report need not include contracts upon which complete liquidation of the advance payments have been made and so reported in a previous report.

(4) Interim reports. If at any time between the rendering of quarterly reports it appears doubtful that a contractor to whom advance payments have been made will complete the contract, a report should be rendered to the Advance Payment and Loan Branch, Fiscal Division, Headquarters, Services of Supply, immediately. The reports should include a statement of the facts in the case and of the steps being taken to protect the advance payments.

Paragraph (b) of the Government-Owned Facilities Clause quoted in § 81.332 is amended to read as follows:

§ 81.332 Government-Owned Facilities Clause. * * *

(b) As each item of the facilities listed in Schedule "A" is delivered to, or manufactured by, the contractor, for the Government's account, it shall become and remain the property of the Government, and title thereto shall vest in the Government.[1] (All of the facilities listed in Schedule B are the property of the Government, and title to them is, and shall remain, in the Government.) The Government hereby grants to the contractor the right to use, without the payment of rental therefor, such facilities in connection with the work herein contracted for and, subject to the written approval of the contracting officer, for any additional work for which the Government may contract.

The contractor agrees at its own expense to keep the facilities in good operating condition and repair and to make repairs and replacements to the extent that the necessity for such repairs and replacements is due to wear and tear resulting from operational activities. The contractor shall not be liable for loss or destruction of or damage to the facilities unless such loss, damage or destruction results from failure to perform the duty imposed by the preceding sentence or from wilful misconduct or failure to exercise good faith on the part of the contractor's corporate officers or other representatives having supervision or direction of the operation of the whole of the contractor's business or of the whole of any plant operated by the contractor in the performance of this contract.

OVERTIME WAGE COMPENSATION

§ 81.964 Current interpretations. The Secretary of Labor has issued certain interpretations of Executive Order No. 9240, as amended. Extracts from the more important of the interpretations issued to date are set forth in the succeeding paragraphs. As additional interpretations are issued, the procurement regulations will be amended to reflect such interpretations.

* * * * *

(b) The work to which Executive Order No. 9240, as amended, is applicable. The order applies to all work performed by prime contractors on Government war contracts, by their subcontractors and by those who make the materials and supplies necessary for the performance of such contracts and subcontracts. The fact that an industry is seasonal does not remove it from the scope of the order. If the employer is engaged both in war work and in work unrelated to the prosecution of the war, the order will apply in the absence of segregation. The order should be construed liberally.

* * * * *

(e) When double time is mandatory for seventh consecutive day work. When work is actually performed on any seven consecutive days, double time must be paid for the work on the seven days even though the seven days on which work has been so performed fall in two work weeks unless by agreement the employer and employee have arranged a mutually satisfactory work schedule which affords a day of rest in each regular work week. A regular work week would be seven consecutive days starting on the same calendar day each week. If the seven consecutive days involved commenced in September, 1942, double time is not payable; such seven consecutive days must have been worked after October 1, 1942.

* * * * *

(k) Same: when mandatory. Time and one-half is required for work on the six holidays specified in paragraph I–B of the order. Under the order, it is permissible to pay employees straight time or less on such holidays even though the employee is given the day off.

WAGE AND SALARY STABILIZATION

Section 81.967 is redesignated § 81.975 and §§ 81.968 to 81.974 are rescinded and the following §§ 81.976, 81.977, and 81.980 are substituted therefor.

§ 81.975 Executive Order No. 9250. * * *

§ 81.976 Regulations of Economic Stabilization Director approved by the President. On October 27, 1942, Economic Stabilization Director Byrnes issued regulations (Part 4001) pursuant to authority vested in, and with the approval of, the President relative to wages and salaries. These regulations are set forth in paragraphs (a) to (p) of this section.

(a) Definitions (Section 4001.1). When used in these regulations, unless otherwise distinctly expressed or manifestly incompatible with the intent thereof—

(a) The term "Act" means the Act of October 2, 1942, entitled "AN ACT to amend the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, to aid in preventing inflation, and for other purposes".

(b) The term "Board" means the National War Labor Board created by Executive Order no. 9017, dated January 12, 1942.

(c) The term "Commissioner" means the Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

(d) The term "Code" means the Internal Revenue Code, as amended and supplemented.

(e) The term "salary" or "salary payments" means all forms of direct or indirect compensation which is computed on a weekly, monthly, annual or other comparable basis, except a wage basis, for personal services of an employee irrespective of when rendered, including bonuses, additional compensation, gifts, loans, commissions, fees, and any other remuneration in any form or medium whatsoever (excluding insurance and pension benefits in a reasonable amount).

(f) The term "salary rate" means the rate or other basis at which the salary for any particular work or service is computed either under the terms of a contract or agreement or in conformity with an established custom or usage.

(g) The term "wages" or "wage payments" means all forms of direct or indirect compensation which is computed on an hourly or daily basis, a piece-work basis, or other comparable basis, for personal services of an employee irrespective of when rendered, including bonuses, additional compensation, gifts, commissions, loans, fees, and any other remuneration in any form or medium whatsoever (but excluding insurance and pension benefits in a reasonable amount).

(h) The term "insurance and pension benefits in a reasonable amount" means

(1) contributions by an employer to an employees' trust or under an annuity plan which meets the requirements of section 165 (a) of the Code, and

(2) amounts paid by an employer on account of premiums on insurance on the life of the employee which amounts are deductible by the employer under section 23 (a) of the Code, except that if such amounts are includible in the gross income of the employee under the Code, the amount in respect of each employee may not exceed five per cent of the employee's annual salary or wages determined without the inclusion of insurance and pension benefits.

(i) The terms "approval by the Board" and "determination by the Board" shall, except as may be otherwise provided in the regulations or orders of the Board, include an approval or determination by an agent of the Board duly authorized to perform such act; and such approval or determination, if subsequently modified or reversed by the Board, shall nevertheless for the purpose of these regulations, be deemed to have been continuously in effect from its original date until the first day of the payroll period immediately following the reversal or modification or until such later date as the Board may direct.

(j) The terms "approval by the Commissioner" and "determination by the Commissioner" shall, except as may be otherwise provided in regulations prescribed by the Commissioner, include an approval or determination by an agent of the Commissioner duly authorized to perform such act; and such approval or determination, if subsequently modified or reversed by the Commissioner, shall nevertheless for the purpose of these regulations, be deemed to have been continuously in effect from its original date until the first day of the payroll period immediately following reversal or modification or until such later date as the Commissioner may direct.

(b) Authority of National War Labor Board (Section 4001.2). The Board shall, subject to the provisions of sections 1, 2, 3, 4, 8, and 9 of Title II of Executive Order No. 9250, of October 3, 1942, have authority to determine whether any—

(a) Wage payments, or

(b) Salary payments to an employee totaling in amount not in excess of $5,000 per annum where such employee

(1) in his relations with his employer is represented by a duly recognized or certified labor organization, or

(2) is not employed in a bona fide executive, administrative or professional capacity are made in contravention of the Act, or any rulings, orders or regulations promulgated thereunder. Any such determination by the Board, made under rulings and orders issued by it, that a payment is in contravention of the Act, or any rulings, orders, or regulations promulgated thereunder, shall be conclusive upon all Executive Departments and agencies of the Government in determining the costs or expenses of any employer for the purpose of any law or regulation, either heretofore or hereafter enacted or promulgated, including the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 or any maximum price regulation thereof, or for the purpose of calculating deductions under the revenue laws of the United States, or for the purpose of determining costs or expenses under any contract made by or on behalf of the United States. Any determination of the Board made pursuant to the authority conferred on it shall be final and shall not be subject to review by The Tax Court of the United States or by any court in any civil proceedings.

(c) Rules, orders and regulations of Board (Section 4001.3). The Board may make such rulings and issue such orders or regulations as it deems necessary to enforce and otherwise carry out the provisions of these regulations.

(d) Authority of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue (Section 4001.4). The Commissioner shall have authority to determine, under regulations to be prescribed by him with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, whether any salary payments other than those specified in paragraph (b) of section 4001.2 of these regulations are made in contravention of the Act, or any regulations or rulings promulgated thereunder. Any such determination by the Commissioner, made under such regulations, that a payment is in contravention of the Act, or any rulings or regulations promulgated thereunder, shall be conclusive upon all Executive Departments and agencies of the Government in determining the costs or expenses of any employer for the purpose of any law or regulations, either heretofore or hereafter enacted or promulgated, including the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 or any maximum price regulation thereof, or for the purpose of calculating deductions under the revenue laws of the United States, or for the purpose of determining costs or expenses under any contract made by or on behalf of the United States. Any determination of the Commissioner made pursuant to the authority conferred on him shall be final and shall not be subject to review by the Tax Court of the United States or by any court in any civil proceedings. No increase in a salary rate approved by the Commissioner shall result in any substantial increase of the level of costs or shall furnish the basis either to increase price ceilings of the commodity or service involved or to resist otherwise justifiable reductions in such price ceilings.

(e) Rules and regulations of Commissioner (Section 4001.5). The Commissioner may prescribe such regulations with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, and make such rulings as he deems necessary, to enforce and otherwise carry out the provisions of these regulations.

(f) Salary increases (Section 4001.6). In the case of a salary rate of $5,000 or less per annum existing on the date of the approval of these regulations by the President and in the case of a salary rate of more than $5,000 per annum existing on October 3, 1942, no increase shall be made by the employer except as provided in regulations, rulings, or orders promulgated under the authority of these regulations. Except as herein provided, any increase made after such respective dates shall be considered in contravention of the Act and the regulations, rulings, or orders promulgated thereunder from the date of the payment if such increase is made prior to the approval of the Board or the Commissioner, as the case may be.

In the case, however, of an increase made in accordance with the terms of a salary agreement or salary rate schedule and as a result of

(a) individual promotions or reclassifications,

(b) individual merit increases within established salary rate ranges,

(c) operation of an established plan of salary increases based on length of service,

(d) increased productivity under incentive plans,

(e) operation of a trainee system, or

(f) such other reasons or circumstances as may be prescribed in orders, rulings, or regulations, promulgated under the authority of these regulations, no prior approval of the Board or the Commissioner is required. No such increase shall result in any substantial increase of the level of costs or shall furnish the basis either to increase price ceilings of the commodity or service involved or to resist otherwise justifiable reductions in such price ceilings.

(g) Decreases in salaries of less than $5,000 (Section 4001.7). In the case of a salary rate existing as of the close of October 3, 1942, under which an employee is paid a salary of less than $5,000 per annum for any particular work, no decrease shall be made by the employer below the highest salary rate paid for such work between January 1, 1942, and September 15, 1942, unless to correct gross inequities or to aid in the effective prosecution of the war. Any decrease in such salary rate after October 3, 1942, shall be considered in contravention of the Act and the regulations, rulings, or orders promulgated thereunder if such decrease is made prior to the approval of the Board or the Commissioner, as the case may be.

(h) Decreases in salaries of over $5,000 (Section 4001.8). In the case of a salary rate existing as of the close of October 3, 1942, under which an employee is paid a salary of $5,000 or more per annum, no decrease in such rate made by the employer shall be considered in contravention of the Act and the regulations promulgated thereunder (see section 5 (b) of the Act): Provided, however, That if by virtue of such decrease the new salary paid to the employee is less than $5,000 per annum, then the validity of such decrease below $5,000 shall be determined under the provisions of section 4001.7 of these regulations.

(i) Limitation on certain salaries (Section 4001.9). (a) No amount of salary (exclusive of any amounts allowable under paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section) shall be paid or authorized to be paid to or accrued to the account of any employee or received by him during the taxable year which, after reduction by the Federal income taxes on the amount of such salary, would exceed $25,000. The amount of such Federal income taxes shall be determined (1) by applying to the total amount of salary (exclusive of any amounts allowable under paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section) paid or accrued during the taxable year, undiminished by any deductions, the rates of taxes imposed by Chapter I of the Code (not including section 466) as if such amount of salary were net income (after the allowance of credits applicable thereto), the surtax net income, and the Victory tax net income, respectively, and (2) without allowance of any credits against any of such taxes.

(b) In any case in which an employee establishes that his income from all sources is insufficient to meet payments customarily made to charitable, educational or other organizations described in section 23 (o) of the Code, without resulting in undue hardship, then an additional amount sufficient to meet such payments may be paid or authorized to be paid to or accrued to the account of any employee or received by him during the taxable year even though it exceeds the amount otherwise computed under paragraph (a).

(c) In any case in which an employee establishes that, after resorting to his income from all sources, he is unable, without disposing of assets at a substantial financial loss resulting in undue hardship, to meet payments for the following:

(1) Required payments (excluding accelerated payments) by the employee during the taxable year on any life insurance policies on his life which were in force on October 3, 1942,

(2) Required payments (excluding accelerated payments) made by the employee during the taxable year on any fixed obligations for which he was obligated on October 3, 1942,

(3) Federal income taxes of the employee for prior taxable years which are paid during the taxable year, not including Federal income taxes on the allowance under paragraph (a) for any prior year, an additional amount sufficient to meet such payments may be paid or authorized to be paid to or accrued to the account of any employee or received by him during the taxable year, even though it exceeds the amount otherwise computed under paragraph (a).

(d) In the case of an individual who is an employee of more than one person, the aggregate of the salaries received by such individual shall, under such circumstances as may be set forth in regulations promulgated under the authority of these regulations, be treated as if paid by a single employer.

(e) No amount of salary shall be paid or authorized to be paid to or accrued to the account of any employee or received by him after the date of approval of these regulations by the President and before January 1, 1943, if the total salary paid, authorized, accrued or received for the calendar year 1942 exceeds the amount of salary which would otherwise be allowable under paragraph (a) of this section and also exceeds the total salary paid, authorized, accrued or received for the calendar year 1941.

(f) Except as provided in paragraph (e) of this section, the provisions of this section shall be applicable to salary paid or accrued after December 31, 1942, regardless of when authorized and regardless of any contract or agreement made before or after such date.

(j) Effect of unlawful payments (Section 4001.10). (a) If any wage or salary payment is made in contravention of the Act or the regulations, rulings or orders promulgated thereunder, as determined by the Board or the Commissioner, as the case may be, the entire amount of such payment shall be disregarded by the Executive Departments and all other agencies of the Government in determining the costs or expenses of any employer for the purpose of any law or regulation, including the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, or any maximum price regulation thereof, or for the purpose of calculating deductions under the revenue laws of the United States, or for the purpose of determining costs or expenses of any contract made by or on behalf of the United States. The term "law or regulations" as used herein includes any law or regulation hereafter enacted or promulgated. In the case of wages or salaries decreased in contravention of the Act or regulations, rulings or orders promulgated thereunder, the amount to be disregarded is the amount of the wage or salary paid or accrued. In the case of wages or salaries increased in contravention of the Act or regulations, rulings or orders promulgated thereunder, the amount to be disregarded is the amount of the wage or salary paid or accrued and not merely an amount representing an increase in such wage or salary. In the case of a salary in excess of the amount allowable under section 4001.9 of these regulations which is paid or accrued to an employee during his taxable year in contravention of the Act or regulations, rulings or orders promulgated thereunder, the amount to be disregarded is the full amount of such salary and not merely the amount representing the excess over the amount allowable under such section 4001.9.

(b) Payments made or received in violation of any regulations, rulings or orders promulgated under the authority of the Act are subject to the penal provisions of the Act.

(k) Exempt employers (Section 4001.11). The provisions of sections 4001.6, 4001.7 and 4001.8 of these regulations shall apply only in the case of an employer who employs more than eight individuals.

(l) Salary allowances under Internal Revenue Code (Section 4001.12). No provision of these regulations shall preclude the Commissioner from disallowing as a deduction in computing Federal income tax any compensation paid by an employer (regardless of the number of employees and of the amount paid to any employee) in excess of a "reasonable allowance" in accordance with the provisions of section 23 (a) of the Code.

(m) Statutory salaries and wages (Section 4001.13). These regulations shall be applicable to any salary or wages paid by the United States, any State, Territory or possession, or political subdivision thereof, the District of Columbia, or any agency or instrumentality of any one or more of the foregoing, except where the amount of such salary or wages is fixed by statute.

(n) Territories and possessions (Section 4001.14). The Board and the Commissioner shall have the authority to exempt from the operation of these regulations any wages or salaries paid in any Territory or possession of the United States where deemed necessary for the effective administration of the Act and these regulations.

(o) Regulations of Economic Stabilization Director (Section 4001.15). The Director shall have authority to issue such regulations as he deems necessary to amend or modify these regulations.

(p) Effect of Executive Order No. 9250 (Section 4001.16). To the extent that the provisions of Executive Order No. 9250, dated October 3, 1942, are inconsistent with these regulations, such provisions are hereby superseded.

§ 81.977 Regulations of Commissioner of Internal Revenue. From time to time the Commissioner of Internal Revenue issues regulations, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, establishing procedures and rules for the administration and interpretations of such portions of Executive Order No. 9250 and of the regulations of the Economic Stabilization Director approved by the President on October 27, 1942 (§ 81.976 above) as are administered by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue. These regulations are set forth in paragraphs (a) to (c) of this section.

(a) Salary Stabilization Unit (Section 1001.1. There is established a Salary Stabilization Unit, which shall be under the supervision of a deputy commissioner of internal revenue, appointed in accordance with law, and which shall be independent of all other units of the Bureau of Internal Revenue.

(b) Authority of Unit (Section 1001.2). The Commissioner of Internal Revenue may confer upon the deputy commissioner in charge of the Salary Stabilization Unit such powers and duties as he shall deem necessary for the effective administration of the provisions of this Treasury decision.

(c) Regional Offices (Section 1001.3). The Commissioner of Internal Revenue may establish such regional offices as he shall deem necessary for the effective administration of the provisions of this Treasury Decision.

§ 81.980 General Orders of National War Labor Board. From time to time the National War Labor Board issues general orders establishing procedures and regulations for the administration and interpretations of such portions of Executive Order No. 9250 as are administered by the National War Labor Board, as well as interpretations of such general orders. The full text of such general orders and interpretations is set forth in paragraphs (a) to (i) of this section.

(a) General Order No. 1. All increases in wage rates which have been directed by the War Labor Board prior to October 3, 1942, shall be put into effect in accordance with the terms of the Directive Order in each particular case.

(b) General Order No. 2. The procedures in the National War Labor Board for the adjustment of labor disputes affecting wages established under Executive Order No. 9017, dated January 12, 1942, shall remain in full force and operation, and in all present or future cases in which the jurisdiction of the Board has attached or shall attach by certification or otherwise, the parties shall be deemed to have given notice within the terms of Title II, section 1, of Executive Order No. 9250, dated October 3, 1942.

(c) General Order No. 3. The National War Labor Board hereby approves all increases in wage rates which were put into effect on or before October 3, 1942: Provided, however, That the Board reserves the power under the provisions of Title III, section 3 of the Executive Order to disapprove any such wage rates which it may find to be inconsistent with the policy enunciated in the said Executive Order or hereafter formulated by the Economic Stabilization Director and in case of such disapproval to order the discontinuance of further payment of such wages.

(1) Interpretation No. 1 of General Order No. 3. In General Order No. 3 the words "increases in wage rates which were put into effect on or before October 3," include increases in wage rates which by written agreement entered into on or before October 3, 1942, or by formal action communicated to the employees on or before October 3, 1942, were made applicable to work done prior to October 3, 1942, notwithstanding such increases were first reflected in a payroll subsequent to October 3, 1942.

(2) Interpretation No. 2 of General Order No. 3. Any change in wage rates, regardless of its effective date, which results from the award or decision of an arbitrator or referee made after October 3, 1942, is subject to the provisions of Executive Order No. 9250, dated October 3, 1942, notwithstanding the agreement or order for arbitration or reference was made on or before October 3, 1942.

(3) Interpretation No. 3 of General Order No. 3. Unless otherwise expressly exempted, any change in wage rates provided for in any existing agreement to take effect at some future date or in the happening of some future event, is subject to the provisions of Executive Order No. 9250, dated October 3, 1942, regardless of when the agreement was made.

(d) General Order No. 4. Wage adjustments made by employers who employ not more than eight (8) individuals are exempted from the provisions of the Executive Order No. 9250 of October 3, 1942.

(1) Interpretation No. 1 of General Order No. 4. The exemption granted by General Order No. 4 to employers who employ not more than eight individuals does not apply to employers who own or operate more than one plant or unit where the aggregate of employees in such plants or units exceeds eight.

(2) Interpretation No. 2 of General Order No. 4. The exemption provided for by General Order No. 4 shall not apply to employers whose employees' wages, hours or working conditions have been established or negotiated on an industry, association, area or other similar basis, whether by master contract or by separate but similar or identical contracts.

(3) General Order No. 4–A. General Order No. 4 of the National War Labor Board dated October 9, 1942, exempting employers who employ not more than eight individuals from the provisions of said Executive Order, shall not apply to the employment of tool and die workers.

(e) General Order No. 5. (1) Wage adjustments may be made in the rates of individual employees, without approval of the National War Labor Board, if they are not incident to the application of the terms of an established wage agreement or to established wage rate schedules covering the work assignments of employees and are made as a result of:

a. Individual promotions or reclassifications.

b. Individual merit increases within established rate ranges.

c. Operation of an established plan of wage increases based upon length of service.

d. Increased productivity under piece-work or incentive plans.

e. Operation of an apprentice or trainee system.

The Board further finds that adjustments of wages made under this order should not result in any substantial increase of the level of costs and shall not furnish a basis either to increase price ceilings of the commodity or service involved or to resist otherwise justifiable reductions in such price ceilings.

(2) Interpretation No. 1 of General Order No. 5. The fixing of a piece-rate which was theretofore set only tentatively for trial purposes, and the re-setting of a piece-rate which was found to have been set in the first instance so as to yield less than the regularly established or normal amount prevailing in the plant for that type of job, are each "wage adjustments . . . Incident to the application of the terms of an established wage agreement or to established wage rate schedules" within the meaning of General Order No. 5, and may therefore be made without approval of the National War Labor Board.

(f) General Order No. 6. (a) The hiring of an individual at a wage rate in excess of the rate previously established in the plant for employees of similar skill and productive ability within the classification in which the individual is employed is a "wage increase" within the meaning of Executive Order No. 9250.

(b) If a wage rate for a job classification has not theretofore been established by the employer for the plant involved, the rate shall be fixed at a level not exceeding that which prevails for similar classifications within the area, unless a higher rate is approved by the National War Labor Board.

(g) General Order No. 7. Since Title VI, Section 1 of Executive Order No. 9250, dated October 3, 1942, states that "nothing in this Order shall be construed as affecting the present operation of the Fair Labor Standards Act," and since statutes and orders of the duly constituted authorities of the several states fixing minimum rates for certain types of workers carry out the true purposes and intent of the Fair Labor Standards Act, and are designated and intended to eliminate substandards of living within the meaning of section 2 of Title II of Executive Order No. 9250, the National War Labor Board hereby approves increases in wage and salary rates made in compliance with such statutes and orders.

(h) General Order No. 8. Exercising the authority vested in the National War Labor Board by § 4001.14 of Part 4001, Regulations Relating to Wages and Salaries issued on October 27, 1942 by the Economic Stabilization Director and approved by the President, and deeming it necessary for the effective administration of the Act of Congress of October 2, 1942, the Board hereby determines that adjustments in any wages or salaries over which this Board has jurisdiction and which are paid in any territory or possession of the United States, except Alaska, are exempted from the operation of the said Regulations and therefore may be made without the approval of the Board.

(i) General Order No. 9. Adjustments in Salaries Totaling not in excess of $5,000 per annum.

I. Jurisdiction of the National War Labor Board. Section 4001.2 of Part 4001 "Regulations Relating to Wages and Salaries," issued on October 27, 1942 by the Economic Stabilization Director and approved by the President provides in part that the National War Labor Board "shall have authority to determine whether any * * * salary payments to an employee totaling in amount not in excess of $5,000 per annum where such employee

(a) in his relations with his employer is represented by a duly recognized or certified labor organization, or

(b) is not employed in a bona fide executive, administrative or professional capacity, are made in contravention of the Act of Congress of October 2, 1942, or any ruling, orders or regulations promulgated thereunder."

In other words the Board has jurisdiction over the adjustment of salaries up to $5,000 a year, except for those employees employed in a bona fide executive, administrative or professional capacity who are not represented by duly recognized or certified unions.

Section 4010.7 of said Regulations provides that "in the case of a salary rate of $5,000 or less per annum existing on the date of the approval of these regulations by the President" (namely, October 27, 1942) no increase shall be made without the prior approval of the Board.

The Board hereby defines what is meant by "employed in a bona fide executive, administrative or professional capacity". (For the convenience of employers and employees who have been accustomed to the practices prevailing under the Fair Labor Standards Act, these definitions have been taken from the regulations promulgated by the Wage & Hour Administrator, pursuant to section 13 (a) (1) of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 (52 Stat. 1060), but no provisions of that Act or of any regulations issued thereunder are in any way applicable to the regulations and orders of the National War Labor Board).

Executive. The term "employed in a bona fide executive capacity" shall mean any employee—

(A) whose primary duty consists of the management of the establishment in which he is employed or of a customarily recognized department or subdivision thereof, and

(B) who customarily and regularly directs the work of other employees therein, and

(C) who has the authority to hire or fire other employees or whose suggestions and recommendations as to the hiring or firing and as to the advancement and promotion or any other change of status of other employees will be given particular weight, and

(D) who customarily and regularly exercises discretionary powers, and

(E) who is compensated for his services on a salary basis at not less than $30 per week (exclusive of board, lodging, or other facilities), and

(F) whose hours of work of the same nature as that performed by employees not employed in an executive, administrative or professional capacity do not exceed 20 percent of the number of hours worked in the workweek by the employees under his direction; provided that this subsection (F) shall not apply in the case of an employee who is in sole charge of an independent establishment or a physically separated branch establishment.

Administrative. The term "employed in a bona fide administrative capacity" shall mean any employee—

(A) who is compensated for his services on a salary or fee basis at a rate of not less than $200 per month (exclusive of board, lodging, or other facilities), and

(B) (1) who regularly and directly assists an employee employed in a bona fide executive or administrative capacity (as such terms are defined in these regulations), where such assistance is nonmanual in nature and requires the exercise of discretion and independent judgment; or

(2) who performs under only general supervision, responsible nonmanual office or field work, directly related to management policies or general business operations, along specialized or technical lines requiring special training, experience, or knowledge, and which requires the exercise of discretion and independent judgment; or

(3) whose work involves the execution under only general supervision of special nonmanual assignments and tasks directly related to management policies or general business operations involving the exercise of discretion and independent judgment; or

(4) who is engaged in transporting goods or passengers for hire and who performs, under only general supervision, responsible outside work of a specialized or technical nature requiring special training, experience, or knowledge, and whose duties require the exercise of discretion and independent judgment.

Professional. The term "employed in a bona fide professional capacity" shall mean any employee who is—

(A) engaged in work—

(1) predominantly intellectual and varied in character as opposed to routine mental, manual, mechanical, or physical work, and

(2) requiring the consistent exercise of discretion and judgment in its performance, and

(3) of such a character that the output produced or the result accomplished cannot be standardized in relation to a given period of time, and

(4) whose hours of work of the same nature as that performed by employees not employed in an executive, administrative or professional capacity do not exceed 20 percent of the hours worked in the workweek by such employees: Provided, That where such nonprofessional work is an essential part of and necessarily incident to work of a professional nature, this subsection (4) shall not apply, and

(5) (a) requiring knowledge of an advanced type in a field of science or learning customarily acquired by a prolonged course of specialized intellectual instruction and study, as distinguished from a general academic education and from an apprenticeship, and from training in the performance of routine mental, manual, or physical processes; or

(b) predominantly original and creative in character in a recognized field of artistic endeavor as opposed to work which can be produced by a person endowed with general manual or intellectual ability and training, and the result of which depends primarily on the invention, imagination, or talent of the employee, and

(B) compensated for his services on a salary or fee basis at a rate of not less than $200 per month (exclusive of board, lodging, or other facilities): Provided, That this subsection (B) shall not apply in the case of an employee who is the holder of a valid license or certificate permitting the practice of law or medicine or any of their branches and who is actually engaged in the practice thereof.

II. Effective Date of the Board's Jurisdiction. Pursuant to section 4001.6 of the said Regulations, increases in salaries which by written agreement executed on or before October 27, 1942, or by formal action communicated to the employees, on or before October 27, 1942, were made applicable to work done prior to October 27, 1942, do not come within the jurisdiction of the Board, notwithstanding such increases are first reflected in a payroll subsequent to October 27, 1942.

III. Salary Increases Which Do Not Require Board Approval. Pursuant to section 4001.6 of the said Regulations, adjustments may be made in salary rates over which the Board has jurisdiction without the approval of the Board, if they are made in accordance with the terms of a salary agreement or salary rate schedule and as a result of

(a) individual promotions or reclassifications,

(b) individual merit increases within established salary rate ranges,

(c) operation of an established plan of salary increases based on length of sevice,

(d) increased productivity under incentive plans,

(e) operation of a trainee system, or

(f) such other reasons or circumstances as may be prescribed in orders, rulings, or regulations, promulgated under the authority of these regulations.

No such adjustments in salary rates, however, shall result in any substantial increase of the level of costs or shall furnish the basis either to increase price ceilings of the commodity or service involved or to resist otherwise justifiable reductions in such price ceilings.

IV. Exempt Employers. Pursuant to section 4001.11 of the said Regulations salary adjustments made by employers who employ not more than eight individuals are exempted from the provisions of sections 4001.6, 4001.7 and 4001.8 of the said Regulations and may therefore be made without the approval of the National War Labor Board.

V. Statutory Salaries and Wages. The said Regulations, pursuant to section 4001.13 thereof, are not applicable to any salary or wages paid by the United States, any state or political subdivision thereof, the District of Columbia, or any agency or instrumentality of any one or more of the foregoing where the amount of such salary or wages is fixed by statute. Adjustment in such salaries or wages may therefore be made without the approval of the National War Labor Board.

VI. Decreases in Salaries of Less than $5,000 over which the National War Labor Board has jurisdiction as Defined in Section I of this Order. Pursuant to section 4001.7 of the said Regulations, no decrease in a salary rate paid to an employee for any particular work, and over which the National War Labor Board has jurisdiction as defined in Section I of this Order, may be made by the employer below the highest salary rate paid for such work between January 1, 1941 and September 15, 1942, without the prior approval of the Board.

§ 81.1006 Methods for providing new facilities. * * *

(e) Plan V: Government Ownership-Supply Contract—(1) Purpose. For cases in which the contractor will acquire facilities (other than real estate and buildings) for the account of and to be paid for by the Government; facilities to be used by contractor to manufacture supplies under War Department Supply Contract; contractor to pay cost of repairs and replacements during life of contract to the extent that the necessity for such repairs and replacements is due to wear and tear resulting from operational activities. This type of Governmental financing is provided for by the article entitled "Government-Owned Facilities", § 81.332.

(2) Financing. Government funds.

(3) Title. Vested in the Government, with option in contractor, in certain cases, to buy at cost less depreciation.

§ 81.1013 Approval of contracts required in special cases. All emergency plant facilities contracts, all special facilities contracts and all contracts required to be submitted under § 81.1007, will be submitted to the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Services of Supply, for approval.

§ 81.1108 Purchase of used or second-hand materials—(a) General policy. In view of the prevalent shortages of raw materials, manufacturing facilities, and labor, in the placing of contracts and purchase orders consideration will be given in every instance to whether second-hand or used articles or articles in dealers' stocks will serve the Government's purpose instead of new articles. In determining whether second-hand or used articles should be procured in any given instance, factors which should be given consideration include the following, among others:

(1) Whether used articles suitable for the particular purpose are available at reasonable cost and obtainable with reasonable effort.

(2) The length of time during which the articles in question are likely to be in use, the severity of the use to which they will be put, and the conditions under which they will be used.

(3) Whether used articles can meet the need for which the articles are being procured.

(4) Whether applicable specifications are more rigid than necessary in the light of the particular purposes for which the articles are being obtained.

(5) Whether any valid reasons of health or safety require the use of new articles. [In cases of doubt as to this factor, the Office of the Surgeon General or other appropriate expert adviser should be consulted.]

(6) Whether there is a shortage of new articles of the type involved and the extent to which the manufacture of such articles involves the use of critical materials, manufacturing facilities of a type presently overburdened, or labor which can be utilized otherwise effectively in war work.

(b) Enforcement of the policy. The chiefs of each supply service will each at frequent intervals call the attention of all procurement offices and agencies under his direction to the provisions of this and the preceding paragraph, will made adequate provision for the enforcement of the policy therein declared and will place responsibility upon a designated member of his staff for requiring compliance with that policy to the greatest extent practicable.

(c) Removal of obstructions to procurement. In any case where it is believed that any provision of law, statute, executive order, or Army or departmental regulations prevents the effective procurement of suitable used articles or other articles already available instead of new articles, this fact will be brought to the attention of the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Services of Supply, through the chief of the supply service concerned, so that appropriate action may be taken pursuant to the First War Powers Act, 1941 and Executive Order 9001, or otherwise, to remove any obstruction to such procurement.

The paragraph relating to forms of contracts preceding § 81.1301 is amended as follows:

Chapter IX—War Production Board

PART 971—ETHYL ALCOHOL AND RELATED COMPOUNDS

[General Preference Order M-30 as Amended Dec. 2, 1942 [1]]

Whereas the national defense requirements have created shortages of ethyl alcohol and related compounds for defense, for private account, and for export, and it is necessary, in the public interest and to promote the defense of the United States, to conserve the supply and direct the distribution thereof: Now, therefore, it is hereby ordered, That:

§ 971.1 General Preference Order M-30—(a) Definitions. (1) "Ethyl alcohol" means ethyl alcohol of 160 proof or more, denatured or undenatured, and from whatever source derived, but shall not include ethyl alcohol produced for beverage purposes.

(2) "Related compounds" means acetic acid, ethyl ether and ethyl acetate from whatever source derived.

(3) "Producer" means any person engaged in the production of ethyl alcohol or related compounds, and includes any person who has ethyl alcohol or any related compounds produced for him pursuant to toll agreement.

(4) "Distributor" means any person who has purchased or purchases ethyl alcohol or any related compounds for purposes of resale.

(5) "Calendar quarter" means the several three month periods of the year commencing January 1, April 1, July 1 and October 1.

(b) Applicability of priorities regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the priorities regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(c) Restrictions on use and deliveries of ethyl alcohol. Anything in Priorities Regulation 1 to the contrary notwithstanding, and except as hereafter may be otherwise directed by the Director General for Operations:

(1) No person shall, during any calendar quarter commencing January 1, 1942, accept delivery of ethyl alcohol for any purpose not specified in paragraphs (c) (2), (c) (3), (c) (4) and (k) hereof in excess of 100% of the quantity of ethyl alcohol which he used (distributed in the case of a distributor) for such purpose during the corresponding calendar quarter in the twelve months period ended June 30, 1941.

(2) No person shall during any calendar quarter commencing January 1, 1943, accept delivery of ethyl alcohol for a purpose set forth below in excess of 50% of the quantity of alcohol which was used (distributed in the case of a distributor) for such purpose during the corresponding calendar quarter in the 12-months period ended June 30, 1941; and no person shall during the month of December, 1942 accept delivery of ethyl alcohol for a purpose set forth below in excess of 50% of the quantity of ethyl alcohol which he used (distributed in the case of a distributor) for such purpose during December, 1940; provided further, however, that the quantity of ethyl alcohol used (or distributed) by such person for such purpose in the fourth quarter of 1942 shall not exceed 70% of the quantity used by him for such purpose in the corresponding quarter of 1940:

Sandy glazes.
Shoe polish.
Deodorants sprays (non-body).
All toiletries and cosmetics including but not limited to:

For example, ethyl alcohol used in toilet waters during the base period would support the future manufacture of after shave lotions containing ethyl alcohol.

(3) No person shall, during any calendar quarter commencing July 1, 1942, accept delivery of ethyl alcohol for the manufacture of vinegar in excess of 110% of the quantity of ethyl alcohol which he used (distributed in the case of a distributor) for such purpose during the corresponding calendar quarter in the twelve months period ended June 30, 1941.

(4) Persons may, subject to Priorities Regulation 1, accept delivery of ethyl alcohol for the purposes set forth below without limitation:

Any new electric or gas domestic mechanical refrigerator which at 10 A. M. Eastern War Time, February 14, 1942 had been bought and fully paid for and was in the hands of the seller at that time, shall be deemed to have been in the inventory of the purchaser at 10 A. M. (1) A certificate of transfer on Form PD–428 may be issued pursuant to a written application filed on Form PD–427 in accordance with the instructions contained thereon by a person desiring to purchase one or more new domestic mechanical refrigerators. Each such certificate of transfer, when signed by the Director General for Operations, authorizes the transfer to the person named of the refrigerators mentioned therein, in accordance with the terms stated. If the certificate is presented to a dealer or distributor who is unable to fill the order from his stock of refrigerators, such dealer or distributor may obtain the refrigerators necessary to fill the order by placing a written purchase order for such refrigerators with a manufacturer, distributor or other person endorsing thereon a statement in the following form:

> Name of Company
> By ------------------
> Title

Any person with whom a purchase order bearing such an endorsement is placed may, if he does not have enough refrigerators in stock to fill the order, extend it by placing his own purchase order with a Manufacturer or other person holding such refrigerators and endorsing thereon a statement in the following form:

Whenever such certificates for "unlimited transfer" are issued by the Director General for Operations he shall take into consideration the number, price range, size and type of new domestic mechanical refrigerators in the stocks of manufacturers and affiliated distributors on February 14, 1942 and thereafter.

(d) Instructions and forms. The Director General for Operations may issue from time to time such instructions and forms as may be required to carry out the provisions of this order.

(e) Records. All persons affected by this order shall keep and preserve, for not less than two years, accurate and complete records concerning inventories, production and sales.

(f) Audit and inspection. All records required to be kept by this order shall, upon request, be submitted to audit and inspection by duly authorized representatives of the War Production Board.

(h) Communications. All reports to be filed and other communications concerning this order should be addressed to the War Production Board, Washington, D. C. Ref.: L–5–d.

(i) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of or from processing or using materials under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(j) Order L–5–b superseded. On and after June 15, 1942 the provisions of this order shall supersede all the provisions of Supplementary Limitation Order L–5–b.

Issued this 5th day of December, 1942.

ERNEST KANZLER,
Director General for Operations.

INTERPRETATION 1

Supplementary General Limitation Order L–5–d, restricting the transfer of new domestic mechanical refrigerators, exempts from some of its restrictions a refrigerator which was in the hands of the seller at 10 a. m. Eastern War Time, February 14, 1942, and which "had been bought and fully paid for" prior to that time. The test to be employed in determining whether or not a refrigerator "had been bought and fully paid for" is whether the seller had received full payment at the specified time. If the full price of the refrigerator had been paid to the seller in cash, or by any other means, the refrigerator should be considered as "bought and fully paid for" regardless of the source of payment. It is not necessary that the full price be paid by the purchaser provided the seller had been fully paid. Thus if the purchaser had made a down payment of part of the purchase price and a finance company or bank had paid or credited the account of the seller with the balance of the price pursuant to a financing agreement with the purchaser, the refrigerators should be considered to have been "bought and fully paid for." In addition, in the absence of exceptional circumstances the receipt by the seller of a check prior to 10 a. m., Eastern War Time, February 14, 1942, for the full purchase price should be considered as payment in full before that time even though the check had not been cashed, deposited or otherwise collected. PART 1075—CONSTRUCTION

[Conservation Order L–41 as Amended Dec. 5, 1942]

War requirements of the United States have created a shortage of all materials required for war production and construction necessary thereto, for private account and for export; the War Production Board accordingly has stated as its policy that it is in the national interest that all construction which is not essential, directly or indirectly, to the successful prosecution of the war, and which involves the utilization of labor, material or construction plant urgently needed in the war effort, be deferred for the duration of the emergency; the following order is, therefore, necessary and appropriate in the public interest to conserve scarce materials by allocating them to essential uses and restricting their use in non-essential construction:

§ 1075.1 Conservation Order L–41—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this order:

(1) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, governmental corporation or agency, or any organized group of persons, whether incorporated or not.

(2) "Construction" means the erection, construction, remodeling or rehabilitation of any building, structure or project, or additions thereto or extensions or alterations thereof, but not including maintenance or repair as defined in paragraphs (a) (10) and (11) below.

(3) "Residential construction" means any construction where the principal designed function of the building, structure or project is or will be to provide living space or accommodations.

(4) "Multiple residential construction" means any residential construction where the principal designed function of the building, structure or project is or will be to provide living space or accommodations for more than five families, or which is divided or to be divided into more than five suites.

(5) "Agricultural construction" means any construction, other than residential construction, where the principal designed function of the building, structure or project is or will be the production of agricultural products including, but not limited to, those produced by farmers, planters, ranchmen, dairymen, poultrymen, or nut or fruit growers.

(6) "Industrial construction" means any construction where the principal designed function of the building, structure or project is or will be the manufacture, processing or assembling of goods or materials.

(7) "Other restricted construction" means any construction, other than residential, multiple residential, agricultural, or industrial construction, including, but not limited to, commercial, highway, roadway, sub-surface, and utilities construction, whether publicly or privately financed.

(8) "Begin construction" means to initiate construction by physically incorporating into any construction material which is an integral part of the construction.

(9) "Cost" is meant to include the total cost of labor and material, including equipment, architects', engineers' and contractors' fees, insurance charges and financing costs.

(10) "Maintenance" means the upkeep of a building, structure or project in sound working condition.

(11) "Repair" means the restoration without change of design, of any portion of a building, structure or project to sound working condition, when such portion has been rendered unsafe or unfit for service by wear and tear or other similar causes, but not including the reconstruction or restoration of construction damaged or destroyed by fire, flood, tornado, earthquake, act of God or the public enemy.

(b) Prohibited construction. No person shall begin construction or order, purchase, accept delivery of, withdraw from inventory or in any other manner secure or use material or construction plant in order to begin construction, unless the construction is within one of the following classes:

(1) The construction is to be the property of the Army or Navy of the United States, the United States Maritime Commission, Panama Canal, the Coast and Geodetic Survey, the Coast Guard, the Civil Aeronautics Authority, or the Office of Scientific Research and Development.

(2) The construction consists of any building, structure or project which is used directly in the discovery, development or depletion of mineral deposits.

(3) The construction is of a type subject to the provisions of any order in the M–68 series (Part 1047) relating to the production and distribution of petroleum. Any such construction is permitted only to the extent authorized by the applicable order in the M–68 series.

(4) The construction is of telephone facilities or equipment (including facilities or equipment for such telegraph or teletypewriter service as may be conducted by a telephone operator), other than buildings and is authorized or permitted under the terms of Conservation Order L-50 (§ 1095.1); or the construction is of railroad tracks, together with the necessary appurtenances thereto; but not including buildings, tunnels, overpasses, underpasses or bridges.

(5) The construction is of facilities, other than buildings, to be owned by a producer as defined in Preference Rating Order P-46 (§ 978.1) pertaining to utilities and is to be used directly in providing one or more of the services set forth in paragraph (a) (1) of said order.

(6) Agricultural construction of irrigation pipe lines or tile drains in which no materials except earth or other unprocessed material and clay or nonreinforced concrete tile or pipe, not more than 12 inches in internal diameter, are incorporated; or agricultural construction incident to the erection or installation of farm machinery or equipment, listed in Schedule A of Limitation Order L-170 (§ 1029.10) and manufactured by producers as defined therein.

(7) The construction can be completed with materials which are either on hand or can be obtained without making application for priorities assistance and upon completion will not require the incorporation of any materials, on site or off site, to supply electric, gas, water, steam, telephone or sewage disposal service, and

(i) The construction is residential (but not multiple residential) or is specifically listed on Schedule B, attached hereto, and the estimated cost is less than $200, or

(ii) The construction is multiple residential, agricultural, or other restricted construction, is not specifically listed on Schedule B, and the estimated cost is less than $1,000, or

(iii) The construction is industrial, is not specifically listed on Schedule B, and the estimated cost is less than $5,000, or

(iv) The construction is to reconstruct or restore residential (but not multiple residential) construction damaged or destroyed after December 31, 1941, by fire, flood, tornado, earthquake, act of God or the public enemy.

(8) (i) The construction is to reconstruct or restore agricultural construction damaged or destroyed after September 7, 1942, by fire, flood, tornado, earthquake, act of God or the public enemy, where the immediate reconstruction thereof is determined by the United States Department of Agriculture, in accordance with such administrative procedures as may be from time to time prescribed, to be essential to the agricultural program, provided, that within two weeks of such determination Form PD-200 is filed in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (f) of this order.

(ii) The construction is to reconstruct or restore industrial or other restricted construction damaged or destroyed after September 7, 1942, by fire, flood, tornado, earthquake, act of God or the public enemy, where the immediate reconstruction thereof is necessary for the prosecution of the war or the protection of public health or safety; provided that within five days of the damage or destruction notice thereof is given by telegraph to the War Production Board setting forth (i) the cause of the damage or destruction, (ii) the function of the building, structure or project which has been damaged or destroyed, (iii) the type of construction, (iv) why immediate reconstruction or restoration is necessary, and (v) the estimated cost of reconstruction; and provided further, that within two weeks of the giving of such telegraphic notice, Form PD-200 is filed in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (f) of this order.

Nothing contained in this subparagraph (8) shall be interpreted as a commitment that priorities assistance will be accorded to any particular construction authorized by the provisions of this subparagraph and the Director General for Operations may at any time either order said construction to cease or require any modification thereof that seems to him to be proper.

(9) The construction has been or is hereafter authorized by the Director of Priorities of the Office of Production Management or by the Director of Industry Operations or the Director General for Operations of the War Production Board by the issuance of:

(i) One of the preference rating orders or certificates listed on Schedule A attached hereto, as that schedule may be amended from time to time, according priorities assistance to the construction; or

(ii) An order specifically authorizing the construction, Provided, however, That the exceptions set forth in paragraphs (b) (7) (i), (b) (7) (ii), and (b) (7) (iii) shall not be construed to authorize separate or successive construction operations the aggregate cost of which over any continuous twelve-month period exceeds the amount specified in the applicable paragraph for the particular building, structure or project; not including in said aggregate cost the cost of any construction thereon during said period authorized under the provisions of paragraph (b) (9).

(c) Prohibited deliveries. No person shall accept an order for, sell, deliver, or cause to be delivered, material or construction plant which he knows, or has reason to believe, will be used in violation of the terms of this order.

(d) Further construction limitations. Nothing in this order shall be construed to authorize the use or delivery of any material, or the application or extension of any preference rating, in violation of the provisions of any conservation, limitation or other order or regulation heretofore or hereafter issued by the Director of Priorities, Office of Production Management, or by the Director General for Operations.

(e) Orders or certificates not constituting authorization. The assignment of a preference rating by a PD-1, PD-1A, or other certificate, or by any order other than those listed in Schedule A, shall not constitute authorization to begin construction.

(f) Applications for authority to begin construction. (1) If the applicant requires priorities assistance for the proposed construction, an application shall be made for the appropriate preference rating order or certificate listed on Schedule A on the form referred to therein.

(2) Where the applicant does not require priorities assistance, application for specific authorization to begin construction referred to in paragraph (b) (9) (ii) hereof may be made by filing Form PD-200 Revised, or such other forms as may hereafter be prescribed, together with a statement showing: (i) that no priorities assistance is requested; (ii) whether any previous application for authorization has been denied, and, if so, the reasons therefor and (iii) the total value of all construction on the particular building, structure or project in the preceding twelve-month period. Such forms or statements are to be filed as prescribed on Schedule A for the filing of applications for preference rating assistance for Preference Rating Order P-19-h.

(3) In applying either for priority assistance or for authorization to begin construction, the applicant should also submit additional information as to the necessity for the proposed construction, any exceptional hardships which the restrictions of this order impose upon him, the effect on employment conditions if the application is denied, and any other pertinent facts.

(g) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order or who wilfully furnishes false information to the Director General for Operations in connection with this order is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries or from processing or using material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance by the Director General for Operations.

(h) Communications. Applications, communications and reports under this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to, War Production Board, Washington, D. C. Ref: L-41.

Those relating to residential construction shall in addition be conspicuously marked "Res.", those relating to multiple residential construction "M. R.", those relating to agricultural construction, "Agr.", those relating to industrial construction, "Ind.", and those relating to other restricted construction, "O. R."

SCHEDULE B

The following buildings, structures or projects are listed pursuant to paragraph (b) (7) (i) of the above order.

The building, structure or project has as its principal designed function:

(1) Public or private amusement, entertainment or recreation, with the exception of playgrounds for children.

(2) Occupancy by not more than five establishments selling or dispensing goods, merchandise, food or drink, or providing services.

(3) Use as a club, lodge, fraternity or sorority house, association, auditorium or assembly hall.

INTERPRETATION 1

(a) Paragraph (a) of Conservation Order No. L-41, as amended, places in different classes the construction of various buildings, structures or projects, and paragraph (b) (7) provides the limits within which the several classes of construction may be begun without authorization. Any building or structure shall be classified in accordance with such provisions unless it constitutes a part of a "project" as defined below, in which event the classification of the project shall control.

(b) The word "project" as used in paragraphs (a) (3), (a) (4), (a) (5), (a) (6), and (a) (7) in defining the classes of construction and as used elsewhere in the order, means all separate buildings, structures, or units of construction situated in close proximity to each other and integrated to serve a single general use; it does not mean a particular construction operation or job.

Generally speaking whether separate buildings, structures or units of construction together constitute a project depends upon the exact engineering, functional, and other phases of the particular construction involved. The fact that one or more buildings, structures, or units of a single project come within a class or classes of construction different from the class within which the project falls is of no consequence, inasmuch as the class within which the entire project falls will be determined by its predominant designed use in accordance with paragraph (b) of Interpretation No. 1 of Conservation Order L-41 issued June 6, 1942. However, a separate building, structure, or unit of construction situated in close proximity to a project, whether of the same or different classification, is not part of said project, unless it is integrated to serve the same general use as said project.

In no case shall a single building or structure be subdivided into more than one project for the purpose of this order.

(c) "Total cost of labor" as used in paragraph (a) (9) means (1) actual money outlay for labor employed in the construction; and (2) estimated value of all labor performed in the construction not entailing actual money outlay, excluding only the labor of an owner or tenant and members of the owner's or tenant's immediate family residing with him, on a building, structure or project owned or leased by him. (Issued September 5, 1942.)

INTERPRETATION 2

(a) "Construction", as defined in paragraph (a) (2), includes the laying of asphalt tile, linotile, cork tile, rubber tile, and linoleum, if the same is cemented to or in any way is affixed to the construction.

(b) The application of siding or roofing is "construction," as the word is used in paragraph (a) (2), where such siding or roofing is applied to a portion of a building or structure which is not in need of "repair," as the word is used in paragraph (a) (11). (Issued November 6, 1942.)

PART 1217—COCOA

[Conservation Order M-145 as Amended Dec. 5, 1942]

The uncertainty of shipments of cocoa beans from abroad and the fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States have created a shortage in the supply of cocoa beans for defense, for private account, and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 1217.1 Conservation Order M-145—(a) Applicability of Priorities Regulation 1. This order, and all transactions affected thereby, are subject to the provisions of Priorities Regulation No. 1 (Part 944), as amended from time to time, except to the extent that any provision hereof may be inconsistent therewith, in which case the provisions of this order shall govern.

(b) Definitions. For purposes of this order, "process" means subjecting cocoa beans to any grinding, pressing, or other processing operation.

(c) General restrictions. (1) Except as otherwise permitted in this paragraph, no person shall process more cocoa beans during any quota period than his quota for that period, such period and quota to be determined by the Director General for Operations from time to time.

(2) Any person who processes cocoa beans shall sell the products resulting from such processing equitably to purchasers and shall not favor purchasers who buy other products from him nor discriminate against purchasers who do not buy other products from him.

(3) Any person who has had, or has, cocoa beans owned by him processed for his account by some other person shall, for purposes of computing his quota and charges thereto, consider such cocoa beans as though processed by him.

(4) Notwithstanding the foregoing restrictions, any person may, without charge to his quota, process such amount of cocoa beans as may be necessary to provide him or any other person with material to fill actual orders with or for any of the following persons:

(i) The Army, the Navy, the Defense Supplies Corporation, Veterans Administration hospitals and homes, or any Agency of the United States Government for supplies to be delivered to, or for the account of, the government of any country pursuant to the Act of March 11, 1941, entitled "An Act to Promote the Defense of the United States" (Lend-Lease Act),

(ii) The American Red Cross or the United Service Organizations.

(iii) Any person for retail sale through concession restaurants at army or navy camps or through outlets not operating for private profit and established primarily for the use of army or navy enlisted personnel within army or navy establishments or on army or navy vessels, including post exchanges, sales commissaries, officers' messes, servicemen's clubs, and ship service stores.

(5) All quotas hereunder shall be calculated quantitatively in terms of pounds.

(6) During any quota period, any person who processes cocoa beans may utilize not more than one-tenth of his quota for the preceding quota period if the portion of the quota so carried over was not utilized by him during such preceding quota period.

(7) On and after December 15, 1942, no person shall accept delivery of or use any material produced from cocoa beans for any of the following purposes in connection with production for sale:

(i) Manufacturing chocolate shot,

(ii) Manufacturing hollow-molded novelty items,

(iii) Manufacturing solid chocolate novelty items,

(iv) Partially or wholly coating novelty items,

(v) Partially or wholly coating miniature candy pieces weighing, when coated, less than $\frac{1}{60}$th of a pound, except all-nut (glazed or unglazed), all-peanut, or all-fruit (fresh, dried or preserved) pieces,

(vi) Applying chocolate decoration (other than "stringing"), by spray-gun, pastry-bag, or other methods, to chocolate-coated candy pieces.

For purposes of this subparagraph, "novelty item" means any candy piece manufactured in a special shape commemorating, symbolizing, or representing any holiday, event, person, animal, or object.

(8) No person shall deliver any material produced from cocoa beans to any other person with knowledge or reason to believe that such other person is not entitled, pursuant to paragraph (c) (7), to accept delivery thereof.

(d) Reports. Every person who processes cocoa beans after May 11, 1942, shall execute and file with the War Production Board such reports and questionnaires as said Board may from time to time require.

(e) Records. Every person who processes cocoa beans shall keep and preserve, for a period of not less than two years, records which, upon examination, will disclose his total monthly inventory of cocoa beans, the amount of cocoa beans processed each month, and his monthly use of the products resulting from such processing.

(f) Audit and inspection. All records required to be kept by this order shall, upon request, be submitted to audit and inspection by duly authorized representatives of the War Production Board.

(g) Applicability of order. This order applies to all cocoa beans which on May 11, 1942, were in, or were thereafter brought into, the continental United States (excluding the Canal Zone and Alaska).

(h) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime and, upon conviction, may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or accepting further deliveries of or from processing or using material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(i) Appeals. Any person affected by this order who considers that compliance herewith would work an exceptional and unreasonable hardship upon him may appeal to the War Production Board, setting forth the pertinent facts and the reasons he considers that he is entitled to relief. The Director General for Operations may thereupon take such action as he deems appropriate.

(j) Communications to the War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder and all communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Washington, D. C., Ref: M–145.

ERNEST KANZLER,
Director General for Operations.

[F. R. Doc. 42–12911; Filed, December 5, 1942; 11:17 a. m.]

INTERPRETATION 1

Paragraph (c) (4) of Order M–145 permits any person to process, without charge to his quota, such amount of cocoa beans as may be necessary to provide material for filling certain types of orders. Some processing methods yield two materials—cocoa butter and cocoa powder. Cocoa butter is used for some products; cocoa powder is used for other products. Some quota-exempt orders may require the use of only one of the two materials. While Order M–145 does not prohibit the use of the other material in filling orders which are not quota-exempt, the processor is accountable for the quantity of such other material if he subsequently receives quota-exempt orders requiring such material. Therefore, he may process cocoa beans, without charge to his quota, to supply such other material for those orders only if and to the extent that the quantity of such other material for which he is accountable is insufficient. (Issued June 9, 1942.)

PART 1261—LABORATORY EQUIPMENT

[Limitation Order L–144 as Amended Dec. 5, 1942]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created shortages in the supplies of laboratory equipment and the materials entering into the manufacture thereof for the war effort, for private account, and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 1261.1 General Limitation Order L–144—(a) Definition. For the purpose of this order:

The term does not include reagent chemicals which are defined as any chemical prepared and packed for reagent use in laboratories.

(b) General restrictions. (1) No person shall sell, deliver, rent, purchase, acquire or accept delivery of laboratory equipment in which there is incorporated or used aluminum, chromium, copper, iron, magnesium, molybdenum, nickel, steel, tantalum, tin, titanium, any alloy of said metals, rubber, neoprene or other synthetic rubber, or non-cellulose base synthetic plastics, except: (i) pursuant to a purchase order or contract having certified thereon a statement in the following form, signed manually, or as provided in Priorities Regulation No. 7 by an official duly authorized for such purpose:

(g) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction, may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(h) Appeal. Any person affected by this order who considers that compliance herewith would work an exceptional and unreasonable hardship upon him, may appeal to the War Production Board setting forth pertinent facts and the reasons such person considers that he is entitled to relief. The Director General for Operations may thereupon take such action as he deems appropriate.

This restriction shall apply not only to lithium ore which shall be produced on and after such date but also to all stocks and reserves of lithium ore held within the continental limits of the United States as of such date, whether in private or Government hands. The Director General for Operations will from time to time allocate the supply of lithium ore and specifically direct the manner and quantities in which deliveries to or by particular persons shall be made or withheld; and he may also from time to time direct or prohibit particular uses of lithium ore. Such allocations and directions will be made to insure the satisfaction of defense requirements of the United States, both direct and indirect, and may be made, in the discretion of the Director General for Operations, without regard to any preference ratings assigned to particular contracts or purchase orders. The Director may also take into consideration the possible dislocation of labor and the necessity of keeping a plant in operation, so that it may be able to fulfill war orders and essential civilian requirements.

(c) Reports. On or before the 20th day of December 1942, and on or before the 10th day of each calendar month thereafter, each supplier shall file with the War Production Board, in quadruplicate, Form PD-728, and each consumer shall file with the War Production Board, in quadruplicate, Form PD-729. All persons affected by this order, including suppliers and consumers and persons owning or using products manufactured of lithium ore, shall file such other reports as may be required from time to time by the War Production Board.

(3) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

Allocations and directions will be made to insure the satisfaction of war requirements of the United States and may include allocations or directions respecting spent acid where necessary in the opinion of the Director, to promote, or prevent the curtailment of, the production of oleum and of military explosives. Allocations or directions may be made to eliminate cross-hauling and may be made without regard to any preference ratings assigned to particular contracts.

(c) Applications and reports. (1) Each producer of sulfuric acid and each other person who delivers spent sulfuric acid shall, on or before the 10th day of each month commencing with January 1943, file with the War Production Board, Form PD-601, in the manner prescribed therein, subject to the following special instructions:

All persons to whom you shipped by such other means in the prior month will be lumped in Table I under the title "all others". If you consume all or part of your own production of sulfuric acid you will list yourself as a customer in Column 1.

(vi) In Columns 3 and 8, specify strength in degrees Baumé or percentage of sulfuric acid.

(vii) Leave blank Columns 5, 6 and 7.

(viii) In heading "Quantity ordered" at top of Column 4, strike out word "ordered" and substitute word "delivered".

(2) The Director General for Operations may require each person affected by this order to file such other reports as may be prescribed, and may issue further special directions to any such person with respect to preparing and filing Forms PD-601.

(d) Miscellaneous provisions—(1) Applicability of priorities regulations. This order and all transactions affected hereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the Priorities Regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of phthalic alkyd resins for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate for the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 1204.1 General Preference Order M-139—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this order:

(1) "Phthalic alkyd resins" means the reaction product, in solid, liquid or solution form, of phthalic anhydride or phthalic acid with polyhydric alcohol, whether or not modified with rosin oil, or oil acids, but excluding any such resins modified with phenol or phenolic materials.

(2) "Supplier" means any person who produces phthalic alkyd resins (including producers who consume all or part of their own production of such resins), or who purchases phthalic alkyd resins from a producer for purpose of resale without further processing or admixing.

(b) Restrictions on use and delivery of phthalic alkyd resins. (1) On and after January 1, 1943, no supplier shall use or deliver phthalic alkyd resins, and no person shall accept delivery of phthalic alkyd resins from a supplier, except as specifically authorized by the Director General for Operations upon application pursuant to paragraph (e), or as provided in paragraphs (c) or (d).

(2) Each person specifically authorized to accept delivery of phthalic alkyd resins shall use such phthalic alkyd resins for the purpose authorized, except as otherwise specifically directed by the Director General for Operations.

(3) The Director General for Operations in his discretion may at any time issue special directions to any person with respect to the use, delivery or transportation of phthalic alkyd resins by such person, or of products made from phthalic alkyd resins allocated to such person, notwithstanding the provisions of paragraphs (c) or (d), or special directions to any producer with respect to the kinds of alkyd resins which he may or must manufacture.

(c) General exemptions. (1) Nothing contained in this order shall restrict the use and delivery by any person other than a supplier, of stocks of phthalic alkyd resins held by such person on January 1, 1943; or the use or delivery by any person, including a supplier, of stocks of protective coatings, fabric or paper coatings, molding compounds, or ink held by such person or supplier on January 1, 1943.

(d) Small order exemptions. (1) Any person may accept delivery of, and any supplier may use, 750 pounds or less of phthalic alkyd resins (solvent free basis) in the aggregate during any one calendar month without specific authorization, provided that such person (or supplier) has not been specifically authorized to use or accept delivery of any quantity of phthalic alkyd resins during such month.

(2) No delivery of 50 pounds or more of phthalic alkyd resins (solvent free basis) shall be made or accepted pursuant to this paragraph unless and until the person accepting delivery shall certify in writing to the person making delivery that such delivery is accepted within the terms of paragraph (d) (1) next above.

(3) Any supplier may deliver phthalic alkyd resins without specific authorization to any person entitled to accept delivery pursuant to this paragraph: Provided, That:

(i) No supplier shall deliver an aggregate amount of phthalic alkyd resins in any one calendar month pursuant to this paragraph in excess of 2% of the amount of phthalic alkyd resins which he is specifically authorized to deliver during such month; and

(ii) No supplier shall make deliveries during any month pursuant to this paragraph if such deliveries will prevent completion of any deliveries which have been specifically authorized for such month.

(e) Applications and reports. (1) Each person (or supplier) seeking authorization to use or accept delivery of phthalic alkyd resins during any calendar month, shall file application on Form PD-600 in the manner prescribed therein, subject to the following instructions for the purpose of this order:

Form PD-600. Copies of Form PD-600 may be obtained at local field offices of the War Production Board.

Time. Application shall be made on or before the 15th day of the month preceding the month for which authorization for use or delivery is sought. In emergency only, application may be made by wire and special authorization may be granted by return wire. Such emergency applications and temporary authorizations must be confirmed by application as soon as possible thereafter on Form PD-600, which will be returned with final authorization signed by the Director General for Operations.

Number of copies. A set of five copies shall be prepared; three completely filled out copies and a fourth copy, with only the heading and Columns 1 and 2 filled out, shall be certified and sent to the War Production Board, Chemicals Division, Washington, D. C., Ref: M-139; and the fifth complete copy shall be retained by the applicant. After having been signed by the Director General for Operations, one copy will be returned to the applicant and the incomplete copy (the fourth copy referred to above) will be forwarded to the supplier, except where supplier is "own stocks" (in which case the incomplete fourth copy need not be filed in the first place).

Number of sets. A separate set of PD-600 forms for applications shall be made for each preferred supplier and for each different delivery destination or plant of the applicant. The preferred supplier is the supplier from whom the applicant has regularly procured, or prefers to procure, phthalic alkyd resins.

Additional space. Where additional space is needed continue on reverse side of sheet, identifying subject matter by column number.

Heading. In the heading, under name of chemical, specify phthalic alkyd resins; under War Production Board order, specify M-139; under unit of measure, specify pounds, solvent free basis; under name of company, specify name and mailing address of applicant; under delivery destination, specify destination of phthalic alkyd resins ordered; under supplier, specify name of preferred supplier from whom the phthalic alkyd resins are to be procured; and specify the month and the year for which authorization for use or acceptance of delivery is sought.

Column 1. All grades may be grouped together and designated "X", except where the phthalic alkyd resins sought contain tung, oiticica or castor oil, in which case the trade name and number shall be stated in Column 1 for each quantity of such special resins requested in Column 2.

Column 2. Specify quantity requested for each item listed in Columns 3 and 4, in terms of pounds, solvent free basis.

Column 3. Fill in as follows, listing only those items for which authorization is requested:

For orders on hand:
  Protective coating.
  Fabric and paper coating.
  Printing ink.
  Other (specify).
  Export as phthalic alkyd resins.
  Resale as phthalic alkyd resins upon further authorization, or for paragraph (d) small orders.
For anticipated orders:
  Protective coating.
  Fabric and paper coating.
  Printing ink.
  Other (specify).
  Export as phthalic alkyd resins.
  Resale as phthalic alkyd resins upon further authorization, or for paragraph (d) small orders.

Miscellaneous: inventory as phthalic alkyd resins.

Column 4. State product use or uses of each item listed in Column 3, as follows:

Marine coating (Specify government contract or specification number, if any).

Aircraft coating (Specify government contract or specification number, if any).

Other (In addition to government contract or specification number, if any, describe and use briefly and accurately).

Leave Column 4 blank opposite miscellaneous, resale, and inventory in Column 3.

Opposite "export" in Column 3 specify in Column 4 the name of the individual company or government agency to whom the phthalic alkyd resin will be exported, the country to which the resins will be exported, the export license or contract number, and whether exported on Lend-Lease.

Product use shall be stated specifically for phthalic alkyd resins containing tung oiticica or castor oil, showing the exact application of such resins and the governing specification and contract number.

No specific statement or request need be made with respect to small order deliveries pursuant to paragraph (d) of this order.

Explanation. Requests made in Columns 3 and 4, and authorization granted on such requests, shall be subject to the following rules:

Orders on hand. Orders on hand include all orders placed at any time prior to the filing of PD-600 application, which require use of phthalic alkyd resins during the month for which allocation is requested.

Phthalic alkyd resins allocated to fill an order on hand, which is subsequently cancelled prior to the conversion of such phthalic alkyd resins into a primary product, shall revert to inventory and be reserved as phthalic alkyd resins, subject to the rules governing allocated inventory.

Anticipated orders. Phthalic alkyd resins allocated to fill anticipated orders for specified primary products and product uses may not be converted into such primary products in advance of receipt of actual orders for such products, except in the case of marine paint. Phthalic alkyd resins allocated to fill anticipated orders which fail to materialize shall revert to inventory, to be reserved as phthalic alkyd resins subject to the rules covering allocated inventory. In the event that phthalic alkyd resins are converted into a primary product, pursuant to an authorized order on hand which is subsequently cancelled, specific authorization of the Director General for Operations must be obtained for the use or disposition of such primary product.

Miscellaneous. Phthalic alkyd resins allocated for "miscellaneous" may be used for any purpose. Application for allocation for miscellaneous purposes shall not exceed 3% of the total quantity requested for all other purposes.

Inventory. Phthalic alkyd resins allocated for inventory shall not be used except as specially directed by the Director General for Operations, or except to fill orders authorized by the Director General for Operations pending arrival of the phthalic alkyd resins allocated to fill such orders. Upon the arrival of such phthalic alkyd resins, the allocated inventory shall be restored.

Specific authorization for the use of phthalic alkyd resins in inventory may be granted by the Director General for Operations to fill essential orders which were not anticipated in the regular allocation.

Columns 5, 6, 7, 8 and 9. Leave blank.

Column 10. Write in "above supplier" or "allocated inventory" for each corresponding quantity requested in Column 2, depending upon whether authorization for use and delivery is requested, or only for use.

Column 11. Write in "all grades", which shall include phthalic alkyd resins containing tung, oiticica and castor oil.

Columns 12, 13, 14, 15 and 16. Fill in as indicated, without distinction as to grade or whether the phthalic alkyd resins were allocated or unallocated, except in Column 15, in which the total quantity in stock shall be stated first, and underneath shall be stated "free stock ________", meaning that stock of phthalic alkyd resins exempt under paragraph (c) (1) of this order.

Columns 17, 18 and 19. Fill in Column 17 as indicated, and in Column 18 specify the total quantity of all phthalic alkyd resins, regardless of grade, to be procured from each of the applicant's other suppliers. In Column 19 write in "all grades".

Columns 20, 21, 22 and 23. Leave blank.

Applicability of authorization. Authorizations for use and delivery of phthalic alkyd resins shall be construed to refer to quantity rather than to the exact identity of phthalic alkyd resins. However, authorizations relating to phthalic alkyd resins containing tung oil, oiticica oil or castor oil shall be distinguished from authorizations relating to other types of phthalic alkyd resins. Phthalic alkyd resins may not be delivered pursuant to authorizations for previous months if such delivery interferes with completion of delivery authorized for the current month.

(2) Receipt by a supplier from the War Production Board of a copy of Form PD-600 signed by the Director General for Operations shall constitute authorization to such supplier to make the deliveries called for by the form.

(3) The Director General for Operations may require each person affected by this order to file such other reports as may be prescribed, and may issue special directions to any such persons with respect to preparing and filing Form PD-600.

(f) Notification of customers. Each supplier shall notify his regular customers as soon as possible of the requirements of this order, but failure to receive such notice shall not excuse any person from complying with the terms hereof.

(g) Miscellaneous provisions. (1) Applicability of priorities regulations. This order and all transactions affected hereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the War Production Board Priorities Regulations, as amended from time to time, except Priorities Regulation No. 13, which shall be subject to this order to the extent that it is inconsistent herewith.

(2) Applicability of other orders. Nothing contained in this order shall be construed to limit the requirements of Conservation Orders M-53, M-108, M-116 and M-158 or of any other order of the War Production Board now or hereafter issued which may impose additional restrictions on use or delivery of phthalic alkyd resins or products containing such resins: Provided, however, That nothing contained in General Exports Order M-148 shall be construed to permit use or delivery of phthalic alkyd resins in violation of this order. Phthalic alkyd resins manufactured from or combined with phenolic or para-phenylphenolic materials are subject to General Preference Orders M-246 and M-254, respectively, and not to this order.

(3) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(4) Communications to War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder, and all communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Chemicals Division, Washington, D. C. Ref.: M-139.

PART 1341—CANNED AND PRESERVED FOODS

[MPR 226, Amendment 3]

FRUIT PRESERVES, JAMS AND JELLIES

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of Amendment No. 3 to Maximum Price Regulation No. 226 has been issued and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Two new paragraphs are added to § 1341.302 and paragraph (a) of § 1341.309a is amended as set forth below.

§ 1341.302 Packer's maximum prices for fruit preserves, jams and jellies. * * *

(e) New container types and sizes. The maximum price per dozen or other unit for any container type or size which the packer did not sell during the 1941 base period shall be calculated as follows. He shall:

(1) Select the base container type and size. (i) If the packer sold the same kind, flavor, brand and container size, but only in other container types during the 1941 base period, he shall first select from that kind, flavor, brand and container size the most closely comparable container type for which he is able to calculate a maximum price under this section (even though he no longer sells that container type).

(ii) If the packer sold the same kind, flavor, brand and container type, but only in other sizes, during the 1941 base period; he shall first select from that kind, flavor, brand and container type the nearest size for which he is able to calculate a maximum price under this section and which is one-half or less larger or, if there is no such size, one-half or less smaller (even though he no longer sells that size).

(iii) If the packer sold the same kind, flavor and brand, but only in other sizes and container types, during the 1941 base period, he shall first select from that kind, flavor, and brand the most closely comparable container type for which he is able to calculate a maximum price under this section (even though he no longer sells that container type), and from that container type he shall select the nearest size which is one-half or less larger or, if there is no such size, one-half or less smaller (even though he no longer sells that size). If there is no smaller size, he shall go to the next most closely comparable container type and proceed in the same manner to find a base container type and size.

(2) Deduct the container cost. Taking the maximum price per dozen or other unit which he has already calculated for the selected size and container type, the packer shall then subtract the direct cost per dozen or other unit of the container. "Direct cost of the container" means delivered costs of the container, label, cap, and outgoing shipping carton, but it does not include costs of filling, closing, labeling or packing.

(3) Adjust for the difference in contents. The figure obtained by this deduction shall then be adjusted by dividing it by the number of ounces in that sized container and multiplying the result by the number of ounces in the sized container being priced.

(4) Add the new container cost. Finally, the packer shall add to this adjusted figure the "direct cost of the container" in the size being priced.

(f) Packers selling to consumers. Any packer who regularly sells any item of fruit preserves, jams or jellies to ultimate consumers other than industrial, institutional and commercial users shall calculate a maximum price for the item separately to that class of purchasers. If during the 1941 base period such a packer sold the item also to wholesalers or retailers, he shall calculate his maximum price to ultimate consumers (other than industrial, institutional and commercial users) by adding to his maximum price to such consumers under the General Maximum Price Regulation, the permitted increase which he has calculated under this regulation for his retailers or for his wholesalers (converted to retail units). If during the 1941 base period he sold the item only to ultimate consumers (other than industrial, institutional and commercial users), he shall add the permitted increase which the nearest comparable packer who sells to retailers or wholesalers has computed for his retailers or for his wholesalers (converted to retail units).

Paragraph (a) of § 1341.309a is amended by deleting the sentence, "When any packer has established a maximum price by taking the maximum price of his competitor, as provided in § 1341.303 (a), his base price shall be the base price of the competitor," and substituting the following:

If the packer has established a maximum price under paragraphs (a) to (d) of § 1341.302, but made no sales of the item during December 1941, his base price shall be his highest offering price during December 1941, but if he had no offering price, he shall report only the permitted increase which the most closely competitive packer calculated for his own wholesalers. If the packer has established a maximum price by taking the maximum price of his competitor, as provided in § 1341.303 (a), and he made no sales of the item during December 1941, his base price shall be his highest offering price during December 1941 or, if he had no offering price, the base price of the most closely competitive packer.

§ 1341.317 Effective dates of amendments. * * *

(d) Amendment No. 3 (§§ 1341.302 (a) (1), (e) and (f), 1341.309a (a) and 1341.317 (d)) to Maximum Price Regulation No. 226 shall become effective December 11, 1942.

PART 1351—FOOD AND FOOD PRODUCTS

[MPR 279]

HOPS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 279 has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

In the judgment of the Price Administrator, it is necessary and proper to establish maximum prices for certain sales of hops. So far as practicable, the Price Administrator has advised and consulted with members of the industry which will be affected by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 279.

In the judgment of the Price Administrator the maximum prices established by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 279 are, and will be, generally fair and equitable, and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

Therefore, under the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9250, Maximum Price Regulation No. 279 is hereby issued.

AUTHORITY: §§ 1351.1451 to 1351.1465, inclusive issued under Pub. Laws 421 and 729, 77th Cong.; E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871.

§ 1351.1451 Purpose of this regulation. On and after the effective date of this regulation regardless of any contract, agreement or other obligation, no person to whom this regulation is applicable shall sell or deliver any hops as specified in this regulation and no person in the course of trade shall buy or receive any such hops at a price higher than the maximum prices permitted by this regulation; and no person shall agree, offer, solicit, or attempt to do any of the foregoing. Lower prices may be charged, demanded, paid or offered.

§ 1351.1452 Maximum prices for hops grown previous to the 1942 crop. The maximum prices for sales of hops grown previous to the 1942 crop shall be as follows:

(a) For sales of Pacific Coast regular seeded hops by growers, 38 cents per pound f. o. b. grower's farm, warehouse or place of business.

(b) For sales of Pacific Coast seedless hops by growers, 40 cents per pound f. o. b. grower's farm, warehouse or place of business.

(c) For sales of Pacific Coast regular seeded hops by grower cooperatives or grower dealers, 43 cents per pound f. o. b. farm, warehouse or place of business.

---

*Copies may be obtained from the Office of Price Administration.

(e) For sales of Pacific Coast regular seeded hops by a dealer, 48 cents per pound f. o. b. warehouse or place of business.

(f) For sales of Pacific Coast seedless hops by a dealer, 50 cents per pound f. o. b. warehouse or place of business.

(g) For sales of Pacific Coast regular seeded hops by a brewers supply dealer, 53 cents per pound f. o. b. warehouse or place of business.

(h) For sales of Pacific Coast seedless hops by a brewers supply dealer, 55 cents per pound f. o. b. warehouse or place of business.

§ 1351.1453 Maximum prices for certain sales of hops of the 1942 crop. (a) The maximum price for sales by dealers and brewers supply dealers of the 1942 crop of Pacific Coast regular seeded hops and of Pacific Coast seedless hops (to be priced separately) shall be the highest price charged by such dealer or brewers supply dealer during the period of the five days preceding December 5, 1942, f. o. b. his warehouse or place of business. If the seller had only a delivered price during said period he shall ascertain his maximum price f. o. b. his warehouse or place of business by deducting the exact transportation charge on each sale and delivery during said period and the highest resultant figure shall be his maximum price f. o. b. his warehouse or place of business.

(b) "Highest price charged during the five day period" specified in the above paragraph means the highest price which the seller charged for a sale or delivery during the five day base period to a purchaser of the same class; or if the seller made no such sale or delivery during the five day base period his highest offering price for delivery during that period to a purchaser of the same class; or if the seller made no sale or delivery or had no offering price during the five day base period to a purchaser of the same class the highest price charged during the base period to a purchaser of the same class by his most closely competitive seller during the base period.

AUTHORITY: §§ 10.3320 to 10.3334 inclusive, issued under Pub. Law 732, 77th Cong.

§ 10.3320 The insured. The term "insured" includes any person on active duty with the military and naval forces of the United States (including Coast Guard) and any member of the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps, whose life is insured under and who is the owner and holder of and has an interest in a policy as hereinafter defined.

(a) The phrase "person in military service" as used in section 400 (c) is defined in section 101, Article I of the Act approved October 17, 1940, as amended by section 19 of Public 554, approved May 14, 1942, to be any member of the Army of the United States, the United States Navy, the Marine Corps, the Coast Guard, and all officers of the Public Health Service detailed by proper authority for duty either with the Army or the Navy and any member of the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps, and the term "military service" as hereinafter used shall mean service in the Army of the United States, the United States Navy, the Marine Corps, the Coast Guard and the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps. A statement over the signature of the Commanding Officer or a commissioned officer of equal or higher rank than the insured, on the application by the insured, may be accepted as a certification that the insured is a person in the military service. If the insured is on detached service, the application may be witnessed by the person who has custody of the insured's service record. If application is made by a person designated by the insured, or is made by the beneficiary, evidence that the insured is a person in the military service will be procured by the Veterans' Administration from the service department. (October 6, 1942)

§ 10.3321 The policy. The term "policy" includes any contract of life insurance on a life or endowment or term plan, and any benefit contract in the nature of life insurance arising out of membership in any fraternal or beneficial association, which was made and on which a premium was paid before date of approval of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Civil Relief Act Amendments of 1942 (October 6, 1942), or not less than thirty days before the date the insured entered into the military service. A policy is not eligible for protection under the Act if it contains any provision excluding or restricting liability for death arising from or in connection with military service, or any activity which the insured may be called upon to perform in connection with his military service, or requires the payment of an additional premium because of military service. The provisions of the Act are not applicable to policies of United States Government Life Insurance and National Service Life Insurance.

(a) Any provision in a policy that may limit or eliminate a benefit other than the primary death benefit will not, because of such provision, place the policy outside the protection of the Act if it is otherwise eligible for protection.

(b) A policy must be in force on a premium paying basis at the time of application for benefits under the Act.

(c) An annuity contract, if it provides payment of a substantial death benefit in the nature of life insurance, may be included within the provisions of the Act if otherwise eligible. Group insurance will not be included unless an individual and separate contract of insurance is completely released to the insured and thereafter comes within the provisions of the Act as a policy.

(d) The phrase "face amount of insurance" as used in the regulations will mean the amount of insurance payable as a death benefit and if a policy provides for instalment payments as a death benefit they will be calculated in accordance with the terms of the policy on the hypothesis of the death of the insured on the due date of the first premium to be guaranteed by the Government: Provided, That any indebtedness, or any accruals (such as paid-up additions, dividend accumulations, etc.) that may be added to or taken from the amount payable as the death benefits will not be used in calculating the face amount of a policy. (October 6, 1942)

§ 10.3322 The premium. The term "premium" includes the amount specified in the policy as the stipend to be paid by the insured at regular intervals during the period therein stated, and membership dues and assessments in an association.

(a) The premium on a policy will be calculated on an annual basis, and if the annual premium is not stated on the policy, the insurer will make a calculation of the premiums for payment in advance and discounted at not less than 3½ per centum, subject to approval by the Veterans' Administration.

(b) Premiums will not be guaranteed for any additional death benefit insurance which together with the amount of the primary death benefit would result in a payment in excess of $10,000 in the event of death of the insured, nor will premiums be guaranteed for benefits additional to the primary death benefit if liability for such additional benefits is excluded or restricted by military service or any activity which the insured may be called upon to perform in connection with his military service: Provided, That in the event the premiums for primary and additional benefits are not separable under the terms of the policy the entire premium will be guaranteed if the policy is otherwise eligible for protection under the law.

(c) An automatic loan provision or other such benefit in a policy shall not be operative during the period of protection under the Act to avoid the provisions of the Act in relation to any premium that became payable not more than thirty-one days prior to date of application, and thereafter while the policy is protected by the provisions of the Act. (October 6, 1942)

§ 10.3323 The insurer. The term "insurer" includes any firm, corporation, partnership, or association chartered or authorized to engage in the insurance business and to issue a policy by the laws of a State of the United States or the United States and is subject to the jurisdiction of the courts of the several States or the United States. (October 6, 1942)

§ 10.3324 Amount of insurance. The provisions of the Act are not applicable to insurance in excess of ten thousand dollars on the life of one insured, and a policy (or policies) which provides insurance in excess of that amount will be divided at the request of the Veterans Administration; however, this shall not delay insurance in the amount of ten thousand dollars from receiving the protection afforded policies under the Act because of administrative procedure or any difficulties encountered in procuring possession of an outstanding policy. If applications are made by an insured on policies for an amount exceeding ten thousand dollars (one or more policies with one or more insurers), without indicating a preference, the policy which affords the best security to the Government will be given preference by the Veterans Administration. (October 6, 1942)

§ 10.3325 Calculation of values. (a) The term "cash surrender value" shall include any dividend accumulations, the value of any paid-up additions, and any other amounts available as a credit under the policy less the indebtedness with interest accumulations to the day on which the policy ceases to be under the protection of the Act.

(b) The term "indebtedness" will include any loan, lien, or other obligation under the policy due by the insured that would be deducted by the insurer at the time of making settlement under the policy.

(c) The use of the terms "interest" and "rate of interest" will follow the usual practice and procedure of the insurer but the rate of interest shall not exceed the rate fixed for policy loans. If no rate of interest on indebtedness is specifically fixed in the policy, the rate shall be the rate fixed for policy loans in other policies issued by the insurer at the time the policy brought under the Act was issued. Any rate of interest not specifically fixed in the policy will be subject to approval by the Veterans' Administration. (October 6, 1942)

§ 10.3326 Application. (a) The benefits of the Act are not available except upon application by the insured or by a person designated by the insured or by the beneficiary if the insured is outside the continental United States (not including Alaska and the Panama Canal Zone). Any writing signed by the insured designating a person, firm, or corporation to make application for benefits under the Act shall be sufficient authority for the making of such application for the insured by such agent. When application is made by person designated by the insured, the instrument or other writing authorizing such action must be attached to the application executed by the agent. The form will set forth that the application therein made is a consent by the insured to such modifications of the terms of the contract of insurance as are made necessary by the provisions of the Act. The insured and the insurer will execute such other forms as may be advisable and will furnish such reports concerning the policy as may be deemed necessary. The insurer will be deemed to have agreed to such modifications of the policy as may be required to give the Act full force and effect with respect to such policy.

(b) The form of application for benefits as prescribed by regulations will be identified as Veterans Administration Insurance Form 380. An informal application will be supplemented by an application on the prescribed form. The original of the application for benefits will be mailed or delivered to the insurer at its principal office or to the office or agency to which the last premium on the policy has been paid. The copy of the application for benefits will be mailed or delivered to the Veterans Administration at Washington, D. C.

(c) When application for benefits is received by an insurer, a report thereof will be made within thirty days to the Veterans' Administration at Washington, D. C. on the form prescribed for that purpose and identified as Veterans' Administration Insurance Form 381. The insurer may submit with the report a statement setting forth any additional information deemed necessary to the adjudication of the application, and any facts and reasoning as to why the policy should or should not be protected under the Act.

(d) Upon receipt of a report from the insurer on Insurance Form 381, the Director of Insurance will determine if the policy is entitled to the protection of the Act, and the insurer and the insured will be notified of the decision. (October 6, 1942)

§ 10.3327 Benefits. Any policy found to be entitled to protection under the provisions of the Act will not lapse or otherwise terminate or be forfeited for the nonpayment of a premium or the nonpayment of any indebtedness or interest during the period of military service of the insured and two years after the expiration of such service, but this guarantee will not extend for more than two years after the date when the Act ceases to be in force.

(a) For the period during which a policy is protected by the provisions of the Act, any dividends, return of premiums, or other such monetary benefits arising out of the contract or by reason thereof, will be held subject to disposal or to be applied as may be approved by the Veterans' Administration.

(b) A policy will not be removed from the protection of the Act by reason of a payment made to the insurer by or on behalf of the insured, but any tender of a premium (in whole or in part) shall be applied on the indebtedness established under authority of the Act against the policy: Provided, That nothing herein shall prevent an insured from continuing payment to the insurer of premiums to cover any additional benefits (such as double indemnity, waiver of premium, etc.) where such premiums may not be included in the amount guaranteed by the Government. (October 6, 1942)

§ 10.3328 Indemnity. The United States shall have a lien upon any policy receiving the benefits of the Act, subject only to any prior lien and no loan or settlement or payment of dividend may be made by the insurer which will prejudice the security of the Government's lien. Before any dividend is paid or any loan or settlement of any kind or character is made with the insured on a policy while protected by the provisions of the Act, the written consent of the Veterans' Administration must be obtained. (October 6, 1942)

§ 10.3329 Maturity. (a) If a policy protected by the provisions of the Act is terminated by death of the insured, the amount of any unpaid premiums, with interest at the rate provided for policy loans, will be deducted from the proceeds of the policy, and will be reported by the insurer to the Veterans' Administration.

(b) The phrase "maturity of a policy as a death claim or otherwise" (section 405, Soldiers' and Sailors' Civil Relief Act Amendments of 1942), will not include a termination or maturity of a policy as a disability claim, and the policy will continue under the provisions of the Act as if there had been no maturity, but the Government shall not be liable for any premiums that the insured would have been relieved of paying under any provisions for payment of premiums in the policy.

(c) If a policy matures as a claim, except a death claim, or if protection under the Act is otherwise terminated before expiration of the period fixed by the Act, the amount of any unpaid premiums, with interest at the rate provided for policy loans, will be deducted and the insurer will immediately notify the Veterans' Administration and will make a complete statement of the account as to that particular policy.

(d) If a policy is not removed from the protection of the Act prior to the expiration of the period of protection, at that time the insurer will submit to the Veterans' Administration a complete statement of the account as to that particular policy.

(e) The statement of account will show the amount of indebtedness by reason of the premiums with interest and the credits, if any, then available and will be subject to audit and approval by the Director of Insurance. The statement of account will include the rate of interest charged on all indebtedness, the dates of debit and credit entries, and such other information as may be deemed necessary in making an audit of the account. If there is a balance due by the United States to the insurer, payment in favor of the insurer will be certified. (October 6, 1942)

§ 10.3330 Settlement. The payment of premiums and interest thereon at the rate fixed in the policy for policy loans while the policy is protected under the provisions of the Act is guaranteed by the United States, and if the amount so guaranteed is not paid to the insurer prior to the expiration of the period of protection the amount then due will be treated by the insurer as a loan on the policy. However, if at the expiration of the period of protection the cash surrender value of the policy is less than the amount guaranteed, the policy shall cease and terminate and the United States will pay to the insurer the difference between the cash surrender value of the policy and the amount guaranteed. If the insured is in the military service when the Act ceases to be in force, the period of protection of a policy under the Act will expire two years after the date when the Act ceases to be in force and settlement will be made as above provided. Any amount paid by the United States to an insurer on account of a policy protected under the provisions of the Act will become a debt due the United States by the insured on whose account payment was made and such amount will be collected by deduction from any amount due said insured by the United States or as otherwise authorized by law. (October 6, 1942)

§ 10.3331 Policy under protection of Act. A policy placed under the protection of Article IV of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Civil Relief Act of 1940 and which was under the protection thereof on October 6, 1942, by reason of a finding having been made prior to that date, will remain subject to the provisions of said Act and the regulations published under authority thereof except that the policy will be subject to the benefits and privileges governing the period of protection and settlement as provided in sections 403, 404, and 405 of Article IV of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Civil Relief Act Amendments of 1942. If a policy was protected under the provisions of said Act of 1940 and the period of protection terminated prior to October 6, 1942, the provisions of Article IV of the Amendments of 1942 and the regulations published under authority thereof are not applicable to the policy except that any premium which the Government has guaranteed under such policy will be for settlement in accordance with the mode of settlement elected by the insurer as provided in section 408 of the Amendments of 1942. (October 6, 1942)

§ 10.3332 Election by insurer. Any insurer holding certificates issued under authority of Article IV of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Civil Relief Act of 1940 on account of policies protected under said Article, may surrender such certificates to the United States on or before January 4, 1943, and elect to receive the guarantee of premiums and the mode of settlement for such policies as provided by Article IV of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Civil Relief Act Amendments of 1942. The insurer desiring to take such action shall state that, pursuant to the provisions of Section 408 of Article IV of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Civil Relief Act Amendments of 1942, it elects to receive the guarantee of unpaid premiums and interest thereon and the mode of settlement as provided by said Amendments, in lieu of the method of settlement and the requirement for accounts and reports prescribed by Article IV of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Civil Relief Act of 1940, and that it therefore surrenders to the United States all certificates of indebtedness issued to it by the Administrator of Veterans Affairs under said Act, giving the numbers of certificates surrendered and attaching same to the release signed by the insurer. The insurer will also submit to the Veterans Administration at the earliest practicable date a schedule of all policies which were covered under Article IV of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Civil Relief Act of 1940, giving name of insured, face amount of policy, policy number and date of application for protection under said Act. In the case of policies as to which the period of protection expired prior to October 6, 1942, if the insurer has elected to accept the provisions of section 408 (2) of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Civil Relief Act Amendments of 1942 within the time specified therein, the insurer will submit the statement of account provided by § 10.3329 (d) and (e), ("Maturity") of this chapter, and in case there is a balance due by the United States to the insurer, payment in favor of the insurer will be certified. If the insurer does not elect to accept the provisions of section 408 (2) of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Civil Relief Act Amendments of 1942, on or before January 4, 1943, then the provisions of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Civil Relief Act of 1940 and the regulations published pursuant thereto, will govern the accounting as between the insurer and the Government. (October 6, 1942)

§ 10.3333 Beneficiary or assignee. In administering the provisions of Article IV of the Act, all matters pertaining thereto shall be confined to the interest of the insured, the insurer, and the Government; therefore, it will not be necessary to procure the consent of a beneficiary, or an assignee, or any person, who may have a right or interest, either vested or inchoate, in the proceeds of the policy, as a prerequisite to placing a policy under the protection of the Act. Any existing right of an insured to change a beneficiary designation or select an optional settlement for a beneficiary while the policy is under the protection of the Act is not affected by the provisions of the Act. (October 6, 1942)

§ 10.3334 Termination. Section 604 of Soldiers' and Sailors' Civil Relief Act of 1940, provides that the Act shall remain in force until May 15, 1945: Provided, That should the United States be then engaged in a war, the Act shall remain in force until such war is terminated by a treaty of peace proclaimed by the President and for six months thereafter. (October 6, 1942)

Administrator.

And it is further ordered, That a copy of this order and the Regulations to Govern the Destruction of Records of Carriers by Pipe Lines herein prescribed shall be served upon every pipe line carrier subject to the Act and every trustee, executor, administrator, or assignee of any such pipe line carrier, and that notice of this order be given to the general public by depositing a copy thereof in the office of the Secretary of the Commission at Washington, D. Special note: The following extract from section 20 of the Interstate Commerce Act is here quoted for convenient reference thereto by carriers:

> Any person who shall knowingly and willfully make, cause to be made, or participate in the making of, any false entry in any annual or other report required under this section to be filed, or in the accounts of any book of accounts or in any records or memoranda kept by a carrier, or required under this section to be kept by a lessor or other person, or who shall knowingly and willfully destroy, mutilate, alter, or by any other means or device falsify the record of any such accounts, records, or memoranda, or who shall knowingly and willfully neglect or fail to make full, true, and correct entries in such accounts, records, or memoranda of all facts and transactions appertaining to the business of the carrier, lessor, or person, or shall knowingly and willfully keep any accounts, records, or memoranda contrary to the rules, regulations, or orders of the Commission with respect thereto, or shall knowingly or willfully file with the Commission any false report or other document, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be subject, upon conviction in any court of the United States of competent jurisdiction to a fine of not more than five thousand dollars or imprisonment for not more than two years, or both such fine and imprisonment: Provided, That the Commission may in its discretion issue orders specifying such operating, accounting, or financial papers, records, books, blanks, tickets, stubs, correspondence, or documents of such carriers, lessors, or other persons as may, after a reasonable time, be destroyed, and prescribing the length of time the same shall be preserved.

The regulations set forth in this order pertain only to the accounts, records, and memoranda named or described herein. All accounts, records, and memoranda not indicated in the regulations remain under the prohibition of destruction contained in section 20 of the act.

It is not intended that these regulations shall be interpreted as requiring that the records herein named shall be installed, when such records are not already kept by a carrier.

The following Regulations to Govern the Destruction of Records of Carriers by Pipe Lines subject to the Interstate Commerce Act are in lieu of Part 110, Subpart E and Part 115 of Title 49, Code of Federal Regulations.

§ 115.1 Authority to destroy certain records. Each and every carrier by pipe line subject to Part I of the Interstate Commerce Act and each and every trustee, executor, administrator or assignee of any such carrier, is permitted to destroy the accounts, records, and memoranda named or described in these regulations, after preserving the same for the periods of time respectively specified and upon complying with the requirements of the regulations.

§ 115.2 Preservation of other records; special permission to destroy. (a) All accounts, records, and memoranda of such carriers, other than those the destruction of which is permitted in the said regulations, shall remain under the prohibition of destruction contained in section 20 of the Interstate Commerce Act as amended: (b) However, in case any such carrier desires to destroy any accounts, records, or memoranda other than those hereinafter named it may petition the Commission to that effect, exhibiting a full and detailed description of the accounts, records, or memoranda in question, clearly explaining their character, their use, and their purpose; it being understood that any order entered by the Commission on any such petition shall, unless otherwise provided, be limited in its force and effect to the particular carrier presenting such petition.

§ 115.3 Officer having supervision of destruction. (a) Supervision of the destruction of accounts, records, and memoranda shall be assigned to an officer appointed by the board of directors or, if the carrier's organization shall require it, to two officers so appointed. Such officer or officers may be given (1) general supervision of the destruction of all accounts, records, and memoranda the destruction of which is permitted by these regulations, or (2) authority over the destruction of such of these accounts, records, and memoranda as may be specified by the board of directors. A copy of the resolution of appointment shall be filed with the Commission before the destruction of any of the accounts, records, or memoranda involved. Pending action by the board of directors, an appointment by an executive committee, or by a similarly authorized committee of the board of directors, shall have the same effect as if made by the board of directors.

(b) If the property of a carrier is in the hands of a trustee, executor, administrator, or assignee, the officer or officers to have supervision of the destruction of accounts, records, and memoranda shall be designated by the trustee, executor, administrator, or assignee. A copy of the order designating such officer or officers shall be filed with the Commission before the destruction of any of the accounts, records, or memoranda involved.

(c) In designating an officer to have general supervision of the destruction of accounts, records, and memoranda it would be preferable to designate by title only, rather than by name and title, and thus obviate the necessity of filing a new resolution each time a successor in the office is appointed.

§ 115.4 Written authority of officer having supervision of destruction. (a) When any accounts, records, or memoranda are to be destroyed, an officer having supervision of the destruction of accounts, records, or memoranda (as designated in compliance with § 115.3 (a) and § 115.3 (b)) shall issue a written authority naming the person or persons by whom the accounts, records, or memoranda are to be destroyed (except as provided for in § 115.9).

(b) The written authority (1) may be confined to certain accounts, records, and memoranda which have been retained for the periods of time specified in these regulations and which the carrier then desires to destroy, in which case it shall indicate:

(i) A list of the accounts, records, or memoranda to be destroyed, expressed either in form numbers or by descriptive titles; and

(ii) The period or periods covered by the accounts; records, or memoranda the destruction of which is authorized; or (2) may be of continuing effect, applying to any or all the accounts, records, and memoranda named herein as the periods of retention of such accounts, records, or memoranda attain the limits specified herein.

(c) Such written authority, or a certified copy thereof, shall be filed in the office of the issuing officer as a permanent part of the carrier's records. It is not required that copies of the written authorities be filed with the Commission.

§ 115.5 Certificates of destruction. (a) The person or persons upon whom devolves the duty of the direct supervision of the destruction of the accounts, records, or memoranda under the authority referred to in § 115.4 (b) shall make certificate (except as provided for in § 115.5 (d) and § 115.9) setting forth that the accounts, records, or memoranda listed in the said authority have been destroyed and that no other accounts, records, or memoranda than those so listed have been destroyed therewith.

(b) If an authority as referred to in § 115.4 (b) is given, a certificate of destruction shall be made listing either by form numbers or descriptive titles the accounts, records, and memoranda destroyed, naming the period or periods covered by the accounts, records, or memoranda, and stating that no other accounts, records, or memoranda than those so listed have been destroyed therewith. Either (1) a separate certificate shall be made each time any accounts, records, or memoranda are destroyed, or (2) cumulative certificates shall be made with entries each time any accounts, records, or memoranda are destroyed.

(c) Certificates of destruction shall be forwarded promptly to the officer having supervision of the destruction of accounts, records, and memoranda who issued the written authority and shall be retained in his office as a permanent part of the carrier's records. In case cumulative certificates are made they shall be forwarded to such officer periodically, but at least once every 6 months. It is not required that copies of the certificates of destruction be filed with the Commission.

(d) Certificates of destruction need not be made for accounts, records, and memoranda, the destruction of which, in the list in § 115.10 hereof, is made optional with the carrier, but a written authority, either for specific records or of continuing effect (except as provided for in § 115.9), shall be issued by the officer having supervision of the destruction of such accounts, records, and memoranda.

§ 115.6 Committee for destruction of certain records. At the option of the carrier the board of directors may from time to time name a committee to destroy canceled stock certificates, bonds, or other records covered by item B–3 of § 115.10 in lieu of delegating the authority for the destruction to an officer, as provided in § 115.3 (a). A copy of the resolution of the board of directors naming such committee shall be filed with the Commission before the destruction of any of the records involved, and a certificate of destruction shall be permanently retained by the carrier. Certificates of destruction giving full descriptive reference to the documents destroyed shall be made by the person or persons appointed by the officer having supervision of the destruction of records or by this committee. When documents represent debt secured by mortgage, the certificates of destruction shall also be authenticated by representatives of the trustees acting in conjunction with this committee or shall have the trustees' acceptance thereon.

§ 115.7 Method of destruction. (a) The precise method of the destruction of accounts, records, or memoranda is not prescribed. The Commission is not concerned with the method of destruction, whether by fire, sale or otherwise, so long as the destruction is authorized and a certificate of destruction is filed as required by these regulations.

(b) If the accounts, records, and memoranda are not actually destroyed by the carrier, but are disposed of by sale or otherwise, the certificate of destruction shall so state. Attention is called to section 15 of the Interstate Commerce Act, which provides that a carrier shall not divulge to any person information concerning the business of a shipper or consignee which may be used to the detriment of such shipper or consignee. Responsibility for possible infringement of this provision of the law by disposing of its records by other than actual destruction would rest with the carrier.

§ 115.8 Accidental destruction of accounts, records, and memoranda. If any accounts, records, or memoranda are destroyed accidentally by fire, flood, or other casualty a statement shall be prepared listing so far as may be possible the records destroyed and detailing the circumstances in connection with the fire or other casualty. This statement shall be authenticated by an officer or some responsible employee of the company and shall be filed with the officer having supervision of the destruction of accounts, records, and memoranda. A copy of the statement shall be filed promptly with the Commission.

§ 115.9 Duplicate accounts, records, and memoranda. Provision is made in item P–3 of § 115.10 for the optional destruction of duplicate copies of accounts, records, and memoranda when such copies are not specifically provided for elsewhere in these regulations and when they contain no information not shown on the originals. In destroying such copies carriers may dispense with the written authorities and the certificates of destruction. The originals (or one true copy) shall be retained for the respective periods named for such records in the regulations.

§ 115.10 List of accounts, records, and memoranda, and periods of retention. The following list[1] is indicative of accounts, records, and memoranda of carriers by pipe lines specifically referred to by the regulation embodied in § 115.1. The classification of the accounts, records, and memoranda enumerated below under the various general headings is merely for convenient reference and is more or less arbitrary. The regulations are intended to apply to the items as named or described, regardless of the classification and regardless of where filed. Of the accounts, records, and memoranda which are to be retained permanently only the more important are indicated in the list, such specific mention being made so that they may not be confused with any accounts, records, or memoranda which the carrier is hereby given permission to destroy.

By the Commission, Division 1.

Secretary.

Bituminous Coal Division

[Docket No. A–1694]

DISTRICT BOARD 9

MEMORANDUM OPINION, ETC.

In the matter of the petition of District Board No. 9 requesting the establishment both temporary and permanent of minimum prices for coals of certain mines in District No. 9.

In the matter of the petition of District Board No. 9 requesting reclassification of the coals of the Ashmore & Poe Brothers' Mine, Mine Index No. 860 in District No. 9.

Memorandum opinion and order severing Docket No. A–1694, Part II from Docket No. A–1694 and notice of and order for hearing in Docket No. A–1694, Part II.

The original petition in the above-entitled matter which was filed with this Division pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, requested the issuance of an order establishing temporary and permanent price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of certain mines in District 9 and also requested reclassification of the coals of Ashmore & Poe Brothers' Mine (Mine Index No. 860) for rail and truck shipment.

As was found in an order issued this day in Docket No. A–1694, a reasonable showing of necessity has been made for the granting of the relief prayed for by petitioner except as to that part of petition requesting reclassification of the coals of Ashmore & Poe Brothers' Mine (Mine Index No. 860) in District No. 9. With respect to the request for the reclassification of the coals of Mine Index No. 860, for rail and truck shipments, it appears that the original petitioner has not set forth sufficient facts to warrant such reclassification without a hearing. It appears, therefore, that an adequate showing of necessity has not been made for the granting of temporary relief in the matter of reclassification of the coals of Mine Index No. 860.

Now, therefore, It is ordered, That the portion of Docket No. A–1694 relating to the reclassification of the coals of Mine Index No. 860 be, and it hereby is severed from the remainder of Docket No. A–1694 and designated as Docket No. A–1694, Part II.

It is further ordered, That the request for temporary relief be, and the same hereby is, denied without prejudice to the renewal of such request for temporary relief, upon further showing or upon the basis of the record to be made at the hearing to be held herein.

It is further ordered, That a hearing in Docket No. A–1694, Part II under the applicable provisions of said Act and the rules and regulations of the Division, be held on January 26, 1943, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day at a hearing room of the Bituminous Coal Division at Washington, D. C. On that day the Chief of the Records Section of the Division will advise as to the room where such hearing will be held.

It is further ordered, That Edward J. Hayes or any other officer or officers of the Division duly designated for that purpose shall preside at the hearing in such matter. The officer so designated to preside at such hearing is hereby authorized to conduct such hearing, to administer oaths and affirmations, examine witnesses, take evidence, to continue said hearing from time to time and to prepare and submit to the Division proposed findings of fact and conclusions and the recommendation of an appropriate order in the premises, and to perform all other duties in connection therewith authorized by law.

Notice of such hearing is hereby given to all parties herein and to persons or entities having an interest in this proceeding and eligible to become a party herein. Any person desiring to be admitted as a party to this proceeding may file a petition of intervention in accordance with the Rules and Regulations of the Bituminous Coal Division for Proceedings Instituted Pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Act, setting forth the facts on the basis of which relief in the original petition is supported or opposed or on the basis of which other relief is sought. Such petitions of intervention shall be filed with the Bituminous Coal Division on or before January 19, 1943.

All persons are hereby notified that the hearing in the above-entitled matter and any orders entered therein may concern, in addition to the matters specifically alleged in the petition, other matters necessarily incidental and related thereto, which may be raised by amendment to the petition, petitions of intervenors or otherwise, or which may be necessary corrollaries to the relief, if any, granted on the basis of this petition.

The matter concerned herewith is in regard to the petition of District Board No. 9 requesting the reclassification of the coals of the Ashmore & Poe Brothers' Mine (Mine Index No. 860) for rail and truck shipments from the higher No. 6 seam prices to the lower No. 9 seam prices.

HILLMAN COAL AND COKE COMPANY

ORDER CORRECTING A TYPOGRAPHICAL ERROR

In the matter of the petition of Hillman Coal & Coke Company for a change in the minimum price established for coals of its Naomi Mine located in District No. 2, when sold for delivery all-river in Market Area No. 13, pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937.

In an order dated November 4, 1942, 7 F. R. 9091, terminating relief and dismissing petition in the above-entitled matter, the first paragraph reads as follows:

> Petitioner having filed an original petition requesting a price of $1.56 per ton for coal from its Naomi Mine, f. a. s. dock of the Ohio Edison Company at Toledo, Ohio, and asking for temporary relief; and

It appears from the record that "Toledo, Ohio," is an error and should read "Toronto, Ohio," and that the order of November 4, 1942, should be corrected accordingly.

Now, therefore, it is ordered, That the first paragraph of said order dated November 4, 1942, be, and the same hereby is, amended to read as follows:

> Petitioner having filed an original petition requesting a price of $1.56 per ton for coal from its Naomi Mine, f. a. s. dock of the Ohio Edison Company at Toronto, Ohio, and asking for temporary relief; and

It is further ordered, That in all other respects the order of November 4, 1942, shall remain in full force and effect.

SEMET-SOLVAY COMPANY

NOTICE OF AND ORDER FOR HEARING

In the matter of the application of Semet-Solvay Company for exemption pursuant to the section 4-A of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937.

An application for a determination of the status of coal mined at Mine Index Nos. 270 and 5477 in District No. 8 having been filed on October 26, 1942, by the above-named applicant pursuant to the second paragraph of section 4-A of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937.

It is ordered, That a hearing in the above-entitled matter under the applicable provisions of said Act and the rules of the Division be held on January 12, 1943, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that date at a hearing room of the Bituminous Coal Division in Washington, D. C. On such day the Chief of the Records Section in the offices of the Division, Washington, D. C., will advise as to the room where such hearing will be held.

It is further ordered, That Travis Williams, or any other officer or officers of the Division duly designated for that purpose shall preside at the hearing in such matter. The officer so designated to preside at such hearing is hereby authorized to conduct said hearing, to administer oaths and affirmations, examine witnesses, take evidence, to continue said hearing from time to time, and to such places as he may direct by announcement at said hearing or any adjourned hearing or by subsequent notice, and to prepare and submit proposed findings of fact and conclusions and the recommendation of an apropriate order in the premises, and to perform all other duties in connection therewith authorized by law.

Notice of such hearing is hereby given to said applicant and to all other parties herein and to all persons and entities having an interest in these proceedings and eligible to become a party herein. Any person or entity eligible under Section VII (i) of the Rules of Practice and Procedure before the Bituminous Coal Division may file a petition for intervention not later than fifteen (15) days after the date of the issuance of this Notice of and Order for Hearing. Notice is hereby given that:

(1) Within fifteen (15) days from the date of the issuance of this Notice of and Order for Hearing, the applicant and each interested party shall file with the Division a concise statement in writing of the facts expected to be proved by such person at the hearing. Interested parties shall also file a written intervention in compliance with Section VIII of the aforesaid Rules of Practice and Procedure. The statements of facts shall be considered as pleadings and not as evidence of the facts therein stated. The affirmative evidence adduced by a party at the hearing shall be limited to the said statement of facts filed by such party.

(2) If no written statement of the facts expected to be proved at the hearing is filed by the applicant within the 15-day period, in the absence of extenuating circumstances, the application shall be deemed to have been withdrawn on the expiration of said period in accordance with the provisions of Section VII (g) of the aforesaid Rules of Practice and Procedure.

(3) If the applicant does not appear and offer evidence in support of its statement of facts, in the absence of extenuating circumstances the application shall be deemed to have been withdrawn in accordance with the provisions of Section VII (g) of the aforesaid Rules of Practice and Procedure.

(4) The burden of proof in this proceeding shall be on the applicant.

All persons are hereby notified that the hearing in the above-entitled matter and any orders entered therein may concern, in addition to the matters specifically alleged in the application, other matters necessarily incidental and related thereto, which may be raised by amendment to the application, petitions of intervenors or otherwise, or which may be necessary corollaries to the relief if any granted on the basis of this application.

The matter concerned herewith is in regard to the application of Semet-Solvay Company for a determination of the status of coal produced at Mine Index Nos. 270 and 5477 in District No. 8. The said application alleges that a major portion of such coal is exempt from Section 4 of the Act because it is coal produced, transported, and consumed by the applicant within the meaning of section 4 II (1) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937. The application further alleges that the remainder of the coal involved is sold to and consumed by its employees at the said mines for household use pursuant to the provisions of an agreement covering the employment and compensation of said employees and that such transactions are in intrastate commerce and do not, as between persons and localities in such commerce on the one hand and interstate commerce in coal on the other hand, result in any undue, unreasonable, or unjust discrimination against interstate commerce in coal or in any manner directly affect interstate commerce in coal pursuant to section 4-A of the Act.

[Docket No. 1808-FD]

ALBUQUERQUE AND CERRILLOS COAL CO.

MEMORANDUM OPINION APPROVING AND ADOPTING REPORT AND RECOMMENDATIONS OF THE EXAMINER AND ORDER OF CERTIFICATION

In the matter of Albuquerque and Cerrillos Coal Company, Respondent.

This proceeding is now before me on exceptions and objections of respondent to the report and recommendations of the Examiner. It was originally instituted upon a complaint filed with the Bituminous Coal Division June 9, 1941, by a representative of Local Union No. 6920 of the United Mine Workers of America which alleged that various acts of respondent Albuquerque and Cerrillos Coal Company, were in violation of the provisions of section 9 of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937. After appropriate notice, a hearing was held November 10, 1941, before a duly designated Examiner of the Division. The Examiner's recommendations were submitted to me July 31, 1942.

The Examiner's proposed findings of fact and recommended legal conclusions are set forth in a document of 66 pages. The Report discusses in great detail the evidence adduced at the hearing—a hearing which lasted from November 10 through November 22, 1941. At that hearing, 63 witnesses testified and exhibits numbered up to 113 were introduced. The record, which I have myself personally examined, comprises 2,480 pages of stenographic transcript.

On the basis of his observation of the witnesses who testified before him, the arguments of counsel which were frequently injected during the testimony, and an analysis of the record, the Examiner found that respondent company, through its officers and agents, is violating the provisions of section 9 (a) (1) and section 9 (a) (2)[1] of the Act, contrary to the public policy of the United States, and recommended that the Division certify such findings to all departments or agencies of the United States having contracts for the purchase of bituminous coal produced by respondent requesting cancellation and termination of such contracts, as required by section 9 (c) of the Act.[2]

The first part of the Examiner's Report discusses the charge that respondent has failed to accord its employees the right to organize and to bargain collectively with respect to their hours of labor, wages, and working conditions through representatives of their own choosing. The Examiner found, after extensive reference to cases decided under analogous federal legislation, that respondent has for a substantial period failed to bargain in good faith with complainant union, a duly accredited representative of the majority of its employees. Although finding that it had held frequent negotiations with union representatives, the Examiner concluded that respondent was indulging only in "surface bargaining" without any conscientious effort to compose differences, reach an agreement, and thus effectuate the Congressional objective of industrial peace. In the second section of his Report, the Examiner concluded that respondent has, in fact, been guilty of restraining, coercing, and interfering with its employees in the free exercise of their rights under the Act. He found a number of instances in which supervisory employees representing respondent's management made statements which have consistently been regarded by the courts as being of a discriminatory and intimidatory character. In addition, the Examiner concluded that respondent was primarily responsible for a mass attack on a union picket-line during a strike at respondent's mines May 15, 1941. In the third section of his Report, the Examiner found that the Madrid Employees' Club, an organization sponsored and encouraged by respondent or its supervisory employees, was not a "company union" as charged in the complaint.

On September 19, 1942, respondent filed a 54 page brief challenging the conclusions of the Examiner and objecting to various statements and interpretations in his Report. I have carefully considered all of respondent's contentions and have reread portions of the record in the light of those contentions. My own investigation leads me, however, to reject all of the exceptions and objections raised and to adopt and affirm the Report of the Examiner as my own considered judgment.

In view of the Examiner's carefully detailed discussion, I do not believe it either necessary or helpful to attempt further exposition of the details of the evidence pertinent to the questions raised by respondent in its brief. It seems sufficient to point out that many of the objections raised[3] before me are simply restatements of arguments presented to and rejected by the Examiner. Others are predicated on respondent's own interpretation of the facts, which frequently differs from the interpretation of the Examiner. While my own interpretation of particular items of evidence in a few cases also differs slightly from that of the Examiner, I believe that there is substantial support in the record for his inferences and conclusions, and whatever differences may exist in our respective judgments as to the emphasis or interpretation to be given individual isolated facts, the entire record fully confirms the ultimate conclusions reached.

Again, other of respondent's arguments are based upon testimony which the Examiner evidently disregarded as unreliable. Because respondent devotes many pages of its brief to calling attention to the statements of its various witnesses with respect to the assault on the Union's picket-line by non-striking workers, it seems advisable to note that in my opinion the Examiner has reasonably, and with commendable restraint, analyzed highly conflicting versions of that regrettable incident and properly concluded that respondent must bear the ultimate responsibility for it. The testimony of the various supervisory employees on this matter, as set forth in the Examiner's Report, seems to me implausible. While there are at least portions of the testimony of witnesses offered by the Union which are open to similar criticism, I believe that in its entirety the record shows that respondent's supervisory employees, with the express or tacit consent of respondent's president, initiated the meeting held the evening before the assault at which they formulated a plan to discourage Union activities on the picket-line; it seems clear that the large number of non-striking employees who gathered the following morning to make "a show of strength" before the far less numerous men, women, and children on the picket line, came prepared to resort to whatever tactics the exigencies of the carefully planned situation might require. Violence was forseeable, if not deliberately intended. The actual outbreak of such violence appears to have been occasioned irrespective of the actions of the strikers.

With respect to evidence of anti-union statements made to individual employees by supervisors or foremen, I likewise approve the Examiner's acceptance of the employees' versions and his rejection of the denials made by the foremen.

In the light of my examination of the record I conclude, as did the Examiner, that the Madrid Employees' Club was established and perpetuated by important officials or employees of respondent for purposes other than collective bargaining, and for this reason is not an organization outlawed by section 9 (a) (2) of the Act.

In short, without specifically enumerating them, I find each and every objection and exception which respondent makes to the Examiner's Report to be either individually groundless or to have no effect upon the ultimate conclusions reached.

Two matters not discussed by the Examiner may be noted briefly. Apparently for the first time, respondent argues before me that section 9 of the Pituminous Coal Act of 1937 is unconstitutional in that it does not provide proper standards for its administration and because it seeks to regulate labor relations between employers and employees in both interstate and intrastate commerce. Bound as I am to administer and enforce all of the provisions of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, it would seem inappropriate even to venture an administrative judgment on the constitutionality of the statute. I believe, in any event, that respondent's claims are entirely without foundation. When considered in context, section 9 of the Act is certainly no more vague or indefinite than numerous other statutory provisions whose validity has been sustained. See, for example, Sproles v. Binford, 286 U. S. 374, 393 (1932); Hygrade Provision Co. v. Sherman, 266, U. S. 497, 502 (1925); Virginia Railway Co. v. System Federation, 300 U. S. 515, 547 (1937).[4]

[1] In section 9 (a) of the Act it is declared to be the public policy of the United States that: "(1) Employees of producers of coal shall have the right to organize and to bargain collectively with respect to their hours of labor, wages, and working conditions through representatives of their own choosing, without restraint, coercion, or interference on the part of the producers. (2) No producer shall interfere with, restrain, or coerce employees in the exercise of their said rights, nor discharge or discriminate against any employee for the exercise of such rights."

[2] This subsection provides that "On the complaint of any employee of a producer of coal, or other interested party, the Commission may hold a hearing to determine whether any producer supplying coal for the use of the United States or any agency thereof, is complying with the provisions of subsection (a) of this section. If the Commission shall find that such producer is not complying with such provisions, it shall certify its findings to the department or agency concerned. Such department or agency shall thereupon declare the contract for the supply of the coal of such producer to be canceled and terminated."

[3] In particular, respondent urges in a variety of forms that it was financially unable to meet the demands made on it by the Union representatives and for this reason signed no agreement. But, as the Examiner pointed out at page 53 of his Report, claim of financial embarrassment cannot explain away many of respondent's actions which indicate a lack of willingness to bargain in good faith. Again, respondent's failure to meet its statutory obligations cannot be excused, as the Examiner several times pointed out, by what it claims to have been the inflexible attitude of the Union. In renewing these and similar arguments in its brief, respondent takes little or no cognizance of what I believe to be the cogent and persuasive observations in the Report.

[4] For other instances where claims that power had been delegated without sufficient standards for its exercise were rejected, see Mutual Film Corporation v. Industrial Commission of Ohio, 236 U. S. 230, 246 (1915); Mahler v. Eby, 264 U. S. 32, 40-41 (1924); New York Central Securities Corporation v. U. S., 287 U. S. 12, 25-29 (1932); Federal Radio Com-

Likewise, there is no merit in the suggestion that in enacting section 9, Congress has usurped powers under the commerce clause properly reserved to the States. Section 9 would seem to have the same radius of application as other provisions of the Act. Whether activities are or are not of an interstate character or whether they affect interstate activities is to be determined in each individual case. The fact that in a particular instance, although not the present one, it may be difficult to draw a mathematical line does not create any legal objection to the Act. Compare Nash v. United States 229 U. S. 373, 377 (1913); Santa Cruz Fruit Packing Co. v. N.L.R.B., 303 U. S. 453, 467 (1938).

Respondent also suggests that application of the statute leads "to unreasonable results in that it would be impossible for a producer to ever entirely free himself because of his misguided judgment at any time subsequent to June 1, 1937." Respondent's argument seems to be that because the statute does not specifically and expressly provide machinery whereby a producer whose government contracts have been cancelled and terminated pursuant to action under section 9 can regain eligibility for such contracts, it would be improper to make a finding that the producer has been violating those provisions of section 9 which are expressly declared. It seems sufficient to note that under section 2 (a) of the Act the Division is given power to make and promulgate all reasonable rules and regulations for carrying out the provisions of the Act. At this time there seems little reason to prescribe in detail methods by which respondent may purge itself of its violations of section 9. Should respondent subsequently by petition make appropriate application to the Division for reinstatement in good standing and make adequate showing that it is no longer in violation of section 9, an appropriate order will be entered and the departments and agencies affected will be promptly notified of respondent's renewed eligibility for future government contracts. At the present time, however, the record shows that respondent is violating the provisions of section 9. Under these circumstances, I am bound by the statute to certify my finding of such violations to the agencies or departments concerned.

I shall consequently certify to the affected departments or agencies of the United States the following findings:

(1) Pursuant to a complaint filed by Local Union No. 6920 of the United Mine Workers of America, District No. 15, the Bituminous Coal Division has conducted a proceeding to determine whether or not the Albuquerque and Cerrillos Coal Company of Madrid, New Mexico, a producer of bituminous coal in District No. 18, is complying with the provisions of section 9 (a) of the Bituminous Coal Act of April 26, 1937, (50 Stat. 73, 15 U.S.C. Sec. 828 et seq.).

(2) In accordance with recommendations of a duly designated Examiner of the Division who presided at a hearing held November 10 to November 22, 1941, I have this day found that the Albuquerque and Cerrillos Coal Company is not complying with the provisions of section 9 (a) of the Act and that, contrary to the public policy of the United States, it has failed to accord its employees the right to organize and to bargain collectively with respect to their hours of labor, wages, and working conditions through representatives of their own choosing, without restraint, coercion, or interference on the part of the Albuquerque and Cerrillos Coal Company. Rather, I have found that the Albuquerque and Cerrillos Coal Company has interfered with, restrained, and coerced its employees in the exercise of these rights guaranteed by the Act.

(3) I have also found that the Albuquerque and Cerrillos Coal Company is a producer supplying coal for the use of the United States and various of its agencies.

(4) As Director of the Bituminous Coal Division, United States Department of the Interior, I am required by law to certify these findings to all affected departments or agencies of the United States. Section 9 (c) of the Act provides that "such departments or agencies shall thereupon declare the contract for the supply of the coal of such producer to be canceled and terminated."

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION.

Order Requesting Certain Information

To all radio station licensees:

Pursuant to a recommendation of the Board of War Communications, the Federal Communications Commission requests each licensee to submit immediately the information called for in the attached form.[1] Upon receipt of this information from all stations, it is expected that the Commission in cooperation with the War Production Board will work out a plan for the voluntary redistribution of surplus and salvageable radio equipment.

The purpose of this program is to supply to all radio licensees, as well as to government war agencies and others interested, information relative to the availability of surplus or salvageable material. It is anticipated that this will permit some stations to continue uninterrupted operation which might otherwise be forced to remain silent for temporary periods, and at the same time will not require the use of materials and manufacturing facilities urgently needed for essential war purposes. This will also permit stations to dispose of equipment which is of no use to them.

Selling prices should not be quoted. It is understood that the listing of the information sought does not necessarily constitute an offer to sell. However, items which the station is willing to sell should be indicated by an asterisk. This is merely a means of making the information available to interested parties.

In completing the questionnaire it is requested that even though the item listed is a unit of standard manufacture, that adequate description be given to properly identify it both as to its general nature and as to its characteristics such as size, power, frequency range, emission, resistance, capacitance, scale, etc. Information relative to condition of equipment should be specific in all cases, and if the categories mentioned are inadequate or not applicable, further explanation should be given.

Junk, scrap or equipment which cannot be repaired should not be listed. However, these should be otherwise disposed of in the interest of the war effort. Transmitters which are presently licensed (including those for which a construction permit is outstanding) or which are registered under Order 99 should not be listed. The normal spares to the licensed equipment should not be listed; all other equipment should be.

The returned questionnaires will be analyzed, cataloged by items of equipment and distributed as a Federal publication. In order that this program may be effective the information must be current. Therefore, when material listed is no longer available or when additional material becomes available, the Commission should be so advised immediately.

The questionnaire should be completed and returned not later than December 10, 1942, to the Federal Communications Commission, Engineering Department, Surplus Equipment Section, Washington, D. C.

Secretary.

mission v. Nelson Brothers Bond & Mortgage Co., 289 U. S. 266, 285 (1933); Frischer & Co. v. Elting, 60 F. (2d) 711, 713-714 (C. C. A. 2, 1932), cert. denied 287 U. S. 649.

[1] Form filed as part of the original document.

was duly served with a notice of specific charges of violations of Revised Tire Rationing Regulations and of Ration Order No. 5A, Gasoline Rationing Regulations, issued by the Office of Price Administration. Pursuant to the notice a hearing was held on October 14, 1942, in Providence, Rhode Island. There appeared a representative of the Office of Price Administration and respondent. The evidence pertaining to the charges was presented before an authorized presiding officer. The matter having been considered by the Deputy Administrator in Charge of Rationing, it is hereby determined that:

(a) Respondent is a dealer in gasoline and operates a filling station and auto supply store known as LaPierre Auto Supply Company, at 149–151 Cumberland Street, Woonsocket, Rhode Island.

(b) Respondent has violated Ration Order No. 5A, Gasoline Rationing Regulations, (§ 1394.1502), in that on numerous occasions between July 22 and September 21, 1942, respondent transferred gasoline to consumers in exchange for coupons Class A, No. 2 and on numerous occasions between September 22 and October 6, 1942, respondent transferred gasoline to consumers in exchange for Class A, No. 3 coupons.

(c) Respondent has violated Ration Order No. 5A, Gasoline Rationing Regulations, (§ 1394.1503), in that on numerous occasions between August 9 and September 22, 1942, respondent transferred gasoline to a consumer, Roland Joseph Allard, and into the fuel tank of his motor vehicle in exchange for coupons from a coupon book that was not issued for and did not bear the identification of the vehicle into which the transfers were made.

(d) Respondent has violated Revised Tire Rationing Regulations (§ 1315.401), in that on July 25, 1942, respondent transferred three (3) new tires and two (2) new tubes without receiving in exchange therefor any certificate issued by a War Price and Rationing Board, authorizing such transfers. Such transfers were not within any of the classes of transfers of tires permitted by the provisions of the Revised Tire Rationing Regulations to be made without the exchange of certificates or portions of certificates.

(e) Respondent has violated Revised Tire Rationing Regulations (§ 1315.1003), in that between February 28 and October 1, 1942, he failed to take any inventory of the new tires and tubes in his possession and failed to file any quarterly reports.

Because of the great scarcity and critical importance of gasoline and rubber in Rhode Island, violations of the Gasoline Rationing Regulations and the Tire Rationing Regulations have necessarily resulted in the diversion of gasoline and rubber from military and essential civilian uses into nonessential uses in a manner contrary to the public interest and detrimental to the national war effort. It appears to the Deputy Administrator in Charge of Rationing from the evidence before him that further violations of the Gasoline Rationing Regulations and the Tire Rationing Regulations by respondent are likely unless appropriate administrative action is taken, It is therefore ordered:

(f) That during the period from 12:01 A. M. December 10, 1942, to 12:01 A. M. February 7, 1943,

(1) Respondent shall not accept any deliveries or transfers of, or in any manner directly or indirectly receive from any source any gasoline for resale.

(2) Respondent shall not transfer or deliver or otherwise trade or deal in gasoline.

(3) No person shall in any manner, directly or indirectly, transfer or deliver any gasoline to respondent for resale.

It is further ordered:

(g) That during the period from December 10, 1942, to December 31, 1944, unless otherwise ordered by the Deputy Administrator in Charge of Rationing,

(1) Respondent shall not accept any transfers or deliveries of, or in any manner directly or indirectly receive from any source any new or used tires or tubes, recapped tires, or retreaded tires for resale.

(2) No person shall in any manner, directly or indirectly, transfer or deliver any new or used tires or tubes, recapped tires or retreaded tires to respondent for resale.

(3) Respondent shall not directly or indirectly transfer, or otherwise deal or trade in new or used tires or tubes, recapped tires or retreaded tires: Provided, however, That respondent may make transfers of his stocks thereof in his possession at the time this Suspension Order No. 174 is served upon him, with the prior approval and under the supervision of the Regional Administrator of the Office of Price Administration for Region I.

(h) Any term used in this Suspension Order No. 174 that is defined in the Revised Tire Rationing Regulations or in Ration Order No. 5A, Gasoline Rationing Regulations, shall have the meaning therein given it.

(Pub. Law 421, 77th Cong.; Sec. 2 (a) of Pub. Law 671, 76th Cong.; as amended by Pub. Laws 89 and 507, 77th Cong.; E.O. No. 9125 (7 F.R. 2719); WPB Directive No. 1 (7 F.R. 562) and Supplementary Directive No. 1Q (7 F.R. 9121))

BENJAMIN COHEN AND SAMUEL LA POUCHE

ORDER RESTRICTING TRANSACTIONS

Benjamin Cohen and Samuel La Pouche, doing business as Supreme Mineral Water Company and Liberty Club Beverages, 69 Bath Street, Providence, Rhode Island, hereinafter called respondents, were duly served with a notice of specific charges of violations of Ration Order No. 3, Sugar Rationing Regulations, issued by the Office of Price Administration. Pursuant to the notice, a hearing was held on October 15, 1942, in Providence, Rhode Island. There appeared a representative of the Office of Price Administration and respondents. The evidence pertaining to the charges was presented before an authorized presiding officer. The matter having been duly considered by the Deputy Administrator in Charge of Rationing, it is hereby determined that:

(a) Respondents use sugar in their business of manufacturing bottled beverages and soda waters for sale at wholesale.

(b) Respondents have violated § 1407.82 of Rationing Order No. 3, Sugar Rationing Regulations, in that on August 3, 1942, respondents accepted delivery of 10,000 pounds of sugar without surrendering any sugar purchase certificate therefor until August 7, 1942; such delivery was not within the class of deliveries of sugar permitted by Ration Order No. 3 to be made without the surrender of a sugar purchase certificate at or before the time of delivery of such sugar.

Because of the great scarcity and critical importance of sugar in the United States, respondents' violations of the Sugar Rationing Regulations have resulted in the diversion of sugar from military and essential civilian uses to nonessential uses in a manner contrary to the public interest and detrimental to the national war effort. It appears to the Deputy Administrator in Charge of Rationing that further violations of the Sugar Rationing Regulations by respondent are likely unless appropriate administrative action is taken. It is therefore ordered:

(c) That the total allotment of sugar which respondents would otherwise be entitled to receive and use during the period commencing January 1, 1942, and ending February 28, 1942, shall be reduced by 10,000 pounds.

(d) Any terms used in this Suspension Order No. 177 that are defined in Rationing Order No. 3, Sugar Rationing Regulations, shall have the meaning therein given them.

LONE STAR GAS CORPORATION

NOTICE OF FILING AND ORDER FOR HEARING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pa. on the 2d day of December, A. D. 1942.

Notice is hereby given that a declaration has been filed with this Commission pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 by the Lone Star Gas Corporation, a registered holding company. The declarant has designated section 12 (d) of the Act and Rule U-44 of the Rules and Regulations promulgated thereunder as applicable to the transactions proposed. All interested persons are referred to said document which is on file in the office of this Commission for a statement of such proposed transactions which are summarized as follows:

As part of a Plan of Reorganization designed to comply with the requirements of section 11 (b) (1) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 and as a step to comply with this Commission's order approving the Plan and requiring divestment of the properties or securities of Council Bluffs Gas Company (Holding Company Act Release No. 3865), the declarant proposes to sell all of the outstanding securities of Council Bluffs Gas Company, a gas company operating in Council Bluffs, Iowa to Raymond A. Smith of Council Bluffs, Iowa, the nominee of John Nuveen, Jr., of Kenilworth, Illinois. These securities consist of 13,500 shares of common stock, having a par value of $100 each, and a note with an unpaid principal balance at October 31, 1942 of $1,000,000 bearing interest at 4½% per annum. The price to be paid for such securities is $1,325,000 in cash, subject to adjustments based upon excess of current assets over current liabilities reflected on the balance sheet of the Council Bluffs Gas Company at October 31, 1942, which is estimated to be $6,500. Declarant proposes to apply the cash proceeds of said sale toward the payment of certain outstanding indebtedness of the Lone Star Gas Corporation.

The declarant states that Raymond A. Smith, nominee of John Nuveen, Jr., has represented to it that the City of Council Bluffs, Iowa will hold a special election on December 9, 1942 for the purpose of submitting to its voters, among other issues, the question of whether the city shall purchase the properties of the Council Bluffs Gas Company. Smith represents that in the event the city election carries in favor of purchasing such properties, Smith and John Nuveen, Jr., will sell them to the city, pursuant to the terms of a proposal made to the city by one Guy C. Myers, fiscal agent of the city for this purpose, receiving in exchange therefor 3% gas revenue bonds of the city delivered at par in the amount of the purchase price paid by Smith and Nuveen, Jr., to Lone Star Gas Corporation. Smith further represents that if the City of Council Bluffs does not purchase the aforesaid properties, Council Bluffs Gas Company will continue to own and operate them and that the securities of the said company will be owned by Raymond A. Smith or his principal, John Nuveen, Jr.

It appearing to the Commission that it is appropriate and in the public interest and the interest of investors and consumers that a hearing be held with respect to said matters, that said declaration shall not become effective except pursuant to further order of this Commission;

It is ordered, That a hearing on such matters under the applicable provisions of said Act and rules of the Commission thereunder be held on December 15, 1942, at 10:00 a. m., E. W. T., at the offices of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 18th and Locust Streets, Philadelphia, Pa., in such room as may be designated on such date by the hearing room clerk. At such hearing cause shall be shown why such declaration shall become effective. Notice is hereby given of said hearing to the above-named declarant and to all interested persons, said notice to be given to said declarant by registered mail and to all other persons by publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

It is further ordered, That any person desiring to be heard in connection with the proceedings or proposing to intervene herein shall file with the Secretary of the Commission on or before December 10, 1942, his request or application therefor as provided by Rule XVII of the Rules of Practice of this Commission.

It is further ordered, That Robert P. Reeder or any other officer or officers of the Commission designated by it for that purpose shall preside at the hearing above mentioned. The officer so designated to preside at such hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of the Act and to a Trial Examiner under the Commission's Rules of Practice.

It is further ordered, That without limiting the scope of the issues presented by said declaration to be considered in this proceeding, particular attention will be directed at the hearing to the following matters and questions:

1. Whether the consideration to be received by Lone Star Gas Corporation with respect to the securities of the Council Bluffs Gas Company is unfair or unreasonable;
2. What terms and conditions, if any, are necessary to be imposed to insure compliance with the requirements of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 or any rules, regulations, or orders promulgated thereunder;
3. Whether, and to what extent, the property account of Council Bluffs Gas Company contains any inflationary items, intangibles, or abandoned property, which should be eliminated prior to disposition by Lone Star Gas Corporation, and what steps, if any, should be taken to effect any such elimination.
4. Generally, whether all actions proposed to be taken comply with the requirements of said Act and Rules and Regulations or orders promulgated thereunder.

MANDATORY AND OPTIONAL CONTRACT PROVISIONS

Section 81.324 (a) and (b) are amended, paragraph (c) is redesignated paragraph (e) and new paragraphs (c) and (d) are added as follows:

§ 81.324 Termination for convenience of the Government. (a) Every lump-sum supply contract regardless of subject matter, except:

(1) Contracts to be completed in six months or less for an amount of less than $500,000 and

(2) Contracts for an amount of less than $50,000 regardless of the date of completion will contain an article without deviation as follows:

ARTICLE. * * * Termination for the convenience of the Government. (a) The Government may, at any time, terminate this contract in whole or in part by a notice in writing from the Contracting Officer to the Contractor that the contract is terminated under this Article. Such termination shall be effective in the manner and upon the date specified in said notice and shall be without prejudice to any claims which the Government may have against the Contractor, or any claims which the Contractor may have against the Government. Upon receipt of such notice the Contractor shall, except as the Contracting Officer directs otherwise, (1) discontinue all work and the placing of all orders for materials and facilities in connection with performance of this contract, cancel all existing orders chargeable to this contract, and terminate all subcontracts chargeable to this contract; (2) transfer to the Government, by delivery f. o. b. ________________ or by such other means as the Contracting Officer may direct, title to all completed supplies (including spare parts, drawings, information and other things) called for herein, not previously delivered, and partially completed supplies, work in process, materials, fabricated parts, plans, drawings, and information acquired or produced by the Contractor for the performance of this contract; and (3) take such action as may be necessary to secure to the Government the benefits of any rights remaining in the Contractor under orders or subcontracts wholly or partially chargeable to this contract to the extent that such orders or subcontracts are so chargeable. If and as the Contracting Officer so directs or authorizes, the Contractor shall sell at a price approved by the Contracting Officer, or retain at a price mutually agreeable, any such supplies, partially completed supplies, work in process, materials, fabricated parts or other things. The proceeds of such sale or the agreed price shall be paid or credited to the Government in such manner as the Contracting Officer may direct so as to reduce the amount payable by the Government under this Article.

(b) The Government shall, upon such termination of this contract, pay to the Contractor the contract price of all supplies, (including spare parts, drawings, information, and other things) called for herein which have been completed in accordance with the provisions of this contract and to which title has been received by the Government under the provisions of paragraph (a) (2) of this Article and for which payment has not previously been made.

(c) In addition to, and without duplication of the payments provided for in paragraph (b), or of payments made prior to the termination of this contract, the Government shall pay to the Contractor such sum as the Contracting Officer and the Contractor may agree by Supplemental Agreement is reasonably necessary to compensate the Contractor for his costs, expenditures, liabilities, commitments, and work in respect to the uncompleted portion of the contract so far as terminated by the notice referred to in paragraph (a). The Contracting Officer shall include in such sum such allowance for anticipated profit with respect to such uncompleted portion of the contract as is reasonable under all the circumstances.

(d) If the Contracting Officer and the Contractor, within 90 days from the effective date of the notice of termination referred to in paragraph (a) or within such extended period as may be agreed upon between them, cannot agree upon the sum payable under the provisions of paragraph (c), the Government, without duplication of any payment made pursuant to paragraph (b) or prior to the termination of this contract, shall in the above events compensate the Contractor for the uncompleted portion of the contract as follows:

(1) By reimbursing the Contractor for all actual expenditures certified by the Contracting Officer as having been made with respect to the uncompleted portion of the contract;

(2) By reimbursing, or providing for the payment or reimbursement of, the Contractor for all expenditures made with the prior written approval of the Contracting Officer in settling or discharging that portion of the outstanding obligations or commitments of the Contractor which had been incurred or entered into with respect to the uncompleted portion of the contract; and

(3) By paying the Contractor, as a profit on the uncompleted portion of the contract insofar as a profit is realized hereunder, a sum to be computed by the Contracting Officer in the following manner:

(A) The Contracting Officer shall estimate the profit which would have been realized on the uncompleted portion of the contract if the contract had been completed and labor and material costs prevailing at the date of termination had remained in effect.

(B) Estimate, from a consideration of all relevant factors, the percentage of completion of the uncompleted portion of the contract.

(C) Multiply the anticipated profit determined under (A) by the percentage determined under (B). The result is the amount to be paid to the Contractor as a proportionate share of profit, if any, as above provided.

Notwithstanding the above provisions, no compensation shall be paid under this paragraph (d) by way of reimbursement for expenditure, including expenditures made in settling or discharging obligations or commitments, or by way of profit on account of supplies and other things which are undeliverable because of destruction or damage, whether or not because of the fault of the contractor.

(e) The Government shall pay to the Contractor such sum as the Contracting Officer and the Contractor may agree upon for expenditures made and costs incurred with the approval of the Contracting Officer (a) after the date of termination for the protection of Government property, and (b) for such other expenditures and costs as may be necessary in connection with the settlement of this contract, and in the absence of such agreement as to the amount of such expenditures and costs shall reimburse the Contractor for the same.

(f) The obligation of the Government to make any of the payments required by this Article shall be subject to any unsettled claim for labor or material and to any claim which the Government may have against the Contractor under or in connection with this contract, and payments under this Article shall be subject to reasonable deductions by the Contracting Officer on account of defects in the materials or workmanship of completed or partially completed supplies delivered hereunder.

(g) The sum of all amounts payable under this Article, plus the sum of all amounts previously paid under this contract, shall not exceed the total contract price, adjusted in the event that this contract contains an article providing for price adjustment, on the basis of the estimate of the Contracting Officer, to the extent which would have been required by such article if this contract had been completed and labor and materials costs prevailing at the date of termination had remained in effect.

(h) Should the above provisions of this Article not result in payment to the Contractor of at least $100, then that amount shall be paid to the Contractor in lieu of any and all payments hereinbefore provided for in this Article.

(i) The Government shall promptly make partial payments to the Contractor.

(1) on account of the amounts due under paragraphs (b), (c) and (d) of this Article to the extent that, in the judgment of the Contracting Officer, such payments are clearly within the amounts due under such paragraphs, and

(2) of such amounts as the Contracting Officer may direct, on account of proposed settlements of outstanding obligations or commitments, to be made by the Contractor pursuant to paragraph (d) (2) of this Article, if such settlements shall have been approved by the Contracting Officer and subject to such provisions for escrow or direct payment to the persons entitled to receive such settlement payments as the Contracting Officer may require.

(j) Any disputes arising out of termination under this Article shall be decided in accordance with the procedure prescribed in Article 12 of this contract.

(k) Upon the making of the payments called for by this Article, all obligations of the Government to make further payments or to carry out other undertakings hereunder shall cease forthwith and forever, except that all rights and obligations of the respective parties under the Articles, if any, of this contract applicable to patent infringements and reproduction rights shall remain in full force and effect.

(l) The Government shall terminate this contract only in accordance with this Article, except as otherwise provided by law or by Article ______ (Delays-Damages). Notwithstanding Article _______ (Delays-Damages) and any defaults of the Contractor, the Government shall terminate this contract only in accordance with this Article if such termination is simultaneous with or part of or in connection with a general termination of war contracts at, about the time of, or following the cessation of the present hostilities or the end of the present war, unless the Contracting Officer finds that the defaults of the Contractor (1) have been gross or willful and (2) have caused substantial damage to the Government.

The foregoing clause may be inserted in any contract as to which its inclusion is not mandatory. (See also paragraph (c), (d) and (e) of this section.)

(b) Every lump-sum construction contract regardless of subject matter, except:

(1) Contracts to be completed in six months or less for an amount of less than $500,000 and

(2) Contracts for an amount of less than $50,000 regardless of the date of completion, will contain the following clause without deviation:

Article * * * Termination for convenience of the Government. (a) The Government may terminate this contract in whole or in part at any time by a notice in writing from the Contracting Officer to the Contractor, specifying the date upon which such termination shall become effective and the extent to which the performance of such contract shall be terminated. Termination shall be effective upon the date and to the extent specified in said notice.

(b) Upon receipt of the notice of termination the Contractor shall except insofar as the notice directs otherwise with respect to this contract, or, in the event of partial termination, with respect to the part thereof covered by the notice:

(1) Discontinue all work and the placing of all orders for materials and facilities otherwise required for the performance thereof;

(2) Cancel all existing orders and subcontracts to the extent such orders and subcontracts are chargeable to the performance thereof;

(3) Transfer to the Government, in accordance with the directions of the Contracting Officer, all materials, supplies, work in process, facilities, equipment, machinery or tools acquired by the Contractor in connection with the performance thereof, and all plans, drawings, working drawings, sketches, specifications and information for use in connection therewith. If, and as the Contracting Officer so directs or authorizes, the Contractor shall sell at a price approved by the Contracting Officer, or retain at a price mutually agreeable, any such materials, supplies, equipment, machinery, tools, or other things, Provided, however, That the Contractor may retain any such equipment, machinery and tools as of right if he so elects in writing, stating that he will forego reimbursement therefor. The proceeds of any such sale, or the agreed price, shall be paid or credited to the Government in such manner as the contracting officer may direct so as to reduce the amount payable by the Government under this Article.

(4) Take such action as may be necessary to secure to the Government the benefits of any rights remaining in the Contractor under orders or subcontracts chargeable thereto to the extent that such orders or subcontracts are so chargeable;

(5) Take such action as the Contracting Officer may prescribe for the protection and preservation of all property in the possession or control of the Contractor, title to which is transferable to the Government under the provisions of this article.

Should the notice of termination cover only a portion of this contract, the Contractor will proceed to completion of such portions as are not terminated.

(c) Upon compliance by the Contractor with the above provisions of this Article and subject to deductions or credit for payments previously made, and without duplication of any such payments, the Government shall pay the Contractor such sum as the Contracting Officer and the Contractor may agree by Supplemental Agreement is reasonably necessary to compensate the Contractor for his costs, expenditures, liabilities, commitments and work with respect to this contract, other than the expenditures and costs referred to in paragraph (e) of this Article. The Contracting Officer shall include in such sum such allowance for profit with respect to the contract as is reasonable under all the circumstances.

(d) If the Contracting Officer and the Contractor, within 90 days from the effective date of the notice of termination referred to in paragraph (a), or within such extended period as may be agreed upon between them, cannot agree upon the sum payable under the provisions of paragraph (c), the Government shall instead compensate the Contractor in the following manner, subject to deductions or credit for payments previously made, and without duplication thereof, and upon compliance with the provisions of paragraphs (a) and (b) of this Article:

(1) By reimbursing the Contractor for all actual expenditures certified by the Contracting Officer as having been made with respect to this contract, including expenditures made in connection with any portions of the contract which may have been completed prior to termination, as well as expenditures made after termination in completing those portions of the contract which the Contractor may have been required by the notice of termination to complete.

(2) By reimbursing or providing for the payment or reimbursement, the Contractor for all expenditures made with the prior written approval of the Contracting Officer in settling or discharging any outstanding contractual obligations or commitments incurred or entered into by the Contractor with respect to this Contract;

(3) By paying the Contractor, as a profit on this contract, insofar as a profit is realized hereunder, an amount to be computed by the Contracting Officer in the following manner:

(A) Estimate the profit which would have been realized on this contract if the contract had been completed and labor and materials costs prevailing at the date of terminations had remained in effect.

(B) Estimate, from a consideration of all relevant factors, the percentage of completion of the contract including any work performed after termination. In estimating the percentage of completion, the Contracting Officer shall estimate the percentage of the total work required by the contract which the work actually accomplished represents.

(C) Multiply the profit determined under (A) by the percentage determined under (B). The product is the amount to be paid the Contractor as profit.

(e) The Government shall pay to the Contractor such sum as the Contracting Officer and the Contractor may agree upon for expenditures made and costs incurred with the approval of the Contracting Officer (a) after the date of termination for the protection of Government property, and (b) for such other expenditures and costs as may be necessary in connection with the settlement of this contract, and in the absence of such agreement as to the amount of such expenditures and costs shall reimburse the Contractor for the same.

(f) The obligation of the Government to make any of the payments required by this Article shall be subject to any unsettled claim for labor or material and to any claim which the Government may have against the Contractor under or in connection with this contract, and payments under this Article shall be subject to reasonable deductions by the Contracting Officer on account of defects in materials or workmanship.

(g) The sum of all amounts payable under this Article, plus the sum of all amounts previously paid under this contract, shall not exceed the total contract price, adjusted in the event that this contract contains an article providing for price adjustment, on the basis of the estimate of the Contracting Officer, to the extent which would have been required by such article if this contract had been completed and labor and materials costs prevailing at the date of termination had remained in effect.

(h) Should the above provisions of this Article not result in payment to the Contractor of at least $100, then that amount shall be paid to the Contracor in lieu of any and all payments hereinbefore provided for in this Article.

(i) The Government shall promptly make partial payments to the Contractor

(1) on account of the amounts due under paragraphs (c), (d) and (e) of this Article to the extent that, in the judgment of the Contracting Officer, such payments are clearly within the amounts due under such paragraphs, and

(2) of such amounts as the Contracting Officer may direct, an account of proposed settlements of outstanding obligations or commitments, to be made by the Contractor pursuant to paragraph (d) (2) of this Article, if such settlements shall have been approved by the Contracting Officer and subject to such provisions for escrow or direct payment to the persons entitled to receive such settlement payments as the Contracting Officer may require.

(j) Any disputes arising out of termination under this Article shall be decided in accordance with the procedure prescribed in Article * * * of this contract.

(k) Upon the making of the payments called for by this Article, all obligations of the Government to make further payments or to carry out other undertakings hereunder shall cease forthwith and forever, except that all rights and obligations of the respective parties under the Articles, if any, of this contract applicable to patent infringements and reproduction rights shall remain in full force and effect.

(l) The Government shall terminate this contract only in accordance with this Article, except as otherwise provided by law or by Article * * * (Delays-Damage). Notwithstanding Article * * * (Delays-Damages) and any defaults of the Contractor, the Government shall terminate this contract only in accordance with this Article if such termination is simultaneous with or part of or in connection with a general termination of war contracts at, about the time of, or following the cessation of the present hostilities or the end of the present war, unless the Contracting Officer finds that the defaults of the Contractor (1) have been gross or wilful and (2) have caused substantial damage to the Government.

The foregoing clause may be inserted in any contract as to which its inclusion is not mandatory. (See also paragraphs (c), (d), and (e) of this section.)

(c) Authority is hereby delegated to the chief of each supply service, or his duly authorized representative, to amend or to authorize the amendment of any contract with the consent of the contractor, either by inserting therein an article in the form set forth in paragraph (a) of this section, in the case of a lump-sum supply contract, or in paragraph (b) of this section in the case of a lump-sum construction contract, or by substituting an article, substantially in such form, for any article providing for termination for the convenience of the Government, already contained in such contract. The articles may be inserted by amendment in any lump-sum contract as to which their inclusion is not mandatory.

(d) The provisions of the articles set forth in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section furnish more expeditious methods of settlement, than have hitherto been provided, of the amounts due by reason of the termination of contracts for the convenience of the Government, thus reducing expense, expenditure of time, auditing difficulties, and administrative inconvenience, both for Government and for the Contractor. Such provisions will tend to eliminate the obstacles to procurement which arise from the apprehensions, frequently expressed by contractors, that there will be long delays in the making of settlements in the event of termination of contracts for the convenience of the Government, including any such termination taking place as a result of the conclusion of hostilities. Accordingly, supply services will be liberal in making amendments of contracts to include the substance of the aforementioned articles.

(e) On rare occasions, in connection with an initial contract with a contractor for a particular product or type of construction, involving a long period of preparation for the performance of the contract or unusually large development and planning costs, unusual circumstances may give rise to the request that the contractor be given special protection against loss through termination for the convenience of the Government at an early stage of the performance of the contract. In such cases, a full statement of the facts and a draft of any special contract provisions recommended will be submitted through the chief of the supply service negotiating the contract, to the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Services of Supply, for approval.

The last sentence of the clause quoted in § 81.352 is amended by changing the word "winter" to "weather" so as to read as follows:

§ 81.352 Delays-damages clause. * * * The term "excusable delay" as used in this paragraph means any delay in making deliveries which results without fault or negligence on the part of the Contractor and which is due to unforeseeable causes beyond his control including, without being limited to, acts of God or of the public enemy, any preference, priority or allocation order issued by the Government or any other act of the Government, fires, floods, epidemics, quarantine restrictions, strikes, freight embargoes, and unusually severe weather; and, unless the Contracting Officer shall determine that the materials or supplies to be furnished under a subcontract are procurable in the open market, any delay of a subcontractor which results without fault or negligence on the part of the Contractor, and which is due to unforeseeable causes beyond the control of the Contractor, including without being limited to the types of causes above enumerated.

TITLE 32—NATIONAL DEFENSE

Chapter IX—War Production Board

PART 1010—SUSPENSION ORDERS

GENERAL REFRIGERATOR CORPORATION

Paul C. Norwitt, an individual doing business under the trade name of General Refrigerator Corporation, of San Francisco, California, is engaged in the manufacture and sale of new refrigerating equipment and the reconditioning and sale of used refrigerating equipment.

During the period from March 18, 1942, through April 25, 1942, purchase orders bearing preference ratings of A-1-a under Preference Rating Order P-7 for 24 refrigerators were placed with Paul C. Norwitt, doing business under the trade name of General Refrigerator Corporation. From March 18, 1942, through June 19, 1942, he extended these A-1-a preference ratings to obtain 10,800 feet of copper tubing and 151 electric motors despite the fact that only 576 feet of copper tubing and 24 electric motors were necessary to fill the purchase orders of his customer. The improper extension by him of these preference ratings enabled him to obtain excessive deliveries of materials which were not used for the purposes specified in connection with the issuance of the preference ratings, thereby constituting a wilful violation of Priorities Regulation No. 1.

This violation of Priorities Regulation No. 1 hampered and impeded the war effort of the United States by diverting scarce material to uses not authorized by the War Production Board. In view of the foregoing facts, It is hereby ordered, That:

§ 1010.173 Suspension Order S-173. (a) Deliveries of material to Paul C. Norwitt, doing business under the trade name of General Refrigerator Corporation or otherwise, his successors and assigns, shall not be accorded priority over deliveries under any other contract or order and no preference ratings shall be assigned or applied to such deliveries by means of Preference Rating Certificates, Preference Rating Orders, General Preference Orders, or any other orders or regulations of the Director of Industry Operations or the Director General for Operations, except as specifically authorized by the Director General for Operations.

(b) No allocation shall be made to Paul C. Norwitt, doing business under the trade name of General Refrigerator Corporation or otherwise, his successors and assigns, of any material the supply or distribution of which is covered by any order of the Director of Industry Operations or the Director General for Operations, except as specifically authorized by the Director General for Operations.

(c) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve Paul C. Norwitt, doing business under the trade name of General Refrigerator Corporation or otherwise, his successors and assigns, from any restriction, prohibition, or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the Director of Industry Operations or the Director General for Operations, except insofar as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(d) This order shall take effect on December 9, 1942, and shall expire on March 9, 1943, at which time the restrictions contained in this order shall be of no further effect.

PART 3093—GOLD MINING

[Interpretation 1 of Limitation Order L-208, as Amended]

The question has been raised whether the provisions of paragraph (e) of Order L-208 [2] restricting disposition of machinery and equipment of closed gold mines apply only to those mines which were closed on or after October 8, 1942, by virtue of the issuance of the order on that date.

The first general priority action with respect to mines took place on September 17, 1941, with the issuance of Preference Rating Order P-56, under which serial numbers and preference ratings were issued to producing mines. Serial numbers under P-56 were issued on the basis of the essentiality of such production and were denied to certain mines whose production was not regarded as essential.

The proper interpretation of paragraph (e) of Order L-208 freezing machinery is therefore that these restrictions apply to all nonessential mines (as defined in Order L-208), which were operating on or after September 17, 1941, whether or not they were still operating on October 8, 1942.

§ 1358.102 a Maximum prices for imported cigars—(a) Importers' maximum prices. (1) To determine his maximum list price for any particular price class of imported cigars, each importer shall first note from Column 1 of Appendix B, § 1358.117, his March, 1942 stated retail price for such particular price class of imported cigars. He shall then ascertain from Column 3 of Appendix B, § 1358.117, the new maximum retail price for such particular price class of imported cigars; and from Column 4 of Appendix B, § 1358.117, his new maximum list price for such particular price class of imported cigars.

(2) Election to retain March, 1942 stated retail price and other elections to determine maximum prices.

(i) Any importer may elect to retain the March, 1942 stated retail price as the maximum retail price with respect to any particular price class of imported cigars. If he so elects he shall determine from Column 2 of Appendix B, § 1358.117, the March, 1942 list price for such particular price class of imported cigars and such list price shall be his maximum list price therefor.

(ii) If any importer elects to adopt as the maximum retail price for any particular price class of imported cigars set forth in Column 1 of Appendix B, § 1358.117, an amount greater than that set forth in Column 1 of Appendix B, § 1358.117, but less than that indicated therefor in Column 3 of Appendix B, § 1358.117, he shall (a) determine the percentage rate of the increase of the elected maximum retail price over the March, 1942 stated retail price for such particular price class of imported cigars; (b) multiply his March, 1942 list price by the percentage rate determined pursuant to (a); (c) add to his March, 1942 list price the figure determined at (b) hereof. The resulting figure shall be such importer's maximum list price for such particular price class of imported cigars.

(3) To determine his maximum net selling price for any particular price class of imported cigars, each importer shall deduct from his maximum list price for such class of imported cigars, his March, 1942 customary discounts and allowances to the particular class of purchasers in question.

(4) The prices set forth in Appendix B, § 1358.117, are based upon standard quality packings of twenty-five imported cigars to the individual container. All price differentials in packings allowed in March, 1942 shall not be reduced. All price differentials in packings charged shall not be in excess of such differentials of March, 1942.

(5) Any importer whose March, 1942 list price for any particular price class of imported cigars was a net selling price, subject only to a discount for cash, shall determine his maximum net selling price with respect thereto in the following manner:

(i) Divide his March, 1942 net selling price by the list price indicated in Column 2 of Appendix B, § 1358.117, for such particular price class of imported cigars, and

(ii) Multiply the resulting figures by the list price set forth in Column 4 of Appendix B, § 1358.117, for such particular class of imported cigars. Such latter figure shall be the importer's maximum net selling price for such particular class of imported cigars.

(b) Maximum prices for classes other than those set forth in Column 1 of Appendix B, § 1358.117. For all price classes of imported cigars for which no March, 1942 stated retail price is indicated in Column 1 of Appendix B, § 1358.117, the maximum retail price and the maximum list price for any such price class shall be determined as follows:

(1) Add to the March, 1942 stated retail individual unit price or to the stated retail multiple unit price, as the case may be, 10 percentum thereof to determine the maximum retail price for such single or multiple unit respectively. The figure thus arrived at shall be adjusted to the next higher even cent if the fraction is one-half cent or over, and to the next lower even cent if the fraction is less than one-half cent.

(2) Add to the March, 1942 list price per thousand 10 percentum thereof to determine the maximum list price per thousand of such imported cigars.

(3) If the importer shall elect to increase his March, 1942 stated retail price by a percentage rate of less than 10 percent, he shall increase his March, 1942 list price per thousand by a percentage rate not in excess of the percentage rate by which the maximum retail price was adjusted.

(4) To determine his maximum net selling price per thousand for any particular price class of imported cigars, each importer shall deduct from his maximum list price per thousand for such class of cigars his March, 1942 customary discounts and allowances to the particular class of purchasers in question.

(5) The maximum prices determined at subparagraph (4) of this paragraph (b) shall be based upon standard quality packings of twenty-five imported cigars to the individual container. All price differentials in packings allowed in March, 1942 shall not be reduced. All price differentials in packings charged shall not be in excess of such differentials of March, 1942.

(c) Wholesalers' maximum prices. (1) Upon receipt of notification pursuant to § 1358.113 (c) of an adjustment of the stated retail or list prices for any particular March, 1942 stated retail price class of imported cigars, the wholesaler may adjust his maximum list price for such price class of cigars to an amount not in excess of such importer's maximum list price. With reference to his floor-stocks of such particular price class of cigars on the date of receipt of such notification, he shall state in plainly visible numerals upon each box or container of such imported cigars the exact adjusted maximum retail price for each class of imported cigars.

(2) Where any importer elects to retain the March, 1942 stated retail price with respect to any particular price class of imported cigars, the wholesaler's maximum list price shall not be in excess of such importer's maximum list price therefor, or the March, 1942 list price therefor set forth in Column 2 of Appendix B, § 1358.117, whichever is lower.

(3) To determine his maximum net selling price for any particular price class of imported cigars, each wholesaler shall deduct from his maximum list price for such class of cigars, as determined in subparagraphs (1) and (2) hereof, his March, 1942 customary discounts and allowances to the particular class of purchasers in question.

(4) All price differentials in packings allowed in March, 1942 shall not be reduced. All price differentials in packings charged shall not be in excess of such differentials of March, 1942.

(d) Retailers' maximum prices. (1) Upon receipt of notification pursuant to § 1358.113 hereof from the importer or wholesaler of an adjustment of the maximum retail price for any particular price class of imported cigars, the retailer may adjust his maximum retail price for such particular price class of cigars to a maximum retail price only in accordance with such notification. Such notification shall be applicable to floor-stocks.

(2) Where any importer elects to retain the March, 1942 stated retail price with respect to any particular price class of imported cigars, such stated retail price shall be the retailer's maximum price therefor, as set forth in Column 1 of Appendix B, § 1358.117.

(e) Maximum prices for new brands or sizes of imported cigars. Any importer who desires to import and sell a new brand or size of imported cigars may make application to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., for a determination of the maximum list price, the schedule of discounts and allowances and the maximum retail price therefor. Such application shall set forth a full and complete description of all costs to such importer for such new brand or size of imported cigars. The Price Administrator or any duly authorized officer of the Office of Price Administration may by order establish the maximum list price, the schedule of discounts and allowances, and the maximum retail price for any new brand or size of imported cigars which is the subject of an application under this provision: Provided, That any seller of any brand of imported cigars, other than private brands, of a particular size, quality and price class sold or delivered during March, 1942 may sell any such brand at the maximum prices established therefor under §§ 1358.102a and 1358.117, Appendix B, under a new brand name, private or otherwise, without application and order under this provision. Any seller of private brands of imported cigars of a particular size, quality and price class sold or delivered during March, 1942, may sell any such private brand at the maximum prices established therefor under §§ 1358.102a and 1358.117, Appendix B, under a new private brand name, but only as a private brand, without application and order under this provision.

§ 1358.103 Maximum prices set under this regulation cannot be changed. On or before January 15, 1943, each seller of cigars must establish an adjusted maximum list price and an adjusted maximum retail price pursuant to this regulation for each class of cigars sold by him. After January 15, 1943, such maximum price calculated by any seller of domestic cigars under §§ 1358.102 and 1358.116, Appendix A, and by any seller of imported cigars under §§ 1358.102a and 1358.117, Appendix B, of this regulation, shall be his maximum price for that item from that time forward.

On or before the first delivery of any imported cigars after the effective date hereof at a price adjusted under the provisions hereof he shall notify each purchaser of the exact amount of his maximum list price and of the exact amount of the maximum retail price of the particular class of imported cigars in question. PART 1407—RATIONING OF FOOD AND FOOD PRODUCTS

[Restriction Order 1[1] Amendment 6]

MEAT RESTRICTION

A rationale for this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

In § 1407.901 (e) (2) the words "on or" are inserted between the word "hide" and the word "off"; in § 1407.901 (k) the words "with the hide off" are inserted between the words "weighs" and "not;" paragraph (a) of § 1407.904 and paragraph (a) of § 1407.909 are amended to read as set forth below; a new sentence is added at the end of paragraph (b) of § 1407.909; paragraph (f) of § 1407.914a is amended; a new paragraph (f) is added to § 1407.925 to read as set forth below:

§ 1407.909 Deliveries of cutter and canner grades of beef further restricted. (a) No slaughterer shall, during any quota period, deliver to persons other than those referred to in § 1407.912a, more than 20% of the total conversion weight of all controlled meat of cutter and canner grades of federally inspected beef delivered by him during such period. Such 20 per centum shall include all deliveries of such beef after rejection thereof for failure to meet the specifications of exempt purchasers referred to in § 1407.912 (a), or of slaughterers, and shall also include all deliveries of such beef other than in accordance with the procedure prescribed in § 1407.912a.

(b) * * * Deliveries without charge against quota made in accordance with the procedure prescribed by § 1407.912a, shall not be subject to the restrictions of this paragraph.

§ 1407.914a Statements of deliveries from other slaughterers or non-quota slaughterers required. * * *

(f) Within 14 days after receipt of any statement from a slaughterer pursuant to this section, a slaughterer or non-quota slaughterer may send to such slaughterer by registered mail, return receipt requested, a demand for a written statement correcting any inaccuracy claimed to exist therein. Unless such demand is sent by him within such period, a slaughterer receiving such statement shall, for the purpose of computing his own quota bases, be deemed to have delivered controlled meat as stated therein. If the slaughterer to whom a demand is sent makes such correction, the slaughterer or non-quota slaughterer claiming such inaccuracy shall forward the written statement correcting it to the Office of Price Administration and shall, if a slaughterer, adjust his quotas accordingly. If a slaughterer fails to make such correction within 10 days after his receipt of a demand therefor, the slaughterer or non-quota slaughterer who sent the demand may, within 20 days after sending any such demand, apply in writing to the Office of Price Administration for a determination of the facts concerning the contested delivery. Upon receipt of such application, the Office of Price Administration will notify all parties to such dispute of the manner in which evidence shall be submitted and the time allowed therefor. The Office of Price Administration will determine such dispute, and will notify the parties thereto of such determination and of any quota adjustments resulting therefrom. Unless such application is made by him within 20 days after sending such demand, a slaughterer receiving such statement shall, for the purpose of computing his own quota bases, be deemed to have delivered controlled meat as set forth in the statement.

2. Outgoing messages. (a) EFM may be filed at any commercial telegraph, cable, or radio office in the continental United States. Each of these offices has on file a list of all authorized APO cable

Special note: The following extract from section 421 of the Interstate Commerce Act is here quoted for convenient reference thereto by freight forwarders:

> (d) Any freight forwarder, or any officer, agent, employee, or representative thereof, who shall willfully fail or refuse to make a report to the Commission as required under this part, or to make specific and full, true, and correct answer to any question within thirty days from the time it is lawfully required by the Commission so to do, or to keep accounts, records, and memoranda in the form and manner prescribed by the Commission, or shall knowingly and willfully falsify, destroy, mutilate, or alter any such report, account, record, or memorandum, or shall knowingly and willfully file with the Commission any false report, account, record, or memorandum, or shall knowingly and willfully neglect or fail to make full, true, and correct entries in such accounts, records, or memoranda of all facts and transactions appertaining to the business of the freight forwarder, or shall knowingly and willfully keep any accounts, records, or memoranda contrary to the rules, regulations, or orders of the Commission with respect thereto, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be subject for each offense to a fine of not more than $5,000. As used in this subsection, the word "keep" shall be construed to mean make, prepare, or compile, as well as retain.

The regulations set forth in this order pertain only to the accounts, records, and memoranda named or described herein. All accounts, records, and memoranda not indicated in the regulations remain under the prohibition of destruction contained in section 421 of the Act.

It is not intended that these regulations shall be interpreted as requiring that the records herein named shall be installed when such records are not already kept by a freight forwarder.

Regulations to Govern the Destruction of Records of Freight Forwarders.

§ 450.1 Authority to destroy certain records. Each and every freight forwarder subject to part IV of the Interstate Commerce Act and each and every trustee, executor, administrator, or assignee of any such freight forwarder is permitted to destroy the accounts, records, and memoranda named or described in these regulations, after preserving the same for the periods of time respectively specified and upon complying with the requirements of the regulations.

§ 450.2 Preservation of other records; special permission to destroy. All accounts, records, and memoranda of such freight forwarders, other than those the destruction of which is permitted in these regulations, shall remain under the prohibition of destruction contained in section 421 (d) of the Interstate Commerce Act. However, in case any such freight forwarder desires to destroy any accounts, records, or memoranda other than those hereinafter named it may petition the Commission to that effect, exhibiting a full and detailed description of the accounts, records, or memoranda in question, clearly explaining their character, their use, and their purpose; it being understood that any order entered by the Commission on any such petition, shall, unless otherwise provided, be limited in its force and effect to the particular freight forwarder presenting such petition.

§ 450.3 Officer having supervision of destruction. (a) An officer, or, where necessities require, two officers, shall be appointed by the board of directors to have supervision of the destruction of accounts, records, and memoranda. Freight forwarders operated as sole proprietorships or partnerships shall appoint one or two persons to have supervision over the destruction of accounts, records, and memoranda. Such officer or officers or other persons may be given (1) general supervision of the destruction of all accounts, records, and memoranda the destruction of which is permitted by these regulations, or (2) authority over the destruction of such of these accounts, records, and memoranda as may be specified by the board of directors, the sole proprietor, or partners. Pending action by the board of directors, an appointment by an executive committee or by a similarly authorized committee of the board of directors, shall have the same effect as if made by the board of directors.

(b) If the property of a freight forwarder is in the hands of a trustee, executor, administrator, or assignee, the officer or officers to have supervision of the destruction of accounts, records, and memoranda shall be designated by the trustee, executor, administrator, or assignee.

(c) In designating an officer to have general supervision of the destruction of accounts, records, and memoranda it would be preferable to designate by title only, rather than by name and title, and thus obviate the necessity of filing a new resolution each time a successor in the office is appointed.

§ 450.4 Written authority of officer having supervision of destruction. (a) When any accounts, records, or memoranda are to be destroyed, an officer having supervision of the destruction of accounts, records, or memoranda (as designated in compliance with § 450.3 (a) and § 450.3 (b) shall issue a written authority naming the person or persons by whom the accounts, records, or memoranda are to be destroyed (except as provided in § 450.10).

(b) The written authority (1) may be confined to certain accounts, records, and memoranda which have been retained for the periods of time specified in these regulations and which the freight forwarder then desires to destroy in which case it shall indicate:

(i) A list of the accounts, records, or memoranda to be destroyed, expressed either in form numbers or by descriptive titles; and

(ii) The period or periods covered by the accounts, records, or memoranda the destruction of which is authorized, or (2) may be of continuing effect, applying to any or all of the accounts, records, and memoranda named herein as the periods of retention of such accounts, records, or memoranda attain the limits specified herein.

(c) Such written authority, or a certified copy thereof, shall be filed in the office of the issuing officer as a permanent part of the freight forwarder's records. It is not required that copies of the written authorities be filed with the Commission.

§ 450.5 Certificates of destruction. (a) The person or persons upon whom devolves the duty of the direct supervision of the destruction of the accounts, records, or memoranda under the authority referred to in § 450.4 (a) and § 450.4 (b) shall make certificate (except as provided for in § 450.5 (d) and § 450.10) setting forth that the accounts, records, or memoranda listed in the said authority have been destroyed and that no other accounts, records, or memoranda than those so listed have been destroyed therewith.

(b) If an authority as referred to in § 450.4 (b) (2) is given, a certificate of destruction shall be made listing either by form numbers or descriptive titles the accounts, records, and memoranda destroyed, naming the period or periods covered by the accounts, records, or memoranda, and stating that no other accounts, records, or memoranda than those so listed have been destroyed therewith. Either (1) a separate certificate shall be made each time any accounts, records, or memoranda are destroyed, or (2) cumulative certificates shall be made with entries each time any accounts, records, or memoranda are destroyed.

(c) Certificates of destruction shall be forwarded promptly to the officer having supervision of the destruction of accounts, records, and memoranda who issued the written authority, and shall be retained in his office as a permanent part of the freight forwarder's records. If cumulative certificates are made they shall be forwarded to such officer periodically, but at least once every six months. It is not required that copies of the certificates of destruction be filed with the Commission.

(d) Certificates of destruction need not be made for accounts, records, and memoranda, the destruction of which, in the list in § 450.11 hereof, is made optional with the freight forwarder, but a written authority, either for specific records or of continuing effect (except as provided for in § 450.10) shall be issued by the officer having supervision of the destruction of such accounts, records, and memoranda.

§ 450.6 Committee for destruction of certain records. At the option of the freight forwarder the board of directors may from time to time name a committee to destroy canceled stock certificates, bonds, or other records covered by item 5 of § 450.11 in lieu of delegating the authority for the destruction to an officer, as provided in § 450.3 (a). Certificates of destruction giving full descriptive reference to the documents destroyed shall be made by the person or persons appointed by the officer having supervision of the destruction of records or by the committee. When documents represent debt secured by mortgage, the certificates of destruction shall also be authenticated by representatives of the trustees acting in conjunction with the committee or shall have the trustees' acceptance thereon.

§ 450.7 Joint bureaus and agencies. These regulations apply also to the destruction of accounts, records, and memoranda of traffic associations and other joint agencies maintained by or on behalf of freight forwarders. The manager, chairmen, or other officer in charge of the association, bureau, etc., may be delegated by the designated officer of each of the freight forwarders to have supervision of the destruction of accounts, records, and memoranda of the association, etc., and in that event he shall issue all authorities for such destruction, and certificates of destruction shall be filed with him. Otherwise a written authority shall be secured from the pr[illegible]er officer of the member freight forwarders concerned each time any of the accounts, records, or memoranda are to be destroyed, and a certificate of destruction shall be filed with each such officer.

§ 450.8 Method of destruction. (a) The precise method of the destruction of accounts, records, or memoranda is not prescribed. The Commission is not concerned with the method of destruction, whether by fire, sale, or otherwise, so long as the destruction is authorized and a certificate of destruction is filed as required by these regulations.

(b) If the accounts, records, and memoranda are not actually destroyed by the freight forwarder, but are disposed of by sale or otherwise, the certificate of destruction shall so state. Attention is directed to section 421 (f) of the Interstate Commerce Act, which provides that a freight forwarder shall not divulge to any person information concerning the business of a shipper or consignee which may be used to the detriment of such shipper or consignee. Responsibility for possible infringement of this provision of the law by disposing of its records by other than actual destruction would rest with the freight forwarder.

§ 450.9 Accidental destruction of accounts, records, and memoranda. If any accounts, records, or memoranda are destroyed accidentally by fire, flood, or other casualty, a statement shall be prepared listing as far as may be possible the records destroyed and detailing the circumstances in connection with the fire or other casualty. This statement shall be authenticated by an officer or some responsible employee of the freight forwarder and shall be filed with the officer having supervision of the destruction of accounts, records, and memoranda. A copy of the statement shall be filed promptly with the Commission.

§ 450.10 Duplicate accounts, records, and memoranda. Provision is made in item 53 of § 450.11 for the optional destruction of duplicate copies of accounts, records, and memoranda when such copies are not specifically provided for elsewhere in these regulations and when they contain no information not shown on the originals. In destroying such copies freight forwarders may dispense with the written authorities and the certificates of destruction. The originals (or one true copy) shall be retained for the respective periods named for such records in the regulations.

§ 450.11 List of accounts, records, and memoranda, and periods of retention. The following list,[1] indicative of accounts, records, and memoranda of freight forwarders, is specifically referred to by the regulation embodied in § 450.1. The classification of the accounts, records, and memoranda enumerated below under the various headings is merely for convenient reference and is more or less arbitrary. The regulations are intended to apply to the items as named or described, regardless of the classification and regardless of where filed. Of the accounts, records, and memoranda which are to be retained permanently only the more important are indicated in the list, such specific mention being made so that they may not be confused with any accounts, records, or memoranda for which permission to destroy is given herein.

By the Commission, Division 1.

[SEAL] W. P. BARTEL,
Secretary.

WAR DEPARTMENT.

FIXED TEXT RADIO, CABLE, AND SENDER'S COMPOSITION MESSAGES FOR ARMED FORCES STATIONED OUTSIDE U. S.

NOVEMBER 23, 1942.

Circular No. 170, War Department, 1942, as amended by Circulars Nos. 249 and 289, War Department, 1942, is rescinded. These instructions, as published in the FEDERAL REGISTER June 12, 1942 (7 F.R. 4437) and August 25, 1942 (7 F.R. 7570), are rescinded and the following substituted therefor:

1. General. Fixed test personal cablegrams and radiograms to and from members of the armed forces stationed outside the continental United States are authorized where commercial facilities are available and the military situation permits. A method of codified addressing has been designed which will accomplish the expeditious handling of these messages and at the same time provide for the security of information. It is imperative that the instructions outlined in this circular be followed in the address and signature. This type message will be identified by the symbol EFM (Expeditionary Force Messages) and each message will consist of not more than three of the authorized fixed texts given in paragraph 4. An EFM will not be accepted unless the APO or cable address equivalent is listed in paragraph 5 and the rate appears in the "EFM rate" column. Additions to this list will be published from time to time. With few exceptions the EFM filed in the United States will cost 60 cents plus the regular Federal Message tax.

2. Outgoing messages. (a) EFM may be filed at any commercial telegraph, cable, or radio office in the continental United States. Each of these offices has on file a list of all authorized APO cable addresses to which messages may be sent. Each APO has been assigned a two-word address consisting of a six-letter word, the first two letters of which are "AM —" and an eight-letter word such as WATCHDOG. The first word is the APO cable address and the second is the "routing word." A list of APO's for which EFM service is authorized, together with coded addresses, EFM rates, and United States gateways through which messages will pass, is shown in paragraph 5. EFM is available only to those APO cable addresses for which a rate is indicated in column 4, paragraph 5.

(1) Outgoing messages will be addressed showing full name, Army serial number of the addressee, APO cable address, and routing word. This varies the former procedure which required that the name of the addressee be preceded by his grade.

(2) The signature will be that normally used by the sender and is limited to three words or two initials and one word or one initial and two words, but will include the last name in any case. An example of a proper address is:

John L. Wilson, 13257966
AMTRAG WATCHDOG

(3) Arrival cards showing the cable address as well as the mailing address are furnished to the correspondents of military personnel arriving overseas. In certain cases where a temporary APO number has been assigned, this number will not appear in column 1, paragraph 5, but if the cable address supplied by the sender is shown the message will be accepted.

(b) EFM will reach the censorship station in the course of normal routine where the foreign cable or radio terminus point will be substituted for the routing word by Army personnel. The messages then will be returned to the communication companies for transmission.

(c) When the message is received at the foreign cable or radio terminus, it will be turned over to the Army Postal Service for delivery to the addressee. Delivery normally will be accomplished through Army Postal Service channels, but local commanders may vary this procedure where suitable arrangements can be made with the foreign communication carriers, provided suitable records are kept to prove delivery.

3. Incoming messages. (a) In order to insure adequate censorship the following procedure will govern the filing of EFM messages at oversea locations:

(1) Where local conditions permit, commanders will designate an officer of each company or separate unit as the EFM censor for the organization. All personnel of a unit will file EFM with their designated censor only, who will receive the charges therefor. Messages will be censored promptly and where possible filed daily with the most convenient commercial telegraph, cable, or radio station. Telegraph, cable, and radio offices will be informed of the identity of EFM censors and instructed to accept EFM from no other member of United States forces. Commanders will utilize all means available to insure that telegraph, cable, or radio personnel comply. At points where organizations higher than a company are stationed EFM, after being censored by the company or unit censor, may be forwarded through channels to battalion, regimental, or division headquarters to be consolidated and filed by an officer designated for the purpose. It is essential, however, that censorship be accomplished in the company or separate unit to enable the EFM censor to be personally acquainted with each individual in the organization.

(2) At locations where it is not possible to follow the procedure in (1) above EFM messages will be accepted at local APO's or other Army postal agencies by designated officers, who will receive charges therefor, effect necessary censor ship, and file messages at most convenient civil telegraph, cable, or radio office.

(b) All messages will be dispatched showing only six-letter cable address in the preamble. The words "Sans Origine," formerly included in the preamble, no longer are required. The country and city or origin as well as any APO number and all reference to military organization will be omitted. The normal signature of the individual will be used without grade, unit, arm or service, or Army serial number, and will be limited to three words or two initials and one word or one initial and two words, but in any case will include the last name of the sender.

6. Sender's composition messages—(a) Outgoing. (1) Cablegrams and radiograms, the text of which is composed by the sender for delivery to members of the armed forces overseas or to civilians receiving their mail through overseas APO's, may be filed in the United States with any commercial telegraph, cable, or radio company. Such messages are subject to the regular cable or radio rates, depending upon the service classification chosen by the sender. A specially prepared rate pamphlet dated. August 28, 1942, entitled "Sender's Composition Messages to Oversea Personnel in Armed Forces of United States," has been distributed to the telegraph, cable, and radio companies in the United States, quoting rates for sender's composition messages to the oversea cable or radio termini represented by the routing words used in the EFM system. This pamphlet enables the telegraph, cable, or radio company personnel to ascertain the charge appropriate for the message without knowing the geographic location of the APO addressed. Sender's composition messages to members of the armed forces are subject to the same requirements for address as applicable to EFM, the only distinction being that EFM messages must carry the identifying symbol EFM before the address, while for sender's composition messages no special symbol is necessary other than the regular commercial indicator used to denote the class of service chosen.

(2) In the case of sender's composition messages to civilians receiving their mail through oversea APO's, the expression "CIVILIAN" or "CIV" must be shown in place of the Army serial number. For example:

James F. Jones, CIV
AMTRAG WATCHDOG

(3) The signature of all sender's composition messages will be that normally used by the sender and is limited to three words or two initials and one word or one initial and two words, but in any case will include the last name of the sender.

(4) In all respects sender's composition messages will receive the same treatment during the course of transmission and delivery as EFM. They will be subject to the same censorship applicable to regular commercial messages.

(b) Incoming. Messages of the sender's composition from United States military personnel overseas will be filed by the sender personally at any commercial telegraph, cable, or radio office, unless other arrangements are made locally. They will be transmitted to the cable or radio gateway and there subjected to censorship by United States Army censors. All messages will be dispatched showing the six-letter cable address in the preamble. The words "Sans Origine" formerly included in the preamble no longer are required. The country and city of origin as well as any APO number and all reference to military organization will be omitted. The normal signature of the individual will be used without grade, unit, arm or service, or Army serial number, and will be limited to three words or two initials and one word or one initial and two words, but in any case will include the last name of the sender. Messages failing to comply with censorship requirements may be stopped, delayed, or otherwise treated at the discretion of the censor, without notice to the sender. b. If he applies for a commission after his induction, he may appear in person before a board of officers appointed to conduct an appropriate examination and, if recommended by such board, to a grade not higher than that formerly held by him. NOTICE OF FILING

In the matter of Coal Hill Mining Co., Inc., registered distributor, Registration No. 1675.

Notice of filing of application for disposition of compliance proceeding without formal hearing pursuant to § 301.132 of the Rules of Practice and Procedure before the Division.

Notice is hereby given that the Coal Hill Mining Co., Inc., Registered Distributor, Registration No. 1675, (the "Distributor"), on October 10, 1942, filed herein an application dated October 8, 1942, pursuant to § 301.132 of the Rules and Regulations Governing Practice and Procedure before the Bituminous Coal Division for Disposition without Formal Hearing of Compliance Proceedings, and as of November 30, 1942, filed an amendment dated November 3, 1942, to said application.

A Notice of and Order for Hearing (the "Order") was issued herein on September 3, 1942, directing a public hearing in this proceeding for the purpose of determining whether or not the Distributor violated Bituminous Coal Act of 1937 (the "Act"), the Bituminous Coal Code (the "Code"), and rules, regulations and orders promulgated thereunder in performing the transactions set forth in the said Notice of and Order for Hearing which are summarized as follows:

1. Whether the Distributor, acting as a registered distributor, violated paragraphs (c), (d) and (e) of its Distributors' Agreement (the "Agreement") dated June 11, 1940, and Rule 1 (J) of section VII and Rules 3 and 6 of section XIII of the Marketing Rules and Regulations, section 4 Part II (i) (3) and (6) of the Act, and Part II (i) (3) and (6) of the Code by purchasing approximately 5095.1 net tons of various sizes of coal, produced by various code members, physically handling such coal, and prepaying the freight on such coal resold for rail shipment to various purchasers, as more specifically alleged in paragraph 1 of the Order.

2. Whether the Distributor, acting as a registered distributor, violated paragraphs (b) and (e) of its Agreement and section 4 II (e) and (g) of the Act and Part II (e) and (g) of the Code by purchasing approximately 2101.5 net tons of Size Group 5 coal and reselling said coal at prices less than the effective minimum price established therefor by the Division, as more specifically alleged in paragraph 2 of the Order.

3. Whether the Distributor, acting as a registered distributor, violated paragraph (a) of its Agreement by purchasing approximately 104.55 net tons of mine run coal, reselling such coal, and accepting and retaining discounts thereon in excess of the maximum allowable discounts prescribed by rules and regulations promulgated under the Act, as more specifically alleged in paragraph 3 of said Order.

4. Whether the Distributor, acting in the capacity of sales agent for certain code members pursuant to written sales agency contracts, violated paragraphs (c) and (e) of its Agreement by prepaying the freight on sales of coal produced by said code members for rail shipment to various purchasers, as more specifically alleged in paragraph 4 of said Order.

5. Whether the Distributor, acting as a sales agent for various code members pursuant to sales agency contracts which had not been properly filed with the Division and with respect to which applications had not been filed pursuant to Rule 13 of section II of the Marketing Rules and Regulations, violated paragraph (e) of its Agreement by accepting and retaining sales agency commissions in excess of maximum allowable discounts prescribed by rules and regulations promulgated under the Act, as more specifically alleged in paragraph 5 of the Order.

6. Whether the Distributor, acting as a sales agent for certain code members, violated paragraph (e) of its Agreement by selling coal produced by said code members for rail shipment to various purchasers, for which coal minimum prices, temporary or final, had not been established by the Division, as more specifically alleged in paragraph 6 of the Order.

7. Whether the Distributor, acting as sales agent for certain code members pursuant to written sales agency contracts, violated paragraph (e) of its Agreement by accepting and retaining sales agency commissions in excess of those stipulated in said sales agency contracts, as more specifically alleged in paragraph 7 of the Order.

8. Whether the Distributor, acting as sales agent for certain code members pursuant to written sales agency contracts, violated paragraphs (b) and (e) of its Agreement, by selling coal produced by said code members at prices less than the effective minimum prices established for such coal by the Division, as more specifically alleged in paragraph 8 of the Order.

9. Whether the Distributor, acting as sales agent for Culbertson Coal Co., a code member, violated paragraph (e) of its Agreement, by selling approximately 4670.94 net tons of 2 inch nut and slack coal for rail shipment to various purchasers for which coal minimum prices, temporary or final, had not been established by the Division, as more specifically alleged in paragraph 9 of the Order.

10. Whether the Distributor, acting as sales agent for certain code members, violated paragraphs (b) and (e) of its Agreement, by selling Size Group No. 3 coal produced by said code members for rail shipment to various purchasers for which coal minimum prices, temporary or final, had not been established by the Division, as more specifically alleged in the Order. In said application, as amended, the Distributor:

(1) Denies the allegations contained in paragraph 1 of the Order except that it admits the prepaying of freight on all transactions set forth therein and admits receiving a total of $283.95 as discounts from the minimum prices established for coal produced by Pennsylvania Coal & Coke Company, the Pursglove Coal Mining Company, the Reitz Coal Company, W. J. Rainey, Inc., Seger Brothers Coal Mining Company, DuShan Coal Company, Abbie E. Lansberry and Son, and Goshen Valley Coal Company.

(2) Denies the allegations contained in paragraphs 2, 3, and 8 of said Order.

(3) Admits with respect to the allegations contained in paragraph 4 of the Order that it prepaid freight on unidentified tonnages of coal but states, without identification, that some of such allegations of prepayments contained in said paragraph are not good in that some shipments were made to recognized prepay stations.

(4) Admits the allegations contained in paragraphs 5, 6, 7, 9, and 10 of said Order except with respect to tonnage set forth in paragraph 7 of said Order relating to coal produced by the Culbertson Coal Co.

(5) Represents that it has not, to the best of its knowledge and belief, committed any other violations of the Act, the Code, or rules and regulations promulgated thereunder, except that it reived commissions from Kristianson and Johnson Coal Company in excess of prescribed maximum discounts during the period May 19, 1941 to October 8, 1942, inclusive, in addition to the violations alleged in paragraph 5 of the Order. The Distributor agrees to the incorporation of such additional violation in the Order.

(6) Agrees to accept a suspension of its registration as a registered distributor for a period of 30 days with respect to the violations alleged in paragraphs 1 and 4 of the Order, and agrees in addition to return to the following named code members the aforesaid discounts in the amount of $283.95, accepted with respect to transactions set forth in paragraph 1 of the Order, as follows:

Code member producer:	Discounts
Pennsylvania Coal & Coke Co	$145.40

and to return to the following named code members the entire sales agency commissions in the amount of $938.77 received in connection with the transactions set forth in paragraph 7 of the Order except as to the said Culbertson Coal Co., as follows:

and to return excess sales agency commissions in the amount of $155.74 to James A. White Coal Company and in the amount of $5.62 to Appalacha Coal Company received in connection with transactions described in paragraph 5 of the Order, but does not agree to return the other excess commissions described in said paragraph 5.

The Distributor further agrees to the issuance herein of a cease and desist order.

(6) Agrees to execute any and all papers and other documents necessary for the disposition of this proceeding in the event that said application, as amended, is granted.

(7) States, as extenuating circumstances with respect to the transactions described in paragraph 5 of the Order that it had been informed by all of its code member principals named in said paragraph that the sales agency contracts together with all appropriate applications therefor had been properly filed with the Bituminous Coal Division with the exception of the sales agency contracts between the Distributor and James A. White Coal Company, and the Appalacha Coal Company. The Distributor also states that it does not agree to return all excess commissions described in said paragraph 5 because it does not believe that it should be penalized for relying on the aforesaid representations made to it by its code member principals. The Distributor further states that as a result of the Order it is taking steps to ascertain from the Division and from all code member principals when it acts as a sales agent the status of all sales agency contracts which it has executed and will in the future examine the status of all further sales agency contracts which it executes in order that it may never again be cited for similar violations.

States, as extenuating circumstances with respect to the allegations contained in paragraphs 6, 9, and 10 of the Order, its belief that it should not be penalized for mistake or error on the part of its code member principals on whom it relied for advice as to the proper filing of sales agency contracts and applications in connection therewith and therefore does not agree to the suspension of its registration as a registered distributor or to return any commissions received in connection with the transactions described in said paragraphs 6, 9, and 10.

The Distributor further states in connection with said transactions described in said paragraphs 6, 9, and 10 that the code members named in said paragraphs were advised by the Bituminous Coal Producers Board for District No. 1 that it would be proper for such producers to ship coal by truck pending the establishment of prices for rail shipment of coal produced by such code members due to an inadvertent failure by the board to establish prices for rail shipment of such coal, provided that such coal should be sold for rail shipment at the minimum prices established for truck shipment of such coal. The Distributor further states that such consultation by it and its code member principals constituted reasonable efforts to determine the proper manner of conducting their business which removes any element of wilful violations in performing the transactions described in said paragraphs 6, 9, and 10.

Interested parties desiring to do so may within fifteen (15) days from the date of this notice file recommendations or requests for informal conferences with respect to the above-described application, as amended.

Dated: December 7, 1942.

Director.

PART 1095—COMMUNICATIONS

[Preference Rating Order P-130 as Amended Dec. 9, 1942]

§ 1095.3 Preference Rating Order P-130—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Operator" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, receiver, or any form of enterprise whatsoever, whether incorporated or not, the United States, the District of Columbia, any state or territory of the United States and any political, corporate, administrative or other division or agency thereof, to the extent engaged in rendering telephone communication service (and such telegraph and teletypewriter service as may also be conducted by him), within, to, or from the United States, its territories or possessions.

(2) "Material" means any commodity, equipment, accessory, part, assembly, or product of any kind.

(3) Without regard to whether or not the expenditures therefor are for any reason required to be recorded in the operator's accounting records in accounts other than maintenance and repair:

(i) "Maintenance" means the upkeep of an operator's property and equipment in sound working condition.

(ii) "Repair" means the restoration, without thereby increasing existing facilities, of an operator's property and equipment which has been rendered unsafe or unfit for service by wear and tear, damage, destruction of parts, or similar cause.

(4) "Operating supplies" means any material which is essential to and consumed in the operation of communication services by an operator but does not include any material which is physically incorporated in whole or in part in the property or equipment of the operator.

(5) Material for maintenance, repair or operating supplies for the purpose of this order shall not include material used for:

(i) The improvement of an operator's property or equipment through the replacement of material which is still usable in the existing property or equipment with material of a better kind, quality, or design;

(ii) Additions to or expansion of the operator's existing property or equipment.

(6) "Operating construction" means the use of materials by an operator for such construction of exchange and toll plant (including such telegraph and teletypewriter service as may be conducted by an operator) as is permitted under the provisions of General Conservation Order L-50 as amended from time to time.

(7) "Operator's inventory of material" shall include all items of new and/or salvaged material and supplies on hand, whether held for current use or for sale as junk, until physically incorporated into plant by way of maintenance, repair, operating construction or otherwise, and without regard to whether or not such items of material are carried in the operator's accounting records under "Material and Supplies Account" exclusive nevertheless of:

(i) Any equipment of a superseded type reserved by an operator for reuse, as a practical measure of conservation to meet probable future operating contingencies;

(ii) Any material identified for use in projects which have been specifically authorized by the War Production Board upon application of an operator;

(iii) Any operating supplies which are in the process of being consumed by an operator.

(8) "Equipment of a superseded type" as used in paragraph (a) (7) (i) above shall not apply to such equipment drawn from superseded stock to replenish current working inventories nor to material which is no longer usable and is junk nor shall it apply to regular items which are no longer manufactured because of restrictions or limitations imposed by the War Production Board; but said terms means equipment which is:

(i) No longer manufactured or carried by the manufacturer as a regular item for sale to operators except for repair and maintenance or for additions to existing installations; or (ii) Of such character that were it not for the possibility of using it to meet service requirements of the war program the operator would hold it only for use for maintenance or repair or for additions to existing installations, and, if not thus required, would dispose of it by sale as usable equipment or junk.

(b) Assignment of preference rating. (1) Subject to the terms of this order, the following preference ratings are hereby assigned to operators:

(i) AA-5 for deliveries to an operator of material required by him for maintenance, repair, operating supplies or operating construction.

(ii) For deliveries to an operator of material required by him for the construction of facilities necessary to serve defense projects bearing a rating of AA-5 or better, the same rating as is assigned to such defense project; except that where such project is assigned two or more ratings and both or all of these are AA-5 or better, such deliveries to an operator are assigned the lowest rating which is assigned to such defense project.

(iii) AA-2X for deliveries to an operator of material, required by him for repair of an actual break-down of existing facilities (other than buildings), provided that such AA-2X rating shall not be applied to more than 30% of the material which could be used for any purpose in each calendar quarterly period under the provisions of paragraph (e) (2) of this order. Provided, further, that in no event shall the dollar value of materials used under this rating together with the dollar value of other materials used pursuant to paragraph (e) (2) hereof, exceed, during the quarter the rating is so applied and the three next succeeding calendar quarters, 110% of the aggregate dollar value of materials used for maintenance, repair, operating supplies and operating construction during the calendar year 1940.

(2) Application and extension of ratings. The ratings assigned by paragraph (b) (1) above shall be applied and extended in accordance with Priorities Regulations Numbers 1 and 3, as amended from time to time.

(3) In addition to the requirements of paragraph (b) (2) above, an operator:

(i) In order to apply the preference rating assigned by paragraph (b) (1) (ii), shall first file Form PD-685 with the Communications Equipment Division, War Production Board, Washington, D. C., Ref.: P-130, setting forth in detail the appropriate information requested on such form, and in addition thereto, such other information as may be from time to time required. The Director General for Operations will thereupon notify the operator whether and to what extent the application is approved.

(ii) Who applies the preference rating assigned by subparagraph (b) (1) (iii) shall execute and file Form PD-684 with the Communications Equipment Division, War Production Board, Washington, D. C., Ref.: P-130, setting forth in detail the appropriate information requested on such form, and in addition thereto, such other information as may be from time to time required.

(c) Restrictions on use of rating. (1) In addition to the limitation in paragraph (c) (3) below, the preference ratings hereby assigned shall not be applied by an operator:

(i) To obtain deliveries of materials containing copper, iron, steel, or nickel where such metals could be eliminated from said materials by the substitution of less scarce metals without serious loss of efficiency in the use of said materials.

(ii) To obtain material for operating construction as defined in paragraph (a) (6) for exchange plant of any kind (exclusive of telegraph and/or teletypewriter plant) or for toll telephone central office equipment or for combined exchange and toll telephone central office equipment where the cost of such material to which the rating is applied in any single case exceeds $2500 or the total cost of material (both new and reused) in a single case exceeds $5000, or, to obtain PBX switchboards required to serve subscribers other than those set forth in paragraphs (e) (1) (i) and (e) (1) (ii) of General Conservation Order L–50.

(iii) To obtain material for operating construction as defined in subparagraph (a) (6) for toll line plant where the cost of material (both new and reused) in any single case exceeds $500.

(iv) To obtain material for operating construction as defined in paragraph (a) (6) for telegraph and/or teletypewriter plant unless the same is required to meet the demands of the service categories included in paragraph (e) (1) (i) of General Conservation Order L–50 and the cost of material (both new and reused) in any single case does not exceed $500.

(v) The foregoing dollar limitations in paragraphs (c) (1) (ii), (c) (1) (iii) and (c) (1) (iv) shall not apply to the portions of the material or equipment obtained from the operator's inventory or plant to meet temporary traffic or emergency requirements other than those occasioned by regularly recurring seasonal or holiday requirements. Any material or equipment so employed to meet such requirements shal be, upon the termination of such temporary traffic or emergency requirement, restored to the location in plant from which it was taken, if the service requirements at that time justify, or placed in inventory. In case the requirement for use of such material or equipment extends in any single instance beyond a period of thirty (30) days, the operator shall on or before the thirtieth day of such use make application to the War Production Board, Washington, D. C., Ref. P–130 on Form PD–716 for authorization to continue the use of such material or equipment, setting forth in detail the appropriate information requested on such form, and in addition thereto, such other information as may be from time to time required.

(vi) Excepted from the foregoing provisions of paragraphs (c) (1) (ii), (c) (1) (iii) and (c) (1) (iv) are all materials authorized under the provisions of paragraph (b) (1) (ii) on Form PD–685.

(2) An operator by applying or extending any preference ratings hereby assigned thereby represents to the seller and to the War Production Board that the material thus to be acquired will be used in conformity with all provisions of General Conservation Order L–50, as amended from time to time, and in addition that the acquisition of such material will not violate the provisions of paragraph (e) (1) hereof, or that such acquisition and/or use has been specifically authorized by the Director General for Operations.

(3) No operator shall subdivide a single order, job, or project to qualify the same under the terms of this order.

(d) Reports. Each operator affected by this order shall file such reports and questionnaires with the War Production Board as may from time to time be required by the Director General for Operations.

(e) Restrictions on deliveries, inventory, and use. (1) On and after October 15, 1942, except as provided in paragraph (e) (3) below, no operator who has applied the rating assigned hereby shall at any time accept deliveries of material (whether or not rated pursuant to this order) to be used for any purpose:

(i) Until the dollar value of the operator's inventory of material shall have been reduced to a practical working minimum. Such practical working minimum shall in no event exceed 27½% of the dollar value of material used for all purposes during the calendar year 1940.

(ii) Where the receipt thereof shall increase the dollar value of the operator's inventory of material to an amount in excess of normal requirements which in no event shall exceed 27½% of the dollar value of material used for all purposes during the calendar year 1940.

(2) Except as provided in paragraph (e) (3) below, no operator who has applied the rating assigned hereby shall, during any calendar quarterly period, withdraw material from his inventory of material, for use for maintenance, repair, operating supplies, and operating construction the aggregate dollar value of which shall exceed 110% of the aggregate dollar value of such material used during the corresponding quarter of 1940, or at the operator's option 27½% of the aggregate dollar value of such material used during the calendar year 1940.

(3) (i) Any operator whose average value of inventory of material for the five calendar years prior to January 1, 1942, did not exceed $10,000, shall be exempt from the provisions of subparagraph (1) above.

(ii) Any operator whose use of materials for the year 1942 does not exceed $10,000, shall be exempt from the provisions of subparagraph (2) above.

(iii) Material delivered pursuant to paragraph (b) (1) (ii), shall be exempt from the provisions of subparagraphs (1) and (2) above.

(iv) From time to time, the Director General for Operations may determine that certain operators are exempt in whole or in part from the restrictions contained in subparagraphs (1) and (2) above.

(v) The ratings assigned in paragraphs (b) (1) (i) and (b) (1) (iii) may not be used to obtain automotive replacement parts as defined by Order L–158.

(f) Sales of material from excess stock. Any operator may sell to any other operator materials from the seller's excess stocks or inventories, provided that a preference rating of A–1–c or higher assigned by this order, or any preference rating certificate, order, or other direction issued by the Director General for Operations is applied or extended to the operator selling such materials; and any such sale shall be expressly permitted within the terms of paragraph (c) (2) (iii) of Priorities Regulation No. 13.

Issued this 9th day of December, 1942.

ERNEST KANZLER,
Director General for Operations.

INTERPRETATION 1

Question has been asked as to the meaning of the phrase "equipment of a superseded type" as employed in paragraph (a) (7) (i) of Order P–130, as amended September 8, 1942.

Telephone and telegraph equipment is of a "superseded" type, within the meaning of this subparagraph, if it is usable, in its present state of repair, by the operator in a practical manner in his existing plant and is not currently being put into service, and in addition is either:

(a) No longer manufactured or carried by the manufacturer as a regular item for sale to operators; or

(b) Of such character that, were it not for the present and reasonably anicipated service requirements of the war program, the operator would not place it back into service or would dispose of it by sale as usable equipment or as junk. (Issued October 17, 1942.)

PART 1382—HARDWOOD LUMBER

NAVY OAK SHIP STOCK

In the judgment of the Price Administrator the maximum prices for Navy oak ship stock which previously have been established under the General Maximum Price Regulation in certain areas, and under the various specific hardwood lumber regulations in other areas, should be put under one comprehensive specific dollars and cents maximum price regulation. In issuing this regulation, the Price Administrator has ascertained and given due consideration to the prices of Navy oak ship stock prevailing between October 1 and October 15, 1941, and has made adjustments for such relevant factors as he has determined and deemed to be of general applicability. So far as practicable the Price Administrator has advised and consulted with representative members of the industry which will be affected by this regulation. In the judgment of the Price Administrator the maximum prices established by this regulation are and will be generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942. A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this regulation has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Therefore, under the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 as amended, and Executive Order No. 9250, Maximum Price Regulation 281—Navy Oak Ship Stock is hereby issued.

AUTHORITY: §§ 1382.201 to 1382.212, inclusive, issued under Pub. Laws 421 and 729, 77th Cong.; E. O. 9250, 7 F. R. 7871.

§ 1382.201 Sales of Navy oak ship stock at higher than maximum prices prohibited. (a) On and after December 14, 1942, regardless of any contract or other obligation, no person shall sell or deliver and no person shall buy or receive in the course of trade or business, any Navy oak ship stock at prices higher than the maximum prices fixed by this regulation, and no person shall agree, offer or attempt to do any of the foregoing; Provided, That deliveries may be made up to January 1, 1943 under contracts made subsequent to November 1, 1942 and prior to December 14, 1942 at maximum prices authorized for particular mills by the Office of Price Administration. The maximum f. o. b. mill prices are set forth in Appendix A (§ 1382.212 below).

(b) Prices lower than the maximum prices may, of course, be charged and paid.

§ 1382.202 To what transactions, products, and persons this regulation applies—(a) What transactions are covered. The maximum prices established by this regulation apply to all sales and deliveries of Navy oak ship stock whether made by mills, wholesalers, commission men, or any other persons. The application of the regulation is not limited to direct mill shipments as is the case in many lumber regulations.

(b) What products are covered. This regulation covers all oak ship stock in the grades named in the price tables in Appendix A, (§ 1382.211 below) wherever manufactured.

All grades have the specifications prescribed by the United States Navy Department.

(c) What persons are covered. Any person who makes the kind of sale covered by this regulation is subject to it. The term "person" includes an individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group; their legal successors or representatives; the United States, or any government, or any of its political subdivisions; or any agency of any of the foregoing.

§ 1382.203 How to figure delivered prices — (a) Transportation addition. The transportation charges set forth below may be added to the maximum f. o. b. mill prices set forth in Appendix A (§ 1382.211 below):

(1) Common or contract carrier. The amount added for transportation must not be more than the amount actually paid to the common or contract carrier, evened out to the nearest quarter-dollar per M′. Estimated weights may not be used.

(2) Private truck. When shipment is by truck owned or controlled by the seller, the amount added for transportation may not be more than the actual cost to the seller of delivery by truck; and, no matter what the actual cost is, the amount added may not be more than the railroad charge at the carload rate for the most similar haul. However, if the railroad charge is less than $1.50, and if the actual cost of delivery is more than $1.50, a transportation charge of $1.50 may be made. In any event, if the actual cost is less than the railroad carload charge, or less than $1.50, only the actual cost may be added.

(3) Trucking to railhead. When a truck haul precedes rail shipment, as where a mill located away from a railhead hauls lumber by truck to the railhead, no addition may be made for the truck haul. However, in the following three cases a mill may apply for special permission to make an addition:

(i) Where the mill was located away from rail connections because it specialized in water-borne lumber, and where shortage of shipping has forced it to operate by rail;

(ii) Where the mill prior to the shortage of tires and gasoline shipped lumber to the particular final destination principally by all-truck haul, and now wishes to convert to truck-and-rail haul to save tires and gasoline;

(iii) Where a mill's rail connection has been abandoned since September 5, 1941.

The application should be made by letter to the Lumber Branch of the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C. The addition may not be made on quotations or sales until permission has been received.

(4) Truck delivery after rail haul. When truck delivery follows a rail haul, the actual cost of truck delivery may be added.

(5) All-truck haul. When an all-truck haul ends in delivery to the job site, no special addition may be made above the charges provided in subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph, since in this case delivery to the job site involves no extra expense.

§ 1382.204 What the invoice must contain—(a) General. Because of the large number of possible additions to the basic f. o. b. mill prices, it is necessary that some of them be separately shown on the invoice; otherwise the purchaser and the Office of Price Administration could not tell, in many cases, whether a price which appeared to be above the ceiling was legal or not.

Failure to invoice properly is just as much a violation of this regulation as charging an excessive price.

(b) Basic price. All invoices must contain a sufficiently complete description of the lumber to show whether the price is proper or not. Any working, specification, quantity, or extra which affects the maximum price must be mentioned in the description. The amount added does not have to be separately shown, except in a few special cases which are specifically mentioned in paragraph (d) below.

(c) Transportation charges. In delivered sales, the invoice must contain: (1) the point of origin of the shipment; (2) the destination; (3) the rail or truck rate (or, if a private truck is used, the amount added for transportation); (4) the words "Direct-mill shipment".

(d) Delivery, and custom kiln drying charges. Any separate charge which the seller is permitted to make for the following must be separately shown on the invoice: (1) truck delivery before or after rail haul; (2) custom kiln drying. The invoice of the custom kiln must be attached to the lumber invoice of the seller.

§ 1382.205 Prohibited practices—(a) General. Any practice which is a device to get the effect of a higher-than-ceiling price without actually raising the price is as much a violation of this regulation as an outright over-ceiling price. This applies to devices making use of commissions, services, transportation arrangements, premiums, special privileges, tying-agreements, trade understandings and the like.

(b) Specific practices. The following are among the specific practices prohibited:

(1) Getting the effect of a higher price by changing credit practices or cash discounts from what they were in October 1941. This includes reducing the cash discount period, decreasing credit periods, or making greater charges for extension of credit.

(2) Refusing, without good reason, to ship except in small quantities, or under other circumstances which bring the seller an extra return.

(3) Refusing, without good reason, to ship lumber in grades specified in the regulation.

(4) Wrongly grading or invoicing lumber in any way.

§ 1382.206 Relation to other regulations—(a) Applicability of existing maximum price regulations. The provisions of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 281 supersede the provisions of all existing regulations, including specific hardwood regulations and the General Maximum Price Regulation,[1] relating to the grades and items of lumber covered by this regulation. All specific prices for any of the grades or items of lumber covered by this regulation which previously have been authorized for particular mills under any of the special grade provisions of existing lumber maximum price regulations are hereby revoked, and such prices are superseded by the maximum prices established by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 281 except as provided in § 1382.201 (a) above.

(b) Maximum Export Price Regulation.[2] The maximum prices for export sales of Navy oak ship stock are covered by the Revised Export Maximum Price Regulation.

§ 1382.207 Petitions for adjustment and amendment—(a) Government contracts. (1) The term "government contract" is here used to include any contract with the United States of America or any of its agencies, or with the government or any governmental agency of any country whose defense the President deems vital to the defense of the United States, under the terms of the Act of March 11, 1941, entitled "An Act to Promote the defense of the United States". It also includes any subcontract under this kind of contract.

(2) Any person who has made or intends to make a "government contract" and who thinks that a maximum price in this regulation is impeding or threatens to impede production of lumber which is essential to the war program and which is or will be the subject of the contract, may file an application for adjustment in accordance with Procedural Regulation No. 6.

(3) As soon as the application is filed, deliveries and payments may be made at the requested price, subject to refund if the requested price is disapproved or lowered. The seller must tell the buyer that the delivery is made subject to this refund.

(b) Petitions for amendment. Any person seeking an amendment of any provision of this regulation, may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1,[3] issued by the Office of Price Administration.

§ 1382.208 Records and reports—(a) Records. All sellers of navy oak ship stock must keep records which will show a complete description of the item of lumber sold, the name and address of the buyer, the date of the sale and the price. Buyers must keep similar records, including the name and address of the seller. These records must be kept for any month in which the seller or buyer sold or bought $500.00 worth or more of oak ship timber. They must be kept for two years, for inspection by the Office of Price Administration.

Any records which the Office of Price Administration later requires must also be kept.

(b) Reports. Any reports that the Office of Price Administration requires must be submitted.

§ 1382.209 Enforcement and licensing. (a) Persons violating any provision of this regulation are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, suits for treble damages, and proceedings for revocation of licenses provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942.

(b) Persons who have evidence of any violation of this regulation or of any other regulation or order issued by the Office of Price Administration are urged to communicate with the nearest field, state, or regional office of the Office of Price Administration or its principal office in Washington, D. C.

(c) War procurement agencies and their contracting or paying finance officers are not subject to any liability, civil or criminal, imposed by this regulation. "War procurement agencies" include the War Department, the Department of the Navy, the United States Maritime Commission and the Lend-Lease Section in the Procurement Division of the Treasury Department, or any of their agencies.

(d) The provisions of Supplementary Order No. 18 (§ 1305.22) licensing persons selling lumber, lumber products, or building materials, are applicable to every person, except mills making sales of Navy oak ship stock for which maximum prices are established by this regulation. This order, in brief, provides that a license is necessary, except for mills to make sales under this regulation. A license is automatically granted to all sellers required to be licensed. It is not necessary to apply specially for the license, but a registration may later be required. The Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 and Supplementary Order 18 tell the circumstances under which licenses may be suspended. A license cannot be transferred.

§ 1382.210 Geographic applicability. The provisions of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 281 shall apply to the forty-eight states of the United States and the District of Columbia.

§ 1382.211 Effective date. (a) This Maximum Price Regulation No. 281 (§§ 1382.201 to 1382.212, inclusive) shall become effective December 14, 1942.

(b) If Navy oak ship stock has been received before December 14, 1942, by a carrier other than one owned or controlled by the seller, for shipment to a buyer, that shipment is not subject to this regulation. It remains subject to the terms of any regulation (whether the General Maximum Price Regulation,[4] or a specific hardwood maximum price regulation) which covered it at the time the stock was turned over to the carrier.

§ 1382.212 Appendix A: Maximum prices for Navy oak ship stock. (a) The maximum prices for Navy oak ship stock are as set forth below. These prices are f. o. b. mill for 1,000 ft. of Navy oak ship stock, in the grade specifications of the United States Navy Department.

(4) Complete ship schedule. When any seller furnishes and delivers all of the white oak select car stock and white oak ship planking included in a complete Navy schedule of such material, according to the schedule of quantities and sizes, and in accordance with the specifications of the Navy Department, the maximum f. o. b. mill price for 1,000 feet of such material shall be as follows:

Designation of schedule:	Maximum f. o. b. mill price
YT	$135.00
ATR	140.00

If any portion of the material included in any of these schedules is furnished in red oak, the maximum prices shall be adjusted accordingly.

(b) Prices for specific sizes not in schedules. The maximum prices for material of a length not included in this schedule shall be determined by adding to the maximum price for the next shorter length the proportionate amount of the difference between the maximum price of such next shorter length and the maximum price of the next longer length.

The maximum price for material of width and thickness dimensions not included in these schedules shall be determined as follows:

(1) In case the thickness is included in the schedule, but the width is not, the maximum price shall be the maximum price for material of the specified thickness and of the next higher width included in the schedule. For example; 8′′ x 23′′=8′′ x 24′′.

(2) In case the width is included in the schedule, but the thickness is not, the maximum price shall be the maximum price for the material of the specified width and the next higher thickness included in the schedule. For example; 9′′ x 28′′=10′′ x 28′′.

(3) In case neither the thickness nor width is included in the schedule, the maximum price shall be the maximum price for the material one inch thicker and one inch narrower. For example; 7′′ x 19′′=8′′ x 18′′.

(4) For purposes of these schedules, dimensions containing fractions of an inch shall be considered as dimensions of the next higher whole number of inches. For example; 7½′′ x 9½′′=8′′ x 10′′.

(c) Surfacing addition. For furnishing material S4S an addition of $6.00 per MBM may be added.

(b) Sellers at wholesale shall determine their maximum delivered selling prices for "McCormick's Baking Magic" by adding to their net cost per dozen of each size, a maximum profit of 20 percent of this net cost. The maximum prices so determined shall not exceed 86¢ per dozen for the one-ounce size, and $1.46 per dozen for the two-ounce size. "Net cost" for a wholesaler as mentioned in this paragraph shall be his invoice cost at his customary station of destination less all discounts allowed him except the discount for prompt payment. No drayage, loading or unloading charges shall be included in "net cost".

Sellers at wholesale customarily supplied by McCormick and Company's warehouse in San Francisco shall determine their maximum selling prices in the same manner as provided above, and such selling prices shall not exceed $0.98 per dozen for the one ounce size and $1.64 per dozen for the two ounce size.

(c) Sellers at retail shall determine their maximum delivered selling prices per bottle for "McCormick's Baking Magic" by adding to their net cost per dozen for each size a maximum profit margin of 35 percent to this net cost and dividing the figure so obtained by twelve. The maximum prices so determined shall not exceed 10¢ per bottle for the one ounce size and 16¢ per bottle for the two ounce size. "Net cost" to a retailer shall mean his invoice price paid for a purchase of a customary quantity of this type of commodity from his customary supplier and by the customary mode of transportation, if any. No charge for drayage, hauling, loading or unloading shall be included as part of the "net cost".

* * * * *

(f) McCormick and Company shall mail or otherwise supply to their buyers at the time of, or prior to the first sale to such buyer by McCormick and Company of "McCormick's Baking Magic" a written notice as follows:

> The Office of Price Administration has authorized McCormick and Company to sell "McCormick's Baking Magic" in the following sizes at the maximum delivered prices shown:
> | | |
> |---|---|

> | 2 ounce bottles—per dozen | 1.22 |
> This Order No. 126 authorizes wholesalers to determine their maximum delivered selling prices for each size by adding to their net cost for each size, a maximum profit margin of 20 percent of this net cost. Maximum selling prices determined by this computation shall not exceed:
> .86 per dozen bottles for the one ounce size.
> 1.46 per dozen bottles for the two ounce size.
> In determining maximum selling prices, fractions of one cent shall be adjusted upward to the next highest cent if the fraction is one half cent or more, and adjusted downward to next lower cent if the fraction is lower than one half cent. Your net cost for "McCormick's Baking Magic" shall be the net invoice price delivered at your customary station of destination, less all discounts allowed except the discount for prompt payment. No charges for drayage, loading, or unloading shall be included in net cost. Maximum selling prices to purchasers customarily shipped from our San Francisco warehouse have been authorized as follows:

> The Office of Price Administration has authorized maximum selling prices for "McCormick's Baking Magic" by specific Order No. 126. As a retailer you are to determine your maximum delivered selling prices according to the provision of this Order No. 126. This order permits retailers to add to their "net cost" per dozen of each size, a maximum profit margin of 35 percent of this net cost for each size and dividing the resulting figure by twelve to arrive at the maximum selling price per bottle. When the maximum prices so determined result in fractions of one cent, the price per bottle may be adjusted to the next highest cent if the fraction is one half cent or more, and shall be adjusted downward to the next lower cent if the fraction is less than one half cent. Maximum selling prices per bottle shall not exceed 10¢ for the one ounce size and 16¢ for the two ounce size. "Net cost" per dozen as used in paragraph (c) of Order No. 126 shall be the invoice price paid by the retailer to his customary supplier for a customary quantity of the item by the customary mode of transportation if any, less all discounts allowed except the discount for prompt payment. (c) Approximate percentage of the timber on the described area that is dead, down, or damaged by fire or insects, or threatened with damage, and the nature of the threat.

(d) The scale in thousand feet board measure of timber subject to sale and the kind of timber involved.

(e) The approximate market value of the timber per thousand feet board measure, the prospects of a sale, the location of the timber, and a minimum stumpage price per thousand feet board measure therefor; and

(f) The method and approximate expense of disposing of the brush, tops, lops, and other forest debris which will result from the felling and removing of the timber.

§ 284.4 Information to be given in notice of sale. The notice of sale must announce the time and place of filing bids; contain a careful description of the land on which the timber is situated, giving the township and range and legal subdivision, or approximate legal subdivision, whether surveyed or unsurveyed, and shall also designate the location with reference to water courses, mountain tops, or other well-known natural objects; and state the scale in board feet and minimum stumpage value of the timber to be sold, the sum required to be deposited with the bid, the conditions by which the purchaser will be bound, and the name and address of the officer in charge from whom full information can be obtained. It shall also be stated that bidders offering a sum based on a rate less than the minimum stumpage price of the timber mentioned therein will not be considered and that the right to reject any or all bids is reserved.

[2] Filed as part of the original document.

§ 284.5 Submission of bids; deposit required; citizenship requirements. Each bid submitted must be enclosed in a sealed envelope and transmitted to the officer in charge having jurisdiction of the timber sale. The envelope must be marked "Bid for timber, sale date------------, 19----."

Only bids for all of the timber offered in the advertisement for sale as a unit will be considered. Each bid should state clearly the amount per thousand feet which the bidder will pay for the timber, as well as the total amount offered.

Each bid shall be accompanied by a certified check or post office money order for at least 20 percent of the total amount bid, the remittance to be made payable to the Commissioner of the General Land Office.

Every bidder, if an individual, will be required to show that he is a citizen of the United States or has declared his intention to become such citizen; if a partnership or association, that each member of the firm is such a citizen or declarant; or, if a corporation, that the corporation was organized under the laws of the United States or of some state, territory, or possession thereof, and that its stock is owned by such citizens or declarants.

§ 284.6 Action on bids. The officer in charge will number the bids consecutively in the order in which they are received, and endorse thereon the date and hour of receipt and will on the day and at the hour set therefor open said bids and award said timber to the highest bidder. The officer in charge will, immediately upon the acceptance of a bid, notify the bidder thereof, and promptly forward a report thereon to the Commissioner of the General Land Office. When two or more bids in the same amount are received, or it appears that a monopoly might be created by an award to the highest bidder, or if it appears to be against the public interest for any other reason to accept the highest or the only bid, all bids will be transmitted, with a report, by the officer in charge to the Commissioner of the General Land Office, who will make the award or reject the bids, as the circumstances may warrant.

§ 284.7 Contract and bond. The successful bidder will be allowed 30 days from notice of the award to execute, in quadruplicate, Form 4–173c, "Timber Contract", which is made a part of this section, and file therewith a cash bond or a bond having as surety a bonding company shown in the then current approved list of the Treasury Department. The bond should be prepared and executed on Form 4–173d[2] and shall be conditioned on the faithful performance of the contract and on the observance of the applicable laws and regulations. The penalty of the bond shall be fixed by the Commissioner of the General Land Office in a sum of not less than 25 per cent of the amount of the bid. If the contract and bond are not submitted within the 30 days, the officer in charge will revoke the award by written notice, and award the timber to the next highest bidder.

§ 284.8 Action in General Land Office; notice to purchaser. Immediately upon the execution of the contract and bond by the purchaser, the officer in charge shall transmit the same, with the certified check originally deposited, to the Commissioner of the General Land Office.

The Commissioner will execute or disapprove the contract when the purchase price of the timber does not exceed $10,000. When the purchase price is more than that amount, contracts will be entered into only with the express approval of the Secretary of the Interior. The bond guaranteeing the faithful performance of a contract shall be approved by the officer approving the contract.

The officer in charge will be notified of the action taken, and when a contract and bond are approved, will require the purchaser to complete payment for the timber.

The payment must be made by certified check or post office money order payable to the Commissioner of the General Land Office. Upon receipt of the payment, the officer in charge will forward it promptly to the Commissioner and advise the Register of such action.

§ 284.9 When deposit will be forfeited or returned. Should a bidder whose bid has been accepted by the officer in charge fail to submit a contract and bond, as required by § 284.7, the officer in charge will at once transmit the remittance to the Commissioner of the General Land Office, and the amount called for therein will be collected and retained by the United States as a forfeit.

Upon the acceptance of a bid by the officer in charge, the remittances of the bidders whose bids were rejected shall be returned to them.

§ 284.10 Commencement of cutting operations. The cutting and removal of the timber may be commenced at any time after the delivery of the contract to the purchaser.

§ 284.11 Marking and measurement of timber. Before timber is offered for sale, it will be carefully cruised by or under the supervision of the officer in charge. Since the timber sold under authority of the Acts cited in § 284.1 of these regulations will usually consist of only a part of the trees within a given area and a small amount in isolated or scattered tracts, the amount to be sold will be definitely ascertained through a determination of the volume of individual trees and the marking of the trees before the timber is offered for sale. In a white pine, ponderosa pine, or southern pine region, this determination of volume will be made on the basis of the Scribner Decimal C Log Rule with a maximum log length of sixteen feet and in the Douglas fir region upon the basis of the Scribner Decimal C Log Rule with a maximum log length of thirty-two feet.

§ 284.12 Forest Practice Rules. All timber sales will be made subject to the provisions of the "Forest Practice Rules," which are appended to and made a part of the timber contract, § 284.7.

§ 284.13 Report by purchaser. The purchaser shall furnish the officer in charge such reports on the logging operations as that officer may require.

§ 284.14 Expense chargeable to purchaser, on default. If the purchaser fails to comply with any of the provisions of his contract, as to the disposal of the debris, or otherwise, and it becomes necessary for the United States to remove the debris or to incur other expense because of such default, the expense shall be charged to the purchaser: Provided, however, That written notice shall first be given by the officer in charge that such action will be taken if the rules are not complied with within 30 days from the service of such notice.

The last sentence of the section is amended to read:

§ 284.16 Extension of period of cutting operations. * * * Any extension of the period fixed in the contract will be granted only upon a showing that the completion of the cutting was unavoidably delayed by causes over which the purchaser had no control and that the interests of the Government will not be prejudiced thereby, and must be approved by the Commissioner of the General Land Office if the stumpage value of the timber is $10,000 or less, and by the Secretary of the Interior where more than that amount.

§ 284.20 Disposition of moneys. All sums deposited and paid in connection with timber sales made under §§ 284.1–284.22 will be deposited in the Treasury as required by the act of March 4, 1913, as amended, (37 Stat. 1015; 44 Stat. 890; 16 U.S.C. 614, 615), or as otherwise provided by law.

(Sec. 1, 37 Stat. 1015 and sec. 1, 44 Stat. 890; 16 U.S.C. 614 and R. S. 453, 2478; 43 U.S.C. 2, 1201)

TITLE 46—SHIPPING

Chapter I—Bureau of Customs

[T.D. 50783]

PART 16—MEASUREMENT OF VESSELS

ADJUSTMENT AND CORRECTION OF TONNAGE

46 CFR 16.64 relative to change of tonnage amended to provide for adjustment of tonnage by collector because of change in structure or use of spaces and to require decision of Commissioner on correction of tonnage because of error, except in case of obvious typographical error.

Section 16.64, Part 16, Title 46, Code of Federal Regulations, is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 16.64 Adjustment and correction of tonnage. (a) The tonnage shown in the document of a vessel of the United States shall not be changed except as provided in this section.

(b) If there has been a change of structure or use of space that affects tonnage, application for adjustment of such tonnage shall be made as provided in § 16.8 of this part. If the owner claims that the tonnage shown in the vessel's document is erroneous, he shall make application in writing to the collector of customs of the district in which the vessel is located for adjustment of such tonnage. Any application for adjustment of tonnage shall be accompanied by appropriate drawings as required by § 16.9 of this part and by a precise statement of the changes made or assignments of error.

(1) The collector shall not readmeasure unaltered spaces or spaces for which no error is claimed, but shall use the figures shown on the latest record of tonnage admeasurement (Form 1410 or Form 1410–A) unless there is an obvious error thereon. If the vessel was previously admeasured at a port other than the port at which application for adjustment of tonnage is made, the latest record of tonnage admeasurement shall be forwarded to the collector at the latter port upon his request. Such record shall be returned without alteration after a final decision has been reached.

(2) The collector shall make such admeasurement as is necessary to determine the proper tonnage of the vessel. Where the tonnage is found to be different from that shown in the vessel's document, he shall prepare a new record of admeasurement.

(3) If the change of tonnage is due to a change in structure or use of space, the outstanding document shall be surrendered in accordance with the provisions of law and regulations applicable to the surrender of documents. Any document thereafter issued shall show the adjusted tonnage.

(4) If the application for adjustment of tonnage is based on a claim of error, the application and all papers referred to in subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph shall be forwarded to the Commissioner of Customs. The Commissioner will review the application and advise the collector of his decision.

(c) If an error in the tonnage shown on the document is detected by a collector he shall proceed as though the owner had made application to him for adjustment of tonnage because of the error.

(d) If there is an obvious typographical error in the tonnage shown on the document, the collector shall make the necessary correction.

PART 302—CONTRACTS WITH VESSEL OWNERS AND TERMS OF COMPENSATION RELATING THERETO

[General Order 10, Supp. 1]

FORMULA FOR SEA SPEED OF A VESSEL

General Order No. 10 is hereby clarified and supplemented by adding the following paragraphs at the end of § 302.46:[2]

§ 302.46 Modification supplementation of formulae. * * *

For the purposes set forth in General Orders Numbers 6 (§ 302.13[3]) and 9 (§ 302.30[4]) the rated sea speeds of all vessels shall be obtained by the owner from the American Bureau of Shipping. All sea speeds shall be based upon a method of calculation described herein, which calculation is to be submitted to the American Bureau of Shipping for checking and certification.

The basis for calculations shall be the data on the vessel as certified in the register of the appropriate Classification Society. The American Bureau Record shall be used except for vessels not having this classification.

The charts and methods outlined in the "Speed and Power of Ships" by D. W. Taylor shall be the basis for determining effective horsepower required, except that of the four methods given therein for wetted surface determination that based on Froude's formula shall be used. Calculations for effective horsepower required shall be made at a speed-length ratio of .60 and corrected to actual speed-length ratio by the cube rule.

The maximum total continuous horsepower available for propulsion (I. H. P., S. H. P., B. H. P.) as determined from the register of the appropriate Classification Society shall be used as a basis for determining the shaft horse-power available except that, for all machinery of a steam reciprocating type, 90% mechanical efficiency shall be used with the I. H. P. The effective horsepower available to be used in conjunction with the speed calculation for single screw vessels shall be the shaft horsepower available multiplied by 0.5 for vessels of 450 feet length and by proportional factors varying 0.1 per 150 feet length for vessels of other lengths. (0.4 at 300 feet and 0.6 at 600 feet, etc.)

For twin screw vessels the foregoing factors shall be reduced by ten per cent.

Upon request and the submission by the owner of pertinent applicable data, such as standardization trial and self-propelled model test results, the American Bureau of Shipping shall give consideration to modifications of results obtained by the foregoing method but the extent to which such data may effect the results shall be determined by the American Bureau of Shipping.

All certificates heretofore issued by the American Bureau of Shipping shall be corrected to reflect the foregoing.

SERVICE AGREEMENTS—TANKERS

§ 306.49 Service agreements—GAA (Tankers). Service agreements entered into between the United States of America, acting by and through the Administrator, War Shipping Administration, with shipping companies appointing them as general agents to manage and conduct the business of tankers of which the United States is owner or owner pro hac vice, and assigned to the general agents by the United States from time to time, shall be as follows:

GAA-Tankers Contract WSA
12-8-42

This Agreement, made as of ____________ between the United States of America (herein called the "United States") acting by and through the Administrator, War Shipping Administration, and ______________________________, a corporation organized and existing under the laws of __________________ and having its principal place of business at __________________ (herein called the "General Agent").

Witnesseth:

That in consideration of the reciprocal undertakings and promises of the parties herein expressed:

Article 1. The United States appoints the General Agent as its agent and not as an independent contractor, to manage and conduct the business of vessels assigned to it by the United States from time to time.

Article 2. The General Agent accepts the appointment and undertakes and promises so to manage and conduct the business for the United States, in accordance with such directions, orders, or regulations as the latter has prescribed, or from time to time may prescribe, and upon the terms and conditions herein provided, of such vessels as have been or may be by the United States assigned to and accepted by the General Agent for that purpose.

Article 3A. To the best of its ability, the General Agent shall for the account of the United States:

(a) Maintain the vessels in such trade or service as the United States may direct, subject to its orders as to voyages, cargoes, priorities of cargoes, charters, rates of freight and charges, and as to all matters connected with the use of the vessels; or in the absence of such orders, the General Agent shall follow reasonable commercial practices;

(b) Collect all moneys due the United States under this Agreement and deposit, remit, or disburse the same in accordance with such regulations as the United States may prescribe from time to time, and account to the United States for all moneys collected or disbursed by it or its agents;

(c) Equip, victual, supply and maintain the vessels, subject to such directions, orders, regulations and methods of supervision and inspection as the United States may from time to time prescribe;

(d) The General Agent shall procure the Master of the vessels operated hereunder, subject to the approval of the United States. The Master shall be an agent and employee of the United States, and shall have and exercise full control, responsibility and authority with respect to the navigation and management of the vessel. The General Agent shall procure and make available to the Master for engagement by him the officers and men required by him to fill the complement of the vessel. Such officers and men shall be procured by the General Agent through the usual channels and in accordance with the customary practices of commercial operators and upon the terms and conditions prevailing in the particular service or services in which the vessels are to be operated from time to time. The officers and members of the crew shall be subject only to the orders of the Master. All such persons shall be paid in the customary manner with funds provided by the United States hereunder.

(e) Issue or cause to be issued to shippers customary freight contracts and bills of lading in the form prescribed by the United States, and prepare manifests and other cargo documents.

Article 3B. The General Agent agrees, without prejudice to its rights under the provisions of Articles 8 and 16 hereof, to:

(a) Perform the duties required to be performed by it hereunder in an economical and efficient manner, and exercise due diligence to protect and safeguard the interests of the United States in all respects and to avoid loss and damage of every nature to the United States;

(b) Exercise due diligence to see that all Bills of Lading are properly issued, all wharf receipts for freight are non-negotiable, and, where required, a freight contract or permit is issued for each shipment;

(c) Furnish and maintain during the period of this Agreement, at its own expense, a bond with sufficient surety, in such amount as the United States shall determine, such bond to be approved by the United States as to both sufficiency of surety or sureties and form, and to be conditioned upon the due and faithful performance of all and singular the covenants and agreements of the General Agent contained in this Agreement, including, without limitation of the foregoing, the condition faithfully to account to the United States for all funds collected and disbursed and funds and property received by the General Agent or its agents. The General Agent may, in lieu of furnishing such bond, pledge direct or fully guaranteed obligations of the United States of America of the face value of the penalty of the bond under an agreement satisfactory in form to the United States;

(d) Without the consent of the United States, not sell, assign or transfer, either directly or indirectly or through any reoganization, merger or consolidation, this Agreement or any interest therein, nor make any agreement or arrangement whereby the service to be performed hereunder is to be performed by any other person, whether an agent or otherwise, except as provided in Article 6 hereof.

Article 4. (a) The General Agent and, to the extent required by the United States, every related or affiliated company or holding company of the General Agent, authorized as provided in Article 13 hereof, to render any service or to furnish any stores, supplies, equipment, provisions, materials, or facilities which are for the account of the United States under the terms of this Agreement, shall (1) keep its books, records and accounts relating to the management, operation, conduct of the business of and maintenance of the vessels covered by this Agreement in such form and under such regulations as may be prescribed by the United States; and (2) file, upon notice from the United States, balance sheets, profit and loss statements, and such other statements of operation, special reports, memoranda of any facts and transactions, which, in the opinion of the United States, affect the results in, the performance of, or transactions or operations under this Agreement.

(b) The United States is hereby authorized to examine and audit the books, records and accounts of all persons referred to above in this Article whenever it may deem it necessary or desirable.

(c) Upon the willful failure or willful refusal of any person described in this Article to comply with the provisions of this Article, the United States may rescind this Agreement.

Article 5. At least once a month the United States shall pay to the General Agent as full compensation for the General Agent's services hereunder, such fair and reasonable amount as the Administrator, War Shipping Administration, shall from time to time determine. Such compensation shall be deemed to cover, but without limitation, the General Agent's administrative and general expense (as presently itemized in General Order No. 22 of the United States Maritime Commission), advertising expense, taxes (other than taxes for which the General Agent is reimbursed under Article 7 hereof), and any other expenses which are not directly and exclusively applicable to the maintenance, management, operation or the conduct of the business of the vessels hereunder.

Article 6. The General Agent shall exercise due diligence in the selection of agents. Such agents shall be subject to disapproval by the United States and any agency agreement shall be terminated by the General Agent whenever the United States shall so direct. Any compensation payable by the General Agent to its agents for services rendered in connection with the vessels assigned hereunder shall be subject to approval by the United States. Agency fees or equivalent allowances for branch offices in accordance with schedules approved by the United States will be reimbursable under Article 7 hereof.

Article 7. The United States shall reimburse the General Agent at stated intervals determined by the United States for all expenditures of every kind made by it in performing, procuring or supplying the services, facilities, stores, supplies or equipment as required hereunder, excepting general and administrative expense (as presently itemized in General Order No. 22 of the United States Maritime Commission), advertising expense, taxes (other than sales and similar taxes or foreign taxes of any kind to the extent determined by the United States to be classifiable as voyage expenses hereunder) and any other expenses which are not directly and exclusively applicable to the maintenance, management, operation or the conduct of the business of the vessels hereunder. The General Agent shall be reimbursed for sales and similar taxes or foreign taxes of any kind to the extent determined by the United States to be classifiable as voyage expenses hereunder if the General Agent shall have used due diligence to secure immunity from such taxation. To the extent not recovered from insurance, the United States shall also reimburse the General Agent for all crew expenditures (accruing during the term hereof) in connection with the vessels hereunder, including, without limitation, all disbursements for or on account of wages, extra compensation, overtime, bonuses, penalties, subsistence, repatriation, travel expense, loss of personal effects, maintenance, cure, vacation allowances, damages or compensation for death or personal injury or illness, and insurance premiums, required to be paid by law, custom, or by the terms of the ship's articles or labor agreements, or by action of the Maritime War Emergency Board, any payments made by the General Agent to a pension fund in accordance with a pension plan in effect on the effective date of this Agreement with respect to the officers and members of the crew of said vessels who are entitled to benefits under such plan, on the effective date of this Agreement, for the amount of any Social Security taxes which the General Agent is or may be required to pay on behalf of the officers and crew of said vessels as agent or otherwise. The United States may disallow, in whole or in part, as it may deem appropriate, and deny reimbursement for, expenses which are found to have been made in willful contravention of any outstanding instructions or which were clearly improvident or excessive.

Any moneys advanced to bonded persons by the General Agent for ship disbursements which are lost by reason of a casualty to the Vessel on which the money so advanced is carried shall in the event of such loss be considered an expense of the General Agent, subject to reimbursement as is in this Article 7 provided.

The United States may advance moneys to the General Agent to provide for disbursements hereunder in accordance with such regulations or conditions as the United States may from time to time prescribe.

Article 8. The United States shall, without cost or expense to the General Agent, procure or provide insurance against all insurable risks of whatsoever nature or kind relating to the vessels assigned hereunder (which insurance shall include the General Agent and the vessel personnel as assureds) including, but without limitation, marine, war and P. & I. risks, and all other risks or liabilities for breach of statute and for damage caused to other vessels, persons or property, and shall defend, indemnify and save harmless the General Agent against and from any and all loss, liability, damage and expense (including costs of court and reasonable attorneys' fees) on account of such risks and liabilities, to the extent not covered or not fully covered by insurance. The General Agent shall furnish reports and information and comply fully with all instructions that may be issued with regard to all salvage claims, damages, losses or other claims. Neither the United States nor the insurance underwriters shall have any right of subrogation against the General Agent with respect to such risks. The United States may assume any of the foregoing risks except those relating to P. & I. risks and collision liabilities. At all times during the period of this Agreement, the United States shall at its own expense provide and pay for insurance with respect to each vessel hereunder against protection and indemnity marine and war risks, and collision liabilities without limit as to liability as to the amount of any claim or the aggregate of any claims thereunder. The United States at its election may write all or any such insurance, including that against P. and I. and collision liabilities, in its own fund, pursuant to a duly executed policy or policies. Neither the United States nor the insurance underwriters shall have any right of subrogation against the General Agent with respect to any of the foregoing risks. All insurance hereunder shall cover both the United States and the General Agent.

Article 9. In the event of general average involving vessels assigned to the General Agent under this Agreement, the General Agent shall comply fully with all instructions issued by the United States in that connection including instructions as to the appointment of adjuster, obtaining general average security and asserting liens for that purpose unless otherwise instructed, and supplying the adjuster with all disbursements accounts, documents and data required in the adjustment, statement and settlement of the general average. Reasonable compensation for and general average allowances to the General Agent in such cases shall be in accordance with directions, orders or regulations of the United States.

Article 10. Salvage claims for services rendered to vessels other than vessels owned or controlled by the United States shall be handled by, and be under the control of, the United States. Salvage awards for services rendered to other vessels owned or controlled by the United States including the vessels hereunder shall be made by the United States. The General Agent shall furnish the United States with full reports and information on all salvage services rendered.

Article 11. (a) The United States shall have the right to terminate this Agreement at any time as to any and all vessels assigned to the General Agent and to assume control forthwith of any and all said vessels upon fifteen (15) days' written or telegraphic notice.

(b) Upon giving to the United States thirty (30) days' written or telegraphic notice, the General Agent shall have the right to terminate this Agreement, but termination by the General Agent shall not become effective as to any vessel until her arrival and discharge at a continental United States port.

(c) This Agreement may be terminated, modified, or amended at any time by mutual consent.

Article 12. In case of termination of this Agreement, whether upon expiration of the stated period hereof or otherwise, all vessels and other property of whatsoever kind then in the custody of the General Agent pursuant to this Agreement, shall be immediately turned over to the United States, at times and places to be fixed by the United States, and the United States may collect directly, or by such agent or agents as it may appoint, all freight moneys or other debts remaining unpaid: Provided, That the General Agent shall, if required by the United States, adjust, settle and liquidate the current business of the vessels. Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions, when the United States shall so direct, the General Agent shall complete the business of voyages commenced prior to the date as of which the Agreement shall be terminated, and, if directed by the United States and subject to any instructions issued by the United States with respect thereto, the General Agent shall continue to book cargo for the vessels for the next voyages after the termination of this Agreement. No such termination of this Agreement shall relieve either party of liability to the other in respect of matters arising prior to the date of such termination or of any obligation hereunder to indemnify the other party in respect of any claim or demand thereafter asserted, arising out of any matter done or omitted prior to the date of such termination.

Article 13. Agreements or arrangements with any interested or related company to render any service or to furnish any stores, supplies, equipment, materials, repairs, or facilities hereunder shall be submitted to the United States for approval as to employment. Unless and until such agreements or arrangements have been approved by the United States, compensation paid to any interested or related company shall be subject to review and readjustment by the United States. In connection with such review and readjustment, the United States may deny reimbursement hereunder of any portion of such compensation which it deems to be in excess of fair and reasonable compensation. The United States may also deny reimbursement, in whole or in part, of compensation under any arrangement or agreement with an interested or related company which it deems to be exorbitant, extortionate or fraudulent. The term "interested company" shall mean any person, firm, or corporation in which the General Agent, or any related company of the General Agent, or any officer or director of the General Agent, or any employee of the General Agent who is charged with executive or supervisory duties, or any member of the immediate family of any such officer, director or employee, or any officer or director of any related company of the General Agent or any member of the immediate family of an officer or director of any related company of the General Agent, owns any substantial pecuniary interest directly or indirectly. The term "related company", used to indicate a relationship with the General Agent for the purposes of this Article only, shall include any person or concern that directly, or indirectly through one or more intermediaries, controls, or is controlled by, or is under common control with, the General Agent. The term "control" (including the terms "controlled by" and "under common control with") as used herein means the possession, directly or indirectly, of the power to direct or cause the direction of the management and policies of the General Agent (or related company), whether through ownership of voting securities, by contract, or otherwise.

Article 14. The General Agent shall, unless otherwise instructed, subject to such regulations, instructions, or methods of supervision and inspection as may be required or prescribed by the United States, arrange for the repair of the vessels, covering hull, machinery, boilers, tackle, apparel, furniture, equipment, and spare parts, and including maintenance and voyage repairs and replacements, for the account of the United States, as may be necessary to maintain the vessels in a thoroughly efficient state of repair and condition. The General Agent shall exercise reasonable diligence in making inspections and obtaining information with respect to the state of repair and condition of the vessels, and so advise the United States from time to time, in order that the United States may satisfy itself that the vessels are being properly maintained, and shall cooperate with representatives of the United States in making any inspections or investigations that the United States may deem desirable.

Article 15. The United States shall, when it may legally do so, have the advantage of any existing, or future, contracts of the General Agent for the purchase or rental of materials, fuel, supplies, facilities, services, or equipment, if this may be done without unreasonably interfering with the requirements of other vessels owned or operated by the General Agent.

Article 16. (a) The United States shall indemnify, and hold harmless and defend the General Agent against any and all claims and demands (including costs and reasonable attorneys' fees in defending such claim or demand, whether or not the claim or demand be found to be valid) of whatsoever kind or nature and by whomsoever asserted for injury to persons or property arising out of or in any way connected with the operation or use of said vessels or the performance by the General Agent of any of its obligations hereunder, including but not limited to any and all claims and demands by passengers, troops, gun crews, crew members, shippers, third persons, or other vessels, and including but not limited to claims for damages for injury to, or loss of property, cargo or personal effects, claims for damages for personal injury or loss of life, and claims for maintenance and cure.

(b) In view of the extraordinary wartime conditions under which vessels will be operated hereunder, the General Agent shall be under no responsibility or liability to the United States for loss or damage to the vessels arising out of any error of judgment or any negligence on the part of any of the General Agent's officers, agents, employees, or otherwise. However, the General Agent may be held liable for loss or damage not covered by insurance or assumed by the United States as required under Article 8 of this Agreement, if such loss or damage is directly and primarily caused by willful misconduct of principal supervisory shoreside personnel or by gross negligence of the General Agent in the procurement of licensed officers or in the selection of principal supervisory shoreside personnel.

(c) In the event that the General Agent shall perform any stevedoring, terminal, ship repair or similar service for the vessels hereunder at commercial rates, the General Agent shall have all the obligations and responsibilities of the person performing such services under the standard or other approved form of contract with the United States or, in the absence of such standard or approved form, under usual commercial practice.

(d) The General Agent shall be under no liability to the United States of any kind or nature whatsoever in the event that the General Agent should fail to obtain officers or crews for the operation of the vessels, or fail to arrange for the fitting out, refitting, maintenance or repair of said vessels, or fail to perform any other service hereunder by reason of any labor shortage, dispute or difficulty, or any strike or lockout or any shortage of material or any act of God or peril of the sea or any other cause beyond the control of the General Agent whether or not of the same or similar nature; or shall do or fail to do any act in reliance upon instructions of military or naval authorities.

Article 17. Wherever and whenever herein any right, power, or authority is granted or given to the United States, such right, power, or authority may be exercised in all cases by the War Shipping Administration or such agent or agents as it may appoint or by its nominee, and the act or acts of such agent or agents or nominee, when taken, shall constitute the act of the United States hereunder. In performing its services hereunder, the General Agent may rely upon the instructions and directions of the Administrator, his officers and responsible employees, or upon the instructions and directions of any person or agency authorized by the Administrator. Wherever practicable, the General Agent shall request written confirmation of any oral instructions or directions so given.

Article 18. (a) The General Agent warrants that it has not employed any person to solicit or secure this Agreement upon any agreement for a commission, percentage, brokerage or contingent fee. Breach of this warranty shall give the United States the right to annul this Agreement or in its discretion to deduct from any amount payable hereunder the amount of such commission, percentage, brokerage or contingent fee.

(b) In any act performed under this Agreement, the General Agent and any subcontractor shall not discriminate against any citizen of the United States on the ground of race, creed, color or national origin.

Article 19. No person elected or appointed a member of or delegate to Congress or a Resident Commissioner, directly or indirectly, himself or by any other person in trust for him, or for his use or benefit, or on his account shall hold or enjoy this Agreement in whole or in part, except as provided in Section 206, Title 18, U. S. C. The General Agent shall not employ any member of Congress, either with or without compensation, as an attorney, agent, officer or director.

Article 20. This Agreement, unless sooner terminated, shall extend until six months after the cessation of hostilities.

In witness whereof, the Parties hereto have executed this Agreement in triplicate the day and year first above written.

§ 306.13 Vessels included. This Part II of General Order No. 12 is applicable to services rendered in connection with operations of tank vessels under the standard forms of tanker service agreements (Warshipoil–TCA) and GAA (Tankers).

§ 306.14 Effective period. This Part II shall become effective as of the date of delivery of each vessel to the general agents or agents hereunder.

§ 306.15 Agents defined. An "agent" is a person, firm or corporation designated as "agent" under the standard form of tanker service agreement (Warshipoil–TCA).

2. By adding the following new § 306.15 (a):

§ 306.15 (a) General agents defined. A "general agent" is a person, firm or corporation designated as "general agent" under the standard form of tanker service agreement, GAA (Tankers).

3. By striking out §§ 306.16 to 306.20 inclusive and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

§ 306.16 Sub-agent defined. A "sub-agent" is one who is appointed by an agent or general agent to perform any functions of the agent or general agent pursuant to the standard forms of tanker service agreements (Warshipoil–TCA) or GAA (Tankers). A "foreign sub-agent" is a sub-agent who performs his functions outside the continental limits of the United States.

§ 306.17 Compensation of agents in continental United States ports. As compensation for each tanker allocated to an agent to conduct the business of the vessel for the War Shipping Administration, such Agent shall be paid at the rate of $400.00 per month. (Out of this compensation the Agent must pay, among other things, all of the agent's outgoing communication costs except for communications to places outside the continental United States excluding Alaska). It is further provided that, if a vessel is withdrawn from service for repairs in a United States port, agent's compensation will continue as long as there is cargo aboard and for the first ten days after discharge. Thereafter agent's compensation will cease until vessel is again placed in service.

§ 306.18 Compensation of sub-agents in continental United States ports. As compensation for services rendered by a sub-agent for both the United States and the owner, or for a general agent, the sub-agent shall be paid the prevailing commercial rate, but in no event in excess of a lump sum of $125 for the first three days the vessel remains in port, and thereafter at the rate of $25 per day for each additional day; provided, no fee shall be paid for the time during which the vessel is laid up for repairs. One-third of this fee shall be for the account of the United States and the remainder shall be for the account of the owner or the general agent.

As compensation for services rendered by a sub-agent for the United States, only, the sub-agent shall be paid the prevailing commercial rate, but in no event in excess of a lump sum of $45 for the first three days the vessel remains in port, and thereafter at the rate of $10 per day for each additional day; provided, no fee shall be paid for the time during which the vessel is laid up for repairs. The entire fee provided for in this paragraph shall be for the account of the United States.

§ 306.19 Compensation of sub-agents at ports outside of continental United States. As compensation for services rendered by a foreign sub-agent for the account of both the United States and the owner or the general agent, the foreign sub-agent shall be paid the prevailing commercial rate, but in no event in excess of a lump sum of $125 for the first three days the vessel remains in port, and thereafter at the rate of $25 per day for each additional day; provided, no fee shall be paid for the time during which the vessel is laid up for repairs. One-third of this fee shall be for the account of the United States and the remainder shall be for the account of the owner or the general agent.

The entire fee provided for in this paragraph shall be for the account of the United States.

§ 306.20 Brokerage. No brokerage will be paid except with the prior approval of the Administrator and application for such brokerage will not be considered unless brokerage was formerly paid in such trade.

4. By adding the following new section:

§ 306.20a Compensation of general agents. The general agent shall be compensated both (a) as agent, and (b) as general agent as herein provided. From his compensation he shall pay sub-agents for services which are required to be performed by him as general agent under his service agreement. In addition to the agency fees, the general agent shall be paid as follows:

(1) Basic scale. For each calendar month or pro rata thereof (part days to count as whole days), beginning with the month and day in which the first vessel subject hereto is delivered to the general agent and ending with the calendar month and day thereof in which the last vessel subject hereto is redelivered by the general agent, the basic compensation, computed on the basis of whole months or pro rata thereof for the vessels handled during each such month, shall be calculated in accordance with the following monthly allowance:

First 8 vessels—$2,500 per month per vessel.
Next 7 vessels—$2,000 per month per vessel.
In excess of 15 vessels—rate as to be determined by the Administrator.

The Administrator reserves the right to review and make such adjustments in the above rates as may be required to produce what, in his judgment, may be determined as fair and equitable compensation.

(2) Adjustment when vessels are idle. The Administrator reserves the right to determine the amount compensation shall be reduced to the extent that any vessel is idle at any port for causes for which the general agent is responsible.

NATIONAL POWER & LIGHT COMPANY

MEMORANDUM OPINION AND ORDER

In the Matter of National Power & Light Company.

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on the 4th day of December A. D. 1942.

Appearances: Jesse J. Holland and Sidney H. Willner for the Public Utilities Division of the Commission.

Simpson, Thacher & Bartlett by Ira A. Hawkins, Jr. for National Power & Light Company.

National Power & Light Company[1] has applied for permission to extend the time within which shares of its preferred stock may be exchanged for shares of common stock of Houston Lighting & Power Company under the terms of an exchange offer approved by us on December 24, 1941.[2]

The present expiration date of the exchange offer is December 15, 1942. Authority is now requested to extend the terminal date to February 15, 1943. The exchange offer has been open for ten months. As of December 1, 1942, a total of 114,805 shares of National's preferred have been tendered for exchange. This represents 41.045% of the original amount thereof outstanding at January 30, 1942, the date when the exchange offer became operative. As a result of exchanges effected during this period, National has distributed 206,262 shares of Houston's common stock, or 41.252% of the amount thereof outstanding, leaving National with 293,738 shares of Houston's common stock still undistributed.

When we considered National's previous application for permission to extend the period of the exchange offer to December 15, 1942, it was urged that at least two months of the period which was available to the Dealer Managers were summer months, a time when it is "difficult to consummate security transactions due to the absence of many people on vacation"; and that the uncertainty regarding federal tax legislation then pending had a tendency to delay numerous holders of National's preferred stock in making the exchange. It was argued that if the offer were extended for a reasonable time after the enactment of definitive tax legislation there was reason to believe that substantial amounts of National's preferred stock would be tendered for exchange.

In our memorandum opinion permitting an extension to December 15, 1942,[3] we indicated that sufficient time had elapsed to permit of a thorough canvass of National's preferred stockholders and that no useful purpose would be served by prolonging the period indefinitely. Furthermore, at that time we stated "there is substantial doubt as to the necessity or desirability of any extension of the exchange offer beyond the date of December 15, 1942 now proposed." We granted that application on the basis of the alleged retarding factors pointed out above and the management's belief that substantial amounts of National's preferred stock would be tendered for exchange during the additional period. However, the present record discloses that during the period from October 14, 1942 to December 1, 1942 only 6,930 shares of National's preferred stock were tendered for exchange.

More than sufficient time has elapsed to permit all holders of National preferred to become familiar with the exchange offer and to take necessary action to effect an exchange; hence it may be presumed that substantially all unexchanged shares are in the hands of holders who either have decided not to exchange or prefer to postpone decision as long as possible.[4] The factors influencing our decision on the previous application no longer obtain and no other compelling considerations have been presented to warrant a departure from the general views we have previously expressed. Accordingly, we believe the present request for an extension should be denied. However, to afford an opportunity to those holders of National's preferred stock who may be unable to avail themselves of the exchange offer between now and December 15, 1942, we shall permit National to extend the period of the exchange offer to and including December 31, 1942.

It is so ordered.

By the Commisison.

Secretary.

[2] Holding Company Act Release No. 3211. Under the terms of the exchange offer each holder of National's preferred stock may exchange all or any part thereof, in full share amounts to the extent of 90% of the portion of such stock presented for exchange, for common stock of Houston on the basis of two shares of Houston's common stock for each share of National's preferred stock. The remaining 10% of National's preferred stock tendered for exchange will be stamped as ineligible for participation in the exchange offer and returned to the holder thereof. The exchange offer became effective on January 30, 1942 for the 60 day period ending March 31, 1942, which date was subsequently extended by National for an additional period of 60 days ending on June 1, 1942. During the 120 day period mentioned, authority to solicit exchanges was limited by the terms of our order to regular officers and employees of National. Early in May 1942, National filed an amendment to its declaration in this proceeding setting forth a program designed to facilitate exchanges under the offer. The program contemplated that National would retain Smith, Barney & Co., Lazard Freres & Co., and Blyth & Co., Inc., ("Dealer Managers") to develop and handle the details of a plan to facilitate exchanges. On June 15, 1942, we permitted said amendment to become effective and also granted National authority to extend the period of the exchange offer for not more than 60 days from June 15, 1942. (Holding Company Release No. 3612). Subsequently, on August 13, 1942, upon application by National, we permitted a further extension for an additional period of 60 days ending on October 13, 1942 (Holding Company Release No. 3734). On October 12, 1942 we again permitted an extension of time to December 15, 1942. After appropriate notice a hearing on the present application was held on December 2, 1942. Counsel for National Power & Light Company has filed a written waiver of briefs and oral argument.

[4] The record contains a letter addressed to the Commission by Smith, Barney & Co., Lazard Freres & Co. and Blyth & Company, the Dealer-Managers referred to in footnote 2, expressing the opinion that "no useful purpose would be served" by a 60-day extension.

Introductory note. Under this revision of circular B.E.P.Q. 385, two species of barberries, Berberis aemulans and B. dictyophylla var. albicaulis, have been removed from the list of species which may be shipped into or between the protected States, inasmuch as recent tests have shown that both aemulans and dictyophylla are susceptible to the black stem rust. B. bealei (Mahonia) has been added to the permitted list. The range of this species for satisfactory cultivation, however, is practically limited to the area south of the protected States.

Other modifications in the circular are concerned only with improved nomenclature, B. thunbergii pluriflora having been eliminated from paragraph (a) for the reason that it is not in reality a different variety of Japanese barberry; B. thunbergii pluriflora erecta has been changed to B. thunbergi f. erecta; and B. diversifolia has been eliminated from

TITLE 26—INTERNAL REVENUE

Chapter I—Bureau of Internal Revenue

Subchapter A—Income and Excess-Profits Taxes

[T. D. 5194]

PART 19—INCOME TAX UNDER THE INTERNAL REVENUE CODE

ALIMONY, SEPARATE MAINTENANCE PAYMENTS, ETC.

Regulations 103 amended to conform to section 110 and section 120 of the Revenue Act of 1942.

In order to conform Regulations 103 (Part 19, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, 1940 Sup.), relating to the income tax under the Internal Revenue Code, to section 110 (relating to transfers of life insurance contracts) and to section 120 (relating to alimony and separate maintenance payments) of the Revenue Act of 1942 (Public Law 753, Seventy-seventh Congress), approved October 21, 1942, such regulations are amended as follows:

PARAGRAPH 1. Section 19.22 (a)-12 is amended by striking out "19.22 (b) (2)-2" and inserting in lieu thereof "19.22 (b) (2) (A)-2".

PAR. 2. Section 19.22 (b)-1 is amended by changing the fifth sentence thereof to read as follows:

As to other items not to be included in gross income, see sections 22 (k), 112, 119, and 171 and Supplements G, H, I, and J (sections 201 to 252, inclusive).

PAR. 3. Section 19.22 (b) (1)-1 is amended as follows:

(A) By changing the first sentence thereof to read as follows:

The proceeds of life insurance policies, paid by reason of the death of an insured to his estate or to any beneficiary (individual, partnership, or corporation, but not a transferee for valuable consideration (other than a transferee to which the next to the last sentence of section 22 (b) (2) (A) applies) or a spouse to whom such payments are income under section 22 (k)), directly or in trust, are excluded from the gross income of the beneficiary.

(B) By inserting at the end of subsection (b) thereof the following new paragraph:

If the proceeds are payable in installments for a taxable year beginning after December 31, 1941 to a spouse who was divorced or legally separated from the insured under a court decree, such proceeds are to be excluded from the income of such spouse to the extent provided in the preceding paragraph only if not required to be included in her gross income under section 22 (k), relating to alimony income. Thus, if under the terms of a divorce decree, an insurance policy upon the life of the husband is to be purchased by him to provide a principal sum of $10,000 payable upon his death in ten annual installments, with interest, to his divorced wife, the full amount of such installments received by the wife, including the interest, is to be included in her income. See further section 22 (b) (2), section 22 (k), § 19.22 (b) (2) (A)-4 and § 19.22 (k)-1.

PAR. 4. There is inserted immediately preceding § 19.22 (b) (2)-1 the following:

SEC. 110. TRANSFERS OF LIFE INSURANCE CONTRACTS, ETC. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title I.)

(a) Proceeds exempt to transferee. Section 22 (b) (2) (relating to annuities, etc.) is amended by inserting a period and the following new sentence before the semicolon at the end thereof: "The preceding sentence shall not apply in the case of such a transfer if such contract or interest therein has a basis for determining gain or loss in the hands of a transferee determined in whole or in part by reference to such basis of such contract or interest therein in the hands of the transferor.

(b) Taxable years to which amendment applicable. The amendment made by this section shall be applicable with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1940.

* * * * *

(d) Annuities, etc. Section 22 (b) (2) (relating to payments under annuity, etc., contracts) is amended by striking out the heading and inserting in lieu thereof

"(2) Annuities, etc.
"(A) In general."

and by inserting before the semicolon at the end of such subparagraph (A) a period and the following:

This subparagraph and paragraph (1) shall not apply with respect to so much of a payment under a life insurance, endowment, or annuity contract, or any interest therein, as, under section 22 (k), is includible in gross income.

* * * * *

(g) Taxable years to which amendments applicable. The amendments made by this section shall be applicable only with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941; except that if the first taxable year beginning after December 31, 1941, of the husband does not begin on the same day as the first taxable year beginning after December 31, 1941, of the wife, such amendments shall first become applicable in the case of the husband on the first day of the wife's first taxable year beginning after December 31, 1941, regardless of the taxable year of the husband in which such day falls.

PAR. 5. Section 19.22 (b) (2)-1 is renumbered § 19.22 (b) (2) (A)-1 and is further amended by striking out "and amounts received as annuities" and inserting in lieu thereof "amounts received as annuities, and amounts of periodic payments included in gross income under section 22 (k)".

PAR. 6. Section 19.22 (b) (2)-2 is renumbered § 19.22 (b) (2) (A)-2 and is further amended by inserting in the second sentence thereof, after "an annuity" the following: "(where the whole payment is not required to be included in income under section 22 (k))".

PAR. 7. There is inserted immediately following § 19.22 (b) (2) (A)-2 the following new sections:

§ 19.22 (b) (2) (A)-3 Transfers of life insurance, endowment, or annuity contracts. For taxable years beginning prior to January 1, 1941, in the case of a transfer for valuable consideration of a life insurance, endowment, or annuity contract, only the actual value of the consideration given for such transfer and the amount of the premiums and sums subsequently paid by the transferor shall be excluded from gross income upon receipt of payments under the insurance, endowment, or annuity contract. For taxable years beginning after December 31, 1940, proceeds of a life insurance, endowment, or annuity contract are exempt from taxation if such contract or interest therein has a basis for determining gain or loss in the hands of the transferee determined in whole or in part by reference to such basis of such contract or interest therein in the hands of the transferor. Thus, where a corporation acquires a life insurance policy from a predecessor corporation in a tax-free reorganization, the proceeds received under the policy will be exempt from taxation, because the basis is determined with reference to the basis in the hands of a transferor.

The following example will illustrate the practical operation of the provisions of this section:

Example. The A Corporation procures a $1,000 life insurance policy on X, one of its officers, naming the A Corporation as beneficiary. If X dies during the time the policy is held by the corporation, the proceeds of the policy would be tax-free to the corporation. If the A Corporation transfers the policy to the B Corporation in a tax-free reorganization, the proceeds in the hands of the B Corporation for taxable years beginning after December 31, 1940 would be exempt under section 22 (b) (1) from taxation on account of the next to the last sentence of section 22 (b) (2) (A) as added by the Revenue Act of 1942.

§ 19.22 (b) (2) (A)-4 Annuity, etc., payments in discharge of alimony obligation. The full amount of any periodic payment received under a life insurance, endowment, or annuity contract in a taxable year beginning after December 31, 1941 by a spouse or former spouse is required to be included in her gross income if certain conditions specified in section 22 (k) exist. See § 19.22 (k)-1. Paragraphs (1) and (2) (A) of section 22 (b) do not apply (except the last sentence of section 22 (b) (2) (A)) with respect to so much of a payment as under section 22 (k) is includible in gross income. For example, upon the divorce of a husband and wife, the decree may require the husband to provide the wife with an annuity of $2,000 for her life. The wife, being desirous of a greater assured income, may pay with the husband to an insurance company a consideration, which, when added to the amount paid by the husband, purchases an annuity paying $3,000. For each taxable year beginning after December 31, 1941, $2,000 is to be included in her income under section 22 (k) and such portion of $1,000 is to be included in her income as is required under § 19.22 (b) (2) (A)-2 on the basis of the consideration paid by her to the company.

PAR. 8. Section 19.22 (b) (3)-1 is amended by striking out the part thereof reading "Neither alimony nor an allowance based on a separation agreement is taxable income. (See § 19.24-1.)".

PAR. 9. There is inserted immediately following subsection (j) of section 22, which follows § 19.22 (d)–6, the following:

SEC. 120. ALIMONY AND SEPARATE MAINTENANCE PAYMENTS. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title I.)

(a) Amount includible in gross income. Section 22 (relating to definition of gross income) is amended by inserting at the end thereof the following new subsection:

(k) Alimony, etc., income. In the case of a wife who is divorced or legally separated from her husband under a decree of divorce or of separate maintenance, periodic payments (whether or not made at regular intervals) received subsequent to such decree in discharge of, or attributable to property transferred (in trust or otherwise) in discharge of, a legal obligation which, because of the marital or family relationship, is imposed upon or incurred by such husband under such decree or under a written instrument incident to such divorce or separation shall be includible in the gross income of such wife, and such amounts received as are attributable to property so transferred shall not be includible in the gross income of such husband. This subsection shall not apply to that part of any such periodic payment which the terms of the decree or written instrument fix, in terms of an amount of money or a portion of the payment, as a sum which is payable for the support of minor children of such husband. In case any such periodic payment is less than the amount specified in the decree or written instrument, for the purpose of applying the preceding sentence, such payment, to the extent of such sum payable for such support, shall be considered a payment for such support. Installment payments discharging a part of an obligation the principal sum of which is, in terms of money or property, specified in the decree or instrument shall not be considered periodic payments for the purposes of this subsection; except that an installment payment shall be considered a periodic payment for the purposes of this subsection if such principal sum, by the terms of the decree or instrument, may be or is to be paid within a period ending more than 10 years from the date of such decree or instrument, but only to the extent that such installment payment for the taxable year of the wife (or if more than one such installment payment for such taxable year is received during such taxable year, the aggregate of such installment payments) does not exceed 10 per centum of such principal sum. For the purposes of the preceding sentence, the portion of a payment of the principal sum which is allocable to a period after the taxable year of the wife in which it is received shall be considered an installment payment for the taxable year in which it is received. (In cases where such periodic payments are attributable to property of an estate or property held in trust, see section 171 (b).)

* * * * *

(g) Taxable Years to Which Amendments Applicable.—The amendments made by this section shall be applicable only with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941; except that if the first taxable year beginning after December 31, 1941, of the husband does not begin on the same day as the first taxable year beginning after December 31, 1941, of the wife, such amendments shall first become applicable in the case of the husband on the first day of the wife's first taxable year beginning after December 31, 1941, regardless of the taxable year of the husband in which such day falls.

§ 19.22 (k)–1 Alimony and separate maintenance payments—Income to former wife—(a) In general. Section 22 (k) provides rules for treatment in certain cases of payments in the nature of or in lieu of alimony or an allowance for support as between spouses who are divorced or legally separated under a court order or decree. Section 22 (k) applies only to such payments actually made or actually received on and after the first day of the first taxable year of the payee spouse beginning after December 31, 1941. For convenience, the payee spouse will hereafter in this section of the regulations be referred to as the "wife" and the spouse from whom she is divorced or legally separated as the "husband". See section 3797 (a) (17).

In general, section 22 (k) requires the inclusion in the gross income of the wife of periodic payments (whether or not made at regular intervals) received by her after the decree of divorce or of separate maintenance. Such periodic payments may be received from either of the two following sources:

(1) In discharge of a legal obligation which, because of the marital or family relationship, is imposed upon or incurred by the husband, or

(2) Attributable to property transferred (in trust or otherwise) in discharge of a legal obligation which, because of the marital or family relationship, is imposed upon or incurred by the husband.

The obligation of the husband must be imposed upon him or assumed by him (or made specific) under either of the following:

(1) A court order or decree divorcing or legally separating the husband and wife, or

(2) A written instrument incident to such divorce or legal separation.

The periodic payments received by the wife attributable to property so transferred and includible in her income are not to be included in the gross income of the husband. See also § 19.171–1 in cases where such periodic payments are attributable to property held in trust.

The purpose and effect of section 22 (k) may be illustrated, in general, by the following examples in which it is assumed that the husband and wife make their income tax returns on the calendar year basis:

Example (1). W sues H for divorce in 1942. The court awards W temporary alimony of $25 a week pending the final decree. On September 1, 1942 the court grants W a divorce and awards her $200 a month permanent alimony. No part of the $25 a week temporary alimony received prior to the decree is includible in W's income under section 22 (k), but the $200 a month received during the balance of 1942 by W is includible in her income for 1942. Under section 23 (u), H is entitled to deduct such $200 payments from his income.

Example (2). W files suit for divorce from H. In consideration of W's promise to relinquish all marital rights and not to make public H's financial affairs, H makes a legally binding promise in writing to W to pay to her $200 a month if a final decree of divorce is granted without any provision for alimony. Accordingly, W does not request alimony and no provision for alimony is made under a final decree of divorce entered prior to 1942. During 1942, H pays W $200 a month, pursuant to the promise. The $2,400 thus received by W is includible in her gross income under the provisions of section 22 (k). Under section 23 (u), H is entitled to a deduction of $2,400 from his gross income.

Example (3). H and W enter into an antenuptial agreement, under which, in consideration of W's relinquishment of all marital rights (including dower) in H's property, and, in order to provide for W's support and household expenses, H promises to pay W $200 a month for her life. Ten years after their marriage, W sues H for divorce but does not ask for or obtain alimony because of the provision already made for her support in the antenuptial agreement. Likewise, the divorce decree is silent as to such agreement and H's obligation to support W. Section 22 (k) does not apply to such a case. If, however, the decree were modified so as to refer to the antenuptial agreement, or if, at the time of the divorce, reference had been made to the antenuptial agreement in the court's decree or in a written instrument incident to the divorce, section 22 (k) would require the inclusion of the payments received by W after the decree in her income for taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941. (As to including such payments in the wife's income, if made by a trust created under the antenuptial agreement, regardless of whether referred to in the decree or a later instrument, see §19.171–1.)

Section 22 (k) applies only where the legal obligation being discharged arises out of the family or marital relationship in recognition of the general obligation to support, which is made specific by the instrument or decree. Thus, section 22 (k) does not apply to that part of any periodic payment which is attributable to the repayment by the husband of, for example, a bona fide loan previously made to him by the wife, the satisfaction of which is specified in the divorce decree as a part of the general settlement between the husband and wife.

Periodic payments are includible in the wife's income under section 22 (k) only for the taxable year in which received by her. As to such amounts, the wife is to be treated as if she makes her income tax returns on the cash receipts and disbursements basis, regardless of whether she normally makes such returns on the accrual basis. However, if the periodic payments described in section 22 (k) are to be made by an estate or trust, such periodic payments are to be included in the wife's taxable year in which they are includible according to the rules as to income of estates and trusts provided in sections 162, 164 and 171 (b), whether or not such payments are made out of the income of such estates or trusts.

(b) Alimony income attributable to property. The full amount of periodic payments received under the circumstances described in section 22 (k) is required to be included in the gross income of the recipient whether such amounts are derived, in whole or in part, from income received or accrued by the source to which such payments are attributable. Thus, it matters not that such payments are attributable to property in trust, to life insurance, endowment, or annuity contracts, or to any other interest in property, or are paid directly or indirectly by the obligor husband from his income or capital. For example, if in order to meet an alimony obligation of $500 a month, the husband purchases or assigns for the benefit of his former wife a commercial annuity contract paying such amount, the full $500 a month received by the wife is includible in her income, and no part of such amount is includible in the husband's income or deductible by him. See section 22 (b) (2) (A) and § 19.22 (b) (2) (A)–4. Likewise, if property is transferred by the husband, subject to an annual charge of $5,000, payable to his former wife in discharge of his alimony obligation under the divorce decree, the $5,000 received annually is, under section 22 (k), includible in the wife's income, regardless of whether such amount is paid out of income or principal of the property.

The same rule applies to periodic payments attributable to property in trust. The full amount of periodic payments to which section 22 (k) applies is includible in the wife's income, regardless of whether such payments are made out of trust income. This rule applies even though under the law prior to the enactment of the Revenue Act of 1942 only the income of a trust for the benefit of the divorced wife was taxable to her. Such periodic payments are to be included in the wife's income under section 22 (k) and are to be excluded from the husband's income, even though the income of the trust would otherwise be includible in his income under section 22 (a), section 166, section 167 or any other section of the Code or these regulations. As to periodic payments received by a former wife attributable to property in trust in cases to which section 22 (k) does not apply because the husband's obligation is not specified in the decree or an instrument incident thereto, see section 171 (a) and § 19.171–1.

Section 22 (k) does not apply to that part of any periodic payment attributable to that portion of any interest in property transferred in discharge of the husband's obligation under the decree or instrument incident thereto, which interest originally belonged to the wife. It will apply, however, if she received such interest from her husband in contemplation of or as an incident to the divorce or separation without adequate and full consideration in money or money's worth, other than the release of the husband or his property from marital obligations. An example of the first rule is a case where the husband and wife transfer securities, which were owned by them jointly, in trust to pay an annuity to the wife. In this case, the full amount of that part of the annuity received by the wife in discharge of the husband's obligation under the decree, or instrument incident thereto, is taxable to her under section 22 (k), while that portion of the annuity attributable to the wife's interest in the securities so transferred is taxable to her only to the extent it is out of trust income, as provided in section 162. If, however, the husband's transfer of an interest in his property to his wife, preliminary to a transfer of such property in discharge of his obligation, is made in an attempt to avoid the application of section 22 (k) to part of such payments received by his wife, such transfers will be considered as a part of the same transfer by the husband of his property in discharge of his obligation. In such a case, section 22 (k) will be applied to the full amount received by the wife. As to periodic payments received under a joint purchase of a commercial annuity contract, see § 19.22 (b) (2) (A)–4.

(c) Alimony installment payments. In general, installment payments discharging a part of an obligation the principal sum of which is, in terms of money or property specified in the decree of divorce or legal separation, or in an instrument incident thereto, are not considered "periodic payments" and therefore are not to be included under section 22 (k) in the wife's income. An exception to this general rule is provided, however, in cases where such principal sum, by the terms of the decree or such instrument, may be or is to be paid within a period ending more than 10 years from the date of such decree or instrument. In such cases, the installment payment is considered a periodic payment for the purposes of section 22 (k) but only to the extent that the installment payment, or sum of the installment payments, received during the wife's taxable year does not exceed 10 percent of the principal sum. This 10 percent limitation applies to installment payments made in advance but does not apply to delinquent installment payments for a prior taxable year of the wife made during her taxable year.

The rule as to installment payments may be illustrated by the following examples:

Example (1). Under the terms of a divorce decree, H is to pay W a gross sum of $100,000 in four annual installments. No part of the $100,000 is includible in W's income under section 22 (k) nor deductible by H.

Example (2). A divorce decree in 1940 provides that H is to pay W $20,000 each year for the next 5 years, beginning with the date of the decree and then $5,000 each year for the next 10 years. Assuming the wife makes her returns on the calendar year basis, each payment received in 1942, 1943 and 1944 is a periodic payment under section 22 (k), but only to the extent of 10 percent of the principal sum of $150,000. Thus for such taxable years, only $15,000 of the $20,000 received is includible under section 22 (k) in the wife's income and is deductible by the husband under section 23 (u). For the years 1945–1954, inclusive, the full $5,000 received each year by the wife is includible in her income and is deductible from the husband's income.

Example (3). Under the terms of a separation agreement incident to divorce granted in December 1940, H agrees to pay W $500 on the first day of each month, beginning with the month after the decree, for 12 years. W makes her income tax returns on the calendar year basis while H makes his returns on the basis of the fiscal year ending June 30. H makes the promised payments in 1941 and 1942 and, in addition, on December 31, 1942, pays W $1,500 as an advance payment of installments for the next three months. In the calendar year 1943, H makes no payments at all because of financial straits. On January 1, 1944, H inherits $15,000, which he immediately pays to W in satisfaction of not only his back alimony installments for the last 9 months of 1943 but also his alimony installments for the next 21 months. The results as to H and W are as follows:

As to W. In the calendar year 1941, W received $6,000, none of which is includible in her gross income. In the calendar year 1942, W received $7,500. Since 10 percent of $72,000 (the principal sum) is $7,200, only $7,200 of the $7,500 so received is includible in her income for 1942. For 1943, nothing is includible in her income under section 22 (k). In 1944, W received $15,000. Of this amount, $4,500 is in payment of back installments and, therefore, is includible without limitation in her income for 1944. Of the balance of $10,500, only $7,200 is includible in her income for 1944.

As to H. For the taxable year ended June 30, 1941, H paid $3,000, none of which is deductible. For the taxable year ended June 30, 1942, H paid $6,000, of which only $3,000 is deductible by H since only that much of the $6,000 was paid in the wife's first taxable year beginning after December 31, 1941. In the taxable year ended June 30, 1943, H paid W $4,500, which, not being in excess of 10 percent of the principal sum, is deductible for such year. In his taxable year ended June 30, 1944, H paid $15,000, of which $11,700 (the sum of $4,500 and $7,200) is deductible.

(d) Payments for support of minor children. Section 22 (k) does not apply to that part of any periodic payment which, by the terms of the decree or the written instrument under section 22 (k), is specifically designated as a sum payable for the support of minor children of the husband. The statute prescribes the treatment in cases where an amount or portion is so fixed but the amount of any periodic payment is less than the amount of the periodic payment specified to be made. In such cases, to the extent of the amount which would be payable for the support of such children out of the originally specified periodic payment, such periodic payment is considered a payment for such support. For example, if the husband is by terms of the decree required to pay $200 a month to his divorced wife, $100 of which is designated by the decree to be for the support of their minor children, and the husband pays only $150 to his wife, $100 is nevertheless considered to be a payment by the husband for the support of the children. If, however, the periodic payments are received by the wife for the support and maintenance of herself and of minor children of the husband without such specific designation of the portion for the support of such children, then the whole of such amounts is includible in the income of the wife as provided in section 22 (k). Except in cases of a designated amount or portion for the support of the husband's minor children, periodic payments described in section 22 (k) received by the wife for herself and any other person or persons are includible in whole in the wife's income, whether or not the amount or portion for such other person or persons is designated. As to treatment of such amounts with respect to credit for dependents and head of family exemption, see sections 25 (b) (2) (A) and 401 (a) (2) and sections 19.25–4 and 19.25–6.

Par. 10. There is inserted immediately following section 23 (t), as added by Treasury Decision 5016, the following:

(b) Deductions for amounts paid. Section 23 (relating to deductions from gross income) is amended by inserting at the end thereof the following new subsection:

(u) Alimony, etc., payments. In the case of a husband described in section 22 (k), amounts includible under section 22 (k) in the gross income of his wife, payment of which is made within the husband's taxable year. If the amount of any such payment is, under section 22 (k) or section 171, stated to be not includible in such husband's gross income, no deduction shall be allowed with respect to such payment under this subsection.

* * * * *

(g) Taxable Years to Which Amendments Applicable. The amendments made by this section shall be applicable only with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941; except that if the first taxable year beginning after December 31, 1941, of the husband does not begin on the same day as the first taxable year beginning after December 31, 1941, of the wife, such amendments shall first become applicable in the case of the husband on the first day of the wife's first taxable year beginning after December 31, 1941, regardless of the taxable year of the husband in which such day falls.

§ 19.23 (u)–1 Periodic alimony payments. A deduction is allowable under section 23 (u) with respect to periodic payments in the nature of, or in lieu of, alimony or an allowance for support actually paid by the taxpayer during his taxable year and required to be included in the income of the payee wife or former wife, as the case may be, under section 22 (k). As to the amounts required to be included in the income of the wife or former wife, as the case may be, see § 19.22 (k)–1. (For definition of husband and wife in such cases, see section 3797 (a) (17).)

The deduction is allowed only for such amounts as are actually paid on or after January 1, 1942 in a taxable year of the wife or former wife beginning after December 31, 1941. For this purpose, the taxpayer is treated as if he makes his income tax returns on the cash receipts and disbursements basis, regardless of the method of accounting actually employed by him in making such returns.

The deduction under section 23 (u) is allowed only to the obligor spouse. It is not allowed to an estate, trust, corporation or any other person who may pay the alimony obligation of such obligor spouse. The obligor spouse, however, is not allowed a deduction for any periodic payment includible under section 22 (k) in the income of the wife or former wife, as the case may be, which payment is attributable to property transferred in discharge of his obligation and which, under section 22 (k) or section 171 is stated not to be includible in his gross income.

The following examples illustrate cases in which a deduction is or is not allowed under section 23 (u):

Example (1). Pursuant to the terms of a decree of divorce, H, in 1940, transfers securities valued at $100,000 in trust for the benefit of W, which fully discharges all his obligations to W. Thereafter, in 1940 and 1941, the income of the trust is taxable to W and is not included in H's income. For 1942 and thereafter, when the periodic payments made by the trust to W are required to be included in W's income under section 22 (k), such payments are stated in section 22 (k) not to be includible in H's income and under section 23 (u) are not deductible from his income.

Example (2). A decree of divorce obtained by W from H incorporated a previous agreement of H to establish a trust, the trustees of which were instructed to pay W $5,000 a year for her life. The court retained jurisdiction to order H to provide further payments if necessary for the support of W. In 1942 the trustees paid to W $4,000 from the income of the trust and $1,000 from the corpus of the trust. Under the provisions of sections 22 (k) and 171 (b), W will include $5,000 in her income for 1942. (The trustees will deduct $4,000 from the income of the trust under section 162.) H will not include any part of the $5,000 in his income nor take a deduction therefor. If H had paid the $1,000 to W, rather than allowing the trustees to pay it out of corpus, he would have been entitled to a deduction for $1,000 under the provisions of section 23 (u).

Par. 11. Section 19.24–1 is amended by striking out the sixth sentence and parenthetical clause following it and inserting in lieu thereof the following sentences:

Amounts paid as damages for breach of promise to marry, attorney's fees and other costs of suit to recover such damages, and attorney's fees paid in a suit for separation are not deductible from gross income. Amounts paid as alimony or allowance for support upon divorce or separation are not deductible except as provided in section 23 (u).

Par. 12. There is inserted immediately preceding § 19.25–1 the following:

* * * * *

(e) Credit for dependents—(1) Credit for normal tax and surtax. Section 25 (b) (2) (A) (relating to credit for dependents) is amended by inserting at the end thereof the following: A payment to a wife which is includible under section 22 (k) or section 171 in the gross income of such wife shall not be considered a payment by her husband for the support of any dependent.

(2) Credit for optional tax under Supplement T. For credit for dependents in case of optional tax, see amendment made by section 104 of this Act.

* * * * *

(g) Taxable years to which amendments applicable. The amendments made by this section shall be applicable only with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941; except that if the first taxable year beginning after December 31, 1941, of the husband does not begin on the same day as the first taxable year beginning after December 31, 1941, of the wife, such amendments shall first become applicable in the case of the husband on the first day of the wife's first taxable year beginning after December 31, 1941, regardless of the taxable year of the husband in which such day falls.

Par. 13. Section 19.25–4 is amended by inserting after the first sentence thereof the following new sentence:

In the case of spouses who are divorced or legally separated under a decree of divorce or of separate maintenance, periodic payments (in the nature of, or in lieu of, alimony or an allowance for support) received by one spouse which she is required under section 22 (k) or section 171 (a) to include in her gross income and which she uses for support of dependents are considered payments by her for such support and not payments by the other spouse for support of any person.

Par. 14. Section 19.25–6, as amended by Treasury Decision 5086, is amended by inserting, at the end of the second paragraph thereof, the following new sentence:

In the case of spouses who are divorced or legally separated under a decree of divorce or of separate maintenance, payments (in the nature of, or in lieu of, alimony or an allowance for support) received by one spouse which she is required under section 22 (k) or section 171 (a) to include in her gross income and which she uses for support of dependents are considered payments by her for such support and not payments by the other spouse for support of any person.

Par. 15. Section 19.147–1, as amended by Treasury Decision 5086, is amended by striking out, in the second paragraph thereof, "19.22 (b) (2)–1, and 19.22 (b) (2)–2" and by inserting in lieu thereof "19.22 (b) (2) (A)–1, and 19.22 (b) (2) (A)–2".

Par. 16. Section 19.161–1 is amended as follows:

(B) By inserting, immediately preceding the last sentence (the cross reference) in subsection (a), the following sentences:

So-called alimony trusts to which section 22 (k) or section 171 applies may be of a type to which the provisions of sections 161, 162, and 163 also apply, or of a type which is excluded from the provisions of sections 161, 162, and 163. Except to the extent that section 22 (k) or section 171 governs the taxability of amounts paid, credited or to be distributed attributable to trust property, the treatment of such trusts under sections 161, 162, and 163 or under sections 166 and 167 is not affected by section 22 (k) or section 171.

Par. 17. Section 19.162–1 is amended by striking out the period and the cross reference in parentheses at the end of the sixth paragraph thereof (not counting as paragraphs the divisions designated (1), (2) and (3) following the colon in the second paragraph) and by inserting in lieu thereof the following: ", except in cases to which section 22 (k) or section 171 applies. See §§ 19.167–1, 19.171–1, and 19.171–2.)".

Par. 18. Section 19.166–1 is amended as follows:

(B) By inserting, immediately preceding "regardless" in the fourth sentence of subsection (b), the following: "(except as provided in section 22 (k) or section 171)".

(C) By inserting, immediately following "corpus", the first time it appears in subsection (c), the following: ", except as provided in sections 22 (k), 23 (u), and 171,".

Par. 19. Section 19.167–1 is amended as follows:

(A) By inserting, immediately following "another" in the second sentence of subsection (b), the following: "(except a wife to whom such income is taxable under section 22 (k) or section 171)".

(B) By inserting, immediately preceding "regardless" in the third paragraph of subsection (b), the following: "(except as provided in section 22 (k) or section 171)".

(C) By inserting, immediately preceding the period at the end of the fourth paragraph of subsection (b), the following: ", except where it is expressly required by section 22 (k) or section 171 to be included in the gross income of a wife or former wife".

Par. 20. There is inserted immediately following section 19.170–1, the following:

Sec. 120. ALIMONY AND SEPARATE MAINTENANCE PAYMENTS. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title I.)

(c) Income from trusts. Supplement E of Chapter 1 is amended by inserting at the end thereof the following new section:

Sec. 171. INCOME OF AN ESTATE OR TRUST IN CASE OF DIVORCE, ETC.

(a) Inclusion in gross income. There shall be included in the gross income of a wife who is divorced or legally separated under a decree of divorce or of separate maintenance the amount of the income of any trust which such wife is entitled to receive and which, except for the provisions of this section, would be includible in the gross income of her husband, and such amount shall not, despite section 166, section 167, or any other provision of this chapter, be includible in the gross income of such husband. This subsection shall not apply to that part of any such income of the trust which the terms of the decree or trust instrument fix, in terms of an amount of money or a portion of such income, as a sum which is payable for the support of minor children of such husband. In case such income is less than the amount specified in the decree or instrument, for the purpose of applying the preceding sentence, such income, to the extent of such sum payable for such support, shall be considered a payment for such support.

(b) Wife considered a beneficiary. For the purposes of computing the net income of the estate or trust and the net income of the wife described in section 22 (k) or subsection (a) of this section, such wife shall be considered as the beneficiary specified in this supplement. A periodic payment under section 22 (k) to any part of which the provisions of this supplement are applicable shall be included in the gross income of the beneficiary in the taxable year in which under this supplement such part is required to be included.

(g) Taxable years to which amendments applicable. The amendments made by this section shall be applicable only with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941; except that if the first taxable year beginning after December 31, 1941, of the husband does not begin on the same day as the first taxable year beginning after December 31, 1941, of the wife, such amendments shall first become applicable in the case of the husband on the first day of the wife's first taxable year beginning after December 31, 1941, regardless of the taxable year of the husband in which such day falls.

§ 19.171–1 Income of trust in case of divorce, etc.—(a) In general. Section 171 (a) provides rules in certain cases for taxability of income of trusts as between spouses who are divorced or legally separated under a court order or decree. In such cases, the spouse actually entitled to receive payments from the trust is considered the beneficiary rather than the spouse in discharge of whose obligation such payments are made. For convenience, the beneficiary spouse will hereafter in this section and in § 19.171–2 be referred to as the "wife" and the obligor spouse from whom she is divorced or legally separated as the "husband." (See section 3797 (a) (17).) Thus, under section 171 (a) income of a trust—

(1) which is paid, credited or to be distributed to the wife in a taxable year of the wife beginning after December 31, 1941, and

Section 171 (a) does not apply in any case to which section 22 (k) applies. Although section 171 (a) and section 22 (k) seemingly cover some of the same situations, there are important differences between them. Thus, section 171 (a) applies, for example, to a trust created before the divorce or separation and not in contemplation of it, while section 22 (k) applies only if the creation of the trust or payments by a previously created trust are in discharge of a legal obligation imposed upon or assumed by the husband (or made specific) under the court decree or an instrument incident to the divorce or legal separation. On the other hand, section 22 (k) requires inclusion in the wife's income of the full amount of periodic payments received attributable to property in trust (whether or not out of trust income), while section 171 (a) requires amounts paid, credited or to be distributed to her to be included only to the extent such amounts are out of income of the trust for its taxable year (determined as provided in section 162).

Section 171 (a) is designed to produce uniformity as between cases described in section 171 (a) and cases not described in section 171 (a), where, in the former cases, without section 171 (a), the income of a so-called alimony trust would be taxable to the husband because of his continuing obligation to support his former wife, and where, in the latter cases, the income of a so-called alimony trust is taxable to the former wife because of the termination of the husband's obligation. Furthermore, section 171 (a) taxes trust income to the wife in all cases where under prior law the husband would be taxed not only because of the discharge of his alimony obligation but also because of his retention of control over the income or trust corpus. Section 171 (a) applies whether or not the wife is the beneficiary under the terms of the trust instrument or is an assignee of a beneficiary.

The application of section 171 (a) may be illustrated by the following examples, in which it is assumed that both the husband and wife make their income tax returns on a calendar year basis:

Example (1). Upon the marriage of H and W, H irrevocably transfers property in trust to pay the income therefrom to W for her life for support, maintenance and all other expenses. Some years later, W obtains a legal separation from H under an order of court. W, relying upon the income from the trust payable to her, does not ask for any provision for her support and none is ordered by the court; the court, however, has jurisdiction under the law of the State to order at any time prior to an absolute divorce that provision be made by H for W's support. Under the provisions of section 171 (a), the income of the trust which becomes payable to W in 1942 (after the order of separation) is includible in her income and is deductible by the trust. No part thereof is includible in H's income or deductible by him.

Example (2). H transfers property in trust for the benefit of W, retaining the power to revoke the trust at any time. H, however, promises that if he revokes the trust he will transfer to W property in the value of $100,000. The transfer in trust and the agreement were not incident to divorce, but some years later W divorces H. The court decree is silent as to alimony and the trust. After the divorce, income of the trust which becomes payable to W in any taxable year beginning after December 31, 1941 is taxable to her, and is not taxable to H or deductible by him. If H later terminates the trust and transfers $100,000 of property to W, such $100,000 is not income to W nor deductible by H.

(b) Alimony trust income designated for support of minor children. Section 171 (a) does not require the inclusion in the wife's income of trust income which the terms of the decree or trust instrument fix in terms of an amount of money or a portion of such income as a sum which is payable for the support of minor children of the husband. The statute prescribes the treatment in cases where under the terms of the decree or trust instrument a specific amount of trust income is to be paid but a lesser amount becomes payable. In such cases, to the extent of the sum which would be payable for such support out of the originally specified amount of trust income, such trust income is considered payable for support of such minor children. This rule is similar to that provided in the case of periodic payments under section 22 (k). See § 19.22 (k)–1 (d).

§ 19.171–2 Application of trust rules to alimony payments. For the purpose of the application of sections 162, 163 and 164, the wife described in section 171 or section 22 (k) who is entitled to receive payments attributable to property in trust is considered a beneficiary of the trust, whether or not the payments are made for the benefit of the husband in discharge of his obligations.

A periodic payment includible in the wife's gross income under section 22 (k) attributable to property in trust shall be included in full in her gross income in her taxable year in which any part is required to be included under sections 162 and 164. Assume, for example, in a case in which both the wife and the trust file income tax returns on the calendar year basis, that an annuity of $5,000 is to be paid to the wife by the trustee every December 31 (out of trust income if possible and, if not, out of corpus) pursuant to the terms of a divorce decree. Of the $5,000 distributable on December 31, 1942, $4,000 is payable out of income and $1,000 out of corpus. The actual distribution is made in 1943. Although the periodic payment is received by the wife in 1943, since under sections 162 and 164 the $4,000 income distributable on December 31, 1942, is to be included in the wife's income for 1942, the $1,000 payment out of corpus is to be included in her income for 1942.

(f) Definitions. Section 3797 (a) (relating to definitions) is amended by inserting at the end thereof the following new paragraph:

(17) Husband and wife. As used in sections 22 (k), 23 (u), 25 (b) (2) (A), and 171, and the last sentence of section 401 (a) (2), if the husband and wife therein referred to are divorced, wherever appropriate to the meaning of such sections, the term "wife" shall be read "former wife" and the term "husband" shall be read "former husband"; and, if the payments described in such sections are made by or on behalf of the wife or former wife to the husband or former husband instead of vice versa, wherever appropriate to the meaning of such sections, the term "husband" shall be read "wife" and the term "wife" shall be read "husband".

(g) Taxable years to which amendments applicable. The amendments made by this section shall be applicable only with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941; except that if the first taxable year beginning after December 31, 1941 of the husband does not begin on the same day as the first taxable year beginning after December 31, 1941, of the wife, such amendments shall first become applicable in the case of the husband on the first day of the wife's first taxable year beginning after December 31, 1941, regardless of the taxable year of the husband in which such day falls.

PART 19—INCOME TAX UNDER THE INTERNAL REVENUE CODE

NON-TRADE OR NON-BUSINESS DEDUCTIONS, ETC.

Regulations 103 and prior income tax regulations amended. Deductions for non-trade or non-business expenses paid or incurred for the production or collection of income or for the management, conservation, or maintenance of property held by the taxpayer for the production of income. Deductions of amounts allowable for estate tax purposes denied as deduction for income tax purposes unless certain conditions are fulfilled. Sections 121 and 161, Revenue Act of 1942 (Public Law 753, 77th Congress), approved October 21, 1942.

In order to conform Regulations 103 [Part 19, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, 1940 Sup.] to sections 121 and 161 of the Revenue Act of 1942 (Public Law 753, 77th Congress), approved October 21, 1942, such regulations are amended as follows:

PARAGRAPH 1. The following is inserted immediately preceding § 19.23 (a)–1:

SEC. 121. NON-TRADE OR NON-BUSINESS DEDUCTIONS. (Revenue Act of 1942.)

(a) Deduction for expenses. Section 23 (a) (relating to deduction for expenses) is amended to read as follows:

(1) Trade or business expenses.

(A) In general. All the ordinary and necessary expenses paid or incurred during the taxable year in carrying on any trade or business, including a reasonable allowance for salaries or other compensation for personal services actually rendered; traveling expenses (including the entire amount expended for meals and lodging) while away from home in the pursuit of a trade or business; and rentals or other payments required to be made as a condition to the continued use or possession, for purposes of the trade or business, of property to which the taxpayer has not taken or is not taking title or in which he has no equity.

(B) Corporate charitable contributions. No deduction shall be allowable under subparagraph (A) to a corporation for any contribution or gift which would be alowable as a deduction under subsection (q) were it not for the 5 per centum limitation therein contained and for the requirement therein that payment must be made within the taxable year.

(C) Expenditures for advertising and good will. If a corporation has, for the purpose of computing its excess profits credit under Chapter 2E, claimed the benefits of the election provided in section 733, no deduction shall be allowable under subparagraph (A) to such corporation for expenditures for advertising or the promotion of good will which, under the rules and regulations prescribed under section 733 (a), may be regarded as capital investments.

(2) Non-trade or non-business expenses. In the case of an individual, all the ordinary and necessary expenses paid or incurred during the taxable year for the production or collection of income, or for the management, conservation, or maintenance of property held for the production of income.

* * * * *

(d) Taxable years to which amendments applicable. The amendments made by this section shall be applicable to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1938.

PAR. 2. The following is inserted immediately after § 19.23 (a)–14:

§ 19.23 (a)–15 Nontrade or nonbusiness expenses—(a) In general. Subject to the qualifications and limitations in Chapter 1 and particularly in section 24, as amended, an expense may be deducted under section 23 (a) (2) only upon the condition that:

(1) It has been paid or incurred by the taxpayer during the taxable year (i) for the production or collection of income which, if and when realized, will be required to be included in income for Federal income tax purposes, or (ii) for the management, conservation, or maintenance of property held for the production of such income; and

(2) It is an ordinary and necessary expense for either or both of the purposes stated in (1) above.

The term "income" for the purpose of section 23 (a) (2) comprehends not merely income of the taxable year but also income which the taxpayer has realized in a prior taxable year or may realize in subsequent taxable years; and is not confined to recurring income but applies as well to gains from the disposition of property. For example, if defaulted bonds, the interest from which if received would be includible in income, are purchased with the expectation of realizing capital gain on their resale, even though no current yield thereon is anticipated, ordinary and necessary expenses thereafter incurred in connection therewith are deductible. Similarly, ordinary and necessary expenses incurred in the management, conservation or maintenance of a building devoted to rental purposes are deductible notwithstanding that there is actually no income therefrom in the taxable year, and regardless of the manner in which or the purpose for which the property in question was acquired. Expenses incurred in managing, conserving, or maintaining property held for investment may be deductible under this provision even though the property is not currently productive and there is no likelihood that the property will be sold at a profit or will otherwise be productive of income and even though the property is held merely to minimize a loss with respect thereto. The expenses, however, of carrying on transactions, which do not constitute a trade or business of the taxpayer and are not carried on for the production or collection of income or for the management, conservation, or maintenance of property held for the production of income, but which are carried on primarily as a sport, hobby, or recreation are not allowable as nontrade or nonbusiness expenses.

Expenses, to be deductible under section 23 (a) (2), must be "ordinary and necessary", which presupposes that they must be reasonable in amount and must bear a reasonable and proximate relation to the production or collection of taxable income or to the management, conservation, or maintenance of property held for the production of income.

(b) Except for the requirement of being incurred in connection with a trade or business, a deduction under this section is subject to all the restrictions and limitations that apply in the case of the deduction under section 23 (a) (1) (A) of an expense paid or incurred in carrying on any trade or business. This includes restrictions and limitations contained in section 24, as amended. Section 24 (a) (5), as amended, continues to disallow any amount otherwise allowable as a deduction (whether under section 23 (a) (2) or otherwise) which is allocable to one or more classes of tax-exempt income, other than interest, and has the effect in addition of disallowing a deduction under section 23 (a) (2) for amounts otherwise allowable under that section which are allocable to tax-exempt interest. Thus any amount allocable to the production or collection of one or more classes of income which is not includible in gross income or to the management, conservation or maintenance of property held for the production of such income is not deductible under section 23 (a) (2). Nor does section 23 (a) (2) allow any expenses which are disallowed by any of the provisions of Chapter 1 of the Code.

Capital expenditures, and expenses of carrying on transactions which do not constitute a trade or business of the taxpayer and are not carried on for the production or collection of income or for the management, conservation, or maintenance of property held for the production of income, but which are carried on primarily as a sport, hobby, or recreation are not allowable as nontrade or nonbusiness expenses. The question whether or not a transaction is carried on primarily for the production of income or for the management, conservation, or maintenance of property held for the production or collection of income, rather than primarily as a sport, hobby, or recreation, is not to be determined solely from the intention of the taxpayer but rather from all the circumstances of the case, including the record of prior gain or loss of the taxpayer in the activity, the relation between the type of activity and the principal occupation of the taxpayer, and the uses to which the property or what it produces is put by the taxpayer.

Among expenditures not allowable under section 23 (a) (2) are the following: Commuters' expenses; expenses of taking special courses or training; expenses for improving personal appearance; the cost of rental of a safe-deposit box for storing jewelry and other personal effects; and expenses such as expenses in seeking employment or in placing oneself in a position to begin rendering personal services for compensation, campaign expenses of a candidate for public office, bar examination fees and other expenses incurred in securing admission to the bar, and corresponding fees and expenses incurred by physicians, dentists, accountants, and other taxpayers for securing the right to practice their respective professions.

Fees for services of investment counsel, custodian fees, clerical help, office rent, and similar expenses paid or incurred by a taxpayer in connection with investments held by him are deductible under section 23 (a) (2) only if (1) they are paid or incurred by the taxpayer for the production or collection of income, or for the management, conservation, or maintenance of investments held by him for the production of income; and (2) they are ordinary and necessary under all the circumstances, having regard to the type of investment and to the relation of the taxpayer to such investment.

Ordinary and necessary expenses in connection with the management, conservation, or maintenance of property used as a residence by the taxpayer or acquired by him for such use are not deductible, even though the taxpayer makes efforts to sell the property at a profit or to convert it to income-producing purposes, and even though the property is not occupied by the taxpayer as a residence, unless prior to the time that such expenses are incurred the property has been rented or otherwise appropriated to income-producing purposes by some affirmative act and has not been reconverted.

Expenditures incurred by an administrator or executor in securing the processes and orders of the court having jurisdiction over the probate of the estate, or in collecting the assets of the estate (other than income which, if and when realized, must be reported by the estate for income tax purposes), or in adjusting claims against the decedent, or in distributing the remaining assets to the beneficiaries, or in conserving the assets for ultimate distribution to the parties entitled thereto, are not deductible under this section. Ordinary and necessary expenses, however, which are paid or incurred during the taxable year by an administrator or executor for the production or collection of income which, if and when realized, must be reported by the estate for income tax purposes, such as fees for collecting rents on property in the estate of the decedent, or for collecting interest or dividends on securities in that estate, or which are paid or incurred during the taxable year for the management, conservation, or maintenance of property in the estate of the decedent held for the production of income, the income from which, if and when realized, must be reported by the estate for income tax purposes, such as expenditures for insurance or repairs, or expenditures of a similar nature, are deductible under this section at the option of the taxpayer notwithstanding that deductions therefor are allowable under section 812 (b) in computing the gross estate subject to the estate tax, provided the requisite statement and waiver are filed. (See section 162 (e).)

The ordinary expenditures of administration incurred in a receivership or bankruptcy proceeding are not deductible Such expenditures include expenditures incurred in the performance of the ordinary duties of a receiver or trustee in bankruptcy, as, for example, fees paid to the attorney for the petitioning creditors, fees paid to the appraisers, and disbursements which are made in connection with the proceeding and which look toward the collection of the assets and their preservation pending ultimate distribution to the parties entitled thereto.

Reasonable amounts paid or incurred by a trustee on account of trustees' fees and other expenses which are ordinary and necessary in connection with the production or collection of trust income or with the management, conservation, or maintenance of trust property held for the production of income are deductible, notwithstanding that the trust is not engaged in a trade or business.

Reasonable amounts paid or incurred for the services of a guardian or committee for a ward or minor, and other expenses of guardians and committees which are ordinary and necessary, in connection with the production or collection of income inuring to the ward or minor, or in connection with the management, conservation, or maintenance of property, held for the production of income, belonging to the ward or minor, are deductible.

It is immaterial whether the expenses of fiduciaries are paid from the corpus of the estate or from income. Expenses derive their character not from the fund from which they are paid, but from the purposes for which they are incurred.

Expenditures incurred in defending or perfecting title to property, in recovering property (other than investment property and amounts of income which, if and when recovered, must be included in income), or in developing or improving property, constitute a part of the cost of the property and are not deductible expenses. Attorneys' fees paid in a suit to quiet title to lands are not deductible; but if the suit is also to collect accrued rents thereon, that portion of such fees is deductible which is properly allocable to the services rendered in collecting such rents. Expenditures incurred in protecting or asserting one's rights to property of a decedent as heir or legatee, or as beneficiary under a testamentary trust, are not deductible expenses. Expenditures incurred for the purpose of preparing tax returns (except to the extent such returns relate to taxes on property held for the production of income), for the purpose of recovering taxes (other than recoveries required to be included in income), or for the purpose of resisting a proposed additional assessment of taxes (other than taxes on property held for the production of income) are not deductible expenses under this section, except that part thereof which the taxpayer clearly shows to be properly allocable to the recovery of interest required to be included in income.

The deduction of an item otherwise allowable under section 23 (a) (2) will not be disallowed simply because the taxpayer also had an election under chapter 1 to treat it as a capital expenditure, rather than to deduct it as an expense. (See section 24 (a) (7), added by section 122 of the Revenue Act of 1942.) Where, however, the item may properly be treated only as a capital expenditure or where it was properly so treated under an option granted in Chapter 1, no deduction is allowable under this section; and this is true regardless of whether any basis adjustment is allowed under section 113.

(c) The provisions of section 23 (a) (2) are not intended in any way to disallow expenses which would otherwise be allowable under section 23 (a) (1) or the regulations applicable thereto, or under any other section of the Internal Revenue Code or the regulations applicable thereto. Double deductions are not permitted. Amounts deducted under one provision of the Internal Revenue Code cannot again be deducted under any other provision thereof.

EXTENSION OF DEDUCTION FOR AMORTIZATION OF EMERGENCY FACILITIES

Regulations 103 amended to conform to section 155 of the Revenue Act of 1942, relating to extension of deduction for amortization of emergency facilities to persons other than corporations, and to corporations in the case of facilities acquired or constructed between January 1 and June 10, 1940, inclusive.

In order to conform Regulations 103 [Part 19, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, 1940 Sup.] to section 155 of the Revenue Act of 1942 (Public Law 753, 77th Congress), such regulations are amended as follows:

PARAGRAPH 1. There is inserted immediately preceding § 19.124-1 the following:

SEC. 155. EXTENSION OF DEDUCTION FOR AMORTIZATION OF EMERGENCY FACILITIES. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title I.)

(a) General rule. The first sentence of section 124 (a) is amended to read as follows: "Every person, at his election, shall be entitled to a deduction with respect to the amortization of the adjusted basis (for determining gain) of any emergency facility (as defined in subsection (e)), based on a period of sixty months."

(b) Election of amortization. Section 124 (b) is amended by adding at the end thereof the following new sentence: "In the case of an emergency facility completed or acquired (1) after December 31, 1939, and before June 11, 1940, by a corporation, or (2) after December 31, 1939, and before January 1, 1942, by a person other than a corporation, the taxpayer's election to take the amortization deduction and to begin such period with either the month following the month in which the facility was completed or acquired or with the succeeding taxable year shall be made only by a statement in writing to that effect to the Commissioner and shall be made before the expiration of six months after the date of enactment of the Revenue Act of 1942."

(c) Termination of amortization period.

(1) Section 124 (d) (3) is amended to read as follows:

(3) In the case of a taxpayer which has not elected, in the manner prescribed in subsection (b), to take an amortization deduction with respect to an emergency facility, if the date of the proclamation or the date specified in the certificate, referred to in paragraph (1) of this subsection, whichever is earlier, is before the expiration of sixty months from the last day of the month in which such emergency facility was completed or acquired, then the taxpayer may elect (in accordance with paragraph (4) of this subsection) the amortization deduction provided in subsection (a), using an amortization period beginning with the month following the month in which the emergency facility was completed or acquired and ending as of the end of the month within which such proclamation was issued or within which occurred the date specified in such certificate, whichever is the earlier.

(2) Section 124 (d) is amended by inserting at the end thereof the following new paragraph:

(6) In the case of a taxpayer which has not elected, in the manner prescribed in subsection (b), to take an amortization deduction with respect to an emergency facility, if the date of the proclamation referred to in paragraph (1) of this subsection or the date specified in the certificate referred to in paragraph (1) of this subsection is before the completion of such emergency facility, then the taxpayer may elect (in accordance with paragraph (4) of this subsection) the amortization deduction provided in subsection (a), using an amortization period beginning with the month in which the construction, reconstruction, erection, or installation of the emergency facility was begun and ending as of the end of the month within which such proclamation was issued or within which occurred the date specified in the certificate referred to in paragraph (1) of this subsection, whichever is the earlier.

(1) Emergency facility. As used in this section, the term "emergency facility" means any facility, land, building, machinery, or equipment, or part thereof, the construction, reconstruction, erection, installation, or acquisition of which was completed after December 31, 1939, and with respect to which a certificate under subsection (f) has been made. For the purposes of this section, the part of any facility which was constructed, reconstructed, erected, or installed by any person after December 31, 1939, and not earlier than six months prior to the filing of an application for a certificate under subsection (f), and with respect to which part a certificate under subsection (f) has been made, shall be deemed to be an emergency facility, notwithstanding that the other part of such facility was constructed, reconstructed, erected, or installed earlier than six months prior to the filing of such application. For the purposes of this section, the part of any facility which was constructed, reconstructed, erected, or installed by a corporation after December 31, 1939, and before June 11, 1940, and with respect to which part a certificate under subsection (f) has been made, shall be deemed to be an emergency facility and to have been completed on June 10, 1940, notwithstanding that the entire facility was not completed until after June 10, 1940.

(2) Emergency period. As used in this section, the term "emergency period" means the period beginning January 1, 1940, and ending on the date on which the President proclaims that the utilization of a substantial portion of the emergency facilities with respect to which certifications under subsection (f) have been made is no longer required in the interest of national defense.

(1) Section 124 (f) (1) is amended to read as follows:

(1) There shall be included only so much of the amount otherwise constituting such adjusted basis as is properly attributable to such construction, reconstruction, erection, installation, or acquisition after December 31, 1939, as either the Secretary of War or the Secretary of the Navy has certified as necessary in the interest of national defense during the emergency period, which certification shall be under such regulations as may be prescribed from time to time by the Secretary of War and the Secretary of the Navy, with the approval of the President.

(2) Section 124 (f) (3) is amended to read as follows:

(3) The certificate provided for in paragraph (1) shall have no effect unless an application therefor is filed before the expiration of six months after the beginning of such construction, reconstruction, erection, or installation or the date of such acquisition, or before December 1, 1941, whichever is later, except that—

(A) in the case of an emergency facility completed or acquired by a corporation after December 31, 1939, and before June 11, 1940, such certificate shall have no effect unless an application therefor is filed before the expiration of six months after the date of the enactment of the Revenue Act of 1942, and

(B) in the case of an emergency facility completed or acquired after December 31, 1939, by a person other than a corporation, such certificate shall have no effect unless an application therefor is filed before the expiration of six months after the beginning of such construction, reconstruction, erection, or installation or the date of such acquisition, or before the expiration of six months after the date of the enactment of the Revenue Act of 1942, whichever is later.

In no event and notwithstanding any of the other provisions of this section, no amortization deduction shall be allowed in respect of any emergency facility for any taxable year—

(C) unless a certificate in respect thereof under paragraph (1) shall have been made (i) prior to the filing of the taxpayer's return for such taxable year, or prior to the making of an election pursuant to subsection (d) (3) or subsection (d) (6) of this section to take the amortization deduction, or (ii) before December 1, 1941, whichever is later; or

(D) in the case of an emergency facility completed or acquired by a corporation after December 31, 1939, and before June 11, 1940, unless a certificate in respect thereof under paragraph (1) shall have been made prior to the expiration of twelve months after the date of enactment of the Revenue Act of 1942; or

(E) in the case of an emergency facility completed or acquired after December 31, 1939, and before January 1, 1943, by a person other than a corporation, unless a certificate in respect thereof under paragraph (1) shall have been made (i) prior to the expiration of nine months after the last date upon which an application for such certificate may be filed, or (ii) prior to the expiration of twelve months after the date of enactment of the Revenue Act of 1942, whichever is later.

(f) Life tenant and remainderman. Section 124 is amended by inserting at the end thereof the following new subsection:

(i) Life tenant and remainderman. In the case of property held by one person for life with remainder to another person, the deduction shall be computed as if the life tenant were the absolute owner of the property and shall be allowable to the life tenant.

* * * * *

(i) Retroactive application of extension. The amendments made by this section shall be effective as of October 8, 1940.

(j) Overpayments. Where a tax paid under Chapter 1, Chapter 2B, or Chapter 2E of the Internal Revenue Code is in excess of the tax which would have been paid had section 124 of the Internal Revenue Code, as previously amended, been enacted on October 8, 1940, to read as amended by this section, then credit or refund of such excess may be made without interest, in accordance with the provisions of law applicable in the case of erroneous or illegal assessment or collection or overpayment of the tax.

PAR. 2. Section 19.124-1, as added by Treasury Decision 5016, approved October 23, 1940, and amended by Treasury Decision 5049, approved May 29, 1941, and Treasury Decision 5104, approved December 23, 1941, is renumbered §19.124–0 and amended to read as follows:

§ 19.124–0 Definitions. As used in this section and §§ 19.124–1 to 19.124–9, inclusive, the term:

(a) "Secretary of the Department concerned" means the Secretary of War or the Secretary of the Navy, as the case may be.

(b) "Emergency facility" means any facility, land, building, machinery, or equipment, or any part thereof:

(1) The acquisition of which occurred after December 31, 1939, or the construction, reconstruction, erection, or installation of which was completed after such date, and

(2) Any part of the construction, reconstruction, erection, installation, or acquisition of which has, under such regulations as may be prescribed by the Secretary of War and the Secretary of the Navy, with the approval of the President, been certified by the Secretary of the Department concerned as necessary in the interest of national defense during the emergency period.

The part of any facility which is constructed, reconstructed, erected, or installed by any person after December 31, 1939, and not earlier than six months prior to the filing of an application for a certificate of necessity under section 124 (f), and which is certified by the Secretary of the Department concerned as necessary in the interest of national defense during the emergency period, shall be deemed to be an emergency facility, notwithstanding that the other part of such facility was constructed, reconstructed, erected, or installed earlier than six months prior to the filing of such application. If the construction, reconstruction, erection, or installation of a facility by a corporation is begun before June 11, 1940, and completed after June 10, 1940, the part of such facility which is constructed, reconstructed, erected, or installed after December 31, 1939, and before June 11, 1940, shall be deemed to be an emergency facility, provided such part is certified by the Secretary of the Department concerned as necessary in the interest of national defense during the emergency period.

The term "emergency facility", as so defined, may include, among other things, improvements of land, such as the construction of airports and the dredging of channels.

(c) "Emergency period" means the period beginning on January 1, 1940, and ending on the date on which the President proclaims that the utilization of a substantial portion of the emergency facilities is no longer required in the interest of national defense.

Par. 3. There is inserted immediately preceding § 19.124–2 the following new section:

§ 19.124–1 Certificate of necessity. The certification by the Secretary of the Department concerned that a facility is necessary in the interest of national defense during the emergency period shall have no effect:

(a) In the case of an emergency facility completed or acquired by a corporation after June 10, 1940, unless an application therefor is filed before the expiration of six months after the beginning of the construction, reconstruction, erection, or installation of such facility or the date of its acquisition, or before December 1, 1941, whichever is later (but see § 19.124–0 (b));

(b) In the case of an emergency facility completed or acquired by a corporation after December 31, 1939, and before June 11, 1940, unless an application therefor is filed before April 22, 1943; and

(c) In the case of an emergency facility completed or acquired after December 31, 1939, by a person other than a corporation, unless an application therefor is filed before the expiration of six months after the beginning of the construction, reconstruction, erection, or installation of such facility or the date of its acquisition, or before April 22, 1943, whichever is later.

Par. 4. Section 19.124–2, as added by Treasury Decision 5016 and amended by Treasury Decision 5135 (approved April 1, 1942), is amended as follows:

(A) By striking out "corporation" in the first sentence and inserting "person" in lieu thereof.

(B) By inserting at the end of the first paragraph the following new sentence:

* * * If the construction, reconstruction, erection, or installation of an emergency facility by a corporation is begun before June 11, 1940, and completed after June 10, 1940, the part of such emergency facility which is constructed, reconstructed, erected, or installed after December 31, 1939, and before June 11, 1940, shall be deemed to have been completed on June 10, 1940.

(C) By striking out the second paragraph and inserting in lieu thereof the following paragraph:

With respect to an emergency facility, no amortization deduction shall be allowed for the taxable year in which or with which the taxpayer elects to begin the 60-month amortization period unless:

(a) In the case of an emergency facility completed or acquired by a corporation after June 10, 1940, a certificate of necessity in respect thereof shall have been made (1) before the filing of the taxpayer's return for such taxable year, or before the making of an election pursuant to section 124 (d) (3) or section 124 (d) (6) to take the amortization deduction, or (2) before December 1, 1941, whichever is later;

(b) In the case of an emergency facility completed or acquired by a corporation after December 31, 1939, and before June 11, 1940, unless a certificate of necessity in respect thereof shall have been made before October 22, 1943;

(c) In the case of an emergency facility completed or acquired by a person other than a corporation after December 31, 1942, unless a certificate of necessity in respect thereof shall have been made before the filing of the taxpayer's return for such taxable year, or before the making of an election pursuant to section 124 (d) (3) or section 124 (d) (6); or

(d) In the case of an emergency facility completed or acquired after December 31, 1939, and before January 1, 1943, by a person other than a corporation, unless a certificate of necessity in respect thereof shall have been made (1) before the expiration of nine months after the last date upon which an application for such certificate may be filed or (2) before October 22, 1943, whichever is later.

(D) By inserting at the end thereof the following new examples:

Example (4). On March 18, 1940, the R Corporation, which makes its income tax returns on the calendar year basis, begins the construction of a facility which is completed on October 25, 1940, at a cost of $350,000, of which $132,000 is attributable to construction before June 11, 1940, and $218,000 to construction after June 10, 1940. On January 28, 1941, the entire part of the construction after June 10, 1940, is certified as an emergency facility, and the R Corporation, in its income tax return for 1940, elects to take amortization deductions with respect thereto and to begin the 60-month amortization period with November 1940, the month following the month of completion. With respect to the part of the construction before June 11, 1940, the R Corporation in its returns for 1940 and 1941, takes depreciation deductions aggregating $5,000. On February 14, 1943, the entire part of the construction before June 11, 1940, is certified as a separate emergency facility. The R Corporation, in a statement in writing to the Commissioner made before April 22, 1943, elects to take amortization deductions with respect to such facility and to begin the 60-month amortization period with July 1940, the month following the month of completion. For such purposes, the adjusted basis of such facility at the end of July 1940 is $132,000. Such amortization deductions are in lieu of depreciation deductions, the depreciation deductions of $5,000 previously taken for 1940 and 1941 are disallowed. The allowable amortization deduction with respect to such facility for the taxable year 1940 is $13,200, computed as follows:

Monthly amortization deductions:
August ($129,800÷59)	2,200
September ($127,600÷58)	2,200
For the remaining three months (similarly computed)	6,600
Total amortization deduction for 1940	13,200

The allowable amortization deduction with respect to such facility for the taxable year 1941, similarly computed, is $26,400.

Example (5). On April 1, 1940, A, an individual, who makes his income tax returns on a calendar year basis, acquires a facility at a cost of $182,700. In his returns for the taxable years 1940 and 1941, A takes depreciation deductions with respect to such facility of $2,700 and $3,600, respectively. On February 6, 1943, the facility is certified as an emergency facility and A, in a statement in writing made to the Commissioner before April 22, 1943, elects to take amortization deductions with respect thereto and to begin the 60-month amortization period with the taxable year 1941, the year succeeding the year in which the facility was acquired. The adjusted basis of such facility at the end of January 1941 is $180,000 ($182,700 less the depreciation of $2,700 taken in the return for 1940). Since amortization deductions are in lieu of depreciation deductions, the depreciation deduction of $3,600 previously taken for 1941 is disallowed. The allowable amortization deduction with respect to such facility for the taxable year 1941 is $36,000, computed as follows:

Monthly amortization deductions:
January ($180,000÷60)	$3,000
February ($177,000÷59)	3,000
March ($174,000÷58)	3,000
For the remaining nine months (similarly computed)	27,000
Total amortization deductions for 1941	36,000

Par. 5. Section 19.124–3, as added by Treasury Decision 5016, is amended to read as follows:

§ 19.124–3 Election of amortization. In the case of an emergency facility completed or acquired (1) after June 10, 1940, by a corporation or (2) after December 31, 1941, by a person other than a corporation—

(a) An election by the taxpayer to take amortization deductions with respect thereto and to begin the 60-month amortization period with the month following the month in which such facility was completed or acquired shall be made only by a statement to that effect in its return for the taxable year in which such facility was completed or acquired; and

(b) An election by the taxpayer to take amortization deductions with respect thereto and to begin the 60-month amortization period with the taxable year succeeding that in which such facility was completed or acquired shall be made only by a statement to that effect in its return for such succeeding taxable year.

In the case of an emergency facility completed or acquired (1) after December 31, 1939, and before June 11, 1940, by a corporation, or (2) after December 31, 1939, and before January 1, 1942, by a person other than a corporation, an election by the taxpayer to take amortization deductions with respect thereto and to begin the 60-month amortization period either with the month following the month of completion of acquisition or with the following taxable year shall be made only by a statement in writing to that effect filed with the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Washington, D. C., before April 22, 1943.

No other method of making such elections is permitted. Any statement of election should contain a description clearly identifying each emergency facility for which an amortization deduction is claimed.

A taxpayer which does not elect, in the manner provided in section 124 (b), to take amortization deductions with respect to an emergency facility shall not, except as provided in sections 124 (d) (3) and 124 (d) (6), be entitled to amortization deductions with respect to such facility (see § 19.124–5 (d)).

Par. 6. Section 19.124–5 is amended as follows:

(A) By inserting immediately preceding the first sentence of paragraph (d) the following: "(1) General rule."

(B) By inserting at the end of paragraph (d) the following new subparagraph:

(2) Special rule with respect to incompleted facilities. If the date the emergency use ceases occurs after the beginning of the construction, reconstruction, erection, or installation of an emergency facility and such construction, reconstruction, erection, or installation is not completed, the taxpayer may elect, in the manner prescribed in paragraph (e) of this section, to take amortization deductions with respect to such facility, such amortization to be based on a period beginning with the month in which the construction, reconstruction, erection, or installation of such facility was begun and ending as of the end of the month in which occurs the date the emergency use ceases.

Par. 7. Section 19.124–6, as added by Treasury Decision 5016 and amended by Treasury Decision 5104, is amended as follows:

(A) The first four paragraphs of paragraph (a) are amended to read as follows:

The adjusted basis of an emergency facility for purposes of computing the amortization deduction may differ from what would otherwise constitute the adjusted basis of such emergency facility, in that it shall be the adjusted basis for determining gain (see section 113) and in that it may be only a portion of what would otherwise constitute the adjusted basis. It will be only a portion of such other adjusted basis if only a portion of the basis (unadjusted) is attributable to the certified construction, reconstruction, erection, installation, or acquisition after December 31, 1939. It is therefore necessary first to determine the unadjusted basis of the emergency facility from which the adjusted basis for amortization purposes is derived.

The unadjusted basis for amortization purposes, in cases where the entire construction, reconstruction, erection, installation, or acquisition takes place after December 31, 1939, and such construction, reconstruction, erection, installation, or acquisition is certified in its entirety by the Secretary of the Department concerned as necessary in the interest of national defense during the emergency period, is the same as the unadjusted basis otherwise determined.

In cases where the Secretary of the Department concerned certifies the entire construction, reconstruction, erection, installation, or acquisition after December 31, 1939, as necessary in the interest of national defense during the emergency period, but only a portion of the construction, reconstruction, erection, installation, or acquisition attributable to the facility takes place after December 31, 1939, the unadjusted basis for the purposes of amortization is so much of the entire unadjusted basis as is attributable to that portion of the construction, reconstruction, erection, installation, or acquisition which took place after December 31, 1939. For example, the X Corporation begins the construction of a facility November 15, 1939, and such facility is completed on April 1, 1940, at a cost of $500,000, of which $300,000 is attributable to construction after December 31, 1939. The certificate of necessity covers the entire construction after December 31, 1939, and the unadjusted basis of the emergency facility for amortization purposes is therefore $300,000. For depreciation of the remaining portion of the cost ($200,000), see § 19.124–7.

If the Secretary of the Department concerned certifies only a portion of the construction, reconstruction, erection, installation, or acquisition after December 31, 1939, then the unadjusted basis for amortization purposes is limited to the amount attributable to such portion of the construction, reconstruction, erection, installation, or acquisition after December 31, 1939. Assuming the same facts as in the example in the preceding paragraph, except that the certificate is to the effect that only 50 percent of the construction after December 31, 1939, is necessary in the interest of national defense during the emergency period, the unadjusted basis for amortization purposes is 50 percent of $300,000, or $150,000.

(B) There is inserted immediately following the fourth paragraph of paragraph (a) the following new paragraph:

Where a corporation begins the construction, reconstruction, erection, or installation of a facility before June 11, 1940, and completes it after June 10, 1940, the part of such construction, reconstruction, erection, or installation taking place after December 31, 1939, and before June 11, 1940, and the part thereof taking place after June 10, 1940, each constitutes a separate emergency facility, provided a certificate of necessity under section 124 (f) has been made with respect to each such part (see section 124 (e) and § 19.124–0). Furthermore, the part of such construction, reconstruction, erection, or installation taking place after December 31, 1939, and before June 11, 1940, is deemed to have been completed on June 10, 1940 (see section 124 (e) (1) and § 19.124–2). Accordingly, under such circumstances, in applying the foregoing rules for determining the unadjusted basis of the emergency facility representing the part of the construction, reconstruction, erection, or installation taking place after June 10, 1940, the date "June 10, 1940" should be substituted for the date "December 31, 1939".

Par. 8. Section 19.124–7, as added by Treasury Decision 5016 and amended by Treasury Decision 5104, is amended by striking out "June 10, 1940" wherever occurring therein and inserting in lieu thereof "December 31, 1939".

Par. 9. There is inserted immediately following § 19.124–8 the following new section:

§ 19.124–9 Life tenant and remainderman. In the case of an emergency facility held by one person for life with remainder to another person, the amortization deduction shall be computed as if the life tenant were the absolute owner of the facility and shall be allowable to the life tenant during his life.

PAR. 10. The following is inserted immediately before the heading "Partnerships" which precedes section 181:

SEC. 155. EXTENSION OF DEDUCTION FOR AMORTIZATION OF EMERGENCY FACILITIES. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title I.)

* * * * *

(g) Allwance to estate or trust. Supplement E (relating to estates and trusts) of Chapter 1 is amended by inserting at the end thereof the following new section:

SEC. 172. ALLOWANCE OF AMORTIZATION DEDUCTION.

The benefit of the deduction for amortization of emergency facilities allowed by section 23 (t) shall be allowed to estates and trusts in the same manner and to the same extent as in the case of an individual. The allowable deduction shall be apportioned between the income beneficiaries and the fiduciary under regulations prescribed by the Commissioner with the approval of the Secretary.

* * * * *

(i) Retroactive application of extension. The amendments made by this section shall be effective as of October 8, 1940.

(j) Overpayments. Where a tax paid under Chapter 1, Chapter 2B, or Chapter 2E of the Internal Revenue Code is in excess of the tax which would have been paid had section 124 of the Internal Revenue Code, as previously amended, been enacted on October 8, 1940, to read as amended by this section, then credit or refund of such excess may be made without interest, in accordance with the provisions of law applicable in the case of erroneous or illegal assessment or collection or overpayment of the tax.

§ 19.172–1 Amortization of emergency facility of estate or trust. In the case of an emergency facility, as defined in section 124 (e), acquired or completed by an estate or trust after December 31, 1939, such estate or trust is entitled to take amortization deductions with respect thereto in the same manner and to the same extent as in the case of an individual. See section 23 (t) and section 124 and the regulations thereunder. The principles governing the apportionment of depreciation in the case of property held in trust are applicable with respect to the amortization of an emergency facility of an estate or trust. (See § 19.23 (1)–1)

PAR. 11. The following is inserted immediately following § 19.189–1:

SEC. 155. EXTENSION OF DEDUCTION FOR AMORTIZATION OF EMERGENCY FACILITIES. (Revenue Act of 1942.)

(h) Partnerships. Supplement F (relating to partnerships) of Chapter 1 is amended by inserting at the end thereof the following new section:

SEC. 190. ALLOWANCE OF AMORTIZATION DEDUCTION.

In the case of emergency facilities of a partnership, the benefit of the deduction for amortization allowed by section 23 (t) shall not be allowed to the members of a partnership but shall be allowed to the partnership in the same manner and to the same extent as in the case of an individual.

(i) Retroactive application of extension. The amendments made by this section shall be effective as of October 8, 1940.

(j) Overpayments. Where a tax paid under Chapter 1, Chapter 2B or Chapter 2E of the Internal Revenue Code is in excess of the tax which would have been paid had section 124 of the Internal Revenue Code, as previously amended, been enacted on October 8, 1940, to read as amended by this section, then credit, or refund of such excess may be made without interest, in accordance with the provisions of law applicable in the case of erroneous or illegal assessment or collection or overpayment of the tax.

§ 19.190–1 Amortization of emergency facility of partnership. In the case of an emergency facility, as defined in section 124 (e), acquired or completed by a partnership after December 31, 1939, the partnership is entitled to take amortization deductions with respect thereto in the same manner and to the same extent as in the case of an individual. See section 23 (t) and section 124 and the regulations thereunder. Amortization deductions with respect to an emergency facility of a partneship are not allowed to the members of the partnership.

TITLE 30—MINERAL RESOURCES

Chapter III—Bituminous Coal Division

[Docket No. A–1716]

PART 330—MINIMUM PRICE SCHEDULE, DISTRICT NO. 10

ORDER GRANTING RELIEF, ETC.

Order granting temporary relief and conditionally providing for final relief in the matter of the petition of District Board No. 10, for the establishment of price classifications and minimum prices for coals of Sunny Brook Coal Company.

An original petition, pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, was duly filed with the Division by the above-named party, requesting the establishment, both temporary and permanent, of price classifications and minimum prices for the coals produced by the Sunny Brook No. 2 Mine, Mine Index No. 148, of the Sunny Brook Coal Company (Fred Edwards), for all shipments except truck.

In an order issued February 17, 1942, 7 F.R. 1538, in Docket No. A–1079, minimum prices for all shipments except truck were established for 37 mines, including Sunny Brook Mine, Mine Index No. 1226 of Sunny Brook Coal Company, from the transportation facilities of the McLaren Fuel Company's transportation plant near Marion, Illinois, on the Illinois Central and the Missouri Pacific Railroads.

Petitioner now alleges that at the time the order in Docket No. A–1079 was issued, Sunny Brook Mine, Mine Index No. 1226 had been abandoned and that the Sunny Brook Coal Company was then operating Sunny Brook No. 2 Mine, Mine Index No. 1481, truck prices for which were established in Docket No. A–1060, and that Sunny Brook No. 2 Mine, Mine Index No. 1481, should have been included in the petition in Docket No. A–1079 instead of Sunny Brook Mine, Mine Index No. 1226.

It appearing that a reasonable showing of necessity has been made for the granting of temporary relief in the manner hereinafter set forth; and that no petitions of intervention have been filed with the Division in the above-entitled matter; and the following action being deemed necessary in order to effectuate the purposes of the Act;

Now, therefore, it is ordered, That the price classifications and minimum prices established for the coals of the Sunny Brook Coal Company Mine, Mine Index No. 1226, by order entered in Docket No. A–1079 on February 17, 1942, 7 F.R. 1538, be and the same are hereby terminated.

It is further ordered, That, pending final disposition of the above-entitled matter, temporary relief be, and the same hereby is, granted as follows: Commencing forthwith § 330.4 (Price groups) is amended by adding thereto Supplement R–I, and § 330.10 (Special prices—(a) (2) Railroad locomotive fuel prices) is amended by adding thereto Supplement R–II, which supplements are hereinafter set forth and hereby made a part hereof.

It is further ordered, That pleadings in opposition to the original petition in the above-entitled matter and applications to stay, terminate, or modify the temporary relief herein granted may be filed with the Division within forty-five (45) days from the date of this order, pursuant to the Rules and Regulations Governing Practice and Procedure before the Bituminous Coal Division in Proceedings Instituted Pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937.

It is further ordered, That the relief herein granted shall become final sixty (60) days from the date of this order, unless it shall otherwise be ordered.

Dated: December 1, 1942.

Director.

PART 334—MINIMUM PRICE SCHEDULE, DISTRICT NO. 14

ORDER GRANTING RELIEF, ETC.

Order granting temporary relief and conditionally providing for final relief in the matter of the petition of District Board No. 14 for the establishment of price classifications and minimum prices for certain mines in District No. 14.

An original petition, pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, having been duly filed with this Division by the above-named party, requesting the establishment, both temporary and permanent, of price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of certain mines in District No. 14; and

It appearing that a reasonable showing of necessity has been made for the granting of temporary relief in the manner hereinafter set forth; and

No petitions of intervention having been filed with the Division in the above-entitled matter; and

The following action being deemed necessary in order to effectuate the purposes of the Act;

It is ordered, That, pending final disposition of the above-entitled matter, temporary relief is granted as follows: Commencing forthwith § 334.5 (Alphabetical list of code members) is amended by adding thereto Supplement R, and § 334.24 (General prices for shipment into all market areas) is amended by adding thereto Supplement T, which supplements are hereinafter set forth and hereby made a part hereof.

It is further ordered, That pleadings in opposition to the original petition in the above-entitled matter and applications to stay, terminate or modify the temporary relief herein granted may be filed with the Division within forty-five (45) days from the date of this order, pursuant to the Rules and Regulations Governing Practice and Procedure before the Bituminous Coal Division in Proceedings Instituted Pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937.

It is further ordered, That the relief herein granted shall become final sixty (60) days from the date of this order, unless it shall otherwise be ordered.

No price classifications or minimum prices are proposed by petitioner for the coals in Size Group 12 produced at the No. 1 Mine (Mine Index No. 606) of code member Lowrimore, Burns and Magnani Coal Co. (Walter Lowrimore), in Subdistrict No. 5 of District No. 14 and at the No. 7 Mine (Mine Index No. 612) of code member D. B. Withers (Bates Coal Company), in Subdistrict No. 9 of District No. 14. However, the order issued in Dockets Nos. A-137, A-208 and A-251, on March 28, 1942, 7 F.R. 2703, permanently established a price classification of "L" for all shipments except truck and a minimum price of $3.00 per ton for truck shipments for the coals in Size Group 12 produced at mines in Production Groups 2 to 9, inclusive, in District No. 14. For the purpose of uniformity, it is deemed advisable to establish classifications and minimum prices for the above-named mines which will correspond with those in effect for other mines in the same subdistricts producing comparable and analogous coals. Accordingly, price classifications and minimum prices for all shipments except truck and for truck shipments have been included in the attached schedules marked Supplement R and Supplement T for the coals in Size Group 12 produced from Mine Index Nos. 606 and 612.

The price classifications and minimum prices set forth in the attached schedules marked Supplement R and Supplement T are based upon the price classifications and minimum prices in effect on October 1, 1942, for comparable and analogous coals and reflect the changes, if any, made in minimum prices by the Acting Director's order of August 28, 1942, 7 F.R. 6943, in General Docket No. 21.

Dated: November 24, 1942.

[SEAL] DAN H. WHEELER,
Director.

Chapter IX—War Production Board

PART 1010—SUSPENSION ORDERS

CITY FLUORESCENT LIGHTS

City Fluorescent Lights, a sole proprietorship owned and managed by Maurice Entliss, is located at 909 Arch Street, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. The Company is engaged in the retail sale and installation of fluorescent lighting fixtures and various types of lighted signs. From July 2, 1942 to August 13, 1942 the Company made nine sales, totaling thirty-five units, of new fluorescent lighting fixtures constructed for the operation of a tube or bulb having a wattage in excess of thirty watts, without any preference ratings being extended to it. The Company knew that General Limitation Order L-78 as amended prohibited these sales from being made without the proper preference ratings, but gratuitously assumed that the concerns to which it made eight of these sales were engaged in war work and could use preference ratings to purchase the fixtures. However, no preference ratings could be extended to the Company for any of these purchases. The Company, therefore, wilfully violated General Limitation Order L-78 as amended by selling and delivering these thirty-five fixtures in fulfillment of unrated orders. Furthermore, the Company furnished false and misleading information to the investigator from the War Production Board.

These violations of General Limitation Order L-78 as amended have hampered and impeded the war effort of the United States. In view of the foregoing facts: It is hereby ordered, That:

§ 1010.176 Suspension Order S-176. (a) Deliveries of material to Maurice Entliss, doing business as City Fluorescent Lights, or otherwise, his successors and assigns, shall not be accorded priority over deliveries under any other contract or order, and no preference rating shall be assigned or applied to such deliveries by means of preference rating certificates, preference rating orders, general preference orders, or any other orders or regulations of the Director of Industry Operations or the Director General for Operations, except as specifically authorized by the Director General for Operations.

(b) No allocation shall be made to Maurice Entliss, doing business as City Fluorescent Lights or otherwise, his successors and assigns, of any material the supply or distribution of which is governed by any order of the Director of Industry Operations or the Director General for Operations, except as specifically authorized by the Director General for Operations.

(c) Nothing contained herein shall be deemed to relieve Maurice Entliss, doing business as City Fluorescent Lights or otherwise, his successors and assigns from any restriction, prohibition or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the Director of Industry Operations or the Director General for Operatoins except in so far as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(d) This order shall take effect on December 11, 1942 and shall expire on May 11, 1943, at which time the provisions of this order shall have no further effect.

Issued this 9th day of December 1942.

ERNEST KANZLER,
Director General for Operations.

PART 1068—CANS

[Conservation Order M-81, as Amended December 9, 1942]

1. The designation of Part 1068 (formerly "Cans made of Tinplate or Terneplate") is hereby amended to read "Cans".

2. Section 1068.1 Conservation Order M-81 is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 1068.1 Conservation Order M-81—(a) Definitions. (1) "Can" means any unused container which is made in whole or in part of tinplate, terneplate, blackplate, or waste, and which is suitable for packing any product. The term includes any container closure or fitting made in whole or in part of tinplate, terneplate, blackplate, or waste, but does not include a closure or fitting to be used on or as a part of a glass container. The term does not include fluid milk shipping containers, as defined in Conservation Order M-200.

(2) "Tinplate" means sheet steel coated with tin, and includes "primes", "seconds", "waste-waste", and all other forms of tinplate except waste.

(3) "Terneplate" means sheet steel coated with a lead-tin alloy, and includes "primes", "seconds", "waste-waste", and all other forms of terneplate except waste.

(4) "Blackplate" means any sheet steel 29 gauge or lighter, other than tinplate or terneplate. The term includes "rejects" and all other forms of blackplate except waste.

(5) "Waste" means scrap tinplate, terneplate, and blackplate, produced in the ordinary course of manufacturing cans.

(6) "Pack", unless particularly specified, means the quantity, by area measurement, of tinplate, terneplate, and blackplate required for the manufacture of all sized cans used by a person for packing a particular product during the base period specified.

(b) Restrictions upon manufacture, sale, and delivery of cans. (1) No person shall sell or deliver any can except under a purchase order or contract validated by a delivery to such person of a purchaser's certificate, manually signed by the purchaser or an authorized official of the purchaser, in substantially the form attached hereto as Exhibit A. No person shall manufacture, sell, or deliver any can which he knows or has reason to believe will be used in violation of any provision of this order.

(2) No person shall manufacture any can smaller than 5 gallons, with ears, bails, or handles.

(c) Restrictions upon purchase, acceptance of delivery, and use of cans. (1) No person shall, during the calendar year 1943 (or the seasonal year 1942-1943, when specified), purchase, accept delivery of, or use for packing a product any can except to the extent permitted in Schedules I, II, and III, attached to this order: Provided, however, That a jobber or retail store may obtain and sell cans in conformity with the provisions of this order.

(2) The schedules attached to this order list the only products permitted to be packed in cans, packing quotas, sizes of cans, and the kinds of plate permitted for the manufacture of cans.

The calendar year basis shall obtain except for products for which a seasonal year is specified. A seasonal year for a particular product represents a twelve months' period beginning in one calendar year and ending in the next.

The sizes of the can specified for a particular product indicate the only sized cans which may be used for packing that product, except that such product may, subject to all other restrictions imposed by this order, be packed in cans larger than the largest size specified therefor.

When tinplate is specified for the manufacture of cans for packing a particular product, the coating indicated represents the maximum weight of tin coating per single base box. When SCMT is specified, Special Coated Manufacturers' Terneplate is referred to. When blackplate is specified, the specification includes chemically treated blackplate (CTB).

(3) No product packed in a can shall be repacked for sale in a can or any other container, by the same or a different person, in the same or a different form, except to the extent specifically permitted in the schedules attached to this order.

(4) No dried or frozen fruit or vegetable shall be packed in a can, except to the extent specifically permitted in the schedules attached to this order.

(d) Exceptions. (1) The restrictions imposed by this order shall not apply to the purchase, acceptance of delivery, or use of the following cans:

(i) Cans for packing any product which is not to be sold.

(ii) Fiber or paper bodied cans with ends made of waste, for packing any food product for human consumption, and antiseptic or medicinal powders.

(iii) Cans for packing any product not listed in the schedules attached to this order, when such cans were completely manufactured on or before December 9, 1942, or when all the component parts for such cans were cut to individual size or were partially assembled before said date: Provided, That this paragraph (d) (1) (iii) shall not apply when such cans can be used for any products otherwise permitted by this order, and provided, that this paragraph (d) (1) (iii) shall not apply to open-top sanitary cans.

(iv) Cans for packing any product not listed in the schedules attached to this order, when such cans are to be delivered pursuant to a letter of intent approved by, or a purchase order or contract negotiated for or with the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Maritime Commission, or War Shipping Administration of the United States.

(2) Notwithstanding the restrictions pertaining to the size of cans or the materials from which cans may be manufactured, but subject to quota restrictions imposed by this order, a person may use for packing any product listed in the schedules attached to this order, any cans which were completely manufactured on or before December 9, 1942, or any cans for which all component parts were lithographed, cut, or otherwise prepared for assembly, on or before said date.

(3) No certificate shall be required for the sale or delivery of cans to any purchaser who has already filed a certificate with his seller under Conservation Order M-81.

(e) Miscellaneous provisions—(1) Applicability of priorities regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the priorities regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(2) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of appeal.

(3) Communications. All reports required to be filed hereunder and all communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: Containers Division, War Production Board, Washington, D. C. Ref.: M-81.

(4) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further delivery of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(5) 1942 Calendar year pack. Until December 31, 1942, no person packing on a calendar year basis shall purchase, accept delivery of, or use any can for packing any product except in accordance with Conservation Order M-81, as amended June 27, 1942, (including amendments thereto).

PART 1084—CANNED AND PROCESSED FOODS

[Conservation Order M-86, as amended December 9, 1942]

1. The designation of Part 1084 ("Canned Foods") is amended to read "Canned and Processed Foods."

2. Section 1084.1 Conservation Order M-86 is amended to read as follows:

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of materials used in canning and processing foods for defense, and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 1084.1 Conservation Order M-86—(a) Applicability of priorities regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the War Production Board priorities regulations, as amended from time to time.

(b) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Canner" shall mean any person engaged in the business of canning foods in hermetically sealed metal or glass containers and sterilizing the same by the use of heat.

(2) "Processor" shall mean any person other than a canner engaged in the commercial processing of foods to produce a frozen, dried, pickled, preserved, or otherwise non-perishable product.

(3) "Pack" shall mean the total amount (by weight unless otherwise specified) of all grades of any particular food canned by any canner or processed by any processor during any packing season, or during a crop year or calendar period specified by the Director General for Operations as a quota period.

(4) "Government agency" shall mean any officer, board, agency, commission, or government owned or government controlled corporation of the United States specifically designated by the Director General for Operations.

(c) Restrictions on canners and processors. (1) Each canner and each processor shall set aside for the requirements of government agencies such canned or processed foods packed by him as the Director General for Operations may from time to time order, without regard to previously existing contracts. All such canned or processed foods so set aside shall, unless and until released, be held for allocation to any government agency by the Director General for Operations. Orders to set foods aside pursuant to this paragraph (c) (1) may be by general supplementary order or by written notice by the Director General for Operations to the individual canner or processor. There shall not be calculated as part of the foods required to be set aside by this paragraph, foods delivered to any government agency when not so allocated to such agency by the Director General for Operations.

(2) Canned or processed foods required to be set aside for governmental requirements by any other order of the Director General for Operations in the M Series, shall not be required to be set aside by this order.

(3) The Director General for Operations may allocate canned or processed foods to any government agency by specifically designating such agency as the authorized purchaser thereof, either by letter to the agency, by letter to the canner or processor, or by naming such agency in a general supplementary order. The Director General for Operations will allocate foods pursuant to this order only to the Army or Navy of the United States, the Marine Corps, the Coast Guard, the United States Maritime Commission, the War Shipping Administration, the Panama Railroad, the Treasury of the United States, the Coast and Geodetic Survey, the Veterans' Administration, and any agencies of the United States Government for supplies to be delivered to or for the account of the government of any country pursuant to the act of March 11, 1941, entitled "An Act to Promote the Defense of the United States" (Lend-Lease Act), and any other agency when the Director General for Operations shall find that allocation to such agency is directly essential to the war effort.

(4) If he determines that any canned or processed foods set aside pursuant to this order are not required for government agencies, the Director General for Operations may release such canned or processed foods at any time and may so notify the canner or processor, or he may delegate authority to release such foods to the agency to which he has allocated them.

(5) The Director General for Operations may issue specifications at any time as to processing, packing, containers, container treatment, can marking, labeling, boxing, and strapping.

(d) Certificates and reports relating to the cans covered by this order—(1) Certificates. Each canner who purchases any cans to pack any food for governmental use pursuant to this order—whether such purchase is by contract or on open account order—shall furnish to the can manufacturer, from whom he buys, a certificate, signed by an authorized official, in substantially the form attached hereto as "Exhibit A", which shall constitute a certification to the War Production Board that such canner is familiar with the terms of this order (in its present form or as it may be amended from time to time), and that, during the life of this order, he will not use any cans purchased from such can manufacturer in violation of its terms. Only one such certificate covering all present and future purchases from a given can manufacturer, need be furnished by a canner to that can manufacturer but no can manufacturer shall be entitled to rely on any such certificates if he knows, or has reason to believe it to be false.

(2) Reports. Each canner and each processor shall, within 15 days after he has completed a seasonal pack, or in the instance of a non-seasonal product, at such times as may be prescribed, mail to or file with the War Production Board a report thereof in such form as may be prescribed from time to time by the Director General for Operations. Each canner and each processor shall file such additional reports as the War Production Board may prescribe for the purpose of effective administration of this order.

(e) Inspection and grading. Any canned or processed foods required to be set aside under this order shall be subject to inspection and grading at any time by the Director General for Operations or by any person or government agency thereto authorized by him.

(f) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provisions appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(g) Records. All persons affected by this order shall keep and preserve for not less than two years accurate and complete records concerning inventories, purchases, production and sales.

(h) Audit and inspection. All records required to be kept by this order or by any rule, regulation or order of the Director General for Operations shall, upon request, be submitted to audit and inspection by duly authorized representatives of the War Production Board.

(i) Communications to War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder and all communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Washington, D. C. Ref.: M-86.

(j) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order or who wilfully furnishes false information to the Director General for Operations in connection with this order, is guilty of a crime and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance by the Director General for Operations.

PART 1084—CANNED AND PROCESSED FOODS

[Supplementary Order M-86-e]

§ 1084.6 Supplementary Order M-86-e—(a) Quota restrictions. Pursuant to Order M-86, which this order supplements, it is hereby ordered that each canner shall set aside to be delivered for the requirements of Government agencies, a quota of canned fruits and vegetables packed by him at any time in the calendar year 1943 or, when specified, in 1942-43. The quota to be set aside from a canner's pack of any product listed in Column A of Tables I and II, attached hereto, packed during the quota period for that product, shall be computed by applying the percentage in Column B against the canner's total pack in the base period, including his pack both in metal and glass containers. If the type, style, variety or grade of any such fruit or vegetable is described in Tables I and II, such quota shall be in the type, style, variety and grade described, but other types, styles, varieties or grades shall be substituted to the extent that those specified in Tables I and II are not packed.

(b) Definition of quota period. With the exceptions hereinafter listed, the quota period is 1943. In case of grapefruit, grapefruit juice, orange juice, and orange juice and grapefruit juice blended, the quota period is August 1, 1942 to July 31, 1943, in Florida, Texas, and Arizona, and December 1, 1942 to November 30, 1943, in California.

(c) Definition of base period. The base period is in all cases the corresponding twelve-month period one year prior to the quota period.

(d) Applicability of order. Fruits and vegetables not listed in Tables I and II are not required to be set aside. Fruits and vegetables packed in the Hawaiian Islands must be set aside as prescribed by this order, but this order does not apply to fruits and vegetables packed in other territories and possessions of the United States.

(e) Provisions applicable when whole pack not set aside for Government. The following provisions apply whenever any product may be packed for nongovernmental requirements as well as for governmental requirements: To the extent that the canner's production of the first preference grade of such fruit or vegetables specified in Column D is sufficient, at least two-thirds of the quota, but preferably the entire quota, shall be set aside from such grade. To the extent that the quantity so set aside does not fill his quota, the canner shall set aside sufficient of his production of the second preference grade, if any, specified in Column E to complete his quota. To the extent that the quantities so set aside out of both first and second preference grades do not fill his quota, the canner shall set aside sufficient of his production of the third preference grade, if any, specified in Column F to complete his quota.

If a canner packs both in tinplate and glass, insofar as the above grade standards permit the quota shall be set aside from the part packed in tinplate, and from the part packed in glass only when the part packed in tinplate is insufficient.

To the extent possible and insofar as compliance with the above grade requirements permits, at least two-thirds of the quota, but preferably the entire quota, shall be set aside in the largest can size specified in Column G. The balance shall be reserved in the largest can sizes available in the order of preference specified in Column G.

(f) Reports. The report prescribed by paragraph (d) (2) of Order M-86 shall be given on Form PD-343, revised. The report shall be filed within fifteen days of the completion of the pack.

(g) Purchase and inspection. Until further notice, the Army of the United States is hereby allocated the quotas prescribed by this order, to purchase for its own account and the account of other government agencies named in paragraph (c) (3) of Order M-86, whenever it has agreed with such other agencies to do so. The Army of the United States and the Agricultural Marketing Administration in the Department of Agriculture are also authorized to inspect and grade such canned foods pursuant to paragraph (e) of Order M-86.

(h) Effective date. This order shall take effect on January 1, 1943.

(2) "Producer" means any person engaged in the production of glycerine and includes any person who has glycerine produced for him pursuant to toll agreement and any person who on splitting any fat or oil is entitled to the glycerine resulting therefrom. The term does not include any refiner of glycerine.

PART 3135—ACRYLIC MONOMER AND ACRYLIC RESIN

[General Preference Order M-260]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of acrylic monomer and acrylic resin for defense, for private account, and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

* * * * *

§ 1394.7758 Issuance of rations to lessees of passenger automobiles or motorcycles available for public rental. (a) The lessee of a passenger automobile or motorcycle available for public rental who holds such vehicle under a lease for a term of more than seven (7) consecutive days may apply for a ration for use in such vehicle to provide solely for the occupational mileage to be driven therein during the term of such lease.

§ 1394.8009 Issuance of tire inspection records. (a) Upon the issuance of any Basic, Official or Fleet ration (or a ration issued pursuant to the provisions of § 1394.7757 or § 1394.7758) during the period between November 9, 1942, and December 12, 1942, inclusive, the Board or Registrar, as the case may be, shall issue one Tire Inspection Record on Part B of Form OPA R–534 for each vehicle for which a ration is issued unless a Tire Inspection Record has previously been issued for such vehicle.

(d) After December 12, 1942, no Tire Inspection Record shall be issued unless the application therefor was made prior to that date or the applicant shows good cause why such application was not made on or before December 12, 1942.

§ 1394.8010 Presentation of tire inspection records and records required to be maintained by the Office of Defense Transportation. (a) After December 12, 1942, no Supplemental, Official, or Fleet ration, or ration issued pursuant to the provisions of § 1394.7757 or § 1394.7758, shall be issued or renewed unless the applicant presents to the Board a Tire Inspection Record on Part B of Form OPA R–534 for each vehicle for which a ration is sought indicating that odometer readings have been taken, and that the tires on such vehicles have been inspected and approved in accordance with the requirements of Ration Order No. 1A: Provided, That in the event the applicant shows that the required readings, inspections or approvals could not be taken, made or obtained, because of the serious illness of the applicant or the physical condition or location of the vehicle, the Board may in its discretion issue or renew such ration if the current inspection shows no evidence of abuse or neglect of any of the tires upon the vehicle.

* * * * *

§ 1394.8014 Issuance of rations notwithstanding ownership of excess tires. (a) Notwithstanding any other provisions of Ration Order No. 5C, a Basic, Supplemental, or Fleet ration, or a ration issued pursuant to the provisions of § 1394.7757 or § 1394.7758, or a Tire Inspection Record on Part B of Form OPA R–534, may be issued or renewed, and such a ration may be used for the operation of a motor vehicle, even though the registered owner or lessee of such vehicle (or, with respect to Basic or Supplemental rations, any person living in the household of such owner and related to him by blood, marriage or adoption) owns passenger-type tires (excluding motorcycle tires but including scrap tires) other than tires reported on OPA Form R–17 or R–17 Revised, or reported by a manufacturer to the War Production Board, or tires mounted (including one spare per motor vehicle) on motor vehicles or equipment, if:

(1) Such other tires have been acquired pursuant to a certificate issued under the Revised Tire Rationing Regulations or Ration Order No. 1A, or the possession and use of such tires is otherwise expressly permitted or authorized by the Office of Price Administration or by the War Production Board;

(2) Such other tires are scrap tires held for purposes of sale or other disposition by a person regularly engaged in the business of dealing in scrap, or by a reclaiming or processing plant for the purpose of processing such tires;

(3) Such other tires are owned jointly by two or more persons, or are and have been, continuously since November 8, 1942 or earlier, subject to a lien or otherwise designated or held as security for debt under a mortgage, pledge or similar security transaction, and the owner of such tires is unable to secure the consent of the joint owner of, or the holder of a security interest in, such tires to their sale or other disposition; or

(4) Such other tires are held for use as spares for farm equipment or farm implements, if the Board finds that such spares are necessary for continued operation of such equipment, but in any event not in excess of one (1) spare for each such piece of equipment.

(b) The registered owner or lessee of the vehicle for which the ration or Tire Inspection Record is sought shall, if such other tires are held for one of the reasons enumerated in paragraph (a) of this section, submit together with his application a signed statement to the Board setting forth the grounds upon which the claim to permissible retention of such other tires is based. If the Board finds that retention of such other tires is permitted or authorized under the provisions of paragraph (a) of this section, it shall, if the applicant is otherwise entitled thereto, issue the ration or Tire Inspection Record for which application was made.

(c) In any case in which such other tires have been transferred by a manufacturer, testing laboratory, or other person to, and are held by, an applicant for a ration or Tire Inspection Record for testing purposes pursuant to authorization by the Office of Price Administration or the War Production Board, the official in charge of such testing program shall execute an affidavit in duplicate setting forth the name and address of the person holding such test tires, the make, license number and state of registration of the vehicle upon which such tires are mounted, the date and nature of the authorization pursuant to which such tires were transferred, the serial numbers of the tires which are being tested, and the serial numbers of the tires which have been removed from the vehicle for purposes of the test. The original of such affidavit shall be filed with the Board at the time of making application for a ration or Tire Inspection Record in lieu of the signed statement required in paragraph (b) of this section, and the duplicate thereof shall be retained by the applicant. If the Board finds that such other tires have been transferred to and are held by the applicant for authorized testing purposes, it shall, if the applicant is otherwise entitled thereto, issue the ration or Tire Inspection Record sought, and shall set forth on such Tire Inspection Record the serial numbers of the tires physically mounted on such vehicle (including one spare), whether or not such tires are held for testing purposes.

Renewal of Rations and Issuance of Further Rations

§ 1394.8052 Issuance of further ration for use prior to expiration date of current ration. (a) Any person who finds that, due to a change in occupation or in the location of place of business or residence, or other change in circumstances, or due to seasonal variation in the amount of occupational mileage needed, miscalculation of needs, or reduction in the unit value of a Basic ration held by him, a ration of any class (other than a Basic ration) issued to him fails to meet his requirements, may apply for a further ration of such class for use prior to the expiration date of his current ration. Such application shall be made in the same manner as the application for the current ration.

* * * * *

(c) If the Board determines that, for one or more of the reasons specified in paragraph (a) of this section, more mileage is needed, or in the case of a Non-Highway ration, more gasoline is required, than that stated in the application on the basis of which the current ration was issued, it may grant a further ration in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (b) of § 1394.8054. In any case in which application hereunder is made because of a reduction in allowed mileage claimed to have been caused by a reduction in the unit value of a Basic ration held by the applicant, the Board shall grant a further ration for use prior to the original expiration date of the current ration only if it finds that the applicant still requires the mileage lost by reason of such reduction.

(d) No further Supplemental ration under § 1394.7705, or Official or Fleet ration under § 1394.7755, or ration pursuant to the provisions of § 1394.7757 or § 1394.7758, or Non-Highway ration, shall be granted, pursuant to this section, which would permit the applicant to exceed the maximum mileage or gallonage to which he would be entitled under the provisions of paragraph (b) of § 1394.7704, or paragraph (b) of § 1394.7754 or § 1394.7904, as the case may be. No further Transport ration shall be granted pursuant to this section which would allow a vehicle or fleet for the operation of which a Certificate of War Necessity is required more gasoline that the maximum amount authorized by the Certificate of War Necessity issued for such vehicle or fleet.

(1) No manufacturer shall sell or deliver any private formula pharmaceutical, proprietary drug or cosmetic product at a price higher than the maximum price permitted by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 282; and

(2) No person in the course of trade or business shall buy or receive any such private formula product from a manufacturer at a price higher than the maximum price permitted by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 282: Provided, That in the case of a private formula product for which a maximum price has been established under § 1396.254 of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 282, if the purchaser shall receive from the seller a written affirmation that the seller has calculated the maximum price for the product in accordance with § 1396.254 and has filed a report with the Office of Price Administration as required by that section and if in such case the purchaser shall have no knowledge of the maximum price and no cause to doubt the accuracy of the affirmation, and provided the price paid is not in excess of the maximum price so affirmed by the seller, the purchaser shall be deemed to have complied with this section.

(b) On and after December 14, 1942, no manufacturer shall sell, offer to sell, deliver or transfer any private formula product for which a maximum price must be determined under § 1396.254 until he has complied with the reporting provisions of that section.

(c) Nothing in this Maximum Price Regulation No. 282 shall prevent the fulfillment of contracts entered into before December 14, 1942, for the sale of private formula pharmaceutical, proprietary drug and cosmetic products at prices not exceeding the maximum prices established by the General Maximum Price Regulation prior to December 14, 1942.

§ 1396.253 Maximum prices for private formula pharmaceutical, proprietary drug and cosmetic products delivered or offered for delivery during March 1942. The maximum price for a sale by a manufacturer of any private formula pharmaceutical, proprietary drug or cosmetic product which is the same as a private formula product which was delivered or offered for delivery in March 1942 by the manufacturer, shall be the highest price charged by the manufacturer during March 1942 (as defined in paragraph (a) (6) of § 1396.262) for that product.

§ 1396.254 Maximum prices for private formula pharmaceutical, proprietary drug and cosmetic products not delivered or offered for delivery during March 1942. (a) The maximum price for a sale by a manufacturer of any private formula pharmaceutical, proprietary drug or cosmetic product which is not the same as a product which was delivered or offered for delivery by the manufacturer during March 1942, shall be the unit direct cost (computed as directed below) for the private formula product being priced, plus the percentage of mark-up (computed as directed below) which the manufacturer obtained on that sale of a comparable private formula product made in the twelve months ended March 31, 1942 which was nearest in quantity (as defined in paragraph (a) (7) of § 1396.262) to the sale of the private formula product being priced.

(b) Computation of unit direct cost of the private formula product being priced. The unit direct cost of the private formula product being priced shall be the sum of the costs per unit of direct labor and materials, computed on the basis of the following wage rates, material prices and operating conditions:

(1) Wage rates. The wage rates applicable to the private formula product being priced shall be no higher than the average wage rate in effect in the manufacturer's plant on March 31, 1942 for each class of labor involved in the production of that product. If the manufacturer did not employ a given class of labor on March 31, 1942, he shall use wage rates no higher than the average wage rate paid on March 31, 1942 by the nearest employer operating under comparable conditions who employed that class of labor on that date.

(2) Material costs. The price of any material used in the private formula product being priced shall be no higher than the highest price charged during March 1942 (as defined in paragraph (a) (6) of § 1396.262) by the manufacturer's March 1942 supplier to the manufacturer or to a purchaser of the same class as the manufacturer; or, lacking a March 1942 supplier of the material, by the manufacturer's most recent supplier of the material; or, lacking both of these, by the manufacturer's potential supplier: Provided, That if the Office of Price Administration has established a lower maximum price for the sale of the material to the manufacturer by his supplier, or if actual purchase prices are lower, such lower prices shall govern.

(3) Operating conditions. Using the wage rates and material prices determined under (1) and (2), the manufacturer shall compute the cost per unit of direct labor and materials for the private formula product being priced on the basis of the productive technique employed in his plant at the time of mailing the report required under paragraph (e) of this section and on the basis of the contemplated volume of production.

(c) Percentage mark-up over unit direct cost obtained on the comparable private formula product. The percentage mark-up over unit direct cost obtained on the comparable private formula product shall be computed in the following manner:

(1) Determine the actual cost of direct labor per unit of such comparable private formula product at the time it was manufactured.

(2) Determine the actual cost of materials per unit of such comparable private formula product at the time it was manufactured.

(3) Determine the price per unit at which the sale of the comparable private formula product was made.

(4) Compute the percentage of markup by subtracting the sum of direct labor cost or unit determined under (1) and materials cost per unit determined under (2) from the selling price determined under (3), and dividing the resultant figure by the sum of direct labor cost per unit (1) and materials cost per unit (2).

(d) Price differentials. All discounts (except quantity discounts and discounts to different kinds of purchasers), trade practices and practices relating to the payment of shipping charges in effect on the sale of the comparable private formula product by the manufacturer determining a maximum price pursuant to this section, shall apply to the maximum price so determined.

(e) Reports of maximum prices. Manufacturers of private formula pharmaceutical, proprietary drug and cosmetic products for which maximum prices are established by this section shall, before making any delivery of any such private formula product, submit by registered mail to the Office of Price Administration in Washington, D. C., a statement setting forth the maximum price determined under this section and all relevant facts. After the statement has been sent to the Office of Price Administration, the manufacturer may sell and deliver the private formula product at the proposed price, but the prices at which such sales or deliveries are made prior to the expiration of fifteen days from the date of mailing the statement to the Office of Price Administration shall be subject to disapproval in writing by the Office of Price Administration, and, if required by the Office of Price Administration, refunds shall be made. If at the expiration of fifteen days from the date of receipt of the statement, the Office of Price Administration has not in writing disapproved the manufacturer's proposed price, the manufacturer may thereafter continue to sell and deliver such private formula product at prices not in excess of his proposed price unless and until the Administrator establishes a lower maximum price. The statement submitted to the Office of Price Administration shall include:

(1) The name and a description or quantitative formula of the private formula product being priced, the process of manufacture, and a statement as to which of the classes of private formula products listed in § 1396.262 (a) (4) and (5) it belongs;

(2) The name and address of the purchaser, the quantity sold, and the dates of manufacture and of prospective delivery;

(3) The proposed maximum sales price computed under this section and the terms of sale (i. e., delivered, f. o. b. shipping point, cash discount, or other);

(4) The name and a description or quantitative formula of the comparable private formula product, the process of manufacture, a statement as to which of the classes of private formula products listed in § 1396.262 (a) (4) and (5) it belongs, and the quantity sold;

(5) An itemized statement showing the computation of the maximum price, including the following information:

(i) For the private formula product being priced:

(a) Direct labor cost per unit based on March 31, 1942 average wage rates, showing labor hours and March 31, 1942 average hourly wage rates.

(b) List of materials used in the manufacture of the product; ceiling or actual purchase price, whichever is lower, of each material used in the calculation of materials cost per unit; materials cost per unit based on ceiling prices or actual purchase prices, whichever are lower; and name and address of the supplier of each material whose ceiling price or actual selling price was used in the calculation of materials cost per unit.

(ii) For the comparable private formula product:

(c) Selling price per unit.

(f) Subsequent sales. After a maximum price for the sale of a private formula pharmaceutical, proprietary drug, or cosmetic product has been determined in the manner provided in this section, such maximum price shall apply to all subsequent sales of the same private formula product which do not vary in quantity by more than 20% from the quantity of the sale for which such maximum price was determined. Reports relating to such subsequent sales need not be submitted to the Office of Price Administration pursuant to paragraph (e) of this section. Maximum price for subsequent sales of the same private formula product which do vary in quantity by more than 20% from the quantity of the sale for which a maximum price was determined under this section shall be redetermined in the manner provided in this section, and the report required by paragraph (e) of this section shall be submitted to the Office of Price Administration.

§ 1396.255 Maximum prices for private formula pharmaceutical, proprietary drug and cosmetic products which cannot be priced under §§ 1396.253 and 1396.254.—(a) Maximum prices. The maximum price for a sale by a manufacturer of any private formula pharmaceutical, proprietary drug or cosmetic product which cannot be priced under § 1396.253 or § 1396.254 shall be the price, in line with the level of maximum prices established by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 282, specifically authorized by the Office of Price Administration.

(b) Reports of maximum prices. Prior to first offering the private formula product for sale, the manufacturer shall submit to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., a report applying for a specific authorization of a maximum price. The report shall contain the information regarding the private formula product specified in paragraph (e) of § 1396.254, a statement of the facts which make it necessary to price the product under this section, and the proposed maximum price with a detailed explanation of its computation.

§ 1396.256 Export sales. The maximum prices at which a person may export a private formula pharmaceutical, proprietary drug or cosmetic product shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation[3] issued by the Office of Price Administration.

§ 1396.257 Evasion. The price limitations set forth in this Maximum Price Regulation No. 282 shall not be evaded, whether by direct or indirect methods, in connection with an offer, solicitation, agreement, sale, delivery, purchase or receipt of, or relating to, a private formula pharmaceutical, proprietary drug or cosmetic commodity, alone or in conjunction with any other commodity or by way of commission, service, transportation, or other charge, or discount, premium or other privilege, or by tying-agreement or other trade understanding, or otherwise.

§ 1396.258 Petitions for amendment. Any person seeking an amendment of any provision of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 282 may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1.

§ 1396.259 Enforcement. Persons violating any provisions of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 282 are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, and suits for treble damages provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

§ 1396.260 Effect of other price regulations. This Maximum Price Regulation No. 282 shall not apply to any sale or delivery of a private formula pharmaceutical, proprietary drug and cosmetic product for which a maximum price is in effect at the time of such sale or delivery under the provisions of any other price regulation issued, or which may be issued, by the Office of Price Administration. The General Maximum Price Regulation shall not apply to sales or deliveries of private formula pharmaceutical, proprietary drug and cosmetic products (as defined in paragraph (a) of § 1396.262), except as provided in § 1396.251 and paragraph (c) of § 1396.252.

§ 1396.261 Geographical applicability. The provisions of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 282 shall be applicable to the forty-eight states and the District of Columbia, but not to the territories and possessions of the United States.

BOARD OF ECONOMIC WARFARE.

[Compliance Case Docket No. 4]

NIAGARA EXPORT & IMPORT CO. AND WILLIAM R. SHEPHERD

DECISION AND ORDER ON APPEAL

Pursuant to Part 807 of the Regulations adopted under section 6 of the Act of July 2, 1940, as amended, the Chief of the Trade Intelligence Division of the Export Control Branch, Office of Exports, charged the Niagara Export & Import Co., 44 Beaver Street, New York City, and William R. Shepherd, at the same address, (hereinafter referred to as appellants) with violations of Proclamation 2497 authorizing a Proclaimed List of Certain Blocked Nationals and Controlling Certain Exports issued in part under the authority of said section. The appellants filed a written answer to the charges above set forth.

The Compliance Commissioner, duly designated under § 807.1 of the aforesaid Regulations, reviewed the record, and filed his findings of fact and recommendations in the matter. The Compliance Commissioner found and concluded that the appellants exported prohibited commodities to and for the account of Carlos Niemtschik, also known as Carlos Niemtschik & Cia, of Caracas, Venezuela, at a time when the name of "Hauck" S. A. appeared on the Proclaimed List of Certain Blocked Nationals; that such exportations were for and on behalf of the said "Hauck" S. A., were without license or certificate of hardship, and as such violated section 6 of the Act of July 2, 1940, as amended, and the aforesaid Proclamation of the President of the United States issued pursuant thereto.

Upon consideration of the record, findings of fact and recommendation in this matter, the Acting Chief, Export Control Branch of the Office of Exports of the Board of Economic Warfare, on October 28, 1942, revoked all export licenses theretofore issued to appellants for exports not then consummated and denied to appellants and any person, association, or organization acting on their behalf or for their account the privilege of obtaining individual export licenses and the use of any general or unlimited export licenses for the duration of the war.

Appellants were duly notified of said order and within ten (10) days of said notice and pursuant to § 807.11 of the aforesaid regulations duly filed a written appeal to the Assistant Director in Charge of the Office of Exports. The undersigned Assistant Director has considered the record in this matter and has concluded that the facts and conclusions of the Compliance Commissioner are supported by the record. He has concluded, however, that the disciplinary action ordered by the Acting Chief of the Export Control Branch should be modified by limiting the suspension to a period of eighteen (18) months if that is a shorter period than the duration of the war.

Now therefore it is determined and ordered, That:

(1) The order of the Acting Chief, Export Control Branch of the Office of Exports, revoking all export licenses heretofore issued to W. R. Shepherd, also known as William R. Shepherd, and the Niagara Export & Import Co. not consummated as of October 28, 1942, is affirmed.

(2) W. R. Shepherd, also known as William R. Shepherd, and the Niagara Export & Import Co., and any person, association, or organization acting on behalf of, or for the account of either of them, are denied the privilege of obtaining individual export licenses and the use of any general or unlimited export license for any exports whatsoever from the United States for the duration of the war or for eighteen (18) months from the date of October 28, 1942, whichever is the shorter period.

Dated: December 5, 1942.

HECTOR LAZO,
Assistant Director in Charge of Exports, Office of Exports.
